PRaised THE TRIBUNE
Some of the Comments Expressed on the Anniversary Edition.
IS COMMENDED ON ALL SIDES

Expressions of Approbation by Many Well-known Business Men—Some Say It Was the Best of Its Kind Ever Issued in Scranton—It Was Original and Essentially a Birthday Number—Crisp and Bright.

While THE TRIBUNE is not disposed to perform a great achievement and then turn about and ask its advertisers to put it on the back, it cannot but feel a justifiable pride in the opinions expressed yesterday in commendation of its third anniversary issue.

The consensus of opinion seemed to be that the edition is entitled to great merit, particularly from the fact of its being essentially a birthday number and containing matter in relation thereto without smothering its readers with a flood of advertising gathered indiscriminately from a purely financial return standpoint.

Below are given a few of the comments expressed by well known people: General Manager W. H. HALLSTAD, of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad—I did not have time to look the paper over thoroughly as yet, but I consider THE TRIBUNE will win much respect and admiration.

A. H. CHURCH, Cashier of the Scranton Savings and Trust Deposit Bank—THE TRIBUNE is at all times very good. I intend by all means to have the pleasure of scrutinizing today's anniversary edition very carefully when I go home this evening.

M. J. WILSON—The paper was very creditable to THE TRIBUNE Publishing company. Today's special edition is worth much more than I have heard of in any other paper. I have heard speak referred to in every complimentary term.

D. W. VAUGHN—Very fine, very fine. I was not able to look it over carefully yet today, but even a casual glance could not fail to impress one with its style and neatness. The latest news up to date are always to be found in its pages.

ALDERMAN JOHN EYENSHIMM—Well, now, by opinion of THE TRIBUNE in its forty days has been given you what you want that it is the best daily published in Scranton. The anniversary number was in keeping with the high standard of the usual edition.

W. H. O'DONNELL, cigar manufacturer, of Washington—Whoever I visit, near or far, and I want, as all traveling men do, to look at a paper of general information, I buy THE SCRANTON TRIBUNE. I intend to take a copy of the anniversary number home with me as a sample what progressive journalism it is. It is a beauty.

L. D. POWERS, druggist—Your paper of today is indeed very fine. Well, in fact THE TRIBUNE on any occasion is a very fine paper.

COUNCILLMAN P. J. HICKRY—I was much pleased with THE TRIBUNE today. It is wonderful what can be done by the use of the latest improved machinery. Yes, sir, your paper was excellent.

W. H. DYCK, Cashier Third National Bank—It is a very creditable issue, reflecting credit upon the publishers and shows THE TRIBUNE's enterprise.

EX-JUDGE JOHN HANDLEY—This anniversary number is an exemplification of an art of publishing a newspaper. It is a beautiful and interesting issue.

D. B. AHEARN, secretary of the board of trade—It is an edition of which THE TRIBUNE and Scranton should justly feel proud. Anything which might be said in commendation of it would express my appreciation.

E. G. COURSEN—It is the handsomest and the most meritorious piece of work of its kind that I have ever seen.

C. E. CHITTENDEN, president of select committees of the street deal of credit upon the publishers of THE TRIBUNE.

CHARLES B. PENMAN—It is the finest edition of its kind that I have ever seen.

CITY ENGINEER PHILIPPS—The typographical as well as the editorial features of the paper were well chosen and well executed.

ATTORNEY H. L. TAYLOR—The third anniversary of THE TRIBUNE yesterday was a handsome paper and perfect in all its departments. THE TRIBUNE is a credit to the city and its growth is something remarkable.

DR. W. A. PAINTE—THE TRIBUNE continues to keep up its high standard by appearing on this, its third anniversary perfect in all its departments and equal to and un surpassed by none of the metropolitan papers.

B. G. MORGAN—I am much pleased with the appearance of THE TRIBUNE in its third year, everything about it being rapid and substantial growth.

ALDERMAN D. M. WILLIAMS, Providence is an edition of which the excellent paper of the anniversary number which deserves praise for neatness and smartness of the appearance as well as the excellent editing.

