NO CHARGES AGAINST GLEASON.
He Was Evidently Made the Victim of a Hoax.

When asked yesterday for the true reason for the resignation of Officer Frank Gleason from the police force, Mayor Connell assured a TRIBUNE reporter that no officer on the force was better liked or merited the confidence of his superior officers more than Patrolman Gleason, and that the resignation could only be attributed to some false statement made to Officer Gleason concerning his status on the force.

"It was no later than a week ago," said the mayor, "that Chief Simpson, during a casual conversation remarked that Patrolman Gleason was one of the city's most valuable and efficient officers. I coincided with him and have learned nothing since the resignation which would influence me to change my mind."

"Concerning Mr. Gleason's statement to a TRIBUNE reporter that 'false charges had been made against him' and that he had 'anemia' at work secretly trying to 'oust him,' I can only surmise that someone has been foolishly defaming him. No charges have been preferred against him, nor do I believe any charges could be made against him."

POOL ROOMS REFUSED TO PAY

Thereupon the Winners Had the Proprietors Arrested for Obtaining Money Under False Pretenses. They Gave Bail for a Hearing Before Alderman Fitzsimmons Last Night at 8 O'clock.

Michael Kasey, manager of a race-track pool room in the rear of 306 Lackawanna avenue, and G. W. Flannery, manager of the Electric News and Money Transfer company, a race-track establishment, doing business in Center street near Penn avenue, were arrested last night by three New York traveling men named George Dever, George L. Davis and W. L. Hutchison on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

At 1:30 o'clock every afternoon the house open for business. Ninety-nine persons out of a hundred passing the doors in the gate of the noonday sun would not observe their character.

When the station was held under an inviting row of chairs, and upon being seated he is confronted with a black-board six feet high and twenty feet long. The board is divided into columns and in each column there is a list of the horses entered in each race at some one of the following race tracks: Sheepshead Bay, Coney Island, Park or Guttenberg. The jockeys that will ride are named and their weights, and also the figures that bets can be obtained at.

HOW THE BETTING IS DONE.
This horse plays even money, meaning if you bet $1 on him and he wins you will win a dollar. Another horse plays 3 to 1, and if he wins you will get $3 by investing $1. There is an office on the side where the cashier or bookmaker and the telegraph operator are stationed. When the first race begins at whatever track the house is receiving news from that day the operator shouts: "At the pole." Next is heard, "They're off." Red Top may be in the lead at the quarter pole by a length; if so, it is announced. And so it goes until the race is ended and the name of the winning horse is announced. Those who wish walk up to the cashier's window and get their tickets cashed.

These institutions were open for business yesterday when the three New York gentlemen who caused the arrests entered to play the races. At each house the wires were connected with the Brighton Beach race track. The fifth race was about to start and in it were entered four of the best horses in the country, as follows: Nero, 6-year-old; Koller, a W. B. 3-year-old, and Tom Fidler, 6-year-old. These horses were playing at close odds and it was expected that one out of the four would win. To the surprise of all, a horse named Virago, a 3-year-old won that has no record at any distance and is practical-ly unknown except through its owner A. Thompson, formerly proprietor of the White Elephant in New York, on Broadway near Thirty-ninth street. Virago's sire is given as Heindel, dam Virgo. The horse was entered not long ago at Guttenberg and ran under cover. Outside of that there is no record of his being entered here before. Yesterday he was being played, 50 to 1.

THE ODDS WENT DOWN.
The New York men after entering the pool rooms began to stake their money on him and bet so furiously that the managers at each place had to reduce the odds from the original offer to 5 to 1 at one place and 2 to 1 at the other.

The horse won, and when Dever, Davis and Hutchison demanded payment for their tickets the cashier refused to cash them, charging the three gamblers with tapping the wires, or some other such device. Last night a warrant was sworn out for the respective managers and they were brought before Alderman Fitzsimmons.

