NEWS OF WEST SIDE

Mrs. Boylan and Her Friends Sent to the County Jail by Alderman Morgan.

YOUNG ANDREW SWIFT INJURED

Struck His Head Against a Stone While Diving at Nay Aug Falls. Peculiar Accident at Bellevue by Which Three Persons Were Injured. Reception to Dr. Joseph Parry, of Wales—Other Notes.

The West Side office of the SCRANTON TRIBUNE is located at 113 North Main avenue, where subscriptions, advertisements and communications will receive prompt attention.

Alderman T. T. Morgan, of the Fifteenth ward, tried the case of Mrs. Cyclopedia Kite, Mrs. Ellen Corcoran, Mrs. Fitzgibbons and Mrs. Boylan, who were arrested Friday evening at the instance of Chief Forber, who in response to a fire alarm from box 24 found the women fighting at the home of Mrs. Corcoran on Swetland street, while the place had been set on fire.

Lieutenant Williams testified that complaints had often been made about the numerous disgraceful scenes at Mrs. Corcoran's home. The place is disorderly and fights are a frequent occurrence. Chief Forber said that the fire in Mrs. Corcoran's home on Swetland street originated through a lighted lamp which the "Cyclones" threw at Mrs. Corcoran.

When he reached the place he found the latter sitting on the porch with her head and hands badly scorched as the result of the flames.

Mrs. Corcoran, Mrs. Fitzgibbons, Kate and her husband were all drunk when Mrs. Corcoran was carrying the lamp and Kate knocked it out of her hands, setting fire to her clothing.

After hearing the case Alderman Morgan held Mrs. Corcoran in $500 bail to appear at court. Mrs. Fitzgibbons was fined $10 or fifteen days in jail. Mrs. Boylan, her husband and Kate were each fined $100 bonds. Failing to procure bondsmen or pay the fine, the quartette were sent to the county jail.

FELL FROM A TREE. William Lewis, His Daughter, and John H. Williams Injured.

William Lewis and daughter, Annie, of Lynn street, and John H. Williams, of Corbett avenue, were injured on Saturday evening in a most peculiar manner. Mr. Lewis climbed one of the trees in the yard to pick some cherries for the children. He was followed by his young daughter Annie, who came up and perched upon a limb underneath him. Lewis would pick the cherries and place them in a pail which his daughter held.

At this point John H. Williams, of Bellevue, a friend of the family, came along and began to climb the tree. He stepped on the limb where Miss Lewis and her father were, and a moment later it broke with a snap, precipitating the cherries and places them in a pail which she held.

At this point John H. Williams, of Bellevue, a friend of the family, came along and began to climb the tree. He stepped on the limb where Miss Lewis and her father were, and a moment later it broke with a snap, precipitating the cherries and places them in a pail which she held.

INJURED WHILE SWIMMING.

Andrew Swift Struck His Head Against a Stone.

INJURED WHILE SWIMMING.

Andrew Swift, of Archbold, a young lad of 16 years; came to this city on Saturday evening to visit a family named Eaton on Ninth street. Yesterday afternoon in company with several other boys he went to Nay Aug falls to bathe.

While diving the feat of diving from the rocks, which form the side wall for the basin, Swift struck a stone with his head as he reared the water on his downward shot, making a deep gash. The cut was made across the forehead and for a time young Swift was unconscious. His companions conveyed him to Eaton's home, after which he was removed to the Lackawanna hospital, where the wound was sewed.

Makes his Weak Strong. LAKES, Pa., April 24, 1894.—Last summer I took a bottle of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and it made me stronger. After my baby was born in February I was unable to take a step for three months, but after taking a bottle of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I gained in strength. I feel the best now I have for eight years.

Good's Pills cure all liver ills.