L. N. ROBERTS, Providence—I am more than pleased with the edition and its appearance reflects great credit upon the staff and the articles are excellently written.

J. U. HOWEVELL, editor of Providence is an edition of which the anniversary number altogether a very creditable one and thoroughly deserving of very great recognition.

REV. DR. JONES, Edna avenue, Providence—I am very pleased with the general appearance of the special of THE TRIBUNE, and have been glad to note the evident improvement in the paper of late.

TALLIE MORGAN—The success of THE TRIBUNE in its three years of life in the city is the best proof of its being a desirable and profitable enterprise. It is a credit to the city and its growth is something remarkable.

JUDGE R. W. ARCHBOLD—The anniversary number proves that THE TRIBUNE is a very progressive newspaper and can be depended upon to rise to the necessities of the hour.

PROTHONOTARY C. E. PLYMER—I always considered THE TRIBUNE about the healthiest journalistic baby that ever made its appearance in this region, and the splendid anniversary number which I found at my place today has fully justified the opinion I have heretofore held.

keeping well up towards the front of the procession. The anniversary number proves that its proper place is in the front rank.

P. O'MALLEY—Let me congratulate THE TRIBUNE on that anniversary number. It's what my friend Thomas Q. Seabrooke would call "hot stuff."

DR. A. J. KOLA—It capped the climax, and if THE TRIBUNE continues to improve as it has thus far, its inception it will have reached in three years from now a point that will stamp it among metropolitan journals.

G. BOLAND—THE TRIBUNE is reflective of the progress of the city. A newspaper properly handled keeps pace with the strides of its home. Scranton is a progressive city and I am proud of THE TRIBUNE.

E. J. WALSH—It is the best newspaper in Scranton. The work on today's special number tells of the well equipped plant owned by THE TRIBUNE Publishing company. For solid news of the day, without a single flimsy thing, you can say that is my opinion of your paper.

F. L. WORMSER—It was an excellent effort, and gave an idea of the competent management to produce such a paper. Your special number deserves congratulations for the talent necessitated.

TROUBLE ABOUT THE GRADE.

Committees of Councils Discover That There Is Nothing Definitely Settled About Bridge

At a meeting last night of the joint streets and bridges committee of councils it came out that the options on land on the West Side for the Linden street bridge approach are in an unsettled and unsatisfactory condition, and that even the particulars of the Swetland street grade are entirely a matter of doubt.

Members Thomas and Lauer, of select council, and Howe, Sweeney and Reagan, of common council, and City Engineer Phillips were present. Mr. Thomas was elected chairman.

On assuming the chair Mr. Thomas stated that he doubted if the committee had any right to act on matters pertaining to the West Side approach to the Linden street bridge, as no such matter had been referred from councils.

Mr. Lauer thought different and stated that a serious mistake had been made in the grade established for Swetland street, which, if not changed and a settlement made with property owners before the bridge is built, would brand the committee and councils as "a pack of numskulls with a big piece of folly work as a monument."

It seems that an eleven per cent. grade has been established for Swetland street over a portion of the distance between Sixth and Ninth streets. While this grade incurs no damage to property owners, it is steeply than West Lackawanna avenue below Main avenue, and is less impracticable. Any grade raised to possibility and equal to the prospective heavy traffic could not be constructed, except with masonry, which would incur heavy expense or would greatly damage property.

It was suggested that the connection of the Swetland Street bridge and the end of the proposed Linden Street bridge be made by the old track. City Engineer Phillips said this latter method was impossible without subjecting the city to heavy damages to the Jersey Central railroad. The company owns the land to the ally between Sixth and Seventh streets, and one of the stipulations of their option was that the approach passing the ally should be above the grade as now established.

The committee discussed informally the facts as related above and finally decided to postpone any definite action until after Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when, in conjunction with the city engineer, they will meet property owners at Swetland and Sixth streets and go over the locality in question.

