WEST SIDE NEWS NOTES.

The members of the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church ran a most successful excursion to Fairview yesterday.

Clam chowder and lunch at Congrove's hotel, corner Main and Price streets, this evening. Coolest and best beer in the city.

Don't forget that the lunch, lager, ales, etc., are the finest at Fred Warner's.

The streets and bridges committee of the West Side board of trade held a session last evening.

Remember since we have gone in the cash business, no one has sold cheaper than we have, while we have sold cheaper than many of the so-called cheap and largest places in the city. The goods we sell must be strictly first class, full weight and measure, or money refunded. J. W. Rittenhouse, 309 North Main avenue.

Mrs. Frank Sied, of South Sumner avenue, will leave today for a few weeks' stay at the Onalide cottage, at Lake Ariel.

Hop tonic Pale Ale at Mason's.

Hurray for the best! Gilgallon, Spruce street, sells only the purest. Wholesale.

Thomas Thomas, of South Main avenue, is suffering from a sprained ankle.

Mrs. James Dunning, of Carbondale, visited friends on this side yesterday.

Pittston tomatoes at Mason's.

Rutherford Hadley, of Hampton street, is spending the week at Lake Ariel.

We are clearing out the whole of our stock of fine etchings. Chicago Art Co., 127 Penn avenue.

The Misses Annie and Laura Cassidy, of Stroudsburg, are visiting friends on this side.

Thomas J. Williams, of Honesdale, visited friends on this side yesterday.

Boneless smoked bacon at Mason's.

P. J. O'Donnell is at the Exchange Hotel, Dunmore corner, and will welcome a call from old neighbors at Lake Ariel.

Owen Gallagher, of Scranton street, died at Moses Taylor hospital last night.

Shoe repairing promptly attended to at the Globe Shoe store.

At the Hab, a special lunch is served each Saturday evening.

The Ladies' Aid society, of the Plymouth Congregational church, held a very pleasant social last evening on the lawn of William T. Davies, of Washburn street. The yard was decorated with Japanese lanterns, the soft mellow light of which shed beautiful rays over the splendid scene. The affair was very successful. The members of the society are: President, Mrs. John James; vice president, Mrs. John S. Evans; secretary, Mrs. L. O. Evans; treasurer, Mrs. David K. Williams. Huckleberries at Mason's.

Thomas Neary, aged 27 years, was seriously injured in the Hampton mines at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. Neary is employed as a miner, and in company with his laborer had just fired off a blast for the purpose of loosening coal for loading. He thus made the customary examination of the roof, pronouncing it safe. It was but a few moments afterward that a large portion of coal fell striking his leg with such force as to fracture the large bone. He was also badly bruised about the head and shoulders. The mine ambulance conveyed the unfortunate man to the Moses Taylor hospital, where the injury was dressed. Neary is unmarried and boards on Seventeenth street.

Sing shot for cabbage worms at Mason's.

SPECIAL CANNOT ACT

Probability That Moody Campaign May Have to Be Abandoned.

PRESENT STATUS OF MATTER

It Was Found That the Original Estimate of Twenty-four Hundred Dollars Would Not Be Sufficient to Carry on the Work—Meeting of Committee Held in Young Men's Christian Association Last Night.

A queer state of affairs exists between the Pastor's union and a special duty-preacher committee appointed to procure funds to assist in the support of the great Moody tent campaign which is announced to be held on the outskirts of Scranton in September. It appears that the coming of the tent is jeopardized, but the members of the committee refuse to discuss the situation in detail, and in consequence a complete recital of the trouble cannot be given.

After Mr. Moody's representatives had been assured by the Pastor's union and preachers individually that the tent campaign would receive moral and financial support from this city, the following committee of citizens and ministers was appointed primarily to procure the necessary funds, and if for any other purpose, such purpose has not been stated: J. A. Lansing, president; G. F. Whittemore, secretary; Rev. Warren G. Partridge, Rev. N. F. Stahl, Louis Mattes, W. W. Latrope, L. M. Horton, J. L. Bangs and Giles Clark.

MR. SWAN'S ESTIMATE. Mr. Swan, of Pittston, as an executive planning the advance arrangements for the campaign, notified the Union that the sum of $2,000 would be required toward defraying expenses, and the Union, after adding $400 to this amount to cover emergencies, set the sum of $2,400 as the mark for the labor of the special committee. Arrangements were made to secure the sum principally through church contributions, but after the Second Presbyterian church had secured pledges to the amount of several hundred dollars there was a general exodus of pastors from the city and no further funds were secured.

