SLOW PROGRESS OF THE TARIFF

Bill May Be Out of Committee of the Whole Next Saturday.

FREE LIST IS ALMOST IN SIGHT

Democrats Hope to See This Portion of the Tariff Agreed To as Fast as Read, but Western Republicans Will Fight for Small Duty on Free Wool--Remaining Bone of Contention Among Democrats is the Income Tax and Will Cause Lively Debate.

NEW YORK, June 17.

THE Democratic managers look forward for the coming week in the senate with confidence. The Republicans are, outwardly, indifferent. Mr. Harris, the parliamentarian in charge of the skirmish line in the great contest, declared last night when next Saturday came the tariff bill would be out of the committee of the whole, and Mr. Aldrich, the Republican leader, admitted that the outlook was favorable to rapid progress.

THE REED BOOM SPRUNG.

Colonel Conger, the Akron Manufacturer, Expresses Dissatisfaction with Gov. McKinley's Candidacy.

AKRON, O., June 17.—Colonel A. L. Conger, the well known Republican leader of this city, in a published card says:

So far as the McKinley bill is concerned, I feel the campaign in 1892 upon that issue. The Republican party is for protection. The country has prospered under it, but as we have grown older we have needed less protection. We meant in our national platform in 1892--at least, it was stated by one speaker on the stump and by the Republican press, but when we put forth the McKinley bill we violated the pledges of the party, increased duties, then went forth to last upon the protection and were beaten. Now it would simply be political suicide to start out upon that proposition in 1896.

THE MEN WERE RESCUED.

Federal Deputies Arrest Rotund Strikers, but Are Overpowered.

STANTON, Ill., June 17.—Ten United States deputy marshals from Springfield went to Mount Olive last night on a special train to arrest the ringleaders of the strikers, who have for several days held up trains and confiscated coal in transit over the Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis railroad.

TO BLOW UP THE CAPITOL.

Alleged Discovery of Big Plot Whereby Anarchists Hoped to Triumph.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Exposures of a plot which had for its object the destruction of the capitol and perhaps other government buildings and which had been slowly developing for several weeks past is made in a local newspaper, the Post. According to the story, the plot was formed at the time Coxey's army was marching to the capitol. The prime mover in the plot was Hon. Jaxon. He came from Chicago, where he has been a disturber for years. He was assisted by anarchists from various cities.

COLLEGE GRADUATIONS.

Baccalaureate Sunday at Lehigh University was signalled by the preaching of an able sermon by Bishop Hugh Miller Thompson, of Mississippi, in Parker Memorial chapel.

GOTHAM ELKS ARE FIRM.

They Will Stand by the Grand Trustees at Atlantic City.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The board of grand trustees of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, and a large number of grand lodge members of New York and New England and other points were in session here today at the Broadway Central hotel, making final arrangements for holding the thirtieth annual meeting of the grand lodge at Atlantic City, N. J., June 19, 20 and 21.

HAPPENINGS OF THE OLD WORLD

Apprehensions Caused by Death of Sultan of Morocco Not Verified.

PRETEXT FOR EUROPEAN INVASION

Peace of Europe Might Be Easily Disturbed by Any One of the Powers Making an Effort to Take Possession of Morocco--Italian Crisis Ends in a Manner Extremely Italian.

Reception on Board the American Warship Chicago--The Zuyder Zee to Be Reclaimed.

LONDON, June 16.

NO verification has as yet resulted of the very lively apprehensions caused by the sudden death of the Sultan of Morocco. They arose perhaps more from the probability that a disputed succession and disorder in country might supply a pretext for European invasion rather than of expected opposition to the accession of the sultan's designated heir, a boy of fourteen. It was thought that there might be a scramble between three, or perhaps four, powers, a race between warships bound for Tangier, landings of European troops, collisions, and after that, nobody knew what.

The peace of Europe might be as easily disturbed by trouble in Morocco as in any other way. Spain and France absolutely refuse to recognize any other foreign authority but their own. England for some time past has been suspected of having designs on Tangier.

