Cage Guides in the Shaft Give Way When an Inspecting Party Is About Fifty Feet from the Shaft's Bottom, and Superintendent Mason and Inside Foreman Wilson Are Fatally Injured in the Fall-Robert S. Mercur and Joseph Burrell Hurt.

Pittston, July 26 MOST frightful accident occurred at West Pittston this morning that has cast a gloom over this whole community, the taking away of two prominent citizens in a horrible Duck Suits, large assortment, manner A number of officials connected with the Lenigh Coal company who have been on a tour of inspection, arrived at the Exeter mines at 10 o'clock a. m., which is one the company's collieries located on the outskirts of West Pittston. The party comprised Colonel Addison G. Mason. ivision superintendent of the Lehige Valley Coal company; William Wil-son, inside foreman at the colliers, both of West Pittston; Robert S Mercur, assistant division engineer, of Wilkes-Barre; Joseph Burrell, au in university, and Jacob Gates, a miner, acting as guide. After having inspected the workings they started for the surface and got upon the mine cage. The engineer was signalled to hoist, and when they were Stainless Black Hose, 25c.; about fifty or more feet from the bottom the cage guides in the shaft gave way and the bottom fell out, which precipitated them all to the samp be-Gates, who is an old miner, felt Point de Gene Laces, 19c. and the timber snapping and before it gave way he grasped the side of the bunting and held on until he was rescued from his perilous position. Colonel Mason was instantly killed by the shock. The deceased was 55 years of age and one of the best known mine officials in this

He was removed to the hospital, where he is suffering from a broken ankle, a scalp wound and serious contusions about the body. He was unconscious until late this afternoon. It is thought that he will recover.

Joseph Barrell was also sent to the hospital. He received contusions about the body and is badiy cut on the face and neck. He was able to walk from the shaft to the ambulance, but soon became weak. He will recover in a few

HOW THE NEWS TRAVELED

Another account of the accident says: Not until the roof of the cage, with Workman Gates astride of it, more dead than alive from fright, reached about fifty feet from the top did the news of the terrible calamity become known. A bucket was instantly proseveral of the workings it was lowered into the mine.

Superintendent Thomas, of the Exter shaft, close by, which is also owned by the same company, and other officials hastily procured a bucket such as is used for sinking purposes and a party of rescuers were lowered to the bottom, 270 feet. The rescuers on reaching the bottom found a sad spectacle to gaze upon. Messrs, Mercer and Burrell had to all appearances es-caped uninjured. They had removed Superintendent Mason and Wilson into the mine opening at the foot of the shatt. An examination made disclosed the fact that both men were fatally injured and preparations to remove them were at once begun, Just twenty-two minutes after the eccident; the injured men were upon the surface. Colonel Mason's condition showed his end was near and he was borne on a stretcher to his home on the hill, but a few hundred yards distant. The cutry of his mangled and bleeding body brought as it was into his pleas-ant home which he had taken leave of but a few hours before was a sad sp-ctacle to behold. But a few minutes elapsed, barely time for him to bid his loved ones good by, ere his spirit took its flight. Foreman Wilson was taken to his home on the East Side. His injuries, while not apparent, were serious, as an examination revealed that he had been injured internally. The physicians administered opiates to relieve his pain. He lingered until 2 30 p. m.,

Mesars. Mercur and Burrell were removed to the hospital. Their condition was found to be nothing serious. They will be able to be about in a few days.