At a recent meeting of the Pastors' union reported that there had been a misrepresentation of the amount required from the city and that in view of the absence of many pastors the committee was more than ever powerless to secure the money. This report was received by the union without discharging or continuing the committee or suggesting a way out of the matter. Since then the committee's workings have been in statu quo until last evening, when, pursuant to the chairman's call, a meeting for the purpose of disbanding was to have been held at the Young Men's Christian association building.

HAD BEEN A MISUNDERSTANDING. A half hour after the announced time for the meeting a committee of the union reported that three members present, who while not disposed to discuss the matter at length, gave the reporter the intimation that there had been a gross misunderstanding which had been left to the union to unravel. Further than this no information could be elicited beyond a statement from one of the gentlemen that they, themselves, did not know "where they were at," now that the duty they were appointed to perform is in the jurisdiction of the union.

It has been learned that since the fact of misrepresentation was referred to the union, no action has been taken by it in the matter. Rava Pearce, McLeod, Robinson, Partridge, Stahl, Ford, Floyd, Guild and several others who have been instrumental in furthering the Moody project are out of the city and nearly all of them will be absent until nearly the time for the advent of the mammoth tent. If something is not done by the union to substantiate its promises to support the campaign in part there may be a unique controversy between it and the Moody corps. The result may be a complete cut of the campaign in favor of a point farther up the valley, else the union will have to do some very lively calculating when its members return from their vacations.

When the proposition was made to locate the tent in Scranton during the progress of the campaign up the valley, the ministers were warm in their interest in the matter. The resignation of the work to a special committee which cannot now act, may prevent the realization of this important work.

NORTH END.

George Noone Dates All of His Troubles From His Marriage.

Some months ago George Noone united himself to Mrs. Munley, of Providence, who recently demonstrated the depth of her conjugal affection by scolding her George when but in their honeymoon, causing a sudden separation and not two hours to not beat as one. Noone went to the police station two days ago and asked to be accommodated until he could obtain admission either to the hospital or poor farm. He presents a lamentable sight as the result of his scolding and evident that he is in self defense. He had to receive proper medical treatment, although Dr. Dauns has kindly attended to him and alleviated the intense pain in his eyes.

In reply to a TRIBUNE reporter's questions, Mr. Noone made the following statement: "I was married to Mrs. Munley by an alderman whom I was drunk and not in my right mind. I had been working at the Cuyaga, but three weeks ago last Tuesday I had no money coming to me on pay day and when I went home and my wife found this out she got in a fury and I had to strike her in self defense. She emptied a kettleful of boiling water into my pitcher and wheeling around turned it into my eyes and over my head."

Noone further stated that his wife kept a "hole-in-the-wall" and did a splendid business, especially on Sundays. Dr. Donne and Dr. Ganster yesterday examined George Noone at the Providence police station. Dr. Donne stated that Noone is suffering from dependency caused by the his misery consequent upon his marriage and subsequent treatment. They recommended that Noone be sent to the Poor farm for a month, otherwise they fear he will become insane.

SUNDAY OBSERVANCE MOVEMENT.

Important Meeting Regarding It to Be Held in Congregational Church. An important meeting in connection with the Sunday observance movement will be held in the Welsh Congregational church on Sunday morning, Aug. 12. The Puritan Congregational, Welsh

Congregational, Welsh Baptist and Calvinistic Methodist churches have organized a movement embracing the Welsh element of Providence to promote Sunday observance in the city. Sunday observance and licensed drinking resorts. Already excellent work has been quietly accomplished and there is no doubt that the influence of the movement will soon be felt in this section. If the Cuyaga fire be aroused the Sunday observance will soon be felt.

No legal remedies will be resorted to but efforts will be made with the more powerful weapon of moral suasion added to pressure being brought upon those public officials who, it is alleged, are not so prompt in carrying out certain duties as they should be.

NORTH END BRIEFS.

The employees of the Dickson and Von Storch collieries received their pay yesterday.

A splendid programme has been arranged for the Dutch Gap theater, a social to be held at the Congregational church, West Market street, on Monday next. Ice cream, lemonade, and other refreshments are provided for in abundance. Tickets, 10 cents. The object is a most praiseworthy one and deserving of support.

Elegant framed pictures are being sold for half price of frame. Chicago Art Co., 127 Penn avenue.

A game of alley ball under the Shirley rules has been arranged to be played on Monday next at the O'Malley court for the sum of $10 a side. The match will take place between 6 and 7 p. m., the contestants being White and Kennedy, V. Patch and Rodder, scorekeeper, Martin Burns. Referee will be chosen on the grounds.

We have only a short time to clear all our stock of pictures. Chicago Art Co., 127 Penn avenue.

Rev. Floyd Fether addressed the members of the Methodist Episcopal church at the Epworth league last evening upon the work of the league in Florida. Several songs and recitations enlivened the meeting, which was of a pleasant character throughout.