Lord Dufferin has been accused of giving assurances to M. Hanotaux that England does not intend to interfere in Morocco, which is interpreted by English critics as a pledge that France shall have a free hand. However, it is quite certain that no such assurances have ever been given to M. Hanotaux. Simply because England may not care particularly for Tangier, it does not follow that she would acquiesce in its accession by France. She certainly would not; neither would Italy nor Germany, nor Spain, nor Russia. There is not one of these Powers that would allow France to intrude herself at the Atlantic end of the Mediterranean without making serious objections. Furthermore it is hardly probable that France will make the effort under the existing circumstances.

No prime minister ever spoke more strongly for peace than did Lord Rosebery at the Trinity House banquet last week, when he declared that the statesmen of Europe were too wise to allow trouble to grow out of the death of the sultan of Morocco. No less significant was Rosebery's warning to France and her foreign minister against violent methods in dealing with the questions raised by the Anglo-Belgian convention. At the present time every minister in Europe is asking himself how will Hanotaux explain his declaration that the Anglo-Belgian convention is to be regarded as null and void.

The French, Spanish and British ministers have received instructions from their respective governments to recognize Abdul Aziz as sultan of Morocco. They are also instructed to ask permission to pay their respects to the new sultan at Rabat.

THE ITALIAN CRISIS.

The Italian crisis has ended in a manner which can only be called Italian. It arises from the resolve of the majority to get rid of Signor Sonnino and his financial scheme. The new ministry, nevertheless, of which Signor Crispien remains president, contains Signor Sonnino. He is now called minister of the treasury, instead of minister of finance. As for his policy, one objection item, the extra land tax, is abandoned. The more hateful part, which set on foot economic and retrenchments on a scale hitherto unheard of, is retained and largely extended. The chamber in those novel circumstances welcomes Signor Crispien with cheers, and whatever else may be said, the personal triumph for him is considerable.

THE CHICAGO FAREWELL.

The farewell reception on board the Chicago by Admirals Fisher and Schuyler, and the acknowledgment of the honorees which the admiral and Captain Mahan and all the officers of this American warship have accepted during their ever-memorable visit to London. The Chicago sailed for Antwerp, to the general regret of her friends. The University of Chicago gives Captain Mahan next week an honorary degree, the first on record. It is said, to any American naval officer.

TO RECLAIM THE ZUYDER ZEE.

After several years' characteristically deliberate consideration, the Dutch government has at length announced its determination to undertake the reclamation of that immense bay or inland sea, known as the Zuyder Zee. The colossal nature of the project will be understood when it is remembered that the sheet of water is about 60 miles in length and 210 in circumference. Of this it is proposed to reclaim 500,000 acres, the value of which is estimated at about $150,000,000, a considerable moiety of which will be paid as compensation to the Zuyder Zee fishermen deprived of their calling.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS NOTES.

Messy, the Harrisburg pinner has been released to Louisville for $500.

The remains of the late Thomas M. Bayne were taken to Pittsburgh for burial. The number of men who perished in the Karwin mines in Australia has been definitely ascertained as being 241.

The international bicycle race, at Paris, was won by the Welshman, Linton, who in six hours covered 219 kilometres and 906 metres.

After trying the landanum Conch said that he intended to add the nutmeg, which would intensify the action of the narcotic.

Patrick McDonald, one of three disorderly Plymouth youths whom Constable Jones was trying to arrest, was fatally shot in the neck in an attempt to wrest away the officer's revolver.

FORTUNE LOST IN BIG STRIKE

The Total Money Loss Conservatively Estimated at Twenty Millions.

AND THE REAL END IS FAILURE

During the Fifty Days of the Strike's Continuance, Sixteen Persons Were Killed and Thirty-four Injured, Some Permanently--Operators, Officers of the Law and Last of All, the Public, Each Sustain Their Portion of the Affliction--Some of the Results Achieved.

PITTSBURGH, June 17.

