Cailli's Indians Evidently Not Used to This Species of Buffalo.

BISONS PUT US TO UTTER ROUT

And the Club (?) from the "Town Near Scranton" is Demolished by the Coming Champions—Erie Loses to Syracuse and Binghamton to Springfield—Standing of the Clubs, Interesting Base Ball, Bicycle and General Sporting News.

Buffalo's victory yesterday permits the former club to move up into second place in the Eastern league championship race, closely followed by Erie, which club lost to Syracuse.

Wilkes-Barre is also on the verge of a merger which the outcome of today's contests may possibly wipe out and force her into sixth place, Syracuse pressing her sorely.

The percentages of the clubs, number of games won and lost by each, and their standing in the league race, is as follows:

A RATHER ONE-SIDED ARGUMENT.

The Scranton contingent unable to hit Ex-League Victory. BUFFALO, Aug. 13.—The Bisons had a roval time today, Blackburn, the Scranton twirler, being a large-sized bear, door, as always, but pitched by him encountered one of the Buffalo bats.

On the other hand, Vickery did just as he pleased with the batmen of the visiting team, and only allowed them to score in defiance to their wounded pride. The score:

NOTES FROM THE BALL FIELD.

The Scranton and Troy teams have lost eleven straight games. St. Louis' outfield is so rough that the players call it the "Bad Lands."

What are the Scranton directors trying to do, kill the game in their city?—Ex. The pitcher's position will not be removed next season, despite the kick. But many pitchers will.

Scranton has proved a valuable addition to the Eastern league—we don't think. Try again, Pa.—Ex.

The New Yorks are now only one game behind Hamilton's men, and are marking time with the Boston.

Pitcher Harper, of Philadelphia, is said to look and act like John Clarkson, and uses the same slow delivery.

Sam Stearns, who played first base for Buffalo the early part of the season, will play first base for Wilkes-Barre.

Shortstop Jennings accepted thirty-four furling chances without an error in his last three games at Eastern park.

The Boston players lose less time from injuries or sickness than any other team in the league. They are nearly all short, stockily-built men.

Captain Mason's colts are coming up from the rear most beautifully. The old gentleman will land in the first division almost to a certainty.

In these hot dog days the Philadelphia routers often think of "Harry" Wright and wish the old man had charge of their team. New York Herald.

Of the western teams Boston has found Pittsburg the hardest foe to beat. So has Baltimore, while New York has had least success against Cincinnati and St. Louis teams.

The pitchers of the St. Louis team are not noted for base stealing. Brittenstein and Hawley have only one each to their credit, while Arthur Clarkson has yet to steal his first base.

The Pittsburg club signed Manafie, the Louisville pitcher, having exchanged Colongher for him and giving a pretty sum to boot. Manafie will accompany the team on its eastern trip.

Should the New Yorkers win the championship they are promised by Dicky Bell, De Wolf Hopper and Marshall F. Tinker the biggest benefit in the fall ever tendered to a championship base ball team.

The Bostoners are not so "cock sure" of winning the championship this year as they were last season at this time. Two teams are giving them such a run that they know there is a penalty race.

Scranton is having some of the experience Springfield had a little while ago in waiting for players who had promised to come but didn't. If she comes out of it as strong as Springfield has, it will pay to wait.

Syracuse has signed Catcher Smith of the New Bedford club to take the place of Archie Wilson, whose injuries received in a recent game were more serious than was anticipated and necessitated his going home for treatment.

There is no punishment now in vogue for the treatment of the scruffed heads of the Scranton team have given the patrons of that city. Even if they are not permanently blacklisted, no reputable manager will ever get himself at the mercy of such men.

When the hot stop and hot batsmen make seven errors between them, and the

NO UNCROWNED KINGS, THANKS.

Toronto and Not Allantowa for Eastern League.

It is probable that Toronto will be accepted by the Eastern league in place of Binghamton.