Miss Miller and Frank Chamberlain won't go courting again. Yesterday morning they were escorted on the patrol wagon and the lady fined $10 and the gentleman $5.

The Sunday school of the North Main Avenue Baptist church ran their annual excursion to Fairview on Thursday.

Special Officer Boyd was unable to appear against Jim Jackson yesterday morning, owing to the wounds Jim's razor had caused.

The Citizens band paraded the streets last evening advertising its picnic at Froar's grove on Tuesday.

The Rev. D. M. Kinter last night conducted another open air meeting on the square and referred to the report in The TRIBUNE upon the arrests last month and declared that it was most degrading to the fair name of this section of the city that frankness should be on the increase.

When in the city, call at the Hot and refresh the inner man. A nice lunch always ready.

SOUTH SIDE.

Plans of the Proposed Bridge Over Roaring Brook.

According to the plans and specifications attached to the Roaring Brook bridge ordinance, which passed third and final reading in the select council Thursday night, the structure will be twenty-one feet in the clear above the truss type, consisting of seven spans of from 88 ft. 6 in. to 210 feet in length. All the spans are overhead except that above the channel of the stream, which is supported by truss work beneath.

The estimated cost will be $100,000, of which $17,500 is for the main bridge superstructure. The total length of the bridge will be 901 feet, with a 38-foot roadway and two 9-foot sidewalks, exceeding in both instances the width of the Linden street bridge's roadway and sidewalks. The structure will be twenty-one feet in the clear above the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western tracks, seventeen feet above the Steel company's trestle, fifty-three feet over the reservoir north of the works. Two towers will be located on the south side of Roaring brook and four on the north side.

It will bear a strain of sixteen and one-half tons on a seven and one-half foot base, and is so constructed that an asphalt pave with the concrete base can be laid, though the estimate provides for plank. The estimated cost includes all metal and woodwork, elevation, painting and a complete construction according to Cooper's specifications for proportion and workmanship.

SOUTH SIDE JOTTINGS.

Andrew Best is visiting in Boston.

Peter Murray, of Butte, Mont., is the guest of Patrick Corcoran, of Meadow Brook hotel.

Undertaker Jordan will spend a short season at the seashore.

Families who use wines and liquors for medicinal purposes, should call on Gilgallon, Spruce street. Nothing but the best goods handled.

Martin Gannon, a melter at the lower mill, was painfully cut about the head by a falling piece of pig iron Thursday morning.

Division No. 14 Ancient Order of Hibernians, has been organized on this side and held its first meeting Thursday night.

Misses Maggie Gallagher and May Dugan, of New York, are visiting at the home of Patrick McNamara, of Cherry street.

The Exchange Hotel is headquarters for the purest whiskies, coal lager and ale. Soup (free) each day and evening.

Mark McGowan, of River street, is entertaining his niece, Miss Sadie McGowan, of New York, and his brother, Michael McGowan, of Cincinnati.

The people of the Twelfth ward can congratulate themselves upon having so excellent a representative in the upper branch of council. Mr. Manley is a tireless worker in the city's cause and one of the brightest of our city fathers.

Scranton's Business Interests.

The TRIBUNE will soon publish a care fully compiled and classified list of the leading wholesale, banking, manufacturing and professional interests of Scranton and vicinity. The edition will be bound in book form, beautifully illustrated with photographic views of our public buildings, business blocks, streets, etc., together with portraits of leading citizens. No similar work has ever given an equal representation of Scranton's many industries. It will be an invaluable exposition of our business resources. Sent to persons outside the city, copies of the handsome work will be sent in new covers and be an unequalled advertisement of the city. The circulation is on a plan that cannot fail of good results to those concerned as well as the city at large. Representatives of The TRIBUNE will call upon those whose names are desired in this edition and explain its nature more fully.

Those desiring views of their residences in this edition will please have notice at the office.

TEACHER TALKS BACK

One of the Principals Who Was Scored Rises to Explain.

PEDAGOGUES ARE POORLY PAID

For That Reason It is Necessary for Them to Seek Outside Employment to Make Both Ends Meet—The Board Could Have All Their Time If It Was Willing to Pay for It. About the Principal's Petition.

The article in Monday's TRIBUNE referring to teachers' salaries and predicting a general wending out of those teachers who are engaged in business outside of their school work, has elicited considerable comment among the members of the pedagogical profession. The principals, in particular, do not take kindly to the somewhat caustic criticism of the members of the board who is responsible for the sentiment expressed in the article. To a TRIBUNE reporter yesterday one of the principals expressed his dissatisfaction with the views of the controller. In justice to the teachers' side of the question his views are now published.

