Thomas Malla, of 817 South Washington avenue, aged about 50 years, an employe of the Barber Asphalt works, was struck by a street car on North Washington avenue near Larch street, yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Malla was one of a gang of men who were working on the street repairing the asphalt. When the car drove in front of him he stepped in front of the car and was struck by the car and dragged a few feet. As far as could be learned no blame attaches to the motorman.

He was taken home in the Lackawanna hospital ambulance.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

Chairman Powell Issues Call for the Republican Organization.

MAKES REPLY TO MR. FELLOWS

Meanwhile, Secretary Browning Mails Circulars to the County Committee-men Asking Them to Get Together Two Weeks Earlier Than the Date Set in the Chairman's Call—Review of the Whole Situation.

The following official call for a meeting of the Republican county committee was issued last evening:

HEADQUARTERS OF THE REPUBLICAN COUNTY COMMITTEE, Scranton, Pa., June 27, 1894.

Members of the county committee are hereby requested to meet at the Central Republican Club rooms, on Washington street, on Saturday, July 14, 1894, at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of fixing a time and place for holding the county convention, and for the transaction of any other business that may come before the committee. D. W. POWELL, Chairman.

ALBERT DAVID J. DAVIS, Assistant Secretary.

CHAIRMAN POWELL'S STATEMENT.

In reference to the interview with ex-Mayor Fellows in yesterday's Tribune, County Chairman David W. Powell, ever his own signature, has published the following statement:

Ex-Mayor Fellows has stated that my action endangered the party's best interests, etc. I wish, in reply, to state a few words and to give the public a few facts in the matter. As to the calling of the county convention, I desire to say that not one member of either the executive or the county committee has spoken to me or requested me to call a meeting of the committee for that purpose. Next, as to the many candidates, with the exception of Mr. Fellows himself, candidates who are certainly entitled to some consideration and who are aspiring for the nomination for county officers, I requested me to make a call until recently.

On last Thursday I did receive from the hands of E. B. House a petition signed by sixteen members of the executive committee requesting me to call the county committee together on June 29. Before the petition was handed to me two of the signers came to my office and they had signed their names to such a petition, but I need not give it any consideration on that account. Since I received the petition three more signers expressed themselves in the same way. Besides, three of them stated that there was no date mentioned on the petition when they signed, but was afterwards added, and if not greatly mistaken in Mr. Fellows' own handwriting.

These three men are willing to sign a paper to that effect if need be. According to section 1, rule 5, of the Republican party rules, it is the duty of the county committee to designate the time and place for holding county conventions, etc., and that of the executive committee, as Mr. Fellows states, with all due respect to that body. The county committee is composed of 143 members. If Mr. Fellows thought it necessary to petition me for a call of the committee, why did he not get a majority of this committee to sign? The chairman in that case could not very well refuse to call them together.

Taking all these things into consideration, I am unable to see how it is possible to call until such time as I could confer with most of the candidates, and some of the members of the county committee to have their views as to the proper time to make a call. Since then I have called upon a number of the candidates and members of the county committee, and they immediately expressed themselves satisfied to have a meeting of the county committee called on Saturday, July 14, at 2 p. m. In accordance with the wishes, I have called a meeting of the said committee on the above date.

In conclusion I would say that in this I do not think I am exercising the powers of an autocrat or that I consider myself the whole committee, as Mr. Fellows intimates; neither do I have in one man dictating, regardless of others' interests. I am always willing to abide by the will of the majority, when properly obtained. If anyone is at present jeopardizing the best interests of his party, it is the person that is trying to force an improper issue.

ANOTHER MEETING CALLED.

A circular bearing the signature of "J. W. Browning, secretary of the county committee," was yesterday mailed to members of the county committee notifying and requesting them to attend a meeting of that body next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the rooms of the Central Republican club. It was based upon the alleged refusal of Chairman Powell to grant the request of the sixteen members of the county executive committee who recently signed a petition desiring that a meeting of the county committee be called on the date specified.