Mr. Phillips explained his inability to make even an approximate estimate on the peers for the Roaring Brook bridge because no appropriation had been made to take soundings. Mr. Lauer was appointed a committee to see if men could not be furnished by the street commissioner to do the work under the supervision of the city engineer.

LAST REHEARSAL TONIGHT.

Our Singers Expect to Be Victorious in New York.

The Scranton Liederkreis will hold its last rehearsal tonight at Music Hall. There are thirty-six members in the body, of which Professor F. P. Kapf is leader.

Tomorrow at 12:55 the society and a number of people amounting to over 300, who are anxious to attend the excursion train of vestibule Pullman cars over the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad. The singers of this city will compete in the second class, and will sing on Monday afternoon. On Tuesday the prize winners will be announced. In the second class there are entered twenty singing societies.

The first prize is a Steinway grand piano; the second a solid silver cup in each class; and the third, a solid silver wreath. Smaller prizes of silver cups of medium size and life size pictures of famous composers will also be distributed for honorable mention.

Our singers expect to capture some of the best prizes.

OPERA REPEATED LAST NIGHT.

Miss Allen Was Sick and Her Part Was Taken by a Professional.

Eichberg's merry opera was repeated in the College hall last night before a much larger, but not more enthusiastic assemblage than that of the first night.

Miss Allen's illness prevented her from assuming her role and in her stead Miss Jessie Clark, of the Mackay Bennett Opera company, now playing at the Frothingham theater, was secured.

Miss Clark cleverly sang her role, notwithstanding that she had to use the book. The rest of the players sang with better effect than on Tuesday night and an improvement was noticed in their acting in some places where a little crudity existed.

Last night Mr. Burke and Miss McEachen captivated the audience, while the very splendid efforts of Mrs. Schilling and Mr. Walsh deserve mention.

The proceeds of both performances will be devoted toward furnishing the hall with opera chairs.

FITZSIMONS WILL WIN.

This, at Least, is the Prediction of His Joliant Friends.

Friends of Colonel Frank Fitzsimmons are arranging to open formal headquarters at Harrisburg.

He is the lieutenant governorship fight to win, they say, and Lackawanna Democrats are confident of his nomination.

Lehigh Valley Railroad. Special tickets to New York at reduced rates on account of National Sausagefest will be on sale at ticket offices of the Lehigh Valley Railroad June 21 to 24, inclusive, good for return to and including June 30.

National Sausagefest, New York City, June 21, 22, 23 and 24. Only $4.85 for the round trip via the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad. Tickets good to return at will until June 30th. Fifteen through trains a day to and from New York, only four hours enroute.

AGAINST DR. D. B. HAND

Verdict for the Telephone Company in the Famous Presspass Case.

WILL APPLY FOR A NEW TRIAL

Attorney E. Price Says the Case Against the Telephone Company Will Be Pushed Until the Question of Its Liability is Definitely Settled. Reasons Why a New Trial Should Be Granted.

After court opened yesterday morning the jury in the case of Dr. D. B. Hand against the Central Pennsylvania Telephone and Supply company brought its verdict into court, it having been agreed upon Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. The verdict was in favor of the defendant company.

One of the jurors said yesterday to a TRIBUNE reporter that the jury had much difficulty in agreeing on the conclusion that the electric railway company was more to blame for the accident than the telephone company and hence they gave a verdict in favor of the defendant company.

When Dr. Hand instituted proceedings he lodged actions against the Telephone company, People's Street Railway company, and the city of Scranton. The last two cases are still pending.

When seen by a TRIBUNE reporter yesterday, S. E. Price, leading counsel for the plaintiff, said the case against the Telephone company will be pursued until the question of its liability for the accident is definitely settled before the other cases are taken up. He says he will apply for a new trial at once, and has prepared the following reasons why one should be granted:

REASONS FOR NEW TRIAL. First—The court erred in rejecting the first evidence to explain the testimony of Dr. Hand, and to show that he was mistaken in his testimony.

