REHEARSAL WAS SATISFACTORY.

Prof. Jules Jordan compliments Prof. Bamer and his orchestra.

Professor Jules Jordan, of Providence, R. I., musical director to the Binghamton Musical festival, to be held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, arrived in this city from Binghamton Saturday evening, and held a rehearsal of Bamer's orchestra at the band quarters on Wyoming avenue yesterday morning for the performance of "Haydn's Creation," which will be sung during the festival.

It is pleasing to note that Prof. Jordan was much gratified at the result of the rehearsal and complimented the members in high terms. The orchestra to the number of fifteen pieces will leave for the Parlor city on Tuesday at midnight to be absent three days.

PEOPLE'S CHEAP EXCURSION.

All Day Sunday at Niagara Falls. Saturday evening, July 9, the popular Erie lines will start a grand excursion for the people to the Great Cataract and Buffalo, accompanied by a fine band of music, arriving at the Falls at 5.30 p. m., and leaving at the Falls at 11.30 p. m., arriving at home station in time for a good night's rest for Monday's work. Tickets will also be good to return on any regular trip on Sunday, July 11.

Dr. A. E. BURN, having opened his offices in the Burr building, Washington avenue, will resume the practice of his profession, where he will be glad to serve his old patrons and public in general.

TO SING IN NEW YORK

Scranton Choir May Bring a Prize from the Saengerfest.

LIEDERKRANZ WILL COMPETE

Thirty-five Well Known Scranton Germans and Many Others Will Attend the Great Music Festival—Cheap Excursion Rate Over the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Road. Some Features Which Will Attract Many to New York.

The German residents of this city and particularly the Liederkranz and those interested in musical matters are looking forward with pleasure to the great Saengerfest which is to be held in New York on June 23, 24, 25, 26 and 27. Especial local interest is attached to the event from the fact that a choir of thirty-five voices from the Liederkranz will compete with a score or more choirs in the second-class concert.

The members of the Scranton Liederkranz choir are Frank Becker, William Wachter, Edmund A. Barth, Oscar Straub, Peter Gard, Jacob Barniel, Charles Wagner, Charles Nier, John Rosen, Frank Dreiser, Fred C. Dinter, Edward Siebeckler, Theodore Kinsel, Charles Wenzel, Conrad Wenzel, Sigismund Kleinfield, Charles Koenig, Emil Maxian, John Watkins, Joseph Bickel, Fred J. Widmayer, Henry C. Dinter, George Wahl, Joseph Ebea, J. D. Ferber, William Siebeckler, Louis Siebeckler, Fred Siebeckler, Peter Snyder, Paul Keller, Louis Conrad, Theodore Pittak, Joseph Prancevaly, Hector James.

CITIES TO BE REPRESENTED.

The contests include valuable prizes to be awarded the best choirs from large cities and in first, second and third classes for choirs from cities prominently. In the first-class singing, Philadelphia will be represented by thirty-six choirs; Newark, seventeen; Brooklyn, twenty-six; and Baltimore, six; second class, local contest, Hudson county, N. Y., will present nine societies; Albany, four; Trenton, three; and Troy, four. Each of the choirs will represent a society of about 250 members in addition to which 300 societies will also be present.

The selection chosen for the first, second and third classes, in the second of which the Scranton choir will compete, are respectively "Das Grab am Husemto," "Hieristnachs" and "Waldesnacht."

Professor F. F. Kopp is now drilling the choir three times a week and during the last week previous to the opening of the Saengerfest a rehearsal will be held every evening. In order to procure funds incident to the contest, the Liederkranz will conduct a picnic at Central Park garden next Monday, June 11, when several of the city's singing societies of several nationalities will sing.

Beginning Friday, June 22, the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western road will sell excursion tickets, good for ten days and during the saengerfest, for $4.50. Nearly all of the 175 members of the Liederkranz will leave the first day of the festival at 9.35. Tickets can be procured at the depot, or from any member of the choir.

THE PRIZES OFFERED.

The first prize for singing by the combined societies of a city at the coming festival is a bust of Beethoven, heroic size, and is a companion piece to the Schubert bust, which was won by Philadelphia in 1891. The second prize, for mass singing, is a $300 banner. The prizes for club singing are: First class—First prize, a concert grand piano; second prize, a silver punch bowl; third prize, a silver wreath.

Second Class—First prize, a baby grand piano; second prize, a silver punch bowl; third prize, a silver wreath.

Third Class—First prize, a square piano; second prize, a silver punch bowl; third prize, a silver wreath.