CHARGED WITH ARSON

John Monk, Jr., and William Hall on Trial for That Offense.

EVIDENCE THAT WAS ADDUCED

It is All of a Circumstantial Character. Mary Van Scoten Returned Not Guilty—Italians Who Neglected to Pay Their Board Bills—A Lloyd Street Shooting Affray Recalled. Tobey Case Still on Trial.

John Monk, Jr., and William Hall, two Carbondale youths, were on trial inoyer and terminator court before Judge Archibald yesterday afternoon charged with setting fire to the house of John P. Phillips on the night of February 10. About 10 o'clock of the night in question John Phillips saw a light near the Phillips' place and at first thought it was the flicker of a smoldering lamp. His suspicion was subsequently dispelled upon hearing shouts of "fire."

Immediately he ran for the scene of the blaze and discovered the rear walls of Phillips' house in flames and had begun to lick the siding and had mounted about six feet high along the boards. There was about a foot of snow on the ground and he scooped handfuls of it, and with buckets of water, the fire was put out.

A paper shoe box was found at the base of the house inside of which was enclosed a cigar box, which had the appearance of having been saturated with kerosene. A pint bottle was found near the boxes. It was empty, but showed that it had been filled with oil.

John P. Phillips and his wife testified that kerosene appeared to have been literally used on the boards.

SAW THEM RUN AWAY.

Adelbert Coogan and his wife told two young men running away from Phillips' house, but neither could recognize the defendants. Testimony introduced that the bottle found was filled with medicine by Druggist Kelley for one of the defendants, showing that it belonged to them. The making up of the evidence for the commonwealth is entirely circumstantial. Ex-Judge Knapp and Joseph O'Brien resented the defendants and the district attorney the prosecution. Chief J. T. McAndrew, of Carbondale, is the prosecutor. The defense will be heard today.

Mary Van Scoten, of Patagonia, was before Judge Archibald in the morning to tell why she used force in an interview with her landlord on March 17. It was a case of simple assault and battery and the jury found her guilty as charged in the indictment.

LLOYD STREET AGAIN.

The afternoon was taken up with a shooting case that occurred on the night of Jan. 20 on Lloyd street, that stamping ground of riot and drunkenness. It can charges Killiam Bess and Peter Unger and discharged their revolvers at him and into a crowd of people. The jury retired on the case shortly before adjournment.

INVESTIGATING DEACLE'S DEATH.

Coroner's Jury Listened to Much Contradictory Evidence.

The adjourned inquest to inquire into the manner of George Deacle's death, who was killed at the Mineville shaft, June 19, was resumed last evening at the residence of Mine Inspector Edwin Rolerick, at Providence, before Coroner Kiley, Attorney A. A. Vosturg appearing on behalf of the relatives of the deceased. Thirty-two witnesses were examined, and contradictory evidence was given.

H. M. Miller, the contractor who employed Deacle, stated that he visited the place on the morning preceding the accident and examined the place and went twenty feet further into the workings and found the place quite safe, but gave orders to the men to put in extra timber as a measure of precaution. The point again at 1:30 the same day and examined it again, but as the men had not reached that particular spot the timber had not been placed so he repeated his orders and directed them to render the place safe. The accident took place a few minutes after midnight. In cross-examination by Mr. Vosturg he stated that Deacle was in charge, as he thought he was the best man to undertake it. A large number of witnesses gave evidence to the effect that the place was perfectly safe if orders had been properly carried out.

George Abbot, the nineteenth witness, testified that the place was not safe, and said that Mr. Miller gave no instructions, and further that Mr. Miller knew that the place was dangerous. Joseph Allison said that the place was unsafe from the first and wanted more timbering.

William Hayes had examined the place the morning after the accident and found it unsafe. The roof was sounded in his presence and was "drummy," and where props were fixed they were insufficient. One of the mine foremen had told him that it was not a safe place.