A meeting of the board of directors of the league at Wilkes-Barre Sunday, received applications from both Allantown and Toronto for the Binghamton vacancy. Neither proposition could be accepted as the meeting had received official notification that the Binghamton had disbanded. Yesterday morning, however, the word was received that the latter club was ready to throw up its franchise.

The Toronto club was represented at the meeting by Wative Barnhart, who wanted the directors to give him a few days grace to complete his negotiations for the transfer of the Binghamton franchise. This proposition was accepted, which indicates that the Eastern league wants none of uncrowned kings.

The games scheduled for Binghamton will be played by that club until Toronto is admitted.

NEW LEAGUE AFOOT.

A Movement Started to Form a Strong Interstate Circuit for Next Year.

It is common gossip in Philadelphia that both the Eastern and State Base Ball leagues will die a quiet death at the end of the season, as far as the Pennsylvania clubs' connection with either league is concerned, and that there is a probability that Scranton and other Pennsylvania clubs will be more representative and take in a greater area of territory. It has been proposed to turn the State into an interstate league in 1895, and applications for franchises from outside cities have already been received by Secretary Diddlebock.

New Jersey parties want a circuit formed to include Newark, Trenton, Camden and Philadelphia in the east, and Wilmington, Harrisburg, Lancaster and Reading in the west. President Benjamin H. Zarr, of Reading, favors an interstate league, with Trenton and Wilmington in it, but he wants the other six cities to come from Pennsylvania. It is hardly likely that the Eastern league will be in existence next year, at least with its present circuit. A movement has already been started in New York to form a new league with a circuit composed of Newark and Trenton, N. J.; Albany, Syracuse, Utica and Rochester, N. Y.; Springfield, Mass.; and Providence, R. I. Buffalo is expected to take Cleveland's place in the National league, and Erie, Wilkes-Barre, Scranton and Binghamton will be left out in the cold.

The Eastern league has not paid this season, and not over two clubs in the circuit have made any money. Scranton is still State league territory under the national agreement, and as it is already tired of Eastern league society, Marty Swift will have no trouble in organizing a club there. Wilkes-Barre, Erie and Lehigh will have to make their drift with Scranton, and with the Eastern league out of the way, President Bogert will see his way clear to join the new organization. The cities available for an interstate league are Philadelphia, Lancaster, Harrisburg, Reading, Allentown, Schenandoah, Pottsville, Hazleton, Lebanon, Easton, Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, in Pennsylvania; Newark, Trenton and Camden in New Jersey; Wilmington, Del. and Binghamton, N. Y. Out of these a good eight, ten or twelve-circuit circuit could be selected.

The movement toward the formation of an interstate league will be done by the clubs now composing the Pennsylvania State league, and it is safe to say that all that finish this season will be found in the circuit next year, no matter whether it is in a State or an interstate league.

whole team makes but nine errors, it is a specimen of pretty rocky ball playing. This was the record of Stetbeck and Joyce of the Washingtons last Wednesday.—Boston Herald.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Eastern league has been called to meet at Wilkes-Barre at the Wyoming Valley hotel. At this meeting applications from cities to take Binghamton's place in the league will be considered. There are two or three cities after the franchise.

It is pretty certain that the Pittsburg club is playing last season on the present grounds. A syndicate has offered to erect a new grand stand, construct a new playing park and to pay a part of the rental of the ground together, the club will lease a lease of the new premises for a term of years. The offer has been practically accepted.

On Thursday afternoon at Hogan park, the James Boys and the Knute sides will play a game of base ball for $25 a side and gate receipts, winning club take all. Ladies will be admitted to the ground free. Grand stand, 10 cents. Game called at 4 p. m. Positions of the James Boys: Mullarky, catcher; Nolan, pitcher; Moran, first base; Gardner, second base; Deen, third base; and base P. Bacon, center field; Ed. Williams, center field; Posner, right field; J. Mullarky, captain. The