On the application of City Solicitor Torrey the appeal of Justin Rice, the cowboy evangelist, from his summary conviction before the mayor for the violation of a city ordinance was yesterday reinstated by the court.

The court sustained the appeal on Monday, but yesterday it was shown that the wrong transcript in the case was before the court when it passed upon the matter.

Hence the appeal was reinstated. It will be heard by the court on Saturday.

THE BOULEVARD TO ELMHURST.

Capital Stock of the Company to Be Increased.

About 100 men have been employed for some time on the Elmhurst end of the boulevard and the work is being

TAKEN FROM THE JURY

Travis Case Abruptly Ended After the Plaintiff Rested.

A QUESTION OF JURISDICTION

ALDERMAN HAD NO POWER TO PASS UPON THE CASE—VERDICTS TAKEN IN TWO CASES—SUIT OF W. H. QUICK AGAINST WILLIAM HANLEY BEING TRIED BEFORE JUDGE McPHERSON—CASE OF L. KLEIN & CO.

When the plaintiff rested yesterday morning in the case of Harvey Travis against Isaac Archibald, counsel for the defense asked that the case be taken from the jury. The action was an appeal from the decision of an alderman, directing that Isaac Travis pay for the support of his father, Harvey Travis, in consideration of the old man having been taken care of by the defendant.

The court was asked to take the case from the jury for the reason that the appeal had no standing in court, because as a question of title to land was in dispute the alderman had no jurisdiction in the case. Judge Archibald agreed that the point raised was correct and the case was taken from the jury. It was tried before with the same result.

In the case of Howley Bros. against Louis Zobe, trustee, a verdict of $84 was directed for the plaintiff, the defendant not putting in an appearance. A verdict for Lazarus Moyer was taken in his suit against Charles Beck and George L. Brock, the defendants not putting in an appearance. The verdict was for $183.34 the full amount of the claim.

Before Judge Archibald in No. 3 the case of Enoch Flynn against Patrick Moran continued on trial until 4 p. m. At that hour it was given to a jury but a verdict had not been agreed upon up to 5 o'clock.

BEFORE JUDGE McPHERSON.

The action of W. H. Quick against William Hanley was put on trial before Judge McPherson, of Harrisburg, in court room No. 2 yesterday afternoon. The plaintiff is represented by Attorneys George Beale and George S. Horn and the defendant by Major Everett Warren and Attorney S. B. Price. Mr. Hanley is the proprietor of the restaurant at the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western depot in this city, and also conducts the depot restaurant for the same company at Bath, N. Y.

Quick was employed in the restaurant at that place at a salary of $85 a month. He claims that he had a contract with Hanley for a year and after working for one month under the contract, was discharged. He sues to recover for the eleven months wages that he alleges he made a verbal contract with Hanley for. The defendant denies having made any such contract with Quick. He was employed by the month and failing to give satisfaction was discharged. The case was on trial when court adjourned. Among the witnesses called by the defense was W. E. Hallstead, general manager of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company.

QUEER BUSINESS METHODS.

Before Judge Edwards in the main court room in the afternoon the suit of L. Klein & Co., formerly merchants at Forest City, against Isaac Ackerman was put on trial. The plaintiffs sue to recover $500 given to Mr. Ackerman at Forest City on Oct. 17, 1893. The plaintiffs say the money was loaned to Mr. Ackerman, but that gentleman declares it was simply given to him for transmission to J. Josephwitz, of Duryea. Attorneys E. C. Newcomb and George D. Taylor appeared for the plaintiff and ex-Judge Ward and Attorney John F. Schrag for the defendant. The first witness for the defense had completed his testimony when court adjourned for the day.

NOTABLE SOCIETY WEDDING.

Annie Augusta Connel to Wed Charles W. Fulton, of Colorado.

At 8.30 o'clock this evening will be performed by Rev. W. H. Pearce, D. D., at the Elm Park church, the most notable marriage ceremony of the season, and one of the most prominent which has occurred in Scranton for a number of years.

The event will be the wedding of Annie Augusta Connel, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Connel, of Clay avenue, to Charles W. Fulton, of Boulder, Col.

The ceremony will be witnessed by the best known Scranton people and a large number of out of town friends, and will be followed by a reception at the family residence from 9 to 11 o'clock, after which dancing will be enjoyed by the younger element to the orchestral music of eight pieces furnished by Bauer.

A carte blanche order has been given Clark for a lavish floral decoration of the residence and the catering will be assumed by Davis, of Orange, N. J.

RUNNING ON FULL TIME.

