ADVANCEMENT OF THE LODGE

It Started With a Membership of Forty and Now Has Three Hundred and Forty Enrolled-Past Exalted Ruler C. M. Truman Was the Toastmaster-Those Who Furnished En-

The fifth anniversary of Scranton lodge No. 123, Benevolent and Protec-tive Order of Elks, was celebrated last evening in becoming fashion in the lodge's new building on Franklin ave-nue, the occasion being a social session interspersed with historical reminiscences, musical selections by the Elks orchestrs, Elks' quartette, a colored quar tette, the Scranton Mandolin club, Alfred F. Darcy, of Wonderland, and others. In introducing the toastmaster, Past Exalted Ruler C. M. Truman, the present exalted ruler, Colonel F. J. Fitz-simmons referred in appropriate vein to the remarkable growth of the order and to the fact that it had at last acquired an executive official who ful-filled its requirements respecting manly beauty, eliquence and varied capacity.

Mr. Truman, upon assuming the gavel, made graceful reference to the fact that the first and third exalted rniers of Scranton lodge, Dr. Throop and William Robinson, had been called to rest. He also cited the fact that no other lodge in America had made the record of expansion belonging to lodge 123, having in five years grown from a membership of 40 to more than 340. It was, he said, the only lodge in the country which had to its credit the addition of 202 first class new members in one year, 1893. Past Exalted Ruler M. F. Sando, to whom had been assigned the task of preparing a formal history of the lodge, was unavoidably detained by business, but in the course of the evening interesting historical data were supplied by Joseph H. Hart, of South Bethlehem, who was one of the charter members of Wilkes-Barre lodge, and who, in association with the late Dr. Throop and others of lodge 109, helped to institute the Scranton offspring

AN INTERESTING REMINISCENCE. One reminiscence related by Mr. Hart in private conversation has peculiar in-terest in this connection. In the sum-mer of 1892, while Mr. Hart was visit-ing in London, he had occasion to go to Earl's court, where the Buffalo Bill Wild West combination was holding forth There, in Burke's cabin, he met Past Grand Exalted Ruier Hamilton E Leach, of Washington, D. C., since decrased, and in company with Dr. Leach, Colonel W. F. Cody, Major John M. Burke, Jule Keene, Carter Conturier, Albert E Sheibel and several other Eika representing every section of the United States, he observed the 11 o'clock toast to absent brothers. Among those included in this toast were the members of the Scranton and Wilkes-Barrs lodges, who were specially named to that foreign capital because, on the day following the institution of the Wilkes Barre lodge, Dr. Loach in company with Dr. Throop, Hen Dilley and Mr. Hart, installed the newly chosen Wilkes-Barre officers and later drove to Scranton, where the party was received by Colonel Fitzsimmons and others interested in the formation of the present Scranton lodge. Among the speakers last evening were Tom J. Moore, who likewise sang a comic song and participated, together with Alex. Connell in a comic duct, George J. Taylor, E J. Fish, Edward O'Boyle, L. S. Richard, George Mc-Donald and Sam Samter. Mr. Samter, by request, later gave an admirable recitation, and W. J. Weichel read a selection which convulsed the audience. There were fines innumerable, witticism, that baffled narration, music that inspired and refreshments in abandance. Taken nitogether, the an-niversary was most pleasantly commemorated, for which happy fact thanks are due to the social session's committee comprising E. Moses, chair-man; W. S. Millar, George Wahl, Frank W. Martin and Walter Haslam.

The session was prolonged until after lo'clock, when the parting ole was sung, concluding a most enjoyable oc-

The person that called on Undertaker Jordan to have him take charge of the remains, ordered the ice box sent to Albert Ludka's house, and the additional fact that Ludka works in the Bellevue shaft lent color to the belief.

STATUS OF THE STRIKE.

The Apprentice Question Likely to Cause Trouble-John Davis and Son Requested to Stop Work.

Yesterday was the second day of the bricklayers' strike, and, like the pre-vious day, was unattended by any disturbance or apparent excitement. From present indications there is nothing to warrant a statement that either contractors or union will win. The former stand firm in the belief expressed at the beginning, that, as the men had no reasonable grounds for striking, they could not expect to bring the movement to a successful issue. On the other hand, the men are standing by each other, and express themselves confident of winning. Yesterday the position of the apprentices to the movement caused considerable discussion among both sides to the fight, and may terminate in legal con-test. Many of the bricklayers advised that the apprentices be asked to go out; others took the view that as the apprentices are not members of the apprentices are under bond to work for contractors for a stipulated period This aspect of the strike will probably be settled to-day.

