The companies presented a handsome appearance and won many compliments from the onlookers.

STILL ON HAND CASE

Supintendent Richard O'Brien on the Stand for the Deities.

THE OTHER WITNESSES HEARD

What Dr. Hand Said to Dr. O'Brien. Trial of Case of Flora Levi Against J. S. Miller—David Waight Brings Suit Against the Northwest Coal Company—Other Cases Heard Before Judge Edwards.

The trial of the case of Dr. Hand against the Central Telephone and Supply company, was resumed before Judge Archbald in court room No. 2 yesterday morning. The plaintiff was placed on the stand and in response to a question explained that he had been indemnified by an accident insurance company for injuries he sustained several years ago previous to the receiving of a shock from the company's wire.

Dr. Emmett O'Brien was the next witness. He had made a study of electricity and had seen Dr. Hand two days after the alleged accident. Plaintiff said at that time he could raise his hand but could not keep it raised. Dr. O'Brien testified that he could not have received a shock in the manner he claimed and that Thomas A. Elison or any other electrician would tell him the same thing, in reply to which Dr. Hand said he would make the company demonstrate that fact if it cost him all he was worth. Witness had examined Dr. Hand's arms and found no atrophy except in a single muscle.

Edward Howe, of Scranton, was sworn and stated that he had once received a shock that rendered him unconscious at the time.

Superintendent O'Brien, of the Western Union Telegraph company, testified to the contract with the city to place wires and maintain a fire alarm system in connection therewith. A number of other witnesses gave evidence in rebuttal.

VERDICT FOR THE PLAINTIFF. The trial of the case of Flora Levi by her next friend, D. J. Levi, against J. S. Miller and Benjamin Levi, trustees for selling of certain goods belonging to the plaintiff, on a writ against D. J. Levi, was completed before Judge Searle in court room No. 3 yesterday forenoon. Shortly after retiring, the jury returned a verdict of $300 for the plaintiff, nearly the full amount claimed. Attorney John F. Searle had charge of the case for the plaintiff. The case of David Waight against the Northwest Coal company, limited, was called for trial yesterday before Judge Searle. Attorney Agis Ricketts, of Wilkes-Barre, appeared for the plaintiff, and Attorney E. N. Willard, for the defendant. The allegation of the plaintiff is that in 1890 he sold to the defendant eleven boiler cleaners, the value of which was $825. After they had been placed in position at the Northwest colliery, the bill was presented, but has never been paid. The defense is that there was an understanding that the cleaners might be returned in case they did not prove satisfactory. The cleaners, it is claimed, were valueless and, furthermore, injured the boilers and the plaintiff was notified to remove them, but failed to do so. The case is still on trial.

SPRING FOR GOODS SOLD. The H. W. Johns Manufacturing company is plaintiff in a case against William Connel and Sons that is being tried before Judge Edwards. The company is represented by Attorney Charles H. Wells and the defendants by Attorneys Watson & Deihl. The suit is brought to recover $123.31, a balance claimed to be due on the bill. When court adjourned the case had not been completed. James Gannon was brought into court for contempt, he having refused to sign a deed in compliance with an order from court. When asked by Judge Edwards if he still refused to sign, he replied in the affirmative, also stating that he wished to see his attorney. The prisoner was thereupon remanded to the jail for the night.

A SPLENDID ENTERTAINMENT. Given at the Second Presbyterian Church Last Evening. The lecture room of the Second Presbyterian church was the scene last evening of a delightful entertainment given by the Sunday school orchestra. A tenor solo was the first of the vocal selections and was rendered with much spirit. Mr. Bynon's lyric voice never fails to charm his audience. Mrs. Jayne's rendering of "The Rose Tree" was a rare treat and was enthusiastically received. Miss Catharine Pariser's numbers were especially attractive. Her first recitation, "In Imogene" is a society piece of much merit, but the gem of the evening was her "Little Golden Hair." In this Miss Pariser displayed her rare skill in portraying child life. The orchestral numbers were excellent, especially the Gavotte and the closing overture. The rapid advancement of Mr. Widmayer, as a violinist was apparent as he rendered with surprising technique, Leonard's Fantastic minuet. Prof. Rockwell, Miss Smith and Miss Bayley were the accompanists.

BANQUET AND PRESENTATION. Seventeen Pastmasters of F. and A. M. Lodges, Pastmaster's Jewel. After the regular meeting of Hiram Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, West Market street, held Thursday evening, the lodge gave a banquet to the members and visiting brethren numbering in all about 100 persons. T. Hunt Brock, of the Windsor hotel, had prepared an excellent menu for the occasion, which all present seemed to enjoy with a relish. The evening was also made memorable by the presentation of pastmaster's jewels to all the living pastmasters of the lodge since 1857, seventeen in all. Speeches were made by A. J. Colborn, John P. Scragg, ex-Mayor Fellows and T. Frank Pennam.

