AIN prevented the only scheduled State League game yesterday—that of Altoona and Scranton. In consequence of this there is no change in the percentage column of any of the clubs from that of yesterday.

The following table gives the percentage of the clubs, together with the number of games won and lost by each, and their standing in the championship race:

Table with columns: Club, Won, Lost, Per Ct. Lists teams like Harrisburg, Altoona, etc.

SCHEDULE FOR TODAY.

Altoona at Scranton. Reading at Allentown. Harrisburg at Hazleton. Pottsville at Easton.

WEATHER WAS MASTER AGAIN.

It prevented the Game Scheduled Between Altoona and Scranton. Alexander Donoghue and his Altoona Rainmakers arrived in the city yesterday and of course they brought a storm with them.

The weather was threatening all day, but between 3 and 4 o'clock it cleared and the sun shined brightly. Up to that time there had been hopes that the Altoona and Scranton clubs would be able to play, but the shower settled the question definitely.

Manager Donoghue was found by a Tribune reporter at the St. Charles yesterday afternoon vigorously chewing the end of a cigar that had burnt out and pondering as to whether he should have suggested the game at sunset instead of waiting until the sun had set and the clouds had gathered.

The condition of the roads was excellent. A Migrating Circumstance. Little Benny—Mamma, please let me hold the baby for a minute.

Then for fear his personal appearance might lead weight to the rumor that dime are scarce at Altoona in base ball circles, Mr. Donoghue had sent across the street and dropped into a barber's chair. Ten minutes later he re-appeared and the halo had vanished.

Mr. Jennings is playing a strong, steady game this season. Nothing definite has yet developed as to whether Scranton will secure the pitcher that Manager Swift is negotiating for.

The Fairmounts of Scranton, defeated the Homestead team Wednesday, on the Six Mile grounds at Homestead by a score of 5 to 0.

This afternoon the Scranton and Altoona clubs will play two games at the park for one admission. The first game will be called at 2 o'clock.

Cummings of the Boverafor team will probably be signed to pitch for Allentown. He pitched last season for Camden, and so far he hasn't lost a game.

There are only eight clubs in this state league. This will satisfactorily explain why Scranton is not in sixth place. It is because the Homestead team beat before Wednesday's game when Hazleton was shut out in this city.

President Johnson yesterday called down Manager Witman of Reading, in the most approved fashion. Recently Allentown had agreed to play two games at Reading tomorrow for half the gate receipts.
