GORMAN'S GRAND DEPOT

PECKVILLE.

Thomas Warner spent the Fourth with relatives at Nanticoke. John D. Peck, who resigned the position some time ago, foreman of the Peck Lumber company, has again accepted the position.

Mrs. A. A. Heiden, of Carbondale, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. George Cool.

Mrs. Ocar Demming is visiting with relatives at Forest City. George Newton, a carpenter employed by the Peck Lumber company, received a severe injury last Monday by getting his right hand caught in the rolls of the planing machine.

Bertie Hughes, a boy of 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Y. Hughes, of Main street, was severely burned about the hands, face and body about 4 o'clock yesterday morning with black powder. While he and several companions were celebrating the Fourth, an oyster can full of powder caught fire and exploded.

The Mount Jessup Coal company at Winton gave their employes a Fourth of July celebration yesterday.

Mrs. F. P. Doty and two children are visiting at Waverly, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Harding returned yesterday after visiting with friends at South Gibson.

HONESDALE.

St. Francis' Pioneer corps' picnic at Bellevue park was largely attended. The corps made a fine appearance in their parade in the morning. The Ancient Order of Hibernians and St. Joseph's society also paraded with them. The races at the fair grounds were attended by about 700 people, and were close and exciting throughout. Today there will be another interesting programme.

The Nightingales, of Carbondale, agreed to play the regular Honesdale Base Ball club in the morning, but they failed to appear. Instead the home team played a picked club and overwhelmingly defeated it. The Honesdale club, having another game scheduled, refused to play the Nightingales in the afternoon. The Honesdale club easily defeated the Beech Lake club by a score of 19 to 8.

BEWARE OF FRAUDS.—Be sure you get the genuine Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It cures colds, rough, scalding, deafness and rheumatism.

KEYSTONE ACADEMY.

L. L. Bower, class of '91, who has been visiting his many friends in town, has now gone to Clifford to visit Prof. Finn, class of '92.

The Fourth of July celebration, under the auspices of the Women's Christian Temperance union, was held on the academy grounds. Dinner was served in the academy dining room, and the literary exercises, consisting of speeches by Mrs. Annabel Hawley and others were held in the grove.

Professor and Mrs. Loomis were in Scranton Monday. Professors Fassett and Whitford, with their families, spent Tuesday at Lake Winola.

Guaranteed Cure.

We authorize our advertised druggist to sell Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, upon this condition. If you are afflicted with a Cough, Cold, or any Lung, Throat or Chest trouble, and will use this remedy as directed, giving it a fair trial, and experience no benefit, you may return the bottle and have your money refunded. We would not make this offer if we did not know that Dr. King's New Discovery could be relied on. It never disappoints. Trial bottles free at Matthew Bros' drug stores. Large size 50c. and $1.

CARBONDALE.

The glorious Fourth was ushered in in the usual manner by the firing of cannon from the surrounding hills. Thus far no serious accidents have occurred, except a few burned fingers which the small boys received while shooting firecrackers. The day in the city was quietly spent. The usual quantity of "boning" and flags were floating to the breeze, making the town look very patriotic.

One of the main features of yesterday was the Delawares and Hudson excursion to Farview. It was one of Farview's greatest days. The first trains in the morning started over the mountain with pleasure seekers by the hundreds, the greater portion of the crowd went up on the 1.30 p. m. train. Bauer's celebrated band of Scranton furnished music on the occasion. This band always proves to be a great drawing card. Upon arriving in this city they got off at the Seventh avenue station, and paraded Main street, rendering some very sweet selections.

Yesterday morning at 9 o'clock occurred the flag presentation by the Cottage Hose company to school No. 7. The occasion was among the important events of the day. The Columbia Hose company and the Mitchell Hose company headed by the Germania band assisted.

