REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

For Lieutenant Governor: WALTER LYON, OF ALLEGHENY.

For Auditor General: AMOS H. MYLIN, OF LANCASTER.

For Secretary of Internal Affairs: JAMES W. LATTA, OF PHILADELPHIA.

For Congressional Electors: GALUSIA A. GROW, OF SUSQUEHANNA.

For Congressional Electors: GEORGE E. RUFF, OF WASHINGTONLAND.

Election Time, Nov. 6.

THE TROUBLE now is that "works of necessity or charity," which are permitted by the Sunday law, are construed by the light of the general drift of intelligent and humane sentiment.

Read's Currency Solution. A new element of complexity has been introduced into the national political situation by the appearance in the London Fortnightly Review of an interview with ex-Speaker Reed, in which he enunciates a novel policy with reference to future currency legislation.

It is upon a large scale what Scrantonians have witnessed upon a smaller one—moral suasion, conciliation, argument first; then when forbearance has ceased to be a virtue, the vigorous sweep of the mailed hand.

THE TRIBUNE yields to no other journal in its espousal of an honest currency, every dollar of which should be the buying equal of every other dollar.

YOU CAN rest assured that those senators were assured by men who knew their business.

IT LOOKS now very much as if the meteorological eccentricities of May were to be characteristic also of June.

THE CENTRAL POINT. It seems to require much reiteration to get the real point in this Sunday observance movement squarely and fairly before the public.

IF THE Indian crisis does not force England quickly into a larger monetary union with silver using nations, which union we will gladly join, then there may come a time for the nations friendly to bimetalism to unite, not in a monetary union, but a tariff union—reciprocity being the reward of free coinage for silver.

IN COMMON words, what does this mean? We have seen no better explanation than that given by Representative William A. Stone:

There is so much silver in this country and its production is one of our industries, that its protection becomes a matter of as much consideration to this country as any other metal.

AN ACCIDENT policy guaranteed to insure congressional candidates from the reactionary influences of fool friends would have a rare field in Luzerne just now.

IF THE Wilkes-Barre Record will graciously permit us to allude to an occurrence in Luzerne, we shall beg to remind it that the fictitious hoodie acts recently sprung by its curious self has, according to numerous reports, developed into a real boomerang.

MR GASTON of Wilkes-Barre will go down in history as a man who slept with both ears open.

THE CURIOUS suggestion is made in certain quarters that ex-Vice President Morton is too rich a man to make a safe nominee for governor of New York.

THE FEAR of recent Elcquesnes. From Six Thousand Mortal Day One laws. "Some sweet bird of the south Will build in every cannon's mouth, 'Till the only sound from out its rusty throat, Will be a woman's or a blabber's note."

THE MODERN maid was beautiful And brilliant, and all that; She had her hair in her face, Another in her hat.

object to the opulent New York statesman, scholar, philanthropist and all-round good citizen, Mr. Morton, on the Republican ticket. The reason is, simply, to say the least, it is time such puerile discussion were abandoned.

False Distinctions. We cannot agree with the idea that it would be undignified in an ex-governor of Pennsylvania to enter the advisory cabinet of one of his successors.

THE MODERN View of It. "My son," said the eminent financier, "you might as well understand at the start that you cannot have your cake and eat it at the same time."

NO TIME for Hesitancy. Messenger—They want you up to the house just as quick as you can come. Mr. Phelps looked over all of a sudden and the folks in a awful uneasy. Physician—Is it their urgent efforts to shield the participants have been sowing the wind, and sooner or later they will realize the inevitable harvest.

DO YOU KNOW HER? Her modest worth has never been sung in elegies left in rhyme. This maid I knew who'd by day To mankind give all her time.

COMPLUSORY ARBITRATION will not be pleasantly received in all quarters, but it must come. The compulsion will necessarily rest largely in an aroused public sentiment which will demand that the public's interests shall not be incessantly sacrificed.

SENATOR HILL is shaping his course on the income tax in a manner to make himself a strong factor in the next election.

AS A MATTER of individual profit, law defies by respectable men does not pay.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS. Hazleton Sentinel: A good deal is being said about Sunday closing of saloons and other stores.

Wilkes-Barre Times: There may be grey-headed lawyers to justify the arrest and punishment of druggists for selling soda water and bakers for delivering bread upon Sunday, but the wisdom of the proceeding is doubted by many whose reverence for the Sabbath is not at all open to question.

This Is What Sarcasm. Scranton may not take kindly to water, but she thinks a good deal of her Rowing club just the same.

A Case for the Divorce Courts. Squidly—Poor Squidly is disappointed in marriage. McSwilligen—How is that? Didn't Miss Roxy have as much money as he thought she had? Squidly—Yes, but she won't let him have any of it.

Get What It Wanted. The public can rest assured of one fact—the sugar trust was not represented in Washington by a man with a motive and a purpose. It wanted something, and it got what it wanted.

THE FEAR of recent Elcquesnes. From Six Thousand Mortal Day One laws. "Some sweet bird of the south Will build in every cannon's mouth, 'Till the only sound from out its rusty throat, Will be a woman's or a blabber's note."

THE MODERN maid was beautiful And brilliant, and all that; She had her hair in her face, Another in her hat.

SECRETIVE SENATOR HARRIS. New York Recorder.

Isam Harris is the mystery of the senate. Nobody knows how old he is and the chances are that nobody ever will. He was the confederate war governor of Tennessee, and when he abandoned the capital and went into the field there was a snug little sum of $1,000,000 in the state treasury. It was all in gold, and the doughty governor was determined that the federal usurers should not reap the benefit of it.

Will Read the Whirlwind. Philadelphia Press. People of Monroe county who have justified the lynching by their silence or by their urgent efforts to shield the participants have been sowing the wind, and sooner or later they will realize the inevitable harvest.

The Modern View of It. Indianapolis Journal. "You might as well understand at the start that you cannot have your cake and eat it at the same time."

No Time for Hesitancy. Chicago Tribune. Messenger—They want you up to the house just as quick as you can come. Mr. Phelps looked over all of a sudden and the folks in a awful uneasy.
