POINTS.

For Elderly People at the Seaside Who Have Time to Spare.

If you are an elderly lady and expect to pass the summer at a fashionable resort, you are naturally looking forward to a period of extreme boredom.

By a little care on your part this unpleasantness may be easily avoided.

Rev. L. C. Floyd, D. D., left last Monday for Ocean Grove, and yesterday he and his family returned to the Simpson Methodist Episcopal parsonage.

The Holy Trinity Lutheran church will run an excursion to Lake Ariel August 1. All the various societies of the church will join and a pleasant day is anticipated.

Rev. R. R. Hanzburg will deliver his lecture on the "Pastor's Play" at the Wyoming assembly, August 8. He will illustrate the same by dramatic recitations.

Next Tuesday, July 31, an entertainment and social will be given by the young people of the Westminster church. No one needs fear the heat, for it is a fan social.

The Ladies Aid society of the Providence Methodist Episcopal church will run an excursion to Lake Ariel on Sept. 4. The executive committee is Mrs. William Moore, Mrs. Eugene Stanton, Mrs. Finley Ross and Mrs. D. M. Kintner.

The St. Luke committee on free excursions will start on their July 21, but started about 1,200 tickets. This is one of the most popular excursions among the worthy devotees, and every one that reads the paper appreciates the kindness of these men.

Rev. T. B. Roth, D. D., president of Third college, Greensville, Pa., is soon expected to visit Rev. E. L. Miller and will deliver his famous lecture on "Plymouth Rock" at the home of the pastor at the Lutheran Lodge. The president delivered this lecture at Harrisburg in the late convention, which has been unanimously spoken of as the best thing in the convention.

The Christian Endeavor societies of Lackawanna and Susquehanna counties will enjoy an excursion to Farview on Aug. 6. This is a day of instruction and interest. A good programme will be prepared and prominent men in the Endeavor movement will give addresses. Rev. D. D. Johnston will preside, and in the evening a play will be given.

The Synops choir, which was introduced in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Green Ridge, on the day which the church was consecrated last spring, is steadily improving and is giving great satisfaction to the worshippers.

The conference convention of Epworth league workers will be held in the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church next November. This will be one of the largest conventions ever held in the city, and it is expected that 1,000 delegates will be present. Rev. M. D. Fuller is one of the executive committee.

Rev. James Steward Dickson preached in the city in the First Presbyterian church last Sunday and was highly appreciated by large audiences. Mr. Dickson is one of the leading clergy of Philadelphia, and his presence at the church there, which he will occupy the pulpit in the First church tomorrow again, when another opportunity is given to those who wish to hear this eloquent divine.

An Endeavor rally will be held in the St. David's church tomorrow evening, when reports from the Cleveland convention will be heard from Charles E. Candler, Miss Cora M. Ducker and W. B. Lethworth, who attended the convention. A very enthusiastic meeting was held last Sunday evening at the Providence Presbyterian church, and the West Side is resolved to have a meeting equally enthusiastic.

The German Evangelical church of Priebring will be dedicated tomorrow. The lot was donated by the society, and the building has cost over $1,000. It has a seating capacity of 150. The pastor is Rev. Wilhelm Mies, who was for many years at Petersburg, and then left for Texas, from which place he came a few months ago. The services will be conducted by Rev. Edward Lang and Rev. F. Pope, of this city, assisted by Rev. Handolph, of Archbold, and Rev. Heck, of Taylor.

Rev. Ross Lloyd, M. A. and B. D., preached ably in the Plymouth church last Sunday. He will remain in the city until the 31st, when he will leave for Philadelphia, where he will probably lecture twice, giving talks on "How to Study the Prophecies" and "The Relation Between the Books of the New Testament." He will then leave for Mechanicsville, Md., where he will deliver a course of lectures. From there he goes to Dubuque, Ia., where he will lecture for six successive evenings. A lot of those engaged will return by the last of August to Oakland, Cal., and begin work again as professor of New Testament Greek.

Rev. A. W. Cooper and Rev. D. W. Skellingwell will exchange pupils next Sunday morning. Mr. Cooper will preach to the union congregations of the Washburn Street Presbyterians and Jackson Street Baptists, while Mr. Skellingwell will preach to the First Presbyterian church.

Rev. George Guild, of the Providence Presbyterian church, will leave next Tuesday for his vacation. The following will be with preaching at Northampton, N. Y., where Smith college is located. He will then spend the remainder of his vacation at Walton, Delaware county, N. Y., where his parents reside.

A CONSPIRACY.

"I wouldn't marry the best man that ever lived!" And so she meant it, or what answers the same purpose, she thought she meant it. After all, how very few of us really know what we mean?

"I engaged myself once, when a girl, and the simplest thought he owned me. I soon thought the conceit out of him and sent him away about his business." The voice was now a little sharp.

"What are you going to do when you are married?" persisted the mistress of the establishment.

"But what other folks do, I suppose." "What you can't work forever."

"I don't want any man. I tell you, Mrs. Carlisle, I wouldn't marry the best man living if he was as rich as Croesus and would die if I didn't have him now."

"I have been a very lonely man, Miss Kent," Cousin Mark resumed, "but never realized how lonely the rest of my life must be until I came to this house."

"If you will go to California with me, Miss Kent, I'll wait another week."

"Why, Miss Kent, what do you mean? What would folks say?" she asked.

"My dear," she answered, "my whole reliance was upon human nature, and let me tell you, dear cousin, whatever else may fail, that never does!"

"This is my cousin, Mr. Lansing, Miss Kent."

"Who is that lady, Jennie?" Cousin Mark inquired in the evening.

"Who is that lady, Jennie?" Cousin Mark inquired in the evening.

"Who is that lady, Jennie?" Cousin Mark inquired in the evening.

"Certainly, if Miss Kent would like it," replied the gentleman, "I should be glad to have her."

"The infant Carlisle, thanks to good management, was never awake in the evening, so the victims of this matrimonial speculation would have plenty of time."

"I am glad you are satisfied," was the laconic reply.