SIXTEEN deaths and thirty-four cases of serious injury, some involving disability for life; a loss in wages amounting to millions of dollars, hundreds of thousands of dollars lost in the wanton destruction of property; and collateral loss beyond computation are some of the visible results of the recent bituminous miners' strike. The strike lasted forty-nine work days. In this district 20,000 miners lost $19,000 in wages each day. The grand total of miners who have been idle in Pennsylvania since the strike began is 55,000. They have lost $50,150 every working day of the strike. Multiplication will show that the bituminous miners of Pennsylvania have lost $2,457,350 during the strike thus far.

In the Pittsburgh district it has cost the operators $850 for every day of the strike to keep their mines in order. At this rate it has cost all the operators in this state about $2,500 per day, or nearly $150,000 in round figures for the entire period of the strike. Aside from their losses in profits have been enormous, not to speak of the thousands that have been spent in bringing in new men and protecting the mines with deputy sheriffs and Pinkertons. It is estimated that for the latter purpose the coal operators have expended already $100,000, and are in a fair way to spend more. Although the strike in Pennsylvania has been accompanied by these momentous losses it cannot be said that in the state or the United States it will bring any permanent benefit to the coal industry. All told 174,000 miners struck. Their strike was for the purpose of bringing about an interstate wage agreement with the operators. In this they have failed to a considerable extent.

WENT INSANE WITH FRIGHT.

One Consequence of Pay Day in Pittston is a Shooting Affray of Peculiar Circumstances.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 17.—Payday came yesterday with it the usual quota of file and brass. At 61 Swallow street a free fight took place about 11 o'clock Saturday night among a lot of Poles. Clubs, bottles, revolvers and stones played a prominent part with the result that two of the participants are badly injured and a woman almost insane with fright.

The fight started over a game of cards. As the game progressed the players continued to drink their thirst with beer poured from a tin until everyone of them was in fighting humor. The dealer of the cards was accused of cheating and as a result dealt his accuser a stinging blow on the face. The fracas became general and for a few minutes badmen reigned supreme.

In the melee one of the Poles received a bullet in the leg and is badly wounded. Michael Sawabock received an ugly cut in the head from a bottle fired by some one to him unknown. Who did the shooting it is not clearly known, but John Schweitzer, one of the combatants, is charged with the crime. The wife of the proprietor, fearing somebody would get killed, also "took a hand" in the capacity of peacemaker. Seeing Sawabock bleeding profusely she became hysterical and at this writing is reported dangerously ill. She is being attended by Dr. Dively.

Sawabock, who is accused of doing the shooting, has made his escape and cannot be found.

WAS A PERFECT DAY.

Y. W. C. A. Excursionists Enjoyed the Trip to Fairview.

The hundreds who went on the excursion to Fairview Saturday afternoon to the Young Women's Christian association to Fairview Saturday congratulated themselves on their return that the day had been perfect and that no feature occurred to mar the enjoyment of the occasion.

The party left at 8:30 o'clock from the Vine Street station of the Delaware and Hudson and returned in the evening soon after 6 o'clock.

ONE TRAGEDY OF THE TIMES.

Man Out of Work and Despondent Tries to Take His Life.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 17.—Edward Upawitz, single, residing in Exeter, attempted to take his life by shooting himself in the abdomen with a revolver, inflicting a fatal wound. He was removed to the hospital for treatment.

The cause assigned for the deed is that he was suffering from despondency caused by being out of work.

AMONG THE POLITICIANS.

This evening a reception will be tendered Charles L. Hawley, prohibition candidate for governor, at the rooms of the prohibition league, 615 Green Ridge street.

The Democrats of the Fourth Legislative district will hold a convention at Jersey on Tuesday, June 26, to nominate a candidate for the legislature. The candidates for the nomination are: M. T. Burke of Carbondale; James J. Feeley, Miles Moore and P. J. White, of Archbald, and J. B. Cummings, of Dickson.