The defendants alleged that there was some trickery employed by the three and for that reason did not pay over the money. Each furnished $1,000 bail for a further hearing this afternoon at 3 o'clock. John Tierney, of 3,116 Luzerne street, became their bondsman.

There is a story to the effect that three men, and these are supposed to be the men who played the races at Bridgeport a few days ago in the same manner as their operations in this city yesterday and won $500.

The Western Union Telegraph company furnishes services to the Scranton pool rooms for $25 a day. The managers of the pool rooms allege that the operator who sends the news here is in league with the prosecutors and that he first sends a cipher telegram to them announcing the winner of each race, and that they immediately go and play that horse, the report not being sent to the pool rooms until ample time is given his competitors to operate.

A Tribune reporter in conversation with C. W. Plunkett, manager of the Electric News and Money Transfer company, was told that it was the belief that Virago was in his paddock and groomed after the race before a word was received at the pool room here, and for this reason he refused to pay the bets. He said that he will have full particulars today from Mr. Gleason, of New York, who is the owner of Center street pool room.

If Gleason tells him to pay the money, he will pay it, Kasey, the other defendant, says the same. The hearing this afternoon promises to be interesting. Between the two horses $1,500 was won.

TO INSPECT THE BURKE QUARRY.
City Officials Will Visit the Place on Tuesday.

A party composed of councilmen, city officers and others have been invited by Burke Bros., the contractors, to inspect their stone quarry on the line of the Erie and Wyoming Valley railroad next Tuesday afternoon.

The city hall has been selected as the place of rendezvous at 2 o'clock, from whence the party will leave to take the train at 2:15. Burke Bros. have made no statement of what would be offered in the way of entertainment beyond an inspection of the quarry, but the geniality of the firm is so well known that the prospective pleasures and hour of return are the least of the troubles of the invited guests.

DELEGATES ARE APPOINTED.
Call for Republican County Convention May Be Issued Today.

Chairman D. W. Powell, of the Republican county committee yesterday completed the appointment of delegates to the several districts of the county, and he expects to issue a call for a convention either tomorrow or Monday. A list of the districts will be published with the number of delegates allotted to each.

There will be a total representation at the convention of 184 delegates. Ninety-three will represent the city districts, and ninety-one the remainder of the districts of the county outside the city.

The Democratic brethren as yet are far from any definite conclusion regarding their delegates or the date of their convention as if the matter were still a year distant.

WILLIAM FRANZ A CANDIDATE.

He Is in the Fight for County Treasurer to Stay.

Notwithstanding reports to the contrary William Franz is, and will be until the convention acts, a candidate for the Republican nomination for county treasurer. The reports that he has retired from the contest are wholly unfounded.

He is still in the field and has every reason to believe that the coming county convention will select him as the party's candidate for the office to which he aspires.

He has made a careful and thorough canvass of the greater part of the county, and has received from good and true Republicans everywhere the most emphatic assurances of support.

He asks his friends and supporters to pay no attention whatever to reports that he is no longer a candidate. He will remain in the field until the county convention decides between himself and his competitors for the nomination of county treasurer.

While it is true that Mr. Franz has been greatly honored by the people of this county, inasmuch as he has served for a number of years as county commissioner, it should be borne in mind that he has given his services for years for a very small pecuniary return. His friends feel that he is entitled to some consideration in the way of an office which respectsably sized emolument he is better qualified to handle than any other man in the county.

Mr. Franz has always loaned strength to the R-publican ticket and has ever served the people well in the office which has been entrusted to his care. The popularity which was his before he left the commissioners' office, coupled with the wide acquaintance he has made during his term, will make him one of the most formidable candidates that can be named.

OWEN CUSICK SERIOUSLY INJURED.

His Horse Ran Away and He Was Thrown from His Carriage.

Owen Cusick, the well known Lackawanna avenue undertaker and liveryman, was seriously injured about 8:30 last night, his horse running away and throwing him from his carriage. His head struck the curbstone and several ugly gashes were inflicted. He was rendered unconscious and did not regain his senses until conveyed home.

Mr. Cusick, with John M. Casey, of the St. Nicholas hotel, was out driving behind a spirited Kentucky colt and on North Washington street, near the Suburban Electric Light works, another carriage dashed into Mr. Cusick's buggy, tearing off one of the wheels. Both carriages became locked and both animals began running at a furious rate. Those in the other carriage were not injured.

Mr. Casey was out slightly about the hands and face. Mr. Cusick's horse ran galloping down the avenue and at the corner of Lackawanna and Washington avenues went furiously headlong against a Laurel Hill park street car loaded with passengers, none of whom were injured. The horse went half way under the trucks of the street car and is badly injured.

Dr. Dolan was unable to decide the extent of Mr. Cusick's injuries. At midnight he was sleeping normally and his condition was also much improved. Until a more complete examination today Dr. Dolan will not be able to accurately diagnose the case.

FRANK MORROW CAPTURED.

The Man Who Shot Constable Munley Is in Jail in New York City.

Sheriff Fahy last night received a telegram from William W. McLoughlin, police inspector of New York city, stating that Frank Morrow, who shot and seriously wounded Constable Munley, of Peckville, had been captured and jailed.

Morrow, it will be remembered, while an attempt was being made to arrest him one week ago Sunday for burglary, shot the officer and made his escape. He at one time ran an elevator in the Imperial hotel, New York city, and the sheriff, suspecting that he would be his old haunts, cautioned the New York department to be on the look out for him. The particulars of his arrest were not communicated to the sheriff. A telegram was sent in reply to the sheriff that requisition papers would be gotten out as soon as possible.

MARRIED AT WILKES-BARRE.
Frank Marsh and Miss Eva Taylor Made Man and Wife.

Frank Marsh, of this city, and Miss Eva Taylor, of the West Side, were married by Rev. H. G. Russell, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church street between Scranton street and nearby. Miss Lizzie Hill and Charles Heilmann, both of Wilkes-Barre, were bridesmaid and groomsmen respectively.

Mr. and Mrs. Marsh will for the present reside with the parents of Mr. Marsh, on the West Side. Mr. Marsh formerly resided at Binghamton, but is now associated with his brother in the restaurant business on Franklin avenue.

OPENING UP THE STREET

An Entrance to the Elmhurst Boulevard is Now Being Constructed.

TRACTION COMPANY DOING WORK

Its Grading Mulberry Street From Prescott to Arthur Avenue—The Nay Aug Line Will Be Continued Along the New Thoroughfare to Nay Aug Falls—Boulevard Will Be Completed August 15.

During the recent and prevailing spell of talk and hostile over real estate deals and paving, sewer and building improvements, a very important piece of work in operation and has been lost sight of in the whirl and whirl of enterprises located particularly in the central city. The opening and extending of four blocks of Mulberry street from Prescott to Arthur avenue, the traction company will build its Nay Aug line on this street and eventually abandon the present route to the falls. Incidentally the new route will make connections with the terminus of the new Elmhurst boulevard at Arthur avenue.

The Lackawanna Iron and Steel company, which owns the area bounded by Linden and Vine streets and Prescott and Arthur avenues, formed a compact with the traction company during Mr. Beem's regime, whereby the traction company was to open and grade Mulberry street to Arthur avenue, and in consideration thereof were to be granted the privilege of extending a single track through the street to Arthur avenue, where a turn northward toward Nay Aug falls would be made. For some time the traction company has had a small force of men working on the extension, and the street has been made fairly passable to Colfax avenue.

WORK NOW BEING PUSHED
Engineer Mattes, of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company, recently called on General Manager Beem and asked that a larger force of men be employed and that the work be more rapidly performed. Mr. Beem said that while he approved of two years was the time stipulated in which the work should be completed he was perfectly willing to increase the force of laborers and finish the extension this season. He accordingly instructed Mr. Fox, the company's engineer, to proceed forthwith with an increased force and hurry the work along.

