

LIVE NEWS OF TWO PITTSBORNS

[The Scranton Tribune's Pittston department is in charge of J. M. Faby, to whom news items and complaints may be referred.]

REQUESTED TO RESIGN.

A Split in the Water Street Baptist Church Over the Pastor.
There is any amount of trouble existing at the present time among the attendants of the Water street Baptist church caused by a division over the advisability of retaining the present pastor, Rev. E. H. Stewart.
Mr. Stewart came here from York state. He was engaged and installed as pastor for one year and his term expires next month. During the past year, like many ministers, he found it an impossibility to please everybody and as a result some of the congregation are exceedingly anxious that he should resign.
The trouble was brought to a focus at the annual business meeting of the congregation held one evening during the present week, when by a vote of thirty-six to twenty-nine it was decided to ask Mr. Stewart's resignation. Previous to the vote being taken Mr. Stewart informed the members that according to Baptist usage and the law of the state he was entitled to three months notice, and that regarding what action might be taken he would take no notice of it. The hour being late when the vote was taken the members adjourned without taking any further action.
There are many who feel Mr. Stewart is being unfairly dealt with, as the number of persons present did not constitute a majority of the members. They feel that had there been a majority of the congregation present, those in favor of retaining Mr. Stewart would have been in the majority instead of in the minority.

BISHOP RULISON HERE.

Will Perform Solemn Rites in the Trinity Church This Evening.
Bishop Rulison will preach and administer the apostolic rite of confirmation in Trinity church this evening. By action of the general convention of 1892, to be ratified and completed next year, the title of "Assistant Bishop" is changed to that of "Coadjutor," so that Bishop Rulison is now styled "The Bishop Coadjutor of Central Pennsylvania." The choir will be greatly strengthened by a full attendance and some excellent singing is looked for.

Death's Harvest.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan of Market street will be pained to learn of the death of their invalid son John, aged 19 years and 3 months, Wednesday afternoon. The funeral will occur this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment will be made in the Market street cemetery.
The funeral of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Kelley, mother of Rev. Mrs. D. W. Thomas, occurred at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. The service was conducted by Rev. D. M. George, and the remains were taken to St. Clair, Schuylkill county, for interment. The pall bearers were John Thompson, David Jenkins, J. W. Evans, Mr. Watkins, David Owens and Stephen Williams.

Wedding Bells.

P. F. O'Boyle, of Scranton, and Miss Mary Norton, of this place, were married at St. John's church Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Father Finnin performed the ceremony. They will make their home in Scranton.
Thomas Nease and Miss B. Manley were married at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at St. John's church. Rev. Father Finnin tied the knot.

A Miss Victim.

Alexander Hagg, of Sabastopol, employed as a driver in No. 5 shaft of the Pennsylvania Coal company, while attending to his duties yesterday morning was caught between a trap of care and badly squeezed. He was removed to the hospital for treatment.

TOWN TOPICS PARAPHRASED.

An interesting Budget of Minor News Notes of Both Boroughs.
The Stove works will be idle today. The Black Diamond Hook and Ladder company held a meeting last evening.
Town council will meet Monday evening, when another interesting session may be looked for.
The condition of the alleys, streets and back yards of the town are in a deplorable condition, and should be attended to.
Bad sidewalks are a noticeable feature on our principle thoroughfares. They should be repaired without delay.
The Suburban Street Railway company have laid tracks to a point within a few hundred feet of the Walden nuisance on William street. It behooves the council to hurry up and remove the building at once.
The Lehigh Valley coal mines in the vicinity of Duryea worked a little over nine days this month.
Postmaster J. H. Mallin will assume the duties of his official position tomorrow. It is said that his brother Michael Mallin will be his deputy.
The candidates for representative on the Democratic ticket in this district are becoming more numerous as the time advances. Up to the present time the following have announced themselves: Patsy Joyce, W. H. Rutledge, James Delaney, Michael Mangan, William Kelly and Hon. J. F. Flannery, the present incumbent. Next!
A fair sized audience witnessed "A Prodigal Father" at Music hall Wednesday evening. The company was a strong one in every detail. Aside from considerable "cutting," due in all probability to the small attendance, the show was all that could be desired. The dialogue was rich and wholesome, while the acting of each character was faultless.
About 1 o'clock yesterday morning a large frame double dwelling house at the head of the canal, owned by Mrs. Walsh, who also occupied one part of it, was burned to the ground. There was no insurance on the building. The occupants had a narrow escape from being burned to death, they being compelled to leave the burning building in their night clothes.
A large and appreciative audience greeted the Wesleyan Glee and Mandolin club at the Presbyterian church last evening. The playing was simply exquisite.
For enclava, toothache, sore throat, swollen neck, and the results of colds and inflammation, use Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil—the great pain destroyer.