TODAY'S EXCURSION TO FARVIEW. It will be conducted by the Young Women's Christian Association. The Young Women's Christian association will run an excursion to Farview this morning, leaving this city at 8:30, returning at 6:30. It is hoped that every friend of the worthy organization will accompany this excursion. The fare is only 75 cents—children 40—and the trip is the most charming one within easy distance of Scranton.

RUN DOWN WHILE ASLEEP. Sad Accident That Befel Oscar Sammon at Avoca. Oscar Sammon, a young man 21 years of age, who resided with his parents at Little England, near Dunmore, was so severely injured, Avoca Thursday night that he died at his home yesterday morning. Young Sammon was a brakeman on the Erie and Wyoming Valley railroad and while his train was standing in the yard at Avoca he sat down on the track and being very tired fell asleep. He was run down by a train and had both legs and an arm cut off. He was taken to his home, where he died early yesterday morning.

MATINEE AT THE FROTHINGHAM.

Chimes of Normandy to Be Repeated This Afternoon and Evening. At the matinee at the Frothingham this afternoon the Mackay-Kennedy company will present the delightful "Chimes of Normandy."

The chimes is an opera that gives every member of this really excellent company great opportunities, a fact is taken advantage of.

Production in the best yet given, and undoubtedly the most finished presentation of the opera ever seen in this city. The work of Fanny Myers, Lizzie Gonzalez and the other members of the company being of the highest order. The Railway has made a decided and emphatic hit as the notary.

Letters were sent by Mayor Connell yesterday in compliance with the request of cigar dealers who have filed in the Sunday closing litigation of the past few weeks, requesting druggists to refrain from the sale of merchandise on the Sabbath, except such as may be required for sicknesses and requesting other dealers to cease Sabbath traffic entirely. From inquiries made by a TRIBUNE reporter it was learned that the request will be complied with.

MAYOR MAKES A REQUEST.

In Compliance with It Many Druggists and Cigar Dealers Will Remain Closed on Sunday. Several of these have been opened in this city, but by far the prettiest of these, as all concede, is Richmond Park, in upper Green Ridge. Richmond Park is located on a ground of all grades of elevation and commands a varied view of the most picturesque portions of our hills and valleys. The air is particularly fresh, invigorating and life-inspiring.

Richmond Park, all acknowledge, is a real residential Eden, and some of the most beautiful residences are being erected there. There is a great race here of the best class of our citizens, who are largely purchasing places for homes. On all sides lots have been purchased by lawyers, journalists, clergymen, druggists, merchants and men and women in the highest stations, and elegant residences there in this column it is evident to all that Richmond Park is fast becoming the choice residential locality of the Electric City. The dwellings shown beneath are of the southern models and are now in course of erection in Richmond Park by Contractor B. E. Dunn, of Green Ridge, according to the plans prepared by Architects F. L. Brown & Percival J. Morris, of this city.

Druggist Phelps has replied to the letter saying he will cheerfully comply with the request, and that neither Mr. Dony nor those behind him could have brought it about. Mr. Phelps stated to a TRIBUNE reporter that he proposed to stand by his public announcement that he would accept any dose Mayor Connell might prescribe. From Mr. Phelps it was learned that McGarrath & Thomas would also accede to the request.

Druggist Ryan, of Penn avenue, said the closing of his soda-water trade on Sunday would incur an inconvenience for his customers and deprive them of what he believes is a necessity. It is his purpose to confer with Mayor Connell today. When not assuming a radical position in the matter, he could not state last night just what he would do regarding the mayor's request. This morning a meeting will be held of those who opposed the Dony crusade at which the mayor's letter will be considered. From the tenor of the remarks of those to whom THE TRIBUNE reporter conversed last night, it seems evident that the request of the mayor will be sufficient to secure the observance of the law. Those approached, however, declared emphatically that they would never have submitted out of respect for Mr. Dony's wishes.

WARRANT WAS NOT SERVED. Rev. Mr. Dony Was in Wilkes-Barre Yesterday on Business. The warrant issued at the instance of Drug Clerk Frank Beavers charging Rev. F. A. Dony with perjury was not served yesterday, as Mr. Dony was in Wilkes-Barre all day on business. It will be served this morning. Druggist Phelps said that there was no intention on the part of any one to entrap Mr. Dony. Formerly he had no knowledge of his clerk, Mr. Beavers, was in New York until he was so informed by his lead clerk last Sunday night. Mr. Beavers, when arrested, felt that he had a just grievance and had the warrant for Mr. Dony issued.

GIRLS HAVE A NARROW ESCAPE. Miss Hand and Miss Torrey Upset in a Pon Cart. Two young girls, daughters of George Hand and City Solicitor Torrey, had a narrow escape from serious injury yesterday noon while driving a pony attached to a cart. They were bowling along Gibson street and in endeavoring to turn into Mohr court the cart was upset and the girls thrown to the pavement. At the same time the pony became entangled in the harness and fell down, injuring itself somewhat. A number of persons rushed to the rescue, but fortunately found that a bad fright was the only damage which the girls sustained.

