NORTH END BRIEFS.

The funeral of George Deacle of 136 Holister avenue, took place yesterday when services were held at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Green Ridge, the Rev. Mr. Ballentine officiating.

Mrs. McHose, of Washington avenue, while on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Martin, of the Bull's Head hotel, met with an awkward accident while proceeding from one room to the other. She opened a door leading to the staircase in mistake and fell down, receiving a nasty scalp wound. Mrs. McHose is attended by Dr. Hand and Dr. Jenkins and was reported to be slightly better yesterday.

The closing exercises of No. 25 school were held yesterday afternoon in the presence of a crowded audience. The large hall was nicely decorated for the occasion and the numerous kinds of holiday dresses worn by the juveniles made a very attractive scene. The proceedings commenced with the song, "Happy Greeting to You All," sung by all the scholars in good style, followed by a clever essay read by Miss Jenny Thomas on "Impossibility." Miss Christian's pupils gave an interesting recitation entitled, "In the Morning," which was very favorably received, as was also the reading, "The Children of the Year," by Miss Laurel's pupils. The solo "Lead Me Gently Home Father" by Miss Phoebe Smith was splendidly rendered, and the chorus was well sustained by a party of children. Miss Grace Williams' recitation, "Too Late for the Train," highly amused the audience and was very well rendered. The pantomime drill, "The Bough Song," by Miss Atkinson's pupils was cleverly rendered and the counting lessons by the little infants of Miss C. Williams' class was highly appreciated. The acting of tha "Flora of the Zones" by Miss Benjamin's class was much enjoyed by the audience. "Columbus' Union Party" embraced a representative of each state, when the characteristic of each state was dwelt upon by its representative. This was undertaken by Miss Benedict's party and was loudly applauded. The second part was opened by an excellent piano solo "The Old Folks at Home," by Miss Simpson. "The Dairy Song" by Mrs. Williams' pupils was vociferously applauded and Miss Bernice Conger's recitation was well received. The solo "Changeless" by Miss Maria Davies was encored and "The Minstrel Boy" was given in response. Miss Williams' pupils gave "The Rainbow" song very creditably and the pantomime drill "Comin' Thro' the Rye" by Miss Davies' pupils was splendidly acted. Much amusement was caused by the humorous dialogue "The Happy Family," by Miss Walker's pupils followed by an excellent duett by Miss Dolphin's pupils. The proceedings ended with a "Farewell Song" by the preparatory class.

Scranton's Business Interests.

THE TRIBUNE will soon publish a carefully compiled and classified list of the leading wholesale, banking, manufacturing and professional interests of Scranton and vicinity. The edition will be bound in book form, beautifully illustrated with photogravure views of our public buildings, business blocks, streets, etc., together with portraits of leading citizens. No similar work has ever given an equal representation of Scranton's many industries. It will be an invaluable exposition of our business resources. Sent to persons outside the city, copies of this handsome work will attract new comers and be an unequalled advertisement of the city. The circulation is on a plan that cannot fail of good results to those concerned as well as the city at large. Representatives of THE TRIBUNE will call upon THOSE WHOSE NAMES are DESIRED in this edition and explain its nature more fully.

Those desiring views of their residences in this edition will please leave notice at the office.

ARE NOW GRADUATES

Thirty-Four Diplomas Distributed at High School Commencement.

BRILLIANT SCENE AT ACADEMY

President C. H. Von Storch Presents the Graduates with Their Diplomas. Superb Work of Miss Bess Wood and Emerson Owen—Select Assemblage Witness the Exercises and Applaud the Graduates.

The public schools of the city of Scranton were closed for the term of 1893-94 yesterday. At all of them exercises were observed appropriate, but the crowning of the school year was done at the Academy of Music in honor of the eighteenth annual commencement and the graduation of the senior high school class, amounting to thirty-four pupils. The names of the graduates are:

John J. Bechtold, Thomas A. Donahoe, Florence Helreigle, William E. Jamieson, Wallace Moser, Emerson D. Owen, Edwin F. Whittemore, Victor A. Wenzel, Claude W. Walker, and Misses Lucy Cooke, Catherine L. Cobb, Elizabeth J. Carlyon, Mayme Clearwater, Mary Durkan, Elizabeth Duvall, Emma Falkowsky, Kathryn Armour Fitzpatrick, Lila Frable, Clara Gibbs, Anne Gibbons, Mary Harris, Janet C. Jones, Anna Judge, Jessie Kellow, Elizabeth Lewis, Annie McTighe, Mary H. Riddle, Kate L. Ruddy, A. Margaretha Schimpff, Effie Thompson, Mabel Watrous, Myrtle Watrous, Bess Wood, Grace Ida Winchell.