Scranton Lace Curtain Factory Operatives Get New Schedule.

The Scranton Lace Curtain Manufacturing works yesterday morning started on full time for the first time since last June. Up to one week ago the operatives made but six hours a day; last week they were put on eight hours a day; and this week operation is begun on a full time schedule, which means ten hours for the employees and twenty hours for the lace machines.

This resumption is not brought about by any particular indication that there is to be any wonderful improvement in the business situation, but the company having disposed of a large part of the stock on hand, concluded to risk the venture of running the factory to its full capacity.

About 250 persons are now employed and it is probable that the number in some of the departments will be increased within a short time.

PAULINE HALL OPERA COMPANY.

It Will Be Seen at Academy of Music Thursday Evening.

The popularity of the Pauline Hall Opera company has been amply proved by the entire press. Wherever the company has played, they unite in saying it is the best and strongest company that ever visited their city.

"The Princess of Trebizond" is one of Offenbach's best operas, and a very effective vehicle for mirth producing effects, and Miss Hall and her associate artists have established their new roles as successful as the old ones. Fifty-five people are in the company. They will be at the Academy of Music Thursday evening. The company has just closed a six weeks' run in New York, and everything used in that production will be seen here.

OUR FREE KINDERGARTENS.

Little Is Known of Scranton's Advanced Educational Methods for the Children of the Poor.

Through the courtesy of a lady belonging to the Scranton Free Kindergarten association, a TRIBUNE reporter was yesterday conducted through the school at 318 Washington avenue and shown several of the interesting features as applied in kindergarten schools.

The Washington avenue school room has recently been renovated, is well lighted and thoroughly comfortable for the eighty little ones who are instructed there every week day morning, excepting Saturday. The association has started a branch school in the Second Presbyterian church chapel, on Adams avenue, near the jail. At this school forty-eight pupils are accommodated.

Miss Mary C. Salisbury, of Cleveland, Ohio, thoroughly versed in the title features of kindergarten instruction, has charge of the Washington avenue school, and is assisted by nine young ladies. These young ladies are undergoing a course of instruction in kindergarten teaching principles, and meet several times during each week for lessons from Miss Salisbury.

THE TRIBUNE will soon publish the annual statement of the association, which will particularize the work and assist the aid of many in supporting the school. No material assistance has been given the association during the year by outside parties, and while none has been absolutely necessary, anybody charitably disposed can now find in the Free Kindergarten association a good channel for their benevolence.

One of the ladies prominently identified with the school spoke of its benefits as follows:

"Many people seem to have an idea that a kindergarten is simply a play house where young children can be amused and kept under healthy and pleasing restraint. It is really a blessing to thousands of little ones and a great boon to young mothers who wish to make their children happy and do not know exactly how to accomplish this object. But the kindergarten has been given the reputation of being a thoroughly solid educational agency, claim, shortens the collegiate course at least two or three years.

"It is to develop the child and all its faculties in a natural manner, while checking all propensities to evil. The 'New Education' may be regarded as analogous to the treatment of plants by a skillful gardener. It is to prevent any undue strain on children's powers, mental or physical; to teach by means of object lessons conveyed in plays rather than by books. It is to form a well balanced mind, to discern and bring out gently but surely, any latent aptitude for intellectual acquirements, artistic gifts, or manual skill. It is to partially relieve parents of slender means of the charge of their very young children for part of the day, and during that time to train them properly. It is finally to prepare children for school, to fit them for learning more readily, to sow the first seeds that are to produce adults of sound mind in a sound body—good citizens and true Christians."

MRS. DAVIS JUMPED.

She Was Injured and Wants Damages from Traction Company.

Mrs. Jeimima Davis yesterday filed her declaration in her action against the Scranton Traction company. It sets forth that on Sept. 13, 1893, she was a passenger on one of the cars of the company's Penn avenue-Green Ridge line.

Near Olive street there was a collision, and to save herself from injury she jumped from the car. She says she was dangerously bruised, her right knee sprained, her arms bruised and strained and her nervous system shocked. In consequence she has been ill up to the present time.

Mr. Davis asks $10,000. She is represented by Attorney Charles L. Hawley.

Scranton Directory.

From the large number of vans and wagons seen on the streets during the past few days, loaded with office fixtures and household goods, we should judge that the new city directory would be in more demand this year than ever. We are pleased to know that Mr. W. H. Taylor has again taken charge of the directory, which is a guarantee that the new book will sustain the enviable reputation for correctness and reliability, which Williams's Scranton City directory has gained under Mr. Taylor's management during the past four years. The directory office has been removed to 134 Wyoming avenue.