JOTTED AT JERMYN.

Brief News Paragraphs of Interest to All Readers.
Special to the Scranton Tribune.

JERMYN, Pa., March 29—G. L. Avery is moving into his new hotel.
The supper held in Carey's hall Wednesday evening for the benefit of the Temperance band, was well attended. The following were elected officers of Rushbrook lodge, 389, Independent Order Odd Fellows last evening: Frank Steele, noble grand; Chas. L. Bell, vice grand; Jas. G. Nicholson, secretary; Wm. Toman, assistant secretary; Andrew Carter, trustee.

Both the Republican and Democratic clubs today held meetings Monday night.
The party holding ticket No. 1, 926, which won the prizes given by the Catholic Mutual Benefit association, will please call and get the money.

The bids for the new school building were opened Wednesday night, but on account of some of the requirements it was decided to extend a call to the Rev. Mr. Sanford to become their pastor.
Joseph Sobay has the foundation laid for a dwelling house on Third street.

OVER AT OLYPHANT.

In Interesting Batch of News Notes from an Enterprising Town.
Special to the Scranton Tribune.

OLYPHANT, Pa., March 29—Anthony Reap, one of the oldest residents of Oliphant, died at his home on Ferris street, at the age of 83 years. He was about 75 years of age and is survived by two daughters and a son. Interment will be made in St. Patrick's cemetery tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Miss Jennie Ferguson, of Lake street, died at her home on Sunday.
The pupils of the St. Patrick's Parochial academy held their second recital at the Academy hall this afternoon and was a success in every particular. Among those who took part were Annie Loftis, Jennie Gillespie, Mary O'Boyle, Mary Ferguson, Mary Flynn, Mary Duff, Nellie Gallagher, Katie Donnelly, Nettie McDaniel, Grace Lynch, Lily Taylor, Mary Mooney, Lizzy Parris, Agnes Ford, Ella Crowley, Jennie Doyle, Katie McHale, Lorrinda O'Hara, Sadie Rogan, Louise Stone, Farrell and Sister Alfred Williams and Susan Swenney.

Dr. L. Kelley returned home today from an extended visit to the southern states.

NOW OR NEVER.

The Unparalleled Proposition Rapidly Drawing to a Close—Only Two Days More.

The announcement from day to day that THE TRIBUNE'S Encyclopaedia is rapidly drawing to a close is bringing scores of people to the office daily. But a few days more remain in which to secure the work. We desire to keep this notice conspicuously before the public that no one of our readers may overlook it, for the present proposition at so low a price and upon terms so easy is final, and when those four days have expired, no further order can be filled. For the benefit of professional and clerical men and all those closely connected to business during the day we will keep the office open evenings during these last four days.
By mailing the first payment, $4.50, your order will receive the same attention as you called in person.
As has been observed—such an opportunity to own a library has never before been yours and doubtless never will again.
Four dollars and fifty cents down and $3 per month thereafter are the terms. Address: The Tribune E. B. Department, 1437 Spruce street.

ONLY TWO DAYS.

A Few More Testimonials Given to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Progress in book-making for the multitudes is getting to be almost as wonderful as the improvements in transportation. We old fellows had to go through the humiliation of borrowing and plodding through hundreds of volumes to gather the knowledge which a few hours' examination of THE TRIBUNE'S edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, with its supplementary up-to-date, will give to any person in a few minutes.
It is like the 3 cent fare that electricity has written for the people, with transfers to just the place you want to go. Men and women who read and desire that their children should, ought to be happy to find this electric highway to solid learning running by their doors. Yes, you can have this great knowledge, formerly open to those with coach and four, is now calling to four passengers who may desire an outing.
THE SCRANTON TRIBUNE rings its bell. "Order this great knowledge, formerly open to any country, nook or corner you may fancy. You can take your family along, too. Every thinking man must wish success to every man who tries to introduce such a highway to knowledge. I certainly do."
S. C. LOGAN, Former Pastor of First Presbyterian Church.