It has become a custom that on commencement occasion a gathering such as is seldom seen within the walls of the Academy of Music attends. Young and old, rich and poor, all classes of people are there.

Last night, notwithstanding the sweltering atmosphere, there was even greater interest shown, and without disparaging former graduating exercises, it is deserved to express that a more brilliant galaxy of students never before received diplomas.

When the curtain went up the undergraduate class was already seated upon the stage. Opera chairs were arranged in tiers rising gradually toward the rear curtain, before which was a profusion of potted plants. An electric display of incandescent lights above the stage, arranged so as to read, "Class of '94," shone resplendently.

THE GRADUATES ENTER.

The graduating class waited until the curtain had risen and then singly from the side wings came each and proceeded to an appointed seat. Miss Bess Wood, the valedictorian of the class sat on the center chair in the front row and the easy grace and fascinating presence befitted her for the prominent position.

The programme was begun with, after an overture from the orchestra, the invocation being by Rev. Jame McLeod, D.D. It was fervent and eloquent.

Miss Emma Falkowsky delivered the salutatory, her subject being, "American Wit and Humor." The address was both solid and witty. She gave graphic descriptions of the various sorts of humor and wit as told among the American authors who ranked highest in pure bubbling humor. She thought it was Oliver Wendell Holmes, and she named the other great poets and prose writers who were entitled to rank in an honorable position.

Miss Eliza Lewis, an elocutionist of talent, recited "The Judgment Day." It was extremely arduous piece to do full justice, but withal full justice was done. Miss Clara Gibbs spoke her essay on, "The Hudson in History." It showed her a master of history and the paper required great research.

Miss Jessie Kellow delivered a recitation on "Confessions of a Bashful Man." The assemblage was delighted with her version of the troubles of the timid youth. She is in the front number of elocutionists.

OBSERVATIONS IN A STREET CAR.

Miss Anna Judge gave an essay on "Observations in a Street Car." It was very amusing and contained a few shots at the much abused street car conductor. The oration of Edwin Whittemore on "Progress of Electricity," was very dry, but it showed that he was an exceedingly well read young man in the knowledge of the mysterious fluid.

Mary Durkan recited, "Charity Grinder and the Postmaster General." This was also a very amusing story and was received with laughter and applause. Wallace Moser delivered an oration on American politics. Mr. Moser is a young man of commanding appearance and the style of an orator. His speech was a bright resume of the history of politics and was marked with frequent outbursts of eloquence.

Miss Elizabeth Carlyon recited two selections from James Whitcomb Riley and acquitted herself very well. The sparkling creation of Miss Grace Winchell, "Class Prophecy," was a relation of a vision that befel her in which a Greek sprite bewitched her and she saw the future lives of the graduates outlined. The remarkably funny style of her composition was charming.

But when we come to the declamation of Emerson Owen, entitled "The Miser," a pause is required that proper words be found to praise it. The miser lived in France, and was possessed of untold gold. The government wanted a loan, and to checkmate his superiors the old miser buried the treasure in a vault beneath his house. Mr. Owen depicted with magnetic fire the gloating of the miser in the vault, and afterward when the lid by accident fell and buried him with his treasure, the excruciating agony of the old man was truly portrayed. So well was the recital done that at the finish the applause continued and Mr. Owen was obliged to respond to an encore. He showed his versatility by giving a ludicrous account of an old plantation negress, whom a hot coal burned on the heel.

MISS WOOD'S VALEDICTORY.

Miss Bess Wood then delivered the valedictory. Her pose and her delivery was that of a well-trained Delsartean, and the language used in telling of "A Boy's Mistakes" was polished and well selected.

