

The Scranton Tribune

PUBLISHED DAILY IN SCRANTON, PA., BY THE TRIBUNE PUBLISHING COMPANY. E. P. KINGSBURY, GENERAL MANAGER.

NEW YORK OFFICE: TRIBUNE BUILDING, FRANK & CAY, MANAGER. SCRANTON, JULY 26, 1894.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

- For Governor: DANIEL H. HASTINGS, OF CENTER. For Lieutenant Governor: WALTER RAY, OF ALLIANCE. For Auditor General: AMOS H. MYLIN, OF LANCASTER.

ITS DIRECTORY census gives "that town near Scranton" 41,500 population, or about 40 per cent. of the population of its illustrious and celebrated neighbor.

Unwise Advocates.

The effort to promote the cause of compulsory education in this state by secret caucuses is unwise; and however well meant, it will do more harm than good.

The platform of true Americans with reference to this line of futile advocacy is one of unqualified hostility. There is nothing in the proposed reform that calls for bolted doors.

I want to preach the doctrine of practical politics and decent politics. To amount to anything in our political life you have to be practical. But the man who thinks that practical politics means bad politics is an enemy of the country.

IN THE opinion of the esteemed Baltimore American, "the nauseating sycophancy of his subservient organs will not meet such grave accusations as were deliberately made on Monday against the executive of the nation."

IT ENCOURAGES us to notice how easily, gracefully and almost joyfully our esteemed contemporary, Colonel Boyd, bolts down the Judge Rhone crow, newly illustrating, thereby, that fallible man can, when stern compulsion drives, get used to anything.

WE AGREE with Professor Harris, United States commissioner of education, that "the newspaper is surpassing the library in teaching people to read."

dent army, flushed with victory, is today, a host without a leader, wandering aimlessly in the wilderness of faction and despair.

MAINE REPUBLICANS, in renominating Tom Reed, threw out a free hint to the Fifty-fourth congress.

The Hospital Problem.

The contention of the state board of charities that state aid to local institutions of mercy is based upon an erroneous principle is doubtless well founded. It does not seem fair that the people of Nescopeck, for example, should by obligatory taxation be forced to help defray the expenses of maintaining hospitals in Wilkes-Barre, Pittston, Ashland or Carbondale.

But while this is the reform which should be ultimately approximated, it is not one that can be brought about in a day. The precedent of appropriating state funds for the erection and maintenance, in whole or in part, of hospitals for the accommodation, primarily, of workmen injured in the anthracite coal mines has been established in this commonwealth; and it is no more than just that the people of Scranton, who have in years past been taxed to help maintain such hospitals for the numerically smaller communities of Wilkes-Barre, Ashland, Pittston and Carbondale, should receive considerate treatment in return.

IN THIS connection THE TRIBUNE desires to express renewed confidence in the availability of his suggestion that instead of expending money in a dubious attempt to patch the old hospital into a semblance of convenient dimensions, the better plan would be to move energetically toward an entirely new hospital, to be located, if possible, upon an entirely new site.

IN ANY event, the subject is before the community, and discussion is in order.

IT ENCOURAGES us to notice how easily, gracefully and almost joyfully our esteemed contemporary, Colonel Boyd, bolts down the Judge Rhone crow, newly illustrating, thereby, that fallible man can, when stern compulsion drives, get used to anything.

THESE DEMOCRATS of Crawfordsville, Ind., who are talking of running Debs for congress had better first wait to see if Uncle Sam does not elect him to the pentecostal.

commonplace journalistic echoes, and not the first one at that. Policy, what queer capers, alas, are committed in thy name!

HOKE SMITH's paper, the Atlanta Journal, is severe upon the gentleman from Maryland. "Gorman," it says, "has carried into the senate the methods of the ward politician by which he comes to the consideration of great questions he uses the tactics by which he manages his local leaders in Baltimore."

AT THE Pic Counter.

A story current in Washington is that a deputation from Colorado recently called on the president and told him they had arranged for a loan to him to be used for the president and his cabinet.

NAMING THE BABY.

They talked of Melora, Aurora and Flora. Of Isabel and Marcia and Mildred and Deb. Debated the question of Helen, Honora, Clarissa, Camilla and Phyllis and Fay.

One liked Theodora, another Lenora.

Some thought for Edith, and some for Elaine. For Madeline, Adeline, Lily and Lora; And then, after all, they decided on Jane.

Another interesting Cleveland anecdote is told by the New York Sun. It relates to the campaign of 1884, when Senator Gorman was given full direction to manage the Democratic presidential candidates campaign as he saw fit.

AN AMERICAN SLANDER.

The Yank on matrimony bent Is swift in taking action; He tells his girl, to his intent, 'Let me see your photograph.'

Mr. Wadlinger, the Pottsville attorney, who was a fellow-passenger with Major Warren on board the New York, and some of our impressions as to European states have been reported in this column, contends that our English cousins are "not in" in railroad matters.

ONE QUICK proof of Grover Cleveland's shrewdness in favoring Democratic editors for office is seen in the press comments on his quarrel with Gorman.

VERY PATHETIC ANXIETY.

New York Commercial-Adver. Wilson, in his fearful letter to Professor Wilson, the ripper, President Cleveland, the great tariff expert of six years' standing, says: "My public life has been so closely related to the subject; I have so longed for its accomplishment, and I have so often promised its realization to my fellow countrymen as a result of their trust and confidence in the Democratic party that I hope no excuse is necessary for my earnest appeal to you that in this crisis you strenuously insist upon party honesty and good faith and a sturdy adherence to Democratic principles."

The Difference.

New York Commercial-Advertiser. Breckinridge, of Arkansas, our new minister to Russia, served as a private in the Confederate army and as a "cuckoo" to President Cleveland.

Are Equally Behind the Times.

Debs insists that the strike is still on. There are some fellows in the woods of Arkansas who haven't heard yet that the war of the Rebellion is over.

FOR DELEGATE ELECTIONS.

Apportionment of Republican Representation Among the Various Districts. Pursuant to a meeting of the Republican County committee held on July 14th, 1894, the County Convention will be held on Tuesday, September 4th, 1894, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the court house at Scranton, for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the following named offices to be held for the next general election to be held November 6th, 1894:

For many years this Piano has stood in the front ranks. It has been admired so much for its pure, rich tone, that it has become a standard for tone quality, until it is considered the highest complement that can be paid any Piano to say "It resembles the WEBER."

GOLDSMITH'S G. B. BAZAAR

There's No Use Talking

If we didn't talk we wouldn't say anything--and sometimes we don't say much when we do talk. The most eloquent thing, after all, is a price. A cold, naked fact that is, that strikes right home to our inner consciousness, like a bullet from a rifle.

Here's a Modern Instance:
