The county jail should have a telephone that is what it purports to be. The recording of the present instrument with one through which a message can be transmitted and from which one can be received would be greatly appreciated, especially in newspaper circles, where the present excuse for a phone cause untold annoyance and the loss of much valuable time.

THEY WANT A VIADUCT FOR A NEW HOSPITAL

Special Councils Committee Is Prepared to Make a Fight for It.

DETERMINED TO SEE IT THROUGH

Ordinance Will Be Submitted to the City Solicitor and When It Is in Ship Shape Fashion It Will Be Given to Councils—Careful and Determined Fighting Will Be Done by Its Adherents.

From the tone of the meeting of the special committee appointed by council to consider the viaduct ordinance, it is quite probable that we will in time have that much desired and much needed improvement.

The members of the committee, Messrs. Robatkin, Hickey, Thomas and Wagner, all expressed themselves in hearty accord with the movement to make a safe thoroughfare of West Lackawanna avenue, and the two West Side members, Messrs. Robatkin and Thomas, evidenced a determination to put in a bitter fight for it.

Mr. Boies Says That the Whole Matter Hinges with Them—Board of Charities Is Willing to Meet Them Half Way in a Movement to Give This City Better Hospital Facilities. Locations Suggested.

At last Saturday's issue of THE TRIBUNE attention was directed to the inadequate hospital facilities of Scranton, and the Lackawanna hospital is the only charitable institution which has not been treated with particularity in the institution. The comment and interest created by this subject among all citizens who have the city's welfare at heart invites a further consideration of the matter.

Colonel H. M. Boies, who is a member of the state board of charities, which has the honor of supervising all charitable appropriations before their presentation to the legislature, was seen yesterday by a TRIBUNE reporter and said:

"The public has but a small conception of the sum total of appropriations asked from the state for charitable purposes or for the 'big relief' process necessary to get the recommended appropriations through the legislature. Last year the state board of charities cut down applications to the extent of $3,000,000, and yet $3,000,000 remained; so you can perceive that demands of this kind must be backed by a worthy object and include certain conditions which I shall mention later.

"For years the state board has worked toward the end of making communities support their own charitable institutions. It is not fair that Pittsburg should be asked to help support a purely local object in Scranton, unless you can show that the city is disposed to curtail state appropriations for local purposes. Some day, it may not be far years to come, this idea and its purpose will prevail.

WHAT WILL THE PEOPLE DO? "Now as far as this movement toward enlarging the Lackawanna hospital or building a new hospital is concerned, I, as a citizen, am inclined favorably toward it, and as a member of the state board of charities would recommend whichever plan is best, provided the people of the city will meet the state half way. The policy of the board has been to favor only such objects as are grounded upon the proper spirit as well as the financial support of the city or locality from which such objects emanate.

"The statement that a number of cities smaller than Scranton have superior hospitals does not imply that they are more generously treated by the state than we are. The amount of money has been appropriated there is true; but it is also true that these several cities have been more disposed to contribute their share."

In answer to questions, particularly in relation to increased hospital facilities in Scranton, Colonel Boies said: "The sum total of a greater amount of thoroughly equipped hospital built on one of the many available sanitary locations is a good one, and I should perhaps favor the West Side. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company owns acres of unimproved land in that section of the city and could, in their own interest, build a hospital and would probably contribute a suitable site for so commendable a purpose; anyhow, I do not think there would be any difficulty in procuring real estate without expenditure. The whole question hinges on the spirit of citizens generally and the generosity of corporations particularly."

OPINION OF MR. FARR The sentiment of Hon. John K. Farr, representative from the Erie district, is voiced in his editorial in the last issue of the Courier-Progress, of Hyde Park. Mr. Farr says:

"The Lackawanna hospital will have to be removed from its present site if it is expected to be as efficient as a hospital of this kind in the Erie district. It should be in view of that fact it should be located in Hyde Park, where points entirely convenient to the city at large can be found. The other side of the river has the Moses Taylor hospital convenient while the entire West side has no accommodation, except at great inconvenience, and at a loss of time, the nearest point being on the corner of Franklin avenue and Mulberry street. This is a question that will come up in the course of events and it will be well to consider it in time. Every consideration of room, convenience, comfort and healthful points to Hyde Park as the best site for the transplanting of the Lackawanna hospital."

The fact that Mr. Farr is personally alive to the urgent necessity of a new hospital is sufficient criterion that any movement of that nature in the legislature will receive his earnest support.

If the West Side is selected as the proper district in which the hospital should be located, several sites seem available after a cursory investigation. Several hundred acres belonging to the Pettibone estate, in the neighborhood of Pettibone street and North Main avenue and extending toward Providence offer an extremely advantageous location.

OTHER AVAILABLE LANDS The Delaware and Hudson and Lackawanna Iron and Steel companies own jointly a high and well drained plot of ground near the Bellevue line, opposite No. 33 school and but a few rods from Round Woods. The ready holdings of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, a considerable portion of which is situated in Hyde Park, which events will ultimately become a park, lie at a high and CONTESTANTS WANT MORE TIME.

Application Made to Judge Edwards in the Twelfth Ward Case.

