NEWS OF WEST SIDE

Sixth Anniversary of Keystone Lodge Celebrated at Mears Hall.

TO OBSERVE MEMORIAL DAY

Cemeteries on This Side Are Being Beautified—Funeral of John R. Edwards Largely Attended—James Palmer Injured by Falling from a Scaffold—Accident That Befell Mrs. Tyler—Other Interesting Jottings.

(The West Side office of the SCRANTON TRIBUNE is located at 1040 Jackson street, where subscriptions, advertisements and communications will receive prompt attention.)

About 250 people, composing the members and their ladies, attended the sixth anniversary of Keystone Lodge, No. 37, Loyal Knights of America, at Mears hall last night. The room was beautifully decorated with flags and bunting. Isaac Harris was chosen as chairman of the evening. The programme opened with a selection by the members of the class who rendered the selections which are to be the competitive pieces at the Pittston extended today. A recitation was rendered by Miss Anna Von Konecny. Morris Thomas rendered a solo, and John Evans of Taylor, gave a recitation. A solo was rendered by Evan Miles. A feature of the evening was the oration by David Davis. Several interesting piano selections were rendered by Prof. Dwellen Jones. The entertainment was followed by a banquet and two good hours were spent in discussing the menu which consisted of all the delicacies of the season. The remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing. Music was furnished by Prof. Johnson on the piano. The grand march was led by Charles Koller and Mary J. Ellis. The Keystone lodge was organized six years ago with only fifty members. Their rapid progress can well be seen, as they now have 187 members and a surplus of $2,000 in the treasury.

Memorial Day Exercises. The present appearance of the Washburn Street cemetery is something beautiful. For several days past loving hands have been at work decorating the graves of their kin with plants and flowers. The exercises will begin this morning at 9.30 o'clock. Commander S. B. Mott, of Lieutenant Ezra S. Griffin post, 139, Grand Army of the Republic, will be in charge. Rev. Dr. W. Skollenger, pastor of the Washburn Street Presbyterian church will offer the invocation and pronounce the benediction. Rev. A. W. Cooper, pastor of the Hampton Street Methodist Episcopal church, will deliver the Memorial Day tribute to the deceased veterans. At the Hyde Park Catholic cemetery Rev. J. A. O'Reilly, rector of St. Peter's cathedral, will offer prayer, and Rev. P. J. McManus, of Green Ridge, deliver an address. The Catholic military societies will meet in the central city and march to the cemetery. The cathedral choir will sing.

Funeral of John R. Edwards. The many friends of the late John R. Edwards, who died on Sunday morning, gathered at the home of his father, Seth Edwards, of Price street, yesterday afternoon, where impressive funeral services were held. Rev. W. S. Jones, pastor of the First Welsh Baptist church, conducted the services and paid a high tribute to the estimable qualities of the young man. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful. Among them were a star and crescent, presented by Enterprisers Lodge, No. 21, Loyal Knights of America, who were in attendance, and two handsome easel bouquets. The flower bearers were Reese T. Griffiths and Thomas J. Price. Pall bearers, Edward Petherick, Howell G. Reese, Evan G. Reese, Isaac J. Price, Ewan Walters and William D. Morgan.

Fell from a Scaffold. James Palmer, a carpenter, residing on North Everett avenue, sustained serious injuries on Monday by falling from a scaffold. Palmer was employed on the new block of houses which William Jones is erecting on Jackson street, and while at work the scaffolding broke and he fell a distance of from 15 to 20 feet. He was removed to his home, where medical aid was summoned. His body is badly bruised and his condition yet serious.

Broke Her Arm. A serious accident befell Mrs. Tyler, of Tenth street, yesterday. While descending the stairs from the upper floor she was taken with a spell of dizziness and fell headlong to the bottom. Her screams attracted the family, who ran to her assistance. Dr. Hartman was summoned and found that the left arm had been broken. She also suffers from nervous prostration.

Jottings of the Day. Miss Minnie LaRue, of Mayfield, has returned home after a visit with friends on this side.

Professor W. George Powell, who has been out of school for over a fortnight, owing to eye trouble, has resumed his duties as principal of No. 14 school.

Mr. Haydn Evans, of South Sumner avenue, is slightly improved from the bursting of a blood vessel in his head.

Miss Gwedoln Edwards, of Kingstons, is the guest of friends here.

Mrs. L. Lanman, of North Rebecca avenue, is very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones, at 925 North Main avenue, entertained a large number of visitors on Sunday at their new residence.

Mrs. Dr. R. E. Fenton, accompanied by her children, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. B. L. Jones, at 925 North Main avenue.

Robert Morris Lodge, Order of Iovones, will run an excursion train to Lake Ariel on June 7.

A souvenir strawberry festival will be given by Classes No. 23 and 25 of the First Baptist Sunday school on June 6. An admission fee of 10 cents will be charged. The classes are taught by Misses Emily Evans and Sarah Meredith.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Jones, of North Hyde Park avenue, and Rodrick Jones, of South Sumner avenue, attended the funeral of Mrs. Martha Taylor, at Blakely, yesterday.

Harry Hill, of North Hyde Park avenue, has left for Detroit, Mich., called there by the sudden death of his mother.

G. T. Mathews, of New York city, circulated among friends on this side yesterday.

Rev. A. J. Parry, of North Wales, an eminent Welsh divine who recently arrived in this country, will deliver an English sermon next Sunday in the First Welsh Baptist church.

Emerson Owen and W. G. Moser, of this side, participated in the entertainment of the Active Base Ball club at Providence last evening.

Mortimer Stevens, of Fleetville, is the guest of W. G. Moser, of Lafayette street.

All the business houses on this side with the exception of saloons and drug stores, will be closed today.

The traction company is laying the connection near Clark's store between the Lackawanna and North Main avenue lines. Complaints are continually made of the dangerous and unprotected condition of the ravine on North Main avenue above the Mount Pleasant mine. A large number of children pass the place daily and yet there is no fencing to prevent their falling into a chasm about 100 feet deep. An indication of the growth of this important district there are now no less than seven houses in course of construction on North Main avenue between Pettobone street and Cemetery road in addition to a number of splendid residences already completed.

SOUTH SIDE.

Yesterday morning Edward Webber, the clerk in D. W. Humphrey's pharmacy on Pittston avenue, was somewhat disconcerted by seeing a young milk snake over three feet long making itself perfectly at home on the floor of the drug store near the furnace register. The reptile appeared to be absolutely unconcerned and occupied the floor with importunate demeanor. The clerk went behind the prescription desk for a fobert rifle, intending to dispatch the interloper, but while he was hunting for the gun the proprietor, Mr. Humphrey, appeared and killed the snake with a blow of his cane.

Gift for Miss Tomkinson. Miss Florence Tomkinson was presented with an appropriate gift, a magnificent class Bible, on Monday evening by the young ladies of the South Side Young Women's Christian association.

The presentation was made by Miss Margaretta Watts in well chosen language, and was accepted by Miss Tomkinson in her most happy manner. The following is the list of names of the young ladies who were given certificates of merit at the class exercises: Misses Emily Cauldwell, Annie Schueller, Maggie Fruchtel, Frances Lowart, Minnie Peters, Bertha Saar, Lizzie Stinshober, Anna Dreisher, Minnie Marsch, Katie Bunn, Carrie Weina, Wanda Bounick, Margretta Watts, Susie Brown, Annie Beilhem, Anna Krebs, Mary Krebs, Ida Eck, Kate Christophel, Mary Thompson, Lizzie Christophel, Sarah Beilhem, Katie Lewert, Lottie Lengler; Lena Hartman, Lizzie Schieb, Anna Rechristman, Katie Meiner, Anna Faust, Carrie Brown, Emma Pollard.

Suing for an Old Debt. Yesterday in the office of Alderman J. E. O'Malley an action to recover an old debt was issued against Lazarus Moyer, a Philadelphia whiskey agent, by Professor Martin J. Lovren. When Lovren ran a drinking place on Beech street in the Nineteenth ward Moyer, an alleged, came to him one day and sold him a stock of whiskey, in payment of which Lovren gave the deed of a property he owned. Moyer, although he was paid for the whiskey, never returned the deed nor the sum of $35, which was due Lovren from him by virtue of a personal deal between the selves. The papers were served on Moyer yesterday by Constable Thornton.

Neway Condemnations. The concert in St. John's church last night was well attended, and each number on the programme was so well produced that it is really impossible to refer particularly to any special ones. There was not a dull moment in it from beginning to end.

Mrs. Stephen Judge, of Genet street, is recovering rapidly from her recent illness.

James Forrester is again able to move around having fully recovered without any disability from the painful injuries recently sustained at the lower steel mill.

Mrs. Casper Haas, of Pittston avenue, is convalescent and almost strong enough to resume her household duties.

Much improvement has been made during the spring on the property and parsonage of the Cedar Avenue Methodist Episcopal church.

The Scranton Brewing company purchased yesterday a spirited race horse, able, it is said, to go a mile considerably less than three minutes.

Miss Florence Tomkinson, secretary of the South Side Young Women's Christian association, has been granted a vacation of three months, which she will spend at her home in Kalamazoo, Mich. During her absence the office of secretary will be filled by Miss Anna Doersam.

Street Commissioner Kirst is entitled to thanks for the excellent manner in which he has repaired the Lyver street hill. The work done is both thorough and lasting.

John Majzrynik, of Hickory street, is confined to his home by illness.

The Young Men's institute, of Minooka, will receive holy communion at the 8.30 mass this morning in St. Joseph's church.

The excursion of the Ladies' Aid society of the Cedar Avenue Methodist Episcopal church will be run to Lake Ariel on Wednesday, June 27.

The schools of Lackawanna township will close for a three months' vacation next Friday.

"THE FACE OF ROSENFEL."

DID NOT LIKE THE BAY

When Mr. Lutz Went to Return It He Was Put Out.

THE JURY GAVE HIM A VERDICT

S. B. Mott, Assignee of the Hyde Park Bank, sued C. P. Jadwin to Recover on a Note—Jury Returned Verdict for Full Amount of the Note with Interest—Jury in the Ward Case Returns a Sealed Verdict.

The case of Peter Lutz against John Brown for the recovery of the value of a horse was tried before Judge Edwards in court room No. 1 yesterday. The allegation was that during the summer of 1890 Brown agreed to sell Lutz a bay horse or a gray horse and carriage for $125. The money was paid with the understanding that Lutz was to have a week in which to decide as to which horse he would take. The bay horse was first tested and, not proving satisfactory, the gray was next taken for trial. The latter proved less satisfactory still and Mr. Lutz took him back and asked for the bay, but Mr. Brown refused to allow the exchange to be made. Then Lutz demanded the horse or the return of the money and was run off the premises for his trouble.

Attorneys Newcomb and Bertoff appeared for the plaintiff and Attorney James Mahon represented the defense. The defense was that Lutz in exchanging the horses had made a deal and must abide by it. After the evidence had been submitted and the case duly argued it was submitted to the jury who found for the plaintiff in the sum of $110.70.

SUIT ON A NOTE. Before Judge Schuyler the case of S. B. Mott, assignee, against C. P. Jadwin, was tried yesterday. The plaintiff was represented by Attorneys John E. Scragg and Edward Morrisfield, and Attorneys W. Gaylord Thomas and C. Comery pleaded the defendant's cause.

The case was brought to recover the value of a note of $750 given by the defendant to W. H. Harford, who afterwards assigned it to the bank. The note was given in 1876 and with interest now amounts to over $1,600. This note, with others, was afterward given to the First National bank as security for a loan of $5,000 but it returned to the Hyde Park bank when the loan was paid back.

The defense was that Mr. Jadwin never received any value for the note; that it was signed when the bank was hard up, merely as an accommodation to help the institution to weather its financial troubles. When in the hands of the First National bank, Mr. Jadwin admitted that it was good against himself, but that it lost all value when it was returned to the Hyde Park bank. The plaintiff, however, claimed that value was received by Mr. Jadwin. Nearly the entire day was taken with the evidence and the arguments of the lawyers. It did not take the jury long to arrive at a decision in favor of the plaintiff for full amount of the note with interest from date.

WARD JURY AGREED. The case of John Ward for divorce from his wife, Mary Jane, was resumed yesterday morning. Attorney O'Brien argued for the defendant and at the same time scored the plaintiff roundly. Mr. Taylor closed for the defense and the case was given to the jury at 11.30 o'clock. They agreed upon a verdict at 2.30 in the afternoon. Mr. Jadwin admitted that it was good against himself, but that it lost all value when it was returned to the Hyde Park bank. The plaintiff, however, claimed that value was received by Mr. Jadwin. Nearly the entire day was taken with the evidence and the arguments of the lawyers. It did not take the jury long to arrive at a decision in favor of the plaintiff for full amount of the note with interest from date.

Home's Annual Excursion. So many people were disappointed last year when the Home's Excursion was so unfortunate as to have one of the most disagreeable days of the season for its annual excursion that numerous requests were made that the Taylor City should be again made the destination of another excursion. Ross park was so beautiful in its drowned condition that the visitors were certain of the pleasure to be enjoyed there in fair weather. Consequently the Home excursion on June 7 promises to be the most successful ever managed by this charitable organization.

Date Not Yet Fixed. The date of the convention of the North American Caledonian association has not yet been fixed. It will be on either the 3 or 5 of July. A meeting of the Scranton Caledonian club will be held next Monday evening and then the date will be definitely fixed.

COLLINS & HACKETT.

Ye Tournament

Of Ye Clothiers, of Scranton.

A True Tale.

Come listen, all ye people, to the wonders that befall

At the tournament of Clothiers—a true story that I tell

It is like the knightly wonders, that occurred in battles won

By the great and noble Lancelot in the tales of Tennyson.

It's up to date in time and place, and sure to interest;

It tells how COLLINS & HACKETT in combat got the best

Of all the competition that is known the country round.

It makes a most dramatic tale—none better can be found.

The combatants came early—they were eager for the fray,

And they rode all sorts of horses, never seen until that day.

The champion rode a Mustang, that could kick and break a rock.

And the legend on his blanket read, "You bet we own our stock."

Another rode a prancing steed and seemed to cut a swifd.

And turning showed his name to be, "We make the clothes we sell."

Another rode a raw-boned horse, stone blind in both his eyes.

And boasted the eccentric name, "We never advertise."

Came doleful-looking "Bankrupt Stock"—so sleepy that he snored.

And another bore the banner—"We own our store."

And other minor knights were there in quaint or bright array.

All hoping that Dame Fortune coy might cast her smiles their way.

But here are two youngsters in the throng, lads whom no one knows.

On a blooded horse—"Promoters of Fine Fashionable Clothes."

The eager press close to them; the Knight around them flock.

And read upon their blazing shield the magic words, "FINEST STOCK."

At this time the people understood as clear as light of day.

That the greatest living forces would wrestle in the fray.

The crowd set up a mighty cheer and swelled it loud and long.

The other knights were jealous—COLLINS & HACKETT won the crowd.

And then they the people understood as clear as light of day.

That the greatest living forces would wrestle in the fray.

The crowd set up a mighty cheer and swelled it loud and long.

The other knights were jealous—COLLINS & HACKETT won the crowd.

And then they the people understood as clear as light of day.

That the greatest living forces would wrestle in the fray.

The crowd set up a mighty cheer and swelled it loud and long.

The other knights were jealous—COLLINS & HACKETT won the crowd.

And then they the people understood as clear as light of day.
