Elmhurst.

Mrs. Isaac Depew, who has been in feeble health for a long time, passed peacefully away last Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Depew was born in Newton, N. J., in 1813, and was therefore 78 years of age. At the age of 6 years her parents moved to Providence, Pa., where they resided for some time. In 1833 she was united in marriage to Isaac Depew, and when this place was all a forest they settled on a farm about half way between Moscow and Elmhurst where they lived a prosperous life for sixty-two years, raising a large family. The funeral was held in the Moscow Methodist Episcopal church Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, Rev. S. C. Simpkins, the pastor, officiating. Six grandchildren acted as pall bearers. The stricken husband, who is in feeble health, and family have the sympathy of the community.

Messrs. Hackett and Bunnell, of Scranton, spent Sunday visiting C. E. Edwards.

The Elmhurst and Dalton Base Ball clubs played a four inning game at Lake Ariel last Tuesday. The Daltons secured but three hits off Bortree's delivery. It was not a very exciting contest as the score below shows:

Elmhurst	3 9 5 4—21
Dalton	0 1 1 2—4

Another game will be arranged in the near future.

Hotel Elmhurst is completely filled with boarders, they being unable to accommodate all that desire to come. It is probable that the hotel will be enlarged the coming spring.

The Elmhurst Base Ball club was permanently organized last Monday evening. A. B. Clay was chosen as manager and Dorrance Fuller will captain the club. Any challenges to the Elmhurst team should be sent to the manager.

Wednesday morning, while making a trip from the Lackawanna Coal company's tunnel, situated on the mountain side, the small locomotive in charge of Engineer J. L. Thomas became uncontrollable and dashed down the tracks at a terrific rate of speed. When near Johnson's store the engine left the track and toppled over a steep embankment, totally demolishing the engine and severely injuring Mr. Thomas. The accident will cause the tunnel to be idle for an indefinite period.

Editor W. J. Schubmehl, of the Gazette, returned after a ten days' vacation in York state.

The Young Men's Christian union will hold a lawn social on Harper's lawn in Blakely on Aug. 20.

All others having failed, council has at last decided to take a hand in investigating the origin of the late fire, dynamite explosions, etc., and as their first move have authorized Burgess Duggan to offer a sufficient reward to create an incentive that will result in the search and detection of the miscreants who started the late fire at the "Corners" and shattered Bryan Hanley's dwelling house with dynamite. The short and incomplete investigations that have been made after these outrages have resulted in nothing, and had council not taken a hand would have finally been forgotten, the guilty parties going free and blameless as has always been the case during all the disastrous and mysterious conflagrations that have visited this borough almost annually. The council's action will be a gratification to all who own property within the borough limits, where, because of the frequent occurrence of fire, they have to pay a large insurance rate, and lately have been much in fear that the companies would cancel all policies.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Pittston.

The coroner's jury in the case of the West Pittston shaft accident met in 'Squire James Gibbons' office Wednesday afternoon, and after a brief hearing rendered the following verdict: "In the second opening of the Exeter shaft, Lehigh Valley Coal company of borough of Exeter, on July 26, 1894 by reason of displacements of a guide, which, coming in contact with a carriage, the said carriage was pulled from the cross piece and fell to the bottom, causing the death of A. G. Mason and William Wilson; and the jury do further find that the second opening of the Exeter shaft was not in proper condition to hoist or lower men at the time the accident occurred. T. P. Ryder, Anel Reynon, A. Campbell, Thomas Smiles, John Bane, jurymen." Fireboss Jacob Gasse, who was astride the top of the carriage when the accident occured, was the most important witness. He stated that the carriage was let down the shaft and hoisted up for the purpose of testing it. The carriage made the trip without anything being displaced or out of order. The men then got on the carriage and in descending the shaft they discovered there was something wrong with the guides. When they were about to ascend the shaft Gasse was told to go on the top of the carriage to put in the shoe—that the others would get on the bottom. They must have failed in doing so. He thought the carriage was in the rest of condition.

The Luzerne Avenue Baptist church, West Pittston, was the scene of a pretty nuptial event yesterday morning, at 10 o'clock, it being the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Bevan and Lucius C. Blakeslee. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. B. D. Thomas, D. D., of Toronto, Canada, brother-in-law of the bride. He was assisted by the Rev. J. Henry Brittain, pastor of the church. Long before the hour set for the ceremony friends of the young couple began to gather at the church. The dark and ominous clouds that hovered overhead made the outlook for the happy event anything but a pleasant one. Happily however as the hour drew near the sun's soft rays cast their shadows about the scene making it a most delightful one. The church was tastefully decorated with palms and potted plants. The bride looked most charming, she was attired in a gown of gray faille, trimmed with rose chiffon and point duchess lace. In her hand she carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The bride entered the church leaning on the arm of her brother Philip R. Bevan, on the opposite side of her church the groom entered accompanied by his brother, Harry Blakeslee. After the knot had been tied the wedding party repaired to the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Jane Watkins, on York avenue, where a delightful lunch, which had been prepared, was heartily partaken of. The happy couple left on a brief trip to eastern cities. They will return to West Pittston before proceeding to New Mexico, where Mr. Blakeslee is interested in a gold mining company and where he and his bride will make their home. Mr. Blakeslee formerly resided in West Pittston, but has been in the west for fourteen years. Among the guests at the wedding were the following: From Scranton, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Huntington Lewis and Jennie Huntington, Miss Esther Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Watkins and family, Mr. and Mrs. William McClave, Mrs. William R. McClave, Mrs. Z. Price, Mrs. John Howarth, Mrs. William Hanley and Miss Hanley; Toronto, Rev. Dr. and Mrs. B. D. Thomas. Messrs. Wenzel and Llewellyn Thomas; White Haven, Mrs. Martha Blakeslee, mother of the groom, sister, Miss Blakeslee, and brother, Harry Blakeslee; Clark's Green, Miss Mary Bevan; Wyoming, W. J. Davis and family.

The remnant of the committee who left here some ten days ago to inspect the pave of various cities returned home yesterday. They brought with them a clipping of a complimentary (?) notice taken from the Washington Post, (D. C.) Mr. Mangan is quoted as a merchant prince with several stores to dote upon; Mr. Reap as the president of the Pittston Steel and Wrought Iron Range Company; Mr. Clifford as a prominent hotelkeeper; Mr. Donnelly as being one of the brilliant legal luminaries of the Luzerne county bar and Press Agent T. Miss Blanche Kennedy, accompanied by Miss Mildred Green, are spending a week at Carbondale, visiting Miss Louise Slocum.

The pulpit of the Baptist church will be occupied morning and evening by Rev. A. Bergen Bowe, the new pastor. Morning subject: "The Hand Beneath the Wing." Evening: "Lot's Wife."

The excursion to Lake Ariel was very largely attended. Seven cars were well filled. Between four and five hundred went from Dalton and Glenburn. Every one seemed to be having a good time, particularly the children and young people. The merry-go-round and swings were crowded with passengers and the steamboat was well patronized. It was a pleasurable occasion and great credit is due the superintendents of the Waverly and Dalton Baptist Sunday schools for the manner in which it was managed.