On Tuesday evening was held a very pleasant time at the Hotel Anshraite. The occasion was the first annual dinner of the newly organized Lackawanna club. Covers were laid for forty people, and the party sat down at 9 o'clock to partake of the elaborate menu prepared by Proprietor Fox. W. F. Sadler, Jr., was toastmaster of the evening, and the following toasts were responded to: "The City," Mayor Hendrick; "Lackawanna Club," George Van Keuren; "The Press," W. M. La Thrope; "The Ladies," Dr. S. S. Shields; "Time," F. E. Barr; "The Political Situation," R. D. Sinar, Esq.

A portion of the new hotel American has been finished. This portion was opened yesterday to the public. Work on the remaining portion is being pushed rapidly, and it is expected that the handsome hotel will be in full readiness by July 15.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riebbien, of Vandling, our neighboring borough, to the marriage of their daughter, Freda Arnold, to Henry Carter, of Vandling. The ceremony will be performed on Tuesday evening, July 10, at 8 o'clock, Rev. E. J. Balsley, rector of Trinity church of this city, will officiate.

Misses Alice Bashleigh, Minnie Bowen and Charlotte Giles spent yesterday in Scranton.

Ringling Brothers' world's greatest show will exhibit in Carbondale for two performances on Friday, July 27.

C. E. Spencer and family occupied their new cottage at Waymart yesterday.

A successful ice cream social was held last evening at the Congregational church between the hours of 8 and 10 o'clock.

This morning at 9 o'clock occurs the sheriff sale of the stock of goods of Miss Annie B. Thomas on Salem avenue.

A pleasant social event was held last night at the Lackawanna House on Belmont street. Music was furnished by Wagner's orchestra.

JERMYN.

Floyd Hunter is the proud owner of a new bicycle.

Mr. and Mrs. George Balsh, of Honesdale, were the guests of Mrs. Belsh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jay, at yesterday.

The Fourth passed off quietly, many going out of town. The lawn and festival of the St. James church in the evening was well attended, judging by the number present. The receipts must have been satisfactory.

C. D. Winter and son are re-arranging in Susquehanna county.

The Citizen's band was in Uniondale yesterday furnishing music for the celebration held there.

The annual excursion and picnic of the Methodist Sunday school to Farview, July 18, will be the next to leave here. Each scholar and teacher will be given a ticket and it is hoped that all can so arrange their affairs that it will be possible for every one to go. One or two other schools are considering the advisability of going on the same day. The excursions of this school are known to be among the best.

The amusement committee have already a number of applications for time in which parties can occupy the bill field race track and no doubt the ride will be made pleasant to all. The ride over the famous gravity is well worth the small amount charged and those who are not members will be made just as welcome as those who are.

The colony on the hill near the M. y. field depot, celebrated the Fourth yesterday after indulging freely in "polking" they got into a fight. During the fracas John Sheminsky was badly used up. He went before Justice of the Peace Sullivan and swore out a warrant for the arrest of his assailants. Dr. Shields attended to his injuries.

A. F. Gebhart and W. J. Baker were in Scranton yesterday viewing the races. Will Jenkins, of West Pittston, spent the Fourth with his parents here.

OLYPHANT.

The pupils of St. Patrick's Parochial school gave a very creditable entertainment Monday and Tuesday evenings at Keystone hall. The hall was crowded both evenings and the entertainment was one of the best ever given in this place.

The picnic which has been the topic of conversation for some time was held yesterday by the Ancient Order of Hibernians at Miles' Grove. Judging from the crowd that was there, we can say that it was a grand success.

Among those who attended the bicycle races at the Driving park yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hall, E. G. Hall, Thomas Evans, Leonard Knapp, Chas. Hathaway, Dr. Van Sickle, Editor Schumehel and wife, Alfred Harris, Thomas and Cora Voyie.

Mr. and Mrs. John Barrett were among the many who enjoyed Farview yesterday.

GOING TO CARLSBAD

isn't necessary now. Carlsbad is coming to you. At least, the health-giving part of it is. Take the Carlsbad Sprudel Salt (the water evaporated and concentrated). Best results obtained when out-door exercise can be had. See that the signature of "Eisenberg & Mendelsohn Co., Sole Agents, New York," is on every bottle. That makes the genuine imported article—the world's natural remedy for gout, dyspepsia, biliousness and stomach, liver and kidney complaints.