With very happy effect she digressed from the thread of her valedictory and addressed herself on the part of the graduates to the board of control, the teachers, and the members of the undergradnate class. The foregoing parts were interspersed by many choruses.

C. H. Von Storch, president of the Scranton board of control, addressed the audience and his remarks were felicitous and well timed. He told what work was encountered in the establishing of a safe foundation for the new high school. He also explained how many new buildings were to be provided for the overplus of pupils now crowding the schools, and of how much money the board expended on free text books.

The presentation of diplomas was next and the commencement exercises were over.

The arduous task imposed in preparing the pupils for such a degree of excellence as exhibited last night reflects the labor undergone by Professor J. C. Lange, principal of the Scranton High school. He wore a contented smile and deserves that his work should receive its just approbation.

C. B. Derman conducted the pupils in the musical numbers, and his work was fine as it usually is.

All the girl graduates were costumed in white silk gowns. The young men all wore black suits, bouquets and badges.

WEST SIDE NEWS NOTES.

Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Gibbs are home from a stay at Philadelphia.

Mrs. Charles Stem, of this city, is visiting friends in Wilkes-Barre.

Mrs. Hugh Crawford, of New York city, is the guest of Mrs. A. Vipond, of Jackson street.

Mrs. Thomas Quinnan, of West Lackawanna avenue, is visiting friends in New York city.

Mrs. W. G. Daniels and children, of South Main avenue, have returned from a visit with friends in Parsons.

Rev. D. W. Skellinger, of Washburn street, left yesterday for Upper Lehigh, where he will address a Christian Endeavor meeting.

Evan Evans, of Avenue A, a miner at the Dodge colliery, was injured on Thursday by a fall of coal. Dr. M. J. Williams dressed his injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Mullen and daughter Alice, of North Sumner avenue, left yesterday morning for a visit with relatives in New York and Brooklyn.

Frank Reese, the well known athlete, is the only person to represent the West Side in the Young Men's Christian association sports today. Reese is a good sprinter and excellent on the jump. He will appear in the one mile race, running high jump, pole vault, and 100 yards dash, with the shortest handicap of any.

The advertisement in yesterday's TRIBUNE announcing Contractor Edwin G. Hughes as a candidate for delegate to the Republican county convention from the Second district of the Fifth ward was unauthorized by him. THE TRIBUNE was imposed upon by a person who has since become known to it and who will be treated accordingly.

At a late hour on Thursday evening Mrs. Mamie McAndrew, a talented young lady and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McAndrew, of 119 South Ninth street, died at her home. She was 18 years old and a charming young lady who had many friends. She was a member of St. Mary's sodality of St. Patrick's church. The funeral will occur tomorrow afternoon.

Joseph Martin, of South Sumner avenue, a laborer at the Oxford mines, was severely injured yesterday while at work. It is Martin's duty to load the cars, and while engaged in this employment he was struck by a rapidly approaching car, just as it reached him. His leg was severely bruised and his back injured. Dr. George B. Reynolds is attending him.

Children's day will be celebrated by the Sunday school of the First Welsh Congregational church tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock by giving a children's carol service entitled, "The Child in the Midst." The affair is under the leadership of Roger Evans, conductor. Miss Hattie Davis is organist, Miss Narma Williams reader, assisted by Miss Lizzie Jenkins, William Evans, John W. Davis, a student of Marrietta college, Ohio, and others.

Michael O'Neal, who resides on Seventh street, was arrested yesterday morning by Officer Johler on complaint of his wife, who alleges that he severely beat her and in other ways abused her shamefully. An officer was dispatched to the scene and O'Neal brought to the West Side Station house. During his incarceration O'Neal was taken with colic. The first symptoms shown were an attack of cramps and vomiting. It was first thought that it was only the effect of drink, but after a while the situation grew serious and Dr. Reynolds was summoned. Last evening he was unable to have a hearing.

SOUTH SIDE JOTTINGS.

[All advertising matter, news items and new subscriptions, if left at the following business places, will be promptly attended to: Zang's barber shop, Wospahl's store, D. W. Humphrey's pharmacy and A. J. Muldering's.]

John Rosen started for New York last evening to attend the saengerfest.

Mrs. Carey, of Wilkes-Barre, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Peter Wagner, of Birch street.

