Rev. W. J. Ford, pastor of the Green Baptist church, last night delivered the annual address before the alumni of Cook academy at Havana, N. Y.

J. B. Macchettie left on the 8 o'clock train yesterday morning for Philadelphia, Mount Pocono, where he will spend the day with his cousin, Thos. Macchettie, of the United States navy. Mr. Macchettie was with his cousin for one year at Key West, Florida, in the capacity of paymaster's clerk.

NORTH END BRIEFS.

Arrangements have been made for an excellent entertainment at the Christian church to-morrow night at 7:30.

The members of the First Welsh Baptist church have arranged for a strawberry social to be held on July 3.

The closing exercises in connection with the school No. 25 will be held in the hall of the school on Friday next at 2 p. m. Proceeds for the benefit of the library and clock fund.

The grand excursion to Farview, under the auspices of class No. 4, Presbyterian Sunday school, will take place to-morrow by the Delaware and Hudson train, leaving at 8 a. m.

Gwynn Evans, who has spent a pleasant holiday of two months in Pennsylvania, left Scranton yesterday on his return home to Wales. He has delivered sermons at the North End and other places, and will carry back to the old country pleasant impressions of his trip.

Extensive alterations are being carried out at the Lewis drug store where the front is being entirely removed and a splendid plate glass window substituted.

G. W. Davis, although a young man, the youngest druggist in the city, thoroughly understands his profession having graduated at Philadelphia in the largest college in the world. The alteration will be a great improvement to the appearance of Providence square and Mr. Davis's enterprise is commendable.

Considerable dissatisfaction is felt in the North End upon the location and condition of the police station and strong hopes are entertained that after the visit of the city authorities and the fact of the premises being condemned, that immediate action will be taken to procure more suitable and sanitary buildings. The entrance to the station is antiquated and dangerous, and quite opposite for the requirements of conveying prisoners to and fro, but the entrance is only an index to the sad condition of affairs within the building. Above the cells and officers quarters are the stables of the Liberty and Niagara Horse companies and the small which of necessity exists, permeates the rooms, making it positively dangerous to the health of the officers and prisoners. The room where the officers transact their business and occasionally eat their meals, is a most miserable den.

Scranton's Business Interests.

The Tribune will soon publish a carefully compiled and classified list of the leading wholesale, banking, manufacturing and professional interests of Scranton and vicinity. This edition will be bound in book form, beautifully illustrated with photographs of our public buildings, business blocks, streets, etc., together with portraits of leading citizens. No similar work has ever given an equal representation of Scranton's many industries. It will be an invaluable exposition of our business resources. Sent to persons outside the city copies of this handsome work will attract new comers and be an unequalled advertisement of the city. The circulation is on a plan that cannot fail of resulting to those concerned as well as the city at large. Representatives of THE TRIBUNE will call upon those whose names are desired in this edition and explain its nature more fully.

Those desiring views of their residences in this edition will please leave notice at the office.

LECTURE ON IRELAND

Delivered by S. G. Kerr in the Lecture Room of Elm Park Church.

HIS PERSONAL EXPERIENCES

What He Saw in a Tour Through the Emerald Isle—Visit to the Place of His Birth—Roads of Ireland Much Better Than Those in This Country—Poor Educational Facilities.

An appreciative audience heard the lecture of S. G. Kerr, of the firm of Kerr & Siebeck, last evening in the lecture room of the Elm Park church.
The subject included a recital of Mr.
Kerr's trip through Ireland two years ago and it was all the more interesting from the fact that the speaker was born on the old soil but had not visited his native land in forty-one years.

Mr. Kerr's description of Derry and its ancient walls and parapets, included the comment that it was not unlike most American cities in its architectural features. But he was forcibly reminded, that it was not being a free country when he saw a Dublin jurist enter and depart from the sensuous court preceded by the high sheriff and other functionaries, all instate regalia, and closely guarded and surrounded by mounted Irish consulars.

Personally, he enjoyed his visit to Donagall near his birth place and when the gate house was reached he rose in the cart and gave three rousing Yankee cheers, notwithstanding the ladies tugging at his coat tails. The hospitality of the Irish is proverbial, but one should live among them to appreciate them most. An American, particularly is sure of a hearty reception.

COMPARISON OF ROADS.

In comparing the roads of Ireland with those of this country, he said the roads of Ireland are as firm and smooth as asphalt, and he regretted during his visit that he did not know how to ride a bicycle. There one could drive a mile without a "clinch-pin," but the same cannot be said of the wagon running road to Providence, for instance.

He spoke of visits made at Ballyshannon, Boleek, noted for their famous chinaware and pottery; Lake Melville, in the County of Leitrim, where he was entertained by the mother and brother of two young men now in business in Scranton. Of his old homestead at Muckross, near Donagall, he applied a verse of "The Old Oak Buck," "excepting the well, which at Muckross was a running stream."