OBSERVING THE GLORIOUS FOURTH

A picnic followed the games. Hayes' orchestra furnished the music in the dancing pavilion.

THE DAY AT SANDERSON PARK.

T. V. Powderly Read Declaration of Independence and Delivered an Oration. The congregation of St. Paul's parish, Green Ridge, celebrated the Fourth of July in most patriotic style. At 8 o'clock a mass was celebrated in the church by Rev. J. I. Dunn. After the ceremony the children were arranged in line by the sisters and a parade took place from the church around the square and to Sanderson park, where the picnic of the parish was held.

The children presented a pleasing sight and carried a small American flag. At 10.30 Hon. T. V. Powderly arrived in a carriage at the residence of Rev. P. J. McManus. The children were again aligned and Mr. Powderly was escorted to the picnic ground. Arriving at the scene of the pleasure the congregation took up position on the dancing pavilion and accompanied by the Citizen's band, of Providence, consisting of twenty pieces, "Hail Columbia," and "Star Spangled Banner" were sung.

Rev. P. J. McManus then introduced Mr. Powderly with a few eloquent words. Mr. Powderly began by reading the Declaration of Independence. Then he recited Patrick Henry's famous speech, "Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death."

After this he began his oration which was an embodiment of patriotic eloquence. He quoted the deeds of the Catholic generals and soldiers in the Civil war and arraigned unpatriotic societies that are claiming all the credit for the perpetuation of the Union. The speaker's remarks occupied a considerable part of the afternoon. During the day large crowds attended the picnic and a pleasant time awaited them. The picnic netted St. Paul's parish a handsome sum. At 9.30 last night the contest among John Sweeney, Henry Gratton and Joseph Mahon for a boy's silver watch and chain was closed.

John Sweeney won the contest. He had collected $180; Henry Gratton came next with $116.85, and Joseph Mahon had $54.80, making a total of $351.65.

EISENBERG AT THE LAKE.

Thousands Liston to Efforts of Societies and Soloists. The excursion and eisteddfod under the auspices of the congregation of St. Mary's church, of Dunmore, to Lake Ariel yesterday was attended by thousands of people. In every sense of the word success attended the occasion. Never before did the dells along Lake Ariel's shores resound with such charming music and song.

The eisteddfod opened with the competition for the $300 prize. Rev. M. B. Donlan, curate of St. Mary's church was chairman, Judge H. M. Edwards was conductor and Dr. Joseph Parry, of Wales, adjudicator. For the first prize two societies contested. The Lydie Park society, and the Philharmonic Society. The piece sung was "On Father Whose Almighty Power,"

The honors were close, but the Choral society was awarded the prize. William Evans and Edward C. Miller sang the baritone solo, "Foreword Song," for which a prize of $10 was offered. The prize was given to Mr. Evans. The tenor solo, "How So Fair," was sung by John Jenkins, Edward Bowen, Thomas Williams, Thomas Boynton and John Drama.

BOWEN WON THE PRIZE. The prize was won by Mr. Bowen. The quartette prize for the piece, "The Sea Has Its Pearls," was not sung because the competitors failed to appear. The alto solo, "Regret," was contested for by Misses Minnie Perry Thomas, Eisie Powell, Kate Saul and Sadie Dougherty. The young ladies were well matched and none was able to divide the prize between Misses Powell and Dougherty.

The soprano solo "Longing" was sung by Mrs. David Lewis, of Providence, and Miss Loretta Jennings, of the West Side. The former won the prize. In bestowing the prize to Mrs. Lewis, Dr. Parry highly complimented the winner on her sweet voice. The number which gave the greatest pleasure to the assemblage was the singing of the grand mae chorus, "Comrades in Arms."