Among the cities which will be officially represented by male choruses are:

Pennsylvania—Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Allegheny City, Reading, Allentown, Lancaster, Bethlehem, Scranton, Easton and Hazleton.

New York—New York city, Brooklyn, Buffalo, Albany, Troy, Utica, Syracuse, Elmira and Windsor, Long Island.

New Jersey—Newark, Trenton, Hoboken, Orange and Elizabeth.

Connecticut—New Haven, Bridgeport and Waterbury.

Maryland—Baltimore.

Delaware—Wilmington.

District of Columbia—Washington.

Massachusetts—Boston.

Wisconsin—Milwaukee.

In addition to this list there will be a large number of societies from many states who will attend, but will not enter into the contest.

OFFICERS IN CHARGE.

The officers of the Saengerbund are: President, Carl Lutz, Newark, N. J.; vice president, Carl Kuhl, Philadelphia; treasurer, August Goertz, Newark, N. J.; corresponding secretary, Felix Schwarzhild, New York; recording secretary, Ernst C. Stahl, Trenton, N. J.

CO. C'S FINE WORK

It Had No Competitor for the Davies and Griffin Prize.

IT GAVE A FINE EXHIBITION

Regimental Order Issued by Colonel E. H. Ripple—He Presents Regiment With a Steel File Case for Preserving Records—Officer Made a Good Showing Before Brigade Examining Board—Other Notes of Guard.

Several months ago Messrs. Davies and Griffin made the announcement that they would offer a handsome trophy for competition in drill to be contested for by the several companies of the Ninth and Thirteenth regiments and suggested that the contest take place at the platoon park on Decoration day. Each company commander was invited to enter his company and strive to win the prize and at the same time demonstrate which was the best drilled company in the Ninth and Thirteenth regiments.

The day arrived and Lieutenant Colonel Harry A. Coursen, Adjutant W. S. Miller and Battalion Adjutants L. T. Mattee and C. C. Conkling were selected judges. At the appointed hour there was but one company present to enter into a contest for the distinction of being the best drilled company. It was Company C of the Thirteenth commanded by the doughty Captain James Moir. Notwithstanding that there was no foe worthy of their steel present to do battle with them the company, losing no time, began to drill for their life. The manual of arms, company movements, the Thirteenth extended order (with blank cartridges) and bayonet exercises were executed with such snap and precision as to elicit the admiration of the judges and enforce the conviction that it was no wonder all other companies were afraid to compete with them.

A VERY FINE DRILL.

A better drill in the new regulation has never been executed by any company in the Thirteenth regiment and it is only fair to say that company C is the best drilled company in the regiment to-day if last Wednesday's work is a criterion. Every movement gave evidence of careful, patient practice and was executed with an earnestness and accuracy as though a dozen companies were to follow them in the drill. We congratulate company C in its practical demonstration of being the best drilled company in the regiment, Captain Moir, the enthusiastic commander, may feel well proud of his work and that of his men. The trophy which was awarded by Lieut. Col. Coursen in his most recent speech, is a handsome portrait of the beloved commander of the regiment, Col. Ezra H. Ripple.

The following order was issued by Col. Ripple the past week: HEADQUARTERS 18TH REGIMENT, THIRTEENTH BRIGADE, N. G. P., SCRANTON, PA., May 28, 1894. Regimental orders, No. 16.

I. Private P. H. White, Company A, member of the Hospital corps, is hereby relieved and returned to his company.

II. Private John A. Tonking, Company A, is hereby appointed a member of the Hospital corps, under the command of the Hospital Surgeon, Col. F. H. White, relieved.

III. Private Charles F. King, Company C, is hereby detailed to the Color Guard. By order of COLONEL EZRA H. RIPPLE, Adjutant.

COLONEL RIPPLE'S GIFT. Colonel Ripple, who is always making a record for himself, has added to his list of good deeds, a much needed article, no less than a Fenton steel file case, handsome and complete in all its appointments. Valuable documents and papers of the regiment since its organization, for the want of a suitable place of deposit have been scattered all over headquarters, where ever room could be found, much to the consternation of the adjutant who is held responsible for the safe filing of all valuable military papers.

By Colonel Ripple's generous gift all worry and trouble is obviated, as hereafter each paper will be safely stored in the file case. The regiment is to be congratulated on the possession of such a valuable piece of property. Were Colonel Ripple's purse as big as his heart, the Thirteenth would have today the handsomest armory in the state.

The wet weather since the opening of the file range has interfered very much with the qualifying of the men, yet a number have qualified and made their record for 1894. Have you?

Rees Watkins is looking for the man who made a target of the armory's coal scuttle and perforated it full of holes at pistol practice.

NOTES ABOUT THE BOYS. Colonel Ripple, a member of the Third Brigade examining board, went to Harrisburg last Friday to conduct an examination of such officers who hope to be elected, or re-elected or appointed since the last examination by the board. The following officers of the Thirteenth accompanied him and appeared before the board for examination: Inspector of Mills Practice, Lieutenant W. H. Jessup, and Battalion Adjutant C. C. Conkling, of the staff; Captain Fred W. Stillwell, First Lieutenant J. B. Dimmick, Company A; Captain Montrose Barnard, Company D, and Captain William B. Rockwell, Company H. These officers passed a successful and creditable examination and will receive their commissions forthwith.

There will be a non-commissioned officers' school at the Adams avenue armory next Thursday evening, June 7. The lesson is in the "School of the Battalion" and "Duties of Guides" and

SABBATH LAW BREAKERS.

Alderman Post Allowed the Defence of Prior Conviction in Several Cases—All Open Yesterday.

The continued cases for last week against the violators of the Sunday observance law were finally disposed of Saturday afternoon in Alderman Post's court.

The action against Druggist Loewenberg was the first heard. Attorney John M. Harris represented the defendant and read the transcript of Alderman Fitzsimmons at proving prior conviction. Colonel F. L. Hitchcock dissected the document and drew Alderman Post's attention to a technical lapse in the form of the transcript. Although Attorney Harris strenuously objected to the decision, Alderman Post ruled that the case was imperfectly drawn and would not be admitted as evidence.

A motion was then made by Attorney Harris to allow a writ of certiorari, and the transcript was then submitted as part of the record. The case against F. E. Waldner was the next one, and Attorney Fred R. Stark, for the defendant, offered the transcript of Alderman Fitzsimmons.

Colonel Hitchcock objected to the admission of this transcript; but Alderman Post allowed it, and that virtually sealed the case.

Constable P. E. Ryan was put upon the stand and swore that he bought soda water in Waldner's place the next morning and had a warrant sworn out against Alderman Fitzsimmons. Waldner thereupon demitted.

The information against Druggist D. S. Ryan was then read, and Attorney Ross and Hoban set up the same defense as in the foregoing cases. Alderman Post examined the transcript, found it was legally complete and dismissed the defendant.

A TRIBUNE reporter yesterday visited the business places of the dealers who are arrested week after week for the Sabbath law. All of the stores, except the Lackawanna avenue stand of Cigar Dealer Moses were open; the Wyoming avenue store of Mr. Moses was, however, doing business as usual.

McGinnis & Thomas accommodated all who desired to invest in soda water. Druggist Waldner did the same. In D. S. Ryan's window beneath the advertisement, "Dony's salve," was the printed placard, "Knocked Out." His soda fountain was well patronized and kept fizzling during the day and evening.

At Phelps' drug store the same result was found. On the front window on the Spruce street side was a card entitled, "We are here to accommodate the public every day in the year." In a window in front of the store was another card labeled thus: "Soda and mineral water promote temperance."

The reporter interviewed Mr. Phelps and was told that no change will be made as far as he is concerned. His store will be kept open every day in the week and soda water dispensed as long as he is the proprietor of it.

On the other hand, Rev. Mr. Dony is active and intends to prosecute the offenders with the same vim he has displayed in the past.

HIGHWAYMEN ON THE RAMPAPE.

Cedar Avenue Bridge Becoming Notorious as Their Scene of Operations.

The second attempt to waylay and rob a man was made on the Cedar avenue bridge at an early hour Saturday morning. Officer Mills was patrolling his beat near the bridge about 3 o'clock in the morning when he saw a man running at full speed across the bridge. He waited until the fellow reached him and learned that two dangerous looking characters had made an attempt to commit highway robbery on him. The officer did not wait to make inquiries, but started to run the robbers down. He saw them disappear in the darkness among the cars in the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western yards, and with Officer Perry they scoured the place for them but met with no success.

Hereafter the vicinity of the bridge will be thoroughly patrolled.

Card of Thanks. The undersigned desires to express her deep gratitude to members of various societies and friends generally for their kindness in the hour of her affliction, and takes this opportunity to thank a man who rendered assistance and extended sympathy at that time. MRS. D. P. THOMAS.

Death of Mrs. Robert Walton. Mrs. Robert Walton died yesterday morning at her home, 509 Lawrence street, of heart trouble after a long illness. The announcement of the funeral will appear later. She was the mother of Mrs. Anthony Terry, Mrs. William O'Connor and Miss Mary Walton, and Edward and Thomas Walton.