He saw his old schoolmaster who used to call him "Sammy" Kerr, and was wont to chase him about the school house with a sawed rod. Our government might take a lesson from the fact that the old schoolmaster and his wife are each pensioned $500 a year.

At the Strabane Shows in County Tyrone the agricultural display exceeded that of the Pennsylvania State Agricultural society. Colorado, with its birthplace of John McCullough and its schools, was described in detail. From Portrush his party traveled by electric railway which was built in 1883 and was the first system in the United Kingdom. Unlike the American trolley the car is transmitted to the cars through the iron "T" rail, built upon a fence-like structure eighteen inches high which runs alongside of the track.

SOME CURIOSITIES MENTIONED.

He spoke of Dublin, the Giant's Causeway, one of the world's wonders, and Belfast. In the latter city is St.
Enoch's Presbyterian church, which contains no musical instrument, the congregation preferring to chant and sing psalms according to the old custom.

While the Irish are in their native country ignorant to a great degree, their condition, from an educational standpoint, is equal to some of the southern and southwestern localities of our own United States. This condition is not due to a lack of mental calibre, but is caused by the lack of educational facilities. Ireland has furnished more than her quota of orators, poets, journalists, and was prominently represented by military heroes in the revolutionary and civil wars.

SOUTH SIDE.

Improvements That Have Been Made or Are in Progress.

During the past year a great many improvements have been made on the South Side. Although the great depression in trade has been felt here more than elsewhere, still the improvements have gone on, and there are new buildings on every side.

Among the most prominent are the following: Robinson's handsome stone and brick office, F. L. Torpe's large store and residence on the corner of Cedar avenue and Birch street, a large addition to John Westphal's store and extensive alterations and repairs made by A. J. Mulderig, who has planned large bay windows in the front of his store and taken all the partitions out to gain more room. Then on Willow street Alderman Storrs has added to his already large building for the accommodation of his patrons. There are dwelling houses springing up on nearly every avenue and street, while others are being treated to new coats of paint.

Although the South Side will compare favorably with any part of the city in the matter of improvements and had street repairs and grading been pushed with the same vigor, the South Side would have been the most healthy and beautiful suburb of Scranton. The mines are working full time, and also the steel mills, the silk mills and other factories are going full blast, and altogether there appears to be a general revival all around. It is hoped that the coming year will be more prosperous than the past one.

ATHLETIC CLUB'S EXCURSION.

It Went to Farview and Was Most Successful.

The Scranton Athletic club held their annual excursion yesterday at Farview. It was a complete success in every way. There were over 700 people on the grounds. Among them were noticed Prothonotary Pryor, Clerk of the Courts J. H. Thomas, Commissioner P. J. Hickey and Robert Robinson, Albert Westphal, Miss Wanda Westphal, Fred Weichel, Edward Robinson, Gus Schimpf, and in fact, nearly all the prominent people of the South Side.

The tug of war between the Scranton Athletics and the Andrew Mitchell's of Carbondale was won by the former, with two straight pulls. The names of the winning team is as follows: Captain Phillip Wirth, Jake Ballus, John Klefer, George Keith, Edward Baker, John Scholl, Charles Neuls.

In the base ball game the Scranton Athletics were again the winners, beating the Electric Social club by one run after an exciting game of five innings.

The battery for the Scranton Athletic club was Edward Robinson and J.
Scholl; and for the Electric Social club, F. Rentschler and Tom Heitler.
Gibb's band furnished the music. The day will long be remembered by those who were present, as a most enjoyable one.

SOUTH SIDE JOTTINGS.

During the past year, the axle works has had additions built to it, owing to the large increase in business. The output amounts to 5,000 sets of axles per month, while the force has been increased to sixty men.

The cow belonging to Mrs. Drein, which has been lost since last Saturday was found in the mountains at No. 4. It is supposed that it had been taken to the work, as the cow was securely tied and had been milked. She had a black cow for a companion, which the searching party undoubtedly lost.

Mr. Joseph Kneller, of Pittston avenue, who was granted a patent some time ago for a rubber attachment which is placed on the top of a crutch and filled with air, in the same manner as the pneumatic tire of a bicycle, expects shortly to close a deal with a Philadelphia firm for the manufacture of the same, while the other parts of the crutch will be made by Mr. Kneller, the well known crutch maker of Aldrich street, who is in partnership with Mr.
Kneller. One firm has already made an offer of $500 for the rights of the patent, but it was refused.

rian Beneficial association will take place tomorrow at Central park.

Salmon, two cans for 25 cents, 1213 Pittston avenue.

At the Young Women's Christian association rooms last evening an informal talk was delivered by Mrs. H. J. Carr on "Indian." The lecture was most interesting, and Mrs. Carr proved herself capable of holding the close attention of the large number of young ladies who had assembled to do honor to the lady for her efforts in their behalf.

Peaches, two 3-pound cans for 25 cents, at Mulderig's.

The marriage of Miss Mary Finnese to Joseph S. McNally, both well known and highly esteemed young people of the Twelfth ward, took place at St. Peter's cathedral yesterday morning with a nuptial mass. Rev. P. S. Golden performed the ceremony, which occurred at 7 o'clock in the morning. Miss Mary A. Barrett was bridesmaid, and Patrick Hannan best man. The ushers were James McGovern and William Finnese. A wedding breakfast was had at the Wyoming House and Mr. and Mrs. McNally were driven to the 950 Delaware, Lackawanna and Western train. Their honeymoon will comprise a visit to New York and other eastern cities.

Everything fresh and of the best at Mul-derig's cash store, 1213 Pittston avenue.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND WILL ATTEND.

Many Attractive Features for the Great Saugerfest.

The Scranton Saugerfest has had its last rehearsal of the grand song it will sing at the National Saugerfest at New York on the evening of June 23. There will be five concerts. On Tuesday a picnic will be held at Bon-sonhurst, L. I., where the prizes will be awarded to the successful societies.

A triumphal arch is being erected in front of the balcony at Madison avenue, and it is expected that from this President Cleveland and other distinguished visitors will review the procession, which will herald the opening of the saugerfest. Fully 20,000 men will be in line, each one wearing an Alpine hat and carrying a lighted torch. They will march to the tune of "Yankee Doodle", and all along the line of march the citizens have been requested to illuminate their residences.

Extremely low excursion rates from Scranton are offered by the railroads.
Tickets will be good for ten days.

DAVENPORT SUIT RECALLED.

Comegys & Davis Trying to Obtain Possession of Coal Lands.

In the arbitration room yesterday afternoon testimony was taken in the case of Comegys and others against Russell and others before Arbitrators W. Gaylord Thomas, J. W. Carpenter and O.
B. Partridge. Willard, Warren &
Knapp, and O. C. Comegys and E. H.
Snuffert represented the plaintiffs, and S. B. Price and H. M. Hannah, the defendants.

The action is an ejectment to recover possession of a valuable tract of coal land in Blakely and Scott townships, which the plaintiffs claim Russell leased to Davenport and Davenport to Comegys & Davis. Comegys & Davis subsequently sold a one-half interest in their lease to William R. Williams, of Scranton, and S. M. Mayer, of Philadelphia. When borings were made upon the premises, Davenport brought an action in the equity courts to have all the papers set aside. This action was defeated in the courts some time ago.

Davenport then surrendered up his lease to Russell, who entered and took possession along with his stepson, Jerome Brittain, and they now hold the premises, the recovery of which is sought by the plaintiffs in the eject-ment. Considerable public interest was aroused in this case at the time of the equity suit.

Death of Mrs. T. H. Collins.

Mrs. Mary A. Collins, wife of T. H. Collins, and sister of Rev. T. J. Comerford, of Archbald, died at her home, 306 Pennasylvania, yesterday. The deceased had been suffering some time from inflammatory rheumatism, which superseded heart failure. The funeral will take place at St.
Peter's cathedral on Thursday morning at 9:30, with a solemn high mass of requiem.

SWENY, champion high jumper of the world, will be here June 23.

S. B. DUFFY, mate of steamer Arizona had his foot badly jammed. Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured it. Nothing equal to it to it for a quick pain reliever.

NEWS OF WEST SIDE

Marriage of Miss Lizzie Parry to William J.
Brace.

FIRE IN AN OLD AIR SHAFT

It Was About Twelve Feet from the Surface and the Fire Companies Had Great Difficulty in Fighting It.
A Great Deal of Water Poured into the Mine—Personals and News Notes.

[The West Side office of the SCRANTON TRIBUNE is located at 113 North Main avenue, where subscriptions, advertisements and communications will receive prompt attention.]

Miss Lizzie Parry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parry, of South Main avenue, and William J. Brace, of North Hyde Park avenue, were married yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Summer avenue Presbyterian church.
The auditorium was well filled and neatly decorated with an abundance of roses and laurels. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. E. G.
Jones, pastor of the church. The bride was attired in a white silk dress, with white satin trimmings. She carried roses and carnations. The bridesmaid, Miss M. A. Brace, a sister of the groom, was attired in pink and carried a bou-quet similar to that of the bride. The groomsmen were Evan W. Evans, The bechers were W. A. Price and James Brace.

After the ceremony was over, a reception was tendered at the home of the bride's parents on South Main avenue.
Supper was served and a most pleasant evening spent by all. Mrs. Brace is a young lady, well-known and stands high in social circles. Mr. Brace is esteemed and is a capable engineer.