The contestants were the Druid Glee club, Lewis Waters, leader; the Con tinental Glee society, Thomas Williams, leader, and the Doctor Mason Choral society, T. C. Lewis, leader. The Druids carried off the prize.

The excursionists left the lake at 6 o'clock and home away with them pleasant memories of the day. Rev. Gerald McMuray, pastor of St. Mary's church, can rest contented with his labors in arranging the grand event which ended so successfully. The excursion netted the church a magnificent sum.

Household Notes.

With the exception of the new tableware in silver gilt, there seem to be few changes in silver.

The "clover" toothcloth is a charming bit of table furnishing. The linen cloth exhibits a hemstitched border, the field flowers scattered across the snowy background being worked in tender pink and green, with sparse foliage.

In place of the clumsy feather duster, try, when dusting carved furniture, a painter's brush having moderately stiff bristles.

In caring for a piano, nothing is so useful as a good soft chamois. The new orange cups have appeared in various forms. The original variety had a circular rim with prongs that held the orange in place. Another variety has silver spears at each side that pierce the fruit. Still another has a set of turbine wheel forms in the bottom, with which the orange is screwed and held fast.

One of the best remedies for a burn is liniment and sweet oil, mixed in equal quantities.

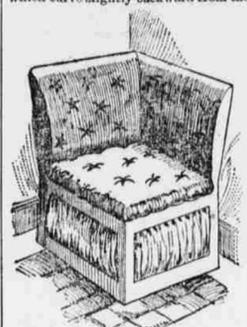

When baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became a girl, she clung to Castoria. When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

AN OLD TIME CHAIR.

IT IS DESIGNED TO FILL AN EMPTY CORNER.

This Slightly and Very Comfortable Resting Place May Be Made at Home—A Square Box Supplies the Framework of the Seat. Inexpensive and Pretty.

A three cornered chair that fits into an empty corner, converting the same into the coziest of corners, was not long since illustrated and described by Country Gentleman as follows: The seat is simply a square box, from three corners of which rise supports, which curve slightly backward from the

ent up. The top of the seat may be solidly boarded over, or may have strips of upholsterer's webbing stretched across it from side to side. The latter method of course gives a more comfortable seat, but when the webbing stretches the seat is inclined to sag in the center. In either case spiral springs are firmly fastened to the webbing or to the boards, quite near together, and over these springs, which can be had at any furniture store, a firm piece of bagging or ticking is to be stretched. On this is placed a layer of curled hair, excelsior or cotton, according as one may decide to use the one or another, and over this is placed the cover. The two backs need not contain the springs, but may be stuffed first with hay or excelsior and then with a layer of some softer material. The bagging or ticking should also be stretched over the backs. The sides of the seat are not padded, but have the cover drawn moderately tight, with a padded panel of the same cloth inserted in the center of each side. A firm cloth of a fast color should be selected for the cover. The whole chair can very readily be made at home.

About Playing the Lesson Over. Many teachers just play the lesson over for the pupil and then say, like Bach, "It must sound like this." This is sufficient for advanced pupils only, but for others much more instruction is necessary—viz, what to do in order that it may "sound like this."

Neither is it always necessary to play the whole, perhaps very lengthy, piece over for the pupil. A few single isolated passages are often sufficient to pave the way for a thorough understanding. Sometimes, when we have a strange piece rather difficult to understand—for example, the first pieces of Bach, Schumann or Chopin—it is necessary to play the whole piece over before the pupil begins to practice on it. At other times, however, it is a good plan to let the pupil work his way alone, a little way perhaps, in the interpretation and manner of execution of a new piece, and afterward give him the necessary directions, or perhaps practical help by playing it all over for him.

It is also a good idea to allow advanced pupils to take up a piece and work it up entirely to the best of their ability until they play it correctly, in their own estimation, or till they do not see anything more in it. Then let the teacher's judgment and experience exert their influence upon the work. During the first year the teacher should play nearly everything over repeatedly, says a correspondent of The Etude, authority for the foregoing.