Henry Weaver, of Pittston avenue, and Arthur Whistel, of Maple street, are at Mill City.

Carpenter's union, 484, held a meeting at Workingmen's hall last evening for the election of officers.

A large order for props and ties has been placed with Julius Troy, of this side, by the William Connell Coal company.

On July 4 Washington Camp, No. 430, Patriotic Order Sons of America, will take part in the parade at Wilkes-Barre.

Mr. and Mrs. Winkler, of Willow street, have gone to visit friends in Connecticut, and will make a stay of several weeks.

The funeral of the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Grambach, of Willow street, took place yesterday afternoon.

The marriage of George Saul, of Cedar avenue, to Miss Kearns, of the West Side, is announced to take place at the lady's home on June 28.

Mrs. Hase, of Pittston avenue, after a serious illness with typhoid fever, is improving. Her little boy was sick at the same time, but is now on the road to recovery.

The Forest band paraded the principal streets of this side for the purpose of advertising the L. L. & S. company's picnic, which will take place at Central park this evening.

The services at the Young Woman's Christian association rooms on Cedar avenue will take place tomorrow at the usual hour, 3.45 p. m., and will be conducted by Miss Hartmann, the subject being, "A Joyful Service."

A treat was given to the children at Nos. 8 and 11 schools yesterday in the shape of a candy and ice cream social, which was appreciated by the tiny scholars, who were then dismissed, not to reassemble until after the summer vacation has passed.

The trees and shrubery in Connell's park are in danger of being entirely destroyed through the failing to lay water pipes through the grounds. The Axle works lost several half days at the end of last and the beginning of this month on account of lack of water.

When Rudolph Swartz married some time ago he signed everything he possessed over to his wife. He left her some time ago and took a portion of the furniture with him. A warrant was sworn out against him and Constable Woelkers recovered the furniture.

Julius Troy, a well known resident of the Nineteenth ward, has in his possession a piece of sulphur taken from William Connell mine, which is a combination of four dice, the spots are from one to four, and there is only one side of each dice to be seen. Many persons who have examined it doubt that it was taken from the mine in the present form, so perfect is the imitation. It is a wonderful curiosity. An offer of $25 from a Wilkes-Barreau has been refused.

The closing exercises at No. 3 school were held in Mrs. D. L. Rennmann and Miss A. Kiesel's rooms, when the exercises were finished Mrs. Rennmann promoted to Miss Josie Lee's room: August Mock, George Fruelian, Fred Parle, Emil Goley, William Huesta, Claud Coon, George Kleinschrodt, William Frantz, Louis Koch, Thomas Parry, John Connell, Russell Bliss, Tillie Veith, Elsie Edwards, Mayda Offer, Celia O'Boyle, Lizzie Daly, Fanny Gardner, Lena Dreicbert, Katie Hasting, Katie and Bebee Burns, Anna Dawson, Katie Morrarity, Sadie Brogan, Lillie Krebs, Lottie Tope and Maud Stern.

DR. C. C. LAUBACH, dentist, Gas and Water company building, Wyoming avenue. Latest improvements. Eight years in Scranton. **

SWENY, champion high jumper of the world, will be here June 23.

M'GUIRE IS ON TRIAL

Charged with Ruining Furnishings in a Room in Conway House.

THORTON USED AN IRON BAR

Struck Mr. Binger in the Neck with It—Jurors in Phillips-Long Case Wanted to Be Discharged—Three Young Boys Enter Pleas of Guilty. Other Cases Disposed of by the Court Yesterday.

Thomas McGuire, one of the acrobats of the Dixie Adonis company, was tried before Judge Edwards in court room No. 2 yesterday on a charge of malicious mischief. When the Dixie company was in this city on April 17 and 18 last McGuire stopped at the Conway house and it is alleged that before he left he tore up the carpets in room No. 28, ruined the bed clothing and played havoc generally with the furnishings of the room. McGuire roomed in No. 27 and it is alleged that he entered No. 28 by means of a balcony. He was represented yesterday by Attorneys F. J. Fitzsimmons and Fred Stark. Assistant District Attorney O'Neill and Attorneys Joseph O'Brien and D. W. Connolly conducted the prosecution.

