NORTH END BRIEFS.

[The North End office of the SCRANTON TRIBUNE is located at the Lewis Drug Stors and Jenu's Store, Wayne avenue, where subscriptions, advertisements and communication will receive prompt attention.]

Great commotion was caused yesterday by the case of A. De Pugh against Thomas Lewis and Robert Edwards for taking his buggy without permission. Several inter sated parties were lounging about Alderman Horan + office during the afternoon and when the case was called at 6.30 the alderman mentioned that the defendants had been in and out several times, but as they were not present at the time the case was called he must proceed in their ab-sence. De Pugh swore that he had not given permission, neither was he aware of the intention of the defendants to take his wagon and he claimed that he had suf-fered a loss of $5. The alderman then gave judgment for $5 and costs and a warrant to be issued for their arrest. The defense to be made was that permission was granted so that probably more will be learned of the case, as the young men are respectably connected.

Scranton's Business Interests.

Ecranton's Business Interests.

The Tribone will soon publish a care fully compiled and classified list of the leading wholesale, banking, manufacturing and professional interests of Scranton and vicinity. The edition will be bound in book form, beautifully illustrated with photogravure views of our public buildings, business blocks, streets, etc., together with portraits of leading citizens. No similar work has ever given an equal representation of Scranton's many industries. It will be an invaluable exposition of our business resources. Sent to persons outside the city, copies of this handsome work will attract new comers and be an unequalled advertisement of the city. The circulation is on a plan that cannot fail of good results to those concerned as well as the city at large. Representatives of The Tribune will call upon Those whose NAMES are DESINED in this edition and explain its nature more fully. its nature more fully.

WASH WOMAN'S LUCK

POVERTY TO

After a Silence of Twelve Years She Hears from Her Native Home and the News Is Almost Too Good to Be Believed by Her-Her Benefactor Was a Leading Scottish Divine of

Mrs. Ann Hosie, a widow washwoman, of 326 Gibson street, is to day the happiest woman in this city, if a sudden change from poverty to riches can make her happy. Yesterday she received word that she had fallen heir to the estate of her uncle, Rev Peter Stratton, a Presbyterian clergyman of Dunder, Scotland, and from her story it appears that the estate is a very rich one, comprising besides a very respectable bank account a large amount of eal estate. Chief of Police Simpson also received letter asking his assistance in estabishing Mrs. Hoste's identity. Robert Simpson, clerk of the police department, visited Mrs. Hosie, and after making a number of inquiries concerning her maiden name, place of her birth and the names of her relatives, as directed in the letter, he became satisfied that she was the Mrs. Hosie referred to. The inquiries came from Peter McGregor, 20 North Ellen street, Dundee, Scotland, and it is supposed that he is the executor of the estate. The chief will today inform the Scotland party of the result of his investi-

MRS. HOSIE'S STORY. A TRIBUNE reporter called on Mrs. ilosie yesterday and found her living in a small, poorly furnished house in the rear of Gibson street. She received the reporter very cordially and talked freely of her good fortune. She was the daughter of a well-to-do Scottish tradesman, who was a brother of the recently deceased clergyman, Rev.

In her girlhood Mrs. Hosie acted in the capacity of housekeeper for her uncle, and of all her brothers and sisters she was the favorite with him. He was quite wealthy then, owning valuable property in the business portion of ing strenuous efforts to combine Dundee. How much he may have the active young Republicans of this amass-d since then can only be guessed at, as Mrs. Hosie has heard but little concerning the will except that she has been made her uncle's heiress.

Mrs. Hosie came to this country twenty-four years ago and four years later became a widow. She was compelled to support a family of seven children by doing washing and going out to work by the day from that time on to the present. It is not likely that she will do even her own washing ut Little Business Feing Transacted at This is the dullest se son of the year in the court house and but little busi-ness is transacted there daily. Judge Archbald is in New England enjoying a much needed rest, and Judge Gun-ster spends much of his time at his cottage at Lake Ariel, Judge Elwards is at the court house every day and transacts the routine business that comes before judges in chambers when court is not in session. On Aug. 13 court will meet for one day when opinions will be handed down and motions beard. After that the judges will not appear on the bench again until September.