Coconut Caramels. Put 3 pounds of granulated sugar with a tablespoonful of butter, a cup of milk and 2 teaspoonfuls of extract of lemon in a kettle. Set over the fire and stir until dissolved; add a grated coconut, boil until stiff, pour into buttered tins, let stand a few minutes, mark off into tiny squares, let cool and break apart. For a variety the coconut may be omitted and the caramels flavored with vanilla, lemon or pineapple. All caramels are better when freshly made.

Patchwork Design. The following was originally contributed to Farm, Field and Fireside: Cut the hexagons and diamonds from thin cardboard or stiff paper and cover one side with the material to be used, fasten it carefully in place. Sew together as in the pattern, using the over and over stitch.

Three diamonds, when sewed together, should form a hexagon exactly the same size as the plain hexagons, and if diamonds are formed into hexagons before they are sewed to the plain hexagons there will be no difficulty when putting in place.

A PRETTY HAT.

It is Made of Black Lace Stirred on Wire and Edged with Jet.

Somebody has lately raised his voice for the purpose of distastefulness and destroying the poetical associations of our hats. He says that neapolitan braid—that fine, dry material, made of horsehair—is not Neapolitan at all, but was invented by a man in New York who gave it that name because he could not think of anything else to call it. So goodby to all dreams of Vesuvius and the bay of Naples in connection with our bonnets. This is most of our idols—and idols—shattered. We dress our solid with olive oil, monthly the product of sunny Tuscany, only to discover later that it is made from the domestic peanut. We eat Mediterranean ardines, ascertaining by and by that they were caught off the coast of Maine. Our Brie cheese is made in Orange county, our French wines come from California; our spaghetti never came near salt water until it was cooked. Since, as it appears, we must use our own products, why not announce to the world in general that we really are sufficient to ourselves and honestly call American goods by American names, thus avoiding the payment of duty on imported titles?

Black hats, neapolitan and others, are much worn this year and are often profusely trimmed with ostrich plumes, which are again in full vogue. They are a perishable sort of decoration, although very beautiful, for the least dampness in the air destroys the lovely curl that is their chief charm and make them stiff and flat, and recurring never restores them to their pristine beauty. The ostrich plumes are especially sensitive to moisture, their frost vanishing before a fog as natural frost does before the sun.

Mohr ribbon shows no decline of popularity as a trimming for hat and bonnets. It combines well with jet and ornaments and has the glitter which is this season conceived necessary to a fashionable effect. Yellow and black is a popular combination, and a very pretty gold colored straw braid has been brought out, wide and glossy, but light. It is fragile in spite of its coarse weave and will not bear rough usage.

A sketch is given of a large round hat made of black lace stirred on wires. It is edged with jet spangles and trimmed with chantilly lace which forms two large wings in front. These serve as a background to two jet wings fastened together in the middle by a knot of ribbon from which springs a jet aigret.

JUDIC CHOLET.

How to Wash Embroideries. There is only one way to wash embroidered linens. A suds of warm but not hot water and castile soap should be made. The piece should be rubbed with the hands, but never on the board. Neither should soap be rubbed on it. When it has been well washed in the suds, it should be thrown into clear water of the same temperature, well washed in that and then rinsed in cold water. It should not be allowed to lie in any water for a minute longer than necessary. It should be dried indoors, as sun and air fade the silks. When it has been thoroughly dried, it should be spread face downward on a piece of soft white flannel, damped with a sponge and ironed with a hot iron until perfectly dry.

A Stationery Rack. A neat receptacle for letter paper and envelopes is illustrated in The Delineator. It is made of fancy wood painted with white English enamel, after which the decoration of roocco work, cut from yellow kid, is securely glued on the front and sides. The ornamentation in front is a pretty view of land and water, which the amateur wielder of the brush will be able to satisfactorily reproduce, while at the sides the simpler decoration is cut from kid and daintily tinted in two tones. Three partitions divide the rack suitable for the envelopes and paper.