His Wife's Last Words.

Just as the door closed, she said to him: "Be sure, John, and see Schank's new spring stock of the latest designs in shoes. You know those rascals I got of him last summer—how well they wore. I'll need a new pair this year. And so will you, too, you know. If his prices are right, why not bring two pairs home? Schank'll see that they fit." And that's one reason why John is so good humored and so neatly dressed, these days. He went to Schank's at the Arcade. Schank's shoes themselves did the rest.

HEROIC FIREMAN MILLER.

He Made a Desperate Leap from Engine to Save the Life of a Little Girl.

"Passengers on train No. 16, south bound from Scranton to the Jersey Central railroad yesterday afternoon witnessed a thrilling incident a couple of miles this side of that city," says last night's Wilkes Barre Times.

"The train is one of the fast ones making but two or three stops between Scranton and this city. On rounding a curve and coming in sight of the bridge which crosses the Lackawanna at Minooka junction the engineer was horrified to see a little girl half way over the structure. He pulled the whistle cord and the answering whistle warned the girl of her dangerous position. She stopped, turned about, ran half a dozen steps toward the other end and then, realizing the impossibility of reaching the end before the train had arrived at that point, she dashed to the side of the single track and jumped, and a moment and then with a scream jumped into the water below and sunk from sight.

"The fireman on the engine took in the situation and realized that the girl must necessarily meet her death in the water if assistance was not given. He made up his mind in an instant, crawled down between the engine and tank and as the engine swept across the bridge he jumped, and while in the air before striking the water was whirled about a half dozen times and when he plunged into the churning water, he was rolled up in the shrap of a ball. He soon arose and had the little one safely on shore. When the train had backed up to the scene of the thrilling performance, a great cheer was given by the passengers for Miller and his heroic rescue.

"The passengers not only cheered, but they took up a collection of liberal proportion and handed it to the noble fireman. The little girl, who would not give her name, was badly frightened, but little the worse for her sudden plunge in the Lackawanna.

Charles Thiel in a New Role.

He Abused His Wife and Carried a Black Jack.

Thiel was arrested Monday night for abusing his wife, breaking furniture, fighting people and generally bad conduct. A black-jack, or leather billy, was found in his pocket.

Anthony Batmann, attorney, moved his office to the Odd Fellows building, rooms 4 and 5, Wyoming avenue.

BOARD OF CHARITIES MEETING.

Business Transacted at the Meeting Held Last Evening.

The directors of the Associated Charities held a meeting in the poor board rooms last evening at which Colonel Ripple presided until compelled to leave, when he called Mr. K. H. Key to the chair.

The report of Chairman Moore, of the relief committee, was read by the secretary, Rev. Mr. Israel. It stated that while many are still out of employment, yet the demand for work is not so great as the past. Quite a large number of young persons, the report stated, are being looked after.

The report of Treasurer Smith was next heard. It showed that there is a balance of $800.35 in the treasury.

Mr. Thompson, who performs the clerical work, also gave a brief report from which it was learned that some of those who had applied for assistance, refused to work on the streets.

Mr. Ruane said that while the prospect in the North End is not as cheering as it might be, yet there had not been a large amount of suffering there during the business depression.

Street Commissioner Kirk reported briefly for the employment committee. Colonel Ripple interjecting the remark that some of the young had been neglected and were getting desperate. They could not obtain work, had no place to board and were sadly in need of help.

Rev. Mr. Israel read an interesting and detailed report of the work of the agent, Mrs. Duggan, since the last meeting. It summarized as follows: Number of cases investigated since last meeting, 42; found worthy of assistance, 39; found unworthy, 16; number of cases investigated up to date, 485.

In carrying out these investigations many persons have been visited at least twice, which shows that Mrs. Duggan's task is not an easy one to perform.

CUT TO PIECES ON TRACK.

Sad Death of John J. Jerny, of Green Street, at Foster.

John Jerny, of Green street, a young man aged 20 years, was killed by a light train on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western track at a place called Foster, between Factoryville and Nicholson, about 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

Jerny was returning from Nicholson to Factoryville when he met his death. In his efforts to catch the train he was caught and hurled under it, the train passing over his body, cutting him in three pieces. The remains were collected and forwarded by the train to Clark's Summit, where his mother has been staying. Undertaker Jones was notified and went to Clark's Summit to take charge of the remains and prepare it for burial.

The circumstances attending his death are extremely sad. The death of his father took place about three weeks ago. The funeral will take place Wednesday and interment be made in Washburn Street cemetery. Funeral from his home on Green street.