The union yesterday asked John Davis, the bricklayer, who, with his son, is at work for Havens & Williams at the corner of Linden street and Washington avenue, to cease work while the strike lasts. Mr. Davis is of the opinion that the union has not the right to interfere. He has a contract with the builders to do the brick work, and, in consequence, disputes any rights of the union in the matter unless he hires additional men; in that case he would be willing to pay the 40 cents per hour. Mr. Davis says that the work is progressing to the satisfaction of his employes, and he will not add to his force unless Havens & Williams request him to do so,

A freight train with fourteen cars, a lighted caboose and a full sized locomotive, with engineer and fireman crosses the stage in the most realistic and noisy manner, while later in the play a great Mississippi river steam boat, with bells and whistles and engines in full operation, moves in and explodes with terrific force. A great scene is also given of Nisgara in real tumbling water. The company is a most efficient one, and there is a great deal of fun to go with the sensational effects. A special car for the scenery is used, and every detail is carefully looked to in the stage production of the was now her turn to interrupt, and stepping to the table with a thoroughly practical air, which Charlie always liked so well, she returned with a copy of the well, she returned with a copy of the SCHANTON TRIBUNE and showed him Dr. Hamin's scientific shoeing card. Now all

Governor Robert E. Pattison yesterday named John Fitzsimmons, proprie-tor of the Sunday News, to succeed Charles M. DeLong as alderman of the Eighth ward of this city.

Mr. De Long was elected three years ago over Charles L. Rossler, his Republican opponent, after one of the most heated contests for a ward office in the history of the city. Mr. Roesler had held the office for a number of years and it was then reputed to be worth from $6,000 to $8,000 a year. At the time of his nomination alderman, Mr DeLong was one of the trusted leaders of the Demogratic party ocally, and all the influence the party could exert was turned in his favor.

The fight was desperate, but DeLong won. He opened an office at 303 Lackswanna avenue and for two years did even a larger business than his predsunion that body would be involved in cessor. About a year ago his health legal proceedings, because many of the failed and since then he has rarely ocsupled the chair of the chief magistrate of the Eighth ward. The appointment meets with favor among Democrats.

Mr. Fitzsimmons' commission will entitle him to serve until May, 1895 At the municipal election in February next an alderman will be elected by he voters of the Eighth ward. Mr DeLong's term would not expire until May, 1896, but the governor's appoint ees sorve only until after the next succeeding election.

WORK OF ASSOCIATED CHARITIES.

The Associated Charities is an organization that is quietly doing much good. Its aim is to relieve the necessities of the poor by providing work for the un-employed, and during the past few months many families who otherwise would have been compelled to choose between the alternative of starving or becoming suppliants for charity, have been kept from either extrem by the timely aid furnished by this organiza-

Still there are those who profess to believe that the Associated Charities is a comparatively useless society. That is because they are totally ignorant of the sphere of its operations. There are today in the city of Scranton hundreds of strong, able bodied men who, owing to the greatly depressed financial situ-ation, are unable to secure a single day's work. This may seem strange to the careless and unconcerned, but it is a fact of which any person who will take the pains to investigate can easily convince himself. It is to aid such that the Associated Charities is directing much of its energies, and the good already accomplished is beyond Notwithstanding that spring has ar-rived and brought with it something in the way of revival of business, yet the fact remains that there is more poverty in Scranton than there was two months ago. There seems to be just as many persons out of employment and they are poorer than ever. There are whole families who do not know where to-day's needs are coming from, and yet there is no sign of employment in sight for the husband and father.

However, the Associated Charities will do what it can to relieve those in distress, but there is at present a lack of funds with which to operate. A thousand dollars goes but a little way in a city like this, where so many are out of employment. Money is needed and everybody who can should con-tribute something to the cause. One way in which to do this is by becoming a member of the organization and taking part in its management. Yearly membership cards are are now being sold for $1 and few who have steady employment or are engaged in business but that can afford to be enrolled as members of the Associated Coarities.

CAREY & CO.'S CIRCUS.

It Opened the Season in This City Yesterday Afternoon.

O. b. Carey & Co.'s new all-feature show, museum, trained animal exhi bition and congress novelties, opened the season in Scranton yesterday afternoon. The circus tent is pitched on Linden street, opposite the court house, and is a commodious and well arranged atructure. The afternoon performance was witnessed by a good sized andi-ence, and in the evening at least 1,000 persons were present.

Although the performance yesterday was the first of the season, nevertheless everything ran along tolerably smoothy, no accident of any kind occurring. The exhibition throughout was a good one and was favorably commented on by the spectators generally. Billy Raynove, the clown, greatly amused the crowd, while the performance of the trained midget ponies was greatly admired. Miss Ita Morello is a phenomenal performer on the wire, and her organs of the local Democracy. He fests were the cause of much wonder ment, Chris and Maude Livingstone are experts in hat spinning pastimes.

The exhibition given by the riding logs is something that is passed. Mention might be made of the slown and his clown pony, the bicycle aws accomplished by the Livingstones, the acrobatic acts of the Morstis and many other interesting features, but space forbids. Suffice it to say that the entertainment provided is good, but the wonderful feats of the Avingston brothers on the flying trapeze should not be passed by with out special mention. This afternoon's performance will begin as 2 o'clock and this evening's at