THE King's Cat.

There are circumstances that make it seem likely that the cat in England is a foreign importation. The king's cat was called "the keeper of the royal granary."
The old Welsh laws provided a curious penalty to be paid by the one who should kill this cat of the king. The offender was to pay as much corn as would cover the cat's body when held up by the tail. This goes to show that cats were rare and had a market value.—Kathargo.

Lines of Beauty.

Sister—What! You engaged to that ugly Miss Goldpurse? She is all angles.
Brother—I fell in love with her handwriting. It is full of lines of beauty.
"Her handwriting!"
"Yes, I saw it on a check."—Good News.

Easter.

Look up, dear heart, look heavenward. Feel the Easter sun has risen for thee. Look up, dear heart, unto the hills, "Whose path steps his glory fills!"

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she clung to Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

THE MOQUI SNAKE DANCE.

Ghost Dancing Is Sedateness Itself in Comparison with It.

"Benjamin Brink, Moqui, Ariz.," was written on the register at the Palmer House by a robust looking man of 60, somewhat stoop-shouldered.
"From what I have heard of the 'ghost dance,'" said Mr. Brink, "I cannot see why it should stir up such a row. The 'snake dance,' I believe, is ten times more exciting, and the Zuni, Navajo and Moqui Indians on the reservation near my home work themselves into a perfect frenzy during its progress, but never think of molesting the whites."
"It is part of their religion, though, and if any attempt were made to stop it I believe there would be bloodshed. The dance takes place once in two years. Preparations were made several weeks before it came off, and I was as anxious to be a spectator as they were. A stranger or wilder ceremony I never saw. I hope I shall never see it again. The dance took place just before sundown, and I got up on a high ledge where I could get a good view. The space allowed for the dancers was not large, and was inclosed. Fifteen men looking like Indians began to walk rather slowly at first around a huge stone in the center of the inclosure. They were almost naked, and every part of their bodies, even to their feet, was smeared with a red and green paint. Each man had a fox's scalp hanging from his waist, and in each hand carried a rattle made of a gourd. Hoofs of deer were tied around their ankles and wrists, and at each step and movement of the body a noise enough was made to wake the dead."

"The snakes to be used in the dance had been caught several days before the fête, and just before the dance had been placed in a basket of fresh breath where I stood. After the men had yulled their feet were hoisted and laid made themselves tired with stamping on their feet. They were painted redskins came rushing down a hill filed into the inclosure, and then began such a tumult as I never want to hear again. At a given signal the sixty-five now thoroughly frantic men made a rush for the grove where the snakes were hidden. Each man came rushing back with a wriggle and squirming snake, its neck between his teeth so it could not bite him, re-entered the ring, and began a slow walk around the center stone. The reptiles hissed and dashed their tails and bodies around the neck of the apparently mad red men. Several of the wriggling snakes, which were the most venomous in the country. It is a wonder all of the performers were not bitten. Two of them died a day or two after the dance, the herbs applied not being sufficient to draw out the poison."

"After the ceremony each man snatched his snake from his mouth, ran down into the valley below, and there the reptiles were set free. The Indians were thoroughly exhausted after their violent exercise, and could scarcely crawl back up the hill. From what I could learn such ceremonies as the 'snake dance' have been held for centuries."—Chicago Tribune.

A Well Lighted Room.

What a cheerful influence there is in a well lighted room! It seems to give a different expression to each article of furniture, as if to do the countenance, bringing out the good and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy, and the basin of the lamp requires emptying occasionally, or the chimney may wash, and wicks be trimmed or new ones cleaned.
If the gas is poor and flickers, it is far better to use lamps for sewing or reading, as nothing can be more injurious to the eyes than attempting any work by a poor light. Whether it is a matter of economy or indifference is immaterial, but there are many a room, and every one is literally glad in the shade, when often it may be remedied by a little more attention from the housekeeper. If kerosene is used, it may become muddy