A WEEK OF STANDARD PLAYS. Will Be Presented in a Fine Manner at Wonderland. The old patrons of the Wonderland theater are pleased over the announcement that this popular house will open its doors on Monday for a week of extensive repertoire by the Modern Star players. "The King of the Fishes," "Forget-the-Not," "Fairly Accused," "Fun on the Bitter" and "Private Secretary" will be presented. Prices for the matinee, which will be given every afternoon, will be 10 and 20 cents. A feature to which is attached a great deal of interest is the outting of every holder of an admission ticket to a chance on a high grade bicycle.

VISIT TO THE TRAINING SCHOOL. Directors Given an Object Lesson on the Work It Does. F. L. Wormer, C. S. Jacobs, George Mitchell and W. J. Welsh, members of the board of control, and Superintendent of Schools Phillip Foster, for teachers visited the training school for teachers and were given an object lesson by Miss Laura Boice, its principal, in the manner in which the school is conducted. The visitors were much gratified with what they saw and are convinced that the training school is an excellent institution.

Children's Day Services. Tomorrow Trinity Evangelical Sunday school, corner Lake and Kuriz streets, "Little England," will celebrate Children's day, and a time of great rejoicing is anticipated by all who have so earnestly labored to prepare an excellent programme. The pastor, Rev. J. G. Whitmore, has kindly consented to preach an illustrated sermon for the benefit of the children at 10:30 a. m. At 2 p. m., Sunday school as usual. At 7:30 p. m. services of the children, for whose special interest and enjoyment the day is set apart.

Why are the lots at Wood Lawn Park the best? Because, under the sewer or grading streets will be made, attached to this afternoon, also 6 to 8 p. m. The 5 Bros'. Shoes are easy to wear and hard to wear out.

OUR CITY'S NEW PARKS

The Development of the Idea Among the People of Scranton.

THE LONG DESIRE IS SATISFIED

Something About Our Residential Parks and the Great Fad for Elegant Suburban Retreats—They Are Making Our City Beautiful and Healthful and Giving Us Innumerable Model, Well Appointed Homes.

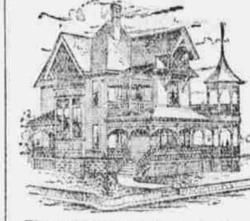

Long before Scranton was out of her teens the thriving young city has seen the need of parks, and with this spring has come the final triumph of her praiseworthy endeavor. Not having a great public park where the people might bask in the burning rays of the sun her most progressive citizens sought to bring the pleasures of the country and of the parks to their homes. "From out of evil cometh good," and from the desire of public parks have come the beautifying of the city residences and the conception of the idea of residential parks.

Several of these have been opened in this city, but by far the prettiest of these, as all concede, is Richmond Park, in upper Green Ridge. Richmond Park is located on a ground of all grades of elevation and commands a varied view of the most picturesque portions of our hills and valleys. The air is particularly fresh, invigorating and life-inspiring.

Richmond Park, all acknowledge, is a real residential Eden, and some of the most beautiful residences are being erected there.

There is a great race here of the best class of our citizens, who are largely purchasing places for homes. On all sides lots have been purchased by lawyers, journalists, clergymen, druggists, merchants and men and women in the highest stations, and elegant residences there in this column it is evident to all that Richmond Park is fast becoming the choice residential locality of the Electric City. The engravings speak out for themselves. The cottages are complete throughout in all the modern idea of home completeness. They are constructed with large and spacious rooms, broad and delightful verandas, beautiful and ornamented porticos, slightly arched observatories, and elegant compact balconies. They are adorned with exquisite turned mouldings, casing and stereo finish. The windows are of varying sizes and shapes oblong, square, circular and semicircular; they are of plain and stained glass and are single or grouped, double and triple. The buildings are being constructed with the best sanitary plumbing, with hot and cold water bathrooms, closets, gas connections and fixtures, laundries with stationary stone tubs, kitchen ranges, furnaces and electric bells. The cellar walls are of white stone laid in courses and beautiful iron fences of unique design will run along the grassy lawns in front. These buildings so complete in all things and so beautiful in design give evidence of the character of the buildings which are to adorn the lots in Richmond park. These houses are simply protected by restrictions which will prevent any inferior houses to detract from the beauty of the houses in the park. A pretty little office of original design by the same architect, is erected on Richmond Avenue and is open all hours of the day and evening. They have an office at 117 Penn avenue in charge of Attorney H. M. Hannah, one of the company. They have lots of all prices from $850 to $1,200 according to location and requiring but $100 down, give ten years to pay the balance. Richmond park has nearly a mile of stone sidewalks, and one-half a mile of a sewer laid, catch basins, etc. The city water is all through the park. The Green Ridge People's cars run within half a block of it and the Dunmore Suburban car, with more than ten blocks away on the other side of the handsome Pennsylvania State buildings of the Oal school. Richmond park is destined to be the grandest residential locality in all the city of Scranton.