Attorney D. W. Connolly, representing H. W. Coyle and John F. Kearney, who are contesting Morgan Sweeney and James Mackley for the offices of common and select council respectively in the Twelfth ward, yesterday applied to Judge Edwards for an extension of time in which to offer testimony.

The contestants have not as yet had sufficient opportunity to present their case, because they agreed to short hearings to oblige the attorney for the respondents, with the understanding that the court would allow an extension of time if they wanted to fully make out their case.

Attorney John P. Murphy denied that there had been such a sweeping reduction and claimed that the plea for an extension of time was a trick to get in another bill of particulars.

Judge Edwards decided that he had no power to make the extension, but allowed Mr. Connolly's affidavit to be filed, the matter to come on before the court when it meets on Aug. 13.

CAUGHT MOWERY BY THE THROAT.

Charge That Michael Gilroy Will Have to Answer.

Charles Mowery, of Dunmore, swore out a warrant yesterday morning before Michael Gilroy, a sport Hill youth. The charge against Gilroy is that he caught Mowery by the throat, choked him until the latter's tongue was out in the open air, otherwise called and beat him, and incidentally tore his Sunday go to meeting clothes.

Gilroy appeared later in the day before Justice of the Peace R. A. Scott, of Dunmore, and waived a hearing, furnishing bail in the sum of $200. Michael Haggerty became his bondsman.

DO NOT OWN THE COAL

That Is What the D. and H. C. Co. Says of David Hughes and William Watkins.

AN INJUNCTION IS ASKED FOR

Want to Restrain Hughes and Watkins from Pursuing Their Mining Operations on the Jacob Porter Tract at Carbondale—It Is Admitted That the Defendants Own the Surface That Covers the Coal.

A preliminary injunction was granted yesterday on the prayer of the Delaware and Hudson Canal company, restraining David Hughes and William Watkins from mining coal on what is known as the Jacob Porter tract of land at Carbondale. Judge Gunstar granted the injunction and made it returnable next Monday at 10 o'clock a. m.

In the affidavit asking for the injunction it is set forth that the Delaware and Hudson Canal company is the owner in fee simple of all the Jacob Porter tract in the city of Carbondale, and that the defendants claim to be in possession of a small portion of the same tract—about seven acres. At the time the Delaware and Hudson came to own the Porter tract the larger portion of the 6 and 8 foot veins under the surface which the defendants claim were practically mined out; that in other parts of the Porter tract the company is at present at work in the 6 foot vein.

The defendants have begun to sink a slope in their seven-acre strip and they have gone down to such an extent that further mining will endanger the lives and limbs of the men employed in the coal veins below, and that the effect of breaking through the top of their mines will be to throw down large quantities of the top rock, block the passages and commit other damages to the coal veins on the tract.

SAYS THEY ARE THE PASSERS. It is further stated that the defendants are on property about seventy-five feet below the surface of a vein of two feet of coal not yet worked out and the principal part of which has been crushed down in consequence of the workings of the defendants below it; that about fifteen feet below this there is an 8-foot vein nearly worked out and TEST OF THE CHEMICAL ENGINE. It Proved Very Satisfactory—Witnessed by a Number of Councilmen and Citizens.

The wisdom of councils in expending money for the purchase of the new chemical engine was successfully demonstrated at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the test of the new machine was made at Johnson's lake around a fireman from the different city companies under the direction of Chief Engineer Farber, who had a large heap of dry goods boxes and barrels. Inside the boxes hay was stuffed and several gallons of kerosene were thrown on the heap.

The chemical engine was brought facing the blaze, and when the pile was a mass of flames, Chief Farber gave the order to turn on the chemicals. The effect was instantaneous. Wherever the liquid touched the boxes the fire vanished rapidly, and the hose was brought around the burning pile and directed on every part of it. The fire on the circumference was all extinguished, but on the inside the blaze was very fierce.

Chief Farber ordered the stream taken off, and he waited until the pile was again a mass of flames. The second time he gave orders to his men to get to work and quench the fire in real earnest. One with a long pipe ran in and scattered the boxes and the chemicals were turned on the second time. Before one could have time to think, the sight before him was transformed from a seething mass of flames to a litter of blackened and smoking dry goods boxes.

It was a most satisfactory experiment and was witnessed by a large crowd of people. The superiority of the chemical engine over the use of the hose was noticed not only on account of the greater alacrity with which the chemicals acted in extinguishing the fire, but also the fact that it does not damage anything it touches nor causes a flood.

The chemicals evaporate as soon as they strike the fire and the place is as dry afterward as before a drop was turned on. At yesterday's test it required nearly 100 gallons to extinguish the fire. But the tanks, when emptied, can be recharged without any delay whatever.

Among those who witnessed the display yesterday were: Select Councilmen Wade M. Finn, Fred J. Durr, C. W. Westfall, H. E. Fellows, Alex. T. Connell; Common Councilmen Morris V. Moore, Patrick J. Hickey, Simon Thomas, Edward E. Robinson, Edmund F. Wenzel, Robert Robinson, Charles H. Schadt and Daniel P. Battie; City Controller Fred J. Widmayer, Prothonotary C. E. Pryor, Deputy Sheriff George C. Griswold, County Commissioner John Demuth and Sanitary Officer W. J. Burke.
