DUNMORE.

An entertainment will be given at the Odd Fellows' Hall this evening for the benefit of St. Luke's mission. A funny farce entitled "Poor Pillicoddy" will be presented, together with the rainbow drill and several musical and literary numbers. The programme is as follows: Rainbow drill, Josephine Phelps, Louise Schlager, Mame Gear-hart, Helen Merriman, Clara Van Cleef, Nan Merriman, Maude May; accompanist, Miss 'Horan; recitation, Miss Porter; "Polonaise Brilliante. "Poor Pillicoddy," a farce in one act, by John Madison Morgan, Cast of characters: Mr. Pillicoddy, Thomas E. Jones; Captain O'Scuttle, Ed Horan; Mrs. Pillicoddy, Miss. Eighter, Sarah Mrs. Pillicoddy, Miss Rickart; Sarah Blunt, Miss Merriman. Mr. Pillifalls in love with and marries a Mrs. O'Scuttle, a widow, whose husband to all knowledge was drowned but for which they have no evidence, and Poor Pillicoddy is in perpetual misery for fear Mr. O'Scuttle should turn up and claim his wife. A Captain O'Scuttle does finally turn up, and although he is not the original, he causes all of Mr. Pillicoddy's amusing adventures and creates an abundance of fun. The admission will be 25 cents, 10 cents extra for reserved seats. Ice cream will be served after the perform-

HONESDALE SENSATION.

A Married Man, a Young Girl and Horse and Buggy Mysterlously Disappear.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Honesdale, June 7.—The topic conversation in Honesdale Describes and contains the late Wednesday night and all day Leading Fashions, Latest R. Matchett, foreman of Wooden & Dress Materials, Stories, An-Blackney's box factory, and Flo Keeler. A. R. Matchett came to Honesdale some six or seven months ago from his father's box factory in Pittsburg. He is a married man, baving a wife and child living. Mr. Matchett soon be-came acquainted with a number of young ladies, but his preference for Miss Keeler was very marked.

On Wednesday night Matchett had drawn his full pay at the box factory. At the home of William Evans, where he boarded, he stated that he was go ing out to toa, and ate no supper. Miss Keeler told her parents she was going out for the evening and would not reurn before midnight.

Matchett proceeded to Murray & Ricket's livery, where he hired a horse and carriage and drove down towards Traceyville. In front of Guckenberger's grocery he was met by Miss Keeler. She got into the carriage. This was shortly after 7 o'clock and is the last that has been heard of the couple. Mr. Murray's telegraphing to locate his horse has been in vain.

STROUDSBURG.

Middle Smithfield inhabitants are in fear of a fire bug. Several small fires have occurred recently in that vicinity and in every instance supicion has pointed to some miscreant. There have been no suspicious characters noticed in the neighborhood.

Mrs. J. B. Coleman is visiting relatives in Philadelphia.

Children's day exercises at Cana-densis, will be held Sunday, June 24. Professor Brasefield, who intely resigned on account of ill health from the chair on mathematics of the normal school, left for his home in Easton yesterday. His resignation was the cause of general regret to the students of the school, to whom he had endeared himself by his courteous bearing and good fellowship. At a meeting of the Young Men's Christian association held in the chapel on Sunday last the members were greatly affected by his farewell address.

Cora Miller, daughter of Peter Miller, of Plainfield township, met with a paculiar and at the same time a very painful accident. While with a numper of her young friends she was engaged in playing a game of copenhagen Wednesday evening on the grounds op-posite the Wind Gap school house when she ran against the rim of a young man's straw hat with such force as to break her nose. It is plainly seen either the girls must give up kissing or the young men wearing straw hats.

The Niagara fire engine which has been undergoing repairs at the works of J. A. Toubill on North Main street, is receiving the finishing touches and will be ready for a test by Monday next. Mr. Touhill, under whose su-pervision the work is being cone, says the affected parts will be stronger and better and better able to withstand harder usages than before for the reason that the broken cast iron "cams" have been supplanted by brass castings. These, he said, have a much greater resisting force by reason of their toughness and pliable tendencies. The Carbondale Lyceum opera company will present "The Piraces of Penzance" at Music Hall the 22:id of this

HONESDALE.

About thirty-five members of the Honesciale Liederkrautz were guests of the Germania Maennerchor at White Mills Wednesday night, After the concert the Leiderkranz returned home. They occupied three large wagons and a number of buggies. The road in front of Guckenberger's brewery being impassible the driver of one of the wagons took the silk mill road which runs alongside of the dry dock of the Delaware and Hulson Canal company. The wagon was driven too near the edge of the dry dock. The earth having been washed loose by recent heavy showers it gave way, precipitating the wagon, its six occupants and borses into the dry dock, a depth of about seven feet. Fortunately no one was injured outside of slight bruises, but their escape was certainly miraculous,