Since this talk between Mr. Mattes and Mr. Beem the traction company has made a grade in the middle of the street and will soon lay a track for dirt cars. When this advance in the grading is reached it will only occupy two weeks more to make Mulberry street an approach for carriages going to or coming from the terminus of the boulevard. In this connection it may be mentioned that the material for the boulevard bridge over the Roaring brook is expected next week and the traction company will only occupy two weeks' time.

The present passable route for carriages to the boulevard terminus at Arthur avenue is via Mulberry street, to Wheeler avenue, to Linden street and thence to Arthur avenue. Harrison avenue is open only a portion of its distance from Mulberry to Linden street. Linden street from the present terminus on the hill is not passable for conveyances until its junction with Wheeler avenue, which explains the Mulberry-Wheeler-Linden route to reach Arthur avenue and the boulevard.

Council U. G. Schoonmaker stated to a TRIBUNE reporter yesterday that the boulevard would probably be completed by Aug. 15.

BETRAYED BY A PAIR OF PANTS.
After Escaping Detection for Two Years, Ben Pette Is Found Out.

Bryman Pette, a young Hebrew peddler, was arrested yesterday for shoplifting in the store of Wentowsky and Muscat, of Penn avenue, and brought to the office of Alderman Wright. Mr. Wentowsky, of the firm, testified against the accused youth.

Pette had been suspected of this kind of work for months, but he was so adept that not until yesterday did he get caught in the act. Wentowsky and Muscat are headquarters in this city for all road peddlers, who travel from house to house with packs. They carry a large stock of shawls, shirts, underwear, men's clothing, notions, etc.

Pette was among their customers and it was observed by the firm that usually after his visits there were a few articles missing. Wentowsky swore yesterday that Pette robbed them of goods to the value of nearly $1,500. That they had suspected him for two years and were unable to catch him speaks for the elusive endowment which he appears to possess.

Yesterday he was nabbed as he was on his way out of the store with a pair of pants. The peddler used him in the sum of $500 bail.

SIX MEN BADLY BURNED

Explosion of a Large Flask in the Dickson Foundry.

The Unprotected Portions of the Bodies of the Men Who Were at Work on the Job and Others Standing About Severely Burned—The Cause of the Accident Unexplainable—Condition of the Men.

A flask which was being filled in the foundry of the Dickson works on Vine street yesterday afternoon, exploded and scattered the molten metal over the men who were working on the job and standing about. Six of them were more or less seriously burned. The injured men are:

DAVID COGGGAN, moulder, Hyde Park, burned about the back of head and shoulders.
THOMAS MCCANN, moulder, Dunmore, face, hair, calves of the legs and ankles.
THOMAS NORTON, apprentice, Penn avenue, burned about the feet.

ROBERT BUSHNELL, assistant foreman, burned on the hand.
The accident occurred shortly after 4 o'clock. The men were engaged in "pouring" a large flask which was to mould a cog wheel when the explosion took place. The force of the explosion lifted the flask and sent the fiery fluid in a shower in all directions. Some of it which shot along the ground burned the men about the feet, but the most serious injuries were caused by that which shot upwards and struck the men about the unprotected portions of their bodies.

The injured men were attended to at the shop and then conveyed to their respective homes. The cause of the accident is a mystery to even the oldest moulder in the foundry. The general opinion is that the air escapes became plugged up and caused the explosion.

ANOTHER CASE OF DOUBLE FARE.
City Solicitor Is Instructed to Make an Investigation.

Mayor Connell yesterday signed the concurrent resolution of council directing the city solicitor to investigate the system of charging two fares on the West Side lines of the Scranton Traction company. The resolution is as follows:

That the city solicitor be instructed to ascertain why it is that more than a 5-cent fare is charged for riding to or from the city line on the Egon street and Taylor railway, and to request that it be reduced to a 5-cent fare. If not so reduced in thirty days, the city solicitor shall prepare and submit to this council an ordinance providing for the said reduction.

City Solicitor Torrey is at Block 1-land, consequently no action will be taken in the matter until his return.