Twenty-five members of the Democratic county committee met in this city Saturday and elected the following delegates to represent the Democrats of this county at the state convention to be held in Harrisburg on June 27: First district, P. J. Golden, M. H. Griffin; Second district, Charles Robinson, George S. Horn, John J. Fahy; Third district, James G. Bailey, Waverly; Fourth district, Thomas J. Dugan, Dunmore; John E. Kelly, Winton; Patrick Connor, Carbondale.

At its meeting Saturday the Democratic county committee passed a resolution stating forth that the services of the Democrats of this county in behalf of Democratic entities it to recognition on the state ticket. The resolution further recommends that the delegates to the state convention use every honorable means to secure the nomination of Colonel F. J. Fitzsimmons for lieutenant governor. The gallant service that Mr. Fitzsimmons has rendered his party entitles him to some more substantial recognition than the bootless honor of a nomination for lieutenant governor on the Democratic ticket this year.

WEATHER FORECAST.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Forecast for Monday: For Eastern Pennsylvania, thunder showers, cooler in the afternoon, south winds.

WILLIAM WALTER PHELPS DEAD.

He Remained Unconscious and Death Appeared Only a Sleep.

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., June 17.—At 1:50 o'clock this morning Judge William Walter Phelps passed away. The end was so peaceful that for some minutes after he had breathed his last his family, who were watching at the bedside with intense sorrow, would not believe that the end had come. The patient was unconscious to the end and appeared to pass into a deep sleep.

The remains will lay in state at the family residence until Wednesday morning when the funeral services will take place at the Presbyterian church of Englewood. The interment will be at Simsbury, Conn., the same day.

Scores of telegrams of sympathy have been received by the sorrowing family from many prominent persons.

WILLIAM WALTER PHELPS.

PRESIDENT M'BRIDE TALKS.

Explains That the Return of Striking Miners to Work Will Naturally Be Gradual.

COLUMBUS, O., June 17.—President McBride, of the United Mine Workers, declared tonight that he was firmly of the opinion that the miners will accept the terms of settlement made here last Monday. "I do not mean to say that they will all go to work tomorrow," said he, "but a great many of them will. It will be two weeks, and possibly three, before a general resumption there will take place, but it will come. In Indiana the block miners have accepted the agreement, while the other miners in the state have refused to do so. One-third of the delegates to the state convention, however, voted to go to work, so I judge that the opposition cannot be so strong after all."

"In Western Pennsylvania work will be resumed tomorrow except in a few mines, not exceeding a half dozen, where the operators object to paying the scale of wages agreed upon. In Ohio, there is a peculiar condition. It holds that work will be resumed in practically the entire Hocking valley tomorrow. I think it probable that the Jackson county mines will also resume. The Sunday Creek valley miners will not go to work tomorrow, nor will the Coshocton miners. In Tuscarawas county, the miners have resolved not to go to work."

Outside of the competitive field President McBride said that terms of settlement either had been or were being made. "Iowa, said he, 'has settled upon most excellent terms for the miners. Kansas is now working. President McGregor, of Missouri, says that state will fall in line with the settlement this week, while Southern Illinois a conference of miners and operators is making satisfactory progress."

THE MEN WERE RESCUED.

Federal Deputies Arrest Rotund Strikers, but Are Overpowered.

STANTON, Ill., June 17.—Ten United States deputy marshals from Springfield went to Mount Olive last night on a special train to arrest the ringleaders of the strikers, who have for several days held up trains and confiscated coal in transit over the Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis railroad.

They succeeded in arresting four of the strikers for whom they had warrants. But a mob of 400 strikers took possession of the car, overpowered the deputy marshals and took the prisoners away from them. The marshals have returned to Springfield for reinforcements.

POWERFUL POISONS MIXED.

Landanum and Powdered Nutmeg Dissolved in Strong Whisky.

HUNTINGTON, Pa., June 17.—The mysterious compound which Edward Couch administered to William R. Miller with such swift and fatal effect was ascertained at the coroner's inquest last night to be a mixture of landanum, powdered nutmeg and whisky.

After trying the landanum Couch said that he intended to add the nutmeg, which would intensify the action of the narcotic.