McGuire left the city before the condition of the room was discovered, but he was arrested a few days afterwards at York and brought back to this city. He went on the stand yesterday and denied the charge made against him, claiming that he was in the hotel on the night the damage was done. All of the testimony had been heard when court adjourned.

WANTED TO BE DISCHARGED.

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning the case against Arthur Long and William Phillips was given to the jury. At 4.30 the jurors wanted to be discharged as they could not agree, but Judge Gunster left the court house.

Thomas M. Thorton, of the South Side, admitted that he was guilty of striking Albert Binger on the neck with an iron bar without just cause or provocation.

Calvin Crider, of the Eighteenth ward, of this city, was put on trial before Judge Gunster yesterday on the somewhat unique charge of inciting a dog to bite Michael Cunningham. The jury said not guilty and directed Mr. Crider to pay two-thirds of the costs, and Mr. Cunningham, the prosecutor, one third.

Fred Young and William Walsh, two boys who were arrested several months ago for committing petty thefts in the Sanderson hill portion of the city, pleaded guilty. Young Frank Gehrens, who stole the poor box from the Scranton Savings bank, also admitted his guilt.

Michael Clemno admitted that he was guilty of feloniously wounding Joseph Kramyock, his boarding boss, and was sentenced to pay a fine $1, costs and spend five months in the county jail. Clemno shot Kromyock because the latter tried to take him home one night while he was drunk.

Mrs. Luchia Newope, who left her husband to take up her residence with Mathias Barber, of Mudtown, was arraigned, but as her husband, the prosecutor, did not appear a verdict of not guilty was taken and he was directed to pay the costs. In a case against Barber a verdict of not guilty was also taken.

GIBSON USED HIS FOOT.

Michael Gibson, a one-legged man who resides on the West Side, was tried for assaulting, battering and kicking Celia Walsh also of the West Side. It was alleged that Gibson knocked Celia down and then kicked her. The jury had not agreed when court adjourned.

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES.

In the estate of William Watkins, late of this city, letters of administration were granted to John D. Watkins.

Register of Wills Koehler yesterday admitted to probate the will of Sarah Jane Washington late of North Abington.

Marriage licenses were granted yesterday by the clerk of the courts to John Hallman and Mary Monoghan, Dunmore; Himan Holander and Minnie Holander, Old Forge.

William Gaughan, clerk in McGarrah and Thomas' drug store, who was convicted on June 12 of violating the Sunday law yesterday took a writ of certiorari in the case to the county courts.

W. E. Arnout, who conducts a dining room on Wyoming avenue, yesterday obtained a writ of replevin to recover possession of certain dinning room and household goods which he says have been unlawfully seized by Mrs. Leah Jones Davis, from whom he rents the premises, and Constable J. S. Miller. Mr. Arnout says he does not owe the rent for which his goods were seized.

AN OVERHEAD BRIDGE.

It Will Be Recommended that Councils Construct One.

The streets and bridges committee of each council had advertised a meeting at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon for the purpose of travelling over Swetland street with the city engineer to make a report to councils of the most desirable way to put that part of Swetland street between the river and the present Swetland street bridge in shape for the building the new bridge. Not over half of the committee was on hand, and City Engineer Phillips was also absent.

It was decided to make a report to councils favoring the construction of an overhead bridge from the intersection of the new bridge to the Swetland street bridge, and that a side approach be constructed on the north side of the overhead bridge between Sixth and Seventh streets.

Another meeting will be held next Thursday evening in the municipal building at 7.30 o'clock.

MR. MOODY'S GREAT CAMPAIGN.

Includes This City with a Tent Seating Three Thousand Persons.

At a union meeting of the city churches last evening at the Elm Park church Major Whittle, the celebrated evangelist and of Mr. Moody's corps, made an address anent the coming campaign of Mr. Moody in this valley.

During August a tent seating over 3,000 persons will be located on some piece of ground in this city. Mr. Moody will be here three weeks and will move from here to Carbondale. Altogether he will have a score or more of regular assistants and a large number of volunteers.

It is proposed to make the movement one of the greatest religious revivals ever known in this part of the state, not excepting the great Mills' meeting. Committees are at work making arrangements for the opening of the campaign at this point.