"While it is true," he said, "that the controller is right in contending that teachers should not devote any considerable part of their time to outside work, it seems strange that this point had no force before the board of trustees. His views are now published. 'While it is true,' he said, 'that the controller is right in contending that teachers should not devote any considerable part of their time to outside work, it seems strange that this point had no force before the board of trustees. His views are now published. It does not take any great power of analysis to ascertain the reason why teachers resort to means outside of their professional work to add to their meager incomes, or why the Scranton schools are losing year by year some of their best and most experienced men. It is not because they are lacking in professional zeal. Nor is it because they dislike pedagogical work. It is because they are not paid adequately for their services.

SALARIES ARE LOWER.

"As was shown by the petition presented to the board and the statistics collected by the committee on teachers and published at that time in the newspapers of the city, salaries here are far below what they are in some fifty or sixty cities of the United States. Some of these cities are larger and some smaller than Scranton, but the Electric City is far below the average. This was made evident to the board and yet I dare say the member who is so blipant and airy in his criticism of the teachers was one of those whose votes is registered against the just demand of the teachers. The board had it then in its power to take one effective step toward remedying the evils complained of.

"The controller is decidedly superficial when he tries to excuse the action of the board in refusing the request for an increase in salaries by saying that teachers do not devote their entire time to their school work. 'Here is a radical mistake—a reversal of cause and effect. As the matter now stands, the principals can say truthfully: We cannot earn enough money at our school work to give us a decent livelihood, hence we are obliged to go outside to add to the slender stipend we receive as salary. We have petitioned the board to give us an increase, but they have flatly refused us without setting forth even the slightest reason therefor. On the other hand, the board stands on its dignity and says we will not advance salaries until the teachers devote all their time to their professional work.

COMPARED TO PULLMAN.

"This is the language of the autocratic Pullman who refuses to listen to his impoverished workmen, and superciliously states there is nothing to arbitrate. But the Pullmans of the board would like to have the public regard their course as the proper one. Hence the explanations offered to the newspapers. How long is this deadlock to continue? It is evident that the justice of the request of the teachers' demands is now generally admitted by the intelligent people of the city, but for some unaccountable reason the board seems impervious to this just sentiment.

Meanwhile it comes with poor grace for a member of the board, who has, I take it, placed himself on record against the only practical movement that has been made to correct the evil of which he complains, to advance such views as are given in the article in Monday's TRIBUNE."

A WONDERFUL CRIMINAL.

Career of Horace D. Baker in This and Other Localities.

Police authorities in many states have already begun to clamor for Horace D. Baker, the forger who was captured in Vineland, N. J. His operations have kept him in the swim for several years. It is known that for that his nimble pen has netted him fully $60,000. He is an ingenious, cool, calculating and industrious operator, banking upon the credulity of others. He set himself up as a religious enthusiast, working himself into the good graces of the members of churches and societies by earnest prayers and exhortations, and then using these very people to further his swindling schemes.

The record of his operations, faithfully kept by Pinkerton's National Detective agency, reads like a romance of the modern school. His long freedom from capture is a tribute to his genius.

Baker's real name is Robert E. Harvey, although his operations have been conducted under the names of Henry M. Thomas, Reade Halford, Herbert E. Roberts, Ralph C. Hunter, A. G. Huckleby, Sherman Mitchell, Henry W. Hunt, James H. Stevens, A. G. Buckley, C. E. Hiscock, Henry B. Scott, Frank P. Woods, George P. Sage, Frank Moulton, Walter B. Snow, G. W. Nelson, W. H. Dunner, Victor Fennick, W. H. Miles and Horace D. Baker. He has two brothers in business in New York city. He is the only member of his family who is following a criminal's life.

Harvey victimized people at Pittston and other places in this region.

BRIEF RAILROAD NOTES.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western machine shop employees will be paid today.

The Butler's engine, 245, will be out of the shops today and will probably take her run on trains seven and eight next week.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western is very sick at present owing to the coal output being curtailed during the month of August.

Freeman W. Galle has just taken a fifteen day vacation for some cause not known.

Engineer Lyman Chase, of Factoryville, was at Great Bend one day this week and now tells some good fish stories. Wonder where "Toots" and Roberts were?

It is known that the Mutual Aid excursion to Pleasant Beach on July 14 cleared over $500. This is the most progressive and enterprising railroad association known. It is a Scranton institution and its managers deserve great credit for its success.

A large excursion of nine cars was run from Scranton to Harvey's lake via the Delaware and Hudson and Lehigh Valley Thursday.

Merritt Hudson is now running engine 335 on the Lehigh Valley gravel train.

Charles E. Rick, a new man who fired on Valley engine 325, is at present running a passenger engine on the Wabash.