Second—The court erred in the comments made to the jury on the evidence of Dr. Hand.

Third—The court erred in instructing the jury that there was no negligence in the use of a wire when half or two-thirds of it was rusted off.

Fourth—The court erred in saying that the duty of the defendant as to the wire being down in the street depended on the danger to be apprehended. More or less danger was to be apprehended from the wire being down in the street, but independent of this, it was the duty of the company to remove the wire from the street as soon after knowledge of its falling had been received as possible, and the jury should have been so instructed.

Fifth—The court erred in the instruction to the jury with regard to the distance between the telephone wires and the wires of the street railway. The evidence was that the guard wires were in use before the accident, and that such guard wires protected the telephone wires from contact with the wires of the People's Street railway.

Sixth—The court erred in the answers to plaintiff's points, the numbers of which cannot now be recalled; wherein the instruction to the jury as requested was denied.

ERRED IN ITS CHARGE. Seventh—The court erred in charging the jury that whether or not the company was given a license to erect the telephone system, was a question which was eliminated from the case and in instructing the jury that the defendant's contracts relating to the postal service and fire alarm was equivalent to the license required by the acts of assembly of 1874 and 1876 and 1877.

Eighth—The court erred in the instruction to the jury that in this case it was necessary for the plaintiff to prove negligence in the construction and maintenance of the street, and that the plaintiff's declaration alleged negligence therein. It is not necessary to prove all the allegations set forth in the declaration, if such portion is proved as constituting the grounds of an action recognized by law. By other material facts stated are merely surplussage.

Ninth—The court erred in the instruction to the jury that if they believed the testimony of the plaintiff's witnesses that the wire, did all they could to repair it and were unable to make the necessary repairs, there was no negligence. This was wrong, because it was not necessary to make the repairs in order to remove the danger. The wire could have been cut and drawn from the street in a moment's time, and the injury averted.

Tenth—The court erred in not instructing the jury that if Michael Henry, an employee of the company, went to look for trouble, was at the corner of Ninth street and Lackawanna avenue about 2 o'clock, and that he had the testimony of the plaintiff's witnesses, Diehl, Fuller and one other, that the wire had fallen into the street before that time; there was negligence from which the jury could infer negligence.

Eleventh—The court erred also in not instructing the jury in accordance with the point presented by the plaintiff's counsel, that if the telephone wire fell on the street railway wire and thus obtained a current of electricity which killed Dr. Hand's horse and severely shocked him, the verdict of the jury must be for the plaintiff, whether the defendant was guilty of negligence or not.

CUMMINGS-MAHON WEDDING.

Lackawanna's Deputy Prothonotary Weds Miss Mahon, of Ollyphant.

Deputy Prothonotary John F. Cummings and Miss Mary E. Mahon, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Mahon, of Ollyphant, were united in marriage at St. Patrick's church, Ollyphant, Tuesday evening, by Rev. P. J. Murphy, pastor of the church.

Miss Dora McLane, of Dunmore, was bridesmaid and W. W. Cummings, Jr., a brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Thomas F. Nealson, John J. Flynn, Thomas Curran, C. G. Heiler, A. F. Gillespie and W. F. McHale. Mr. and Mrs. Cummings left for New York. They will make the summer trip up the Hudson before their return.

A FINE PERFORMANCE.

Olivette Given at the Frothingham Last Night.

A decidedly clever and interesting performance of "Olivette" was given by the Mackay, Kenney company at the Frothingham last night to an audience that thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated the artistic work of this company, and it is to be regretted that the audience was not larger as it is a fact that better performances of light opera have never been given in this city by many companies that charge the public high prices.

Fanny Myers, Lizzie Gonzalez, Messrs. Langler and Holmes and John Young were seen in roles that afforded them every opportunity to display their versatility.

Dan Young's interpretation of coquettish was decidedly humorous. His singing "Swim Out O'Grady" was very funny and he received a merited encore.

"Olivette" will be presented tonight for the last time, and Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee "Mikado" will be sung.