IN BUILDING CIRCLES.

A big force of men was rushing desperately yesterday at the new Delaware and Hudson station putting on the finishing ouches to have the building ready for the formal opening on Monday morning. The first floor will be furnished, but it will take a week or more to complete the about a week upper stories, which are to be used for office purposes.

W. H. Whyte's family hotel at Wyoming avenue and Vine street is under roof, and work on the interior is now in progress. The structure presents an imposing architectural appearance. It will be completed before winter sets in,

Three new stores have been constructed in front of the old Breck homestead on Washington avenue. They are now being completed.

The addition to the Garney & Brown building at Adams avonue and Linden street, makes it one of the most attractive in the city. Several stores are being constructed on Adams avenue opposite the court house.

MORE CONFEDERATE MONEY.

A Fast Young Man Tries to Pass War

Money on Mrs. Johnson David Jones, the "sprinter," hailing from the North End, was arrested last evening by Officer Sartor on Jackson street. Early in the evening Jones entered the store of Mrs. Johnson on Jackson street where he produced a $10 Confederate bill. He procured from airs. Johnson $1,25, giving her the bill which she sent out to get changed. The bearer of the note soon returned stating that the money could not be changed as it was a confederate Mrs. Johnson then demanded her $1 25 from Jones, who refused to give it back. Jones took the bill and placed it in his hat. Officer Sartor was summoned and he was taken to the station house. He there concluded to return the money and was released from custody.

Mrs. William Lush Will Speak on Prompt Obedience-Slight Fire on South Washington Avenue Last Night Caused by a Lamp Being Placed Too Close to a Window

It has come at last, but 'twas weary the waiting. The contract of building a retaining wall at the Pittaton avenue culvert is let and contractors Corcoran & Donahoe will begin operations in graphs.

This is welcome news, but there is a sting to it. The taxpayers are reminded that all the expenses incurred in building the culvert was at various times in danger of becoming a double loss, through the insufficiency of the first work done. This was no fault of the contractors who built the culvert. They did what their contract called for. But the floods have since played havoc with the embankment, and that would not have been the case if a sufficient appropriation were first passed to finish the work fully. But it's all right now. The retaining wall will be built and before the rains of autumn have any chance to wash away any more of the already not too plentiful embankment.

TRADE OUTLOOK DUBIOUS.

NOTES OF SOUTH SIDE tainty in Business Circles. New York, July 27 -The heavy Work of Building Embankment at Pittston outgo of gold, the fall in the treasury reserves and of the price of wheat to the lowest point on record, and the increasing uncertainty about the tafiff have, says Dun, entirely overshadowed other influences. Business delayed for months by two great strikes now crowds railroads and swells returns and gives the impression of revival in business. But it is not yet clear how far there is an increase in new traffi ;

distinguished from that which has been merely blockaded or def-rred. While scarcity of coke delays resumption of work in many central and Shade-Interesting Notes and Parawestern iron mills, the light inquiry for finished products at Chicago and the disappointing demand for most iron and steel products at Pittsburg, raises doubt whether material increase can be expected until the tariff question is out of the way. The demand for sheets is better at Chicago, and there are nu merous small orders for structural work at Pittsburg, with rather better demand for bars, but nothing like the expected rush. Failures for the three weeks of July compare well, of course, with the panic period last year, commercial liabilities being $6.317,096, of which $3.558,938 were of manufacturing and $2,483,011 of trading concerns. Commercial loans are expanding, but little and great cantion still maintains soundness. For the week the failures have been 249 in the United States, against 386 last year and thirty-nine in Canada against twenty-three last year.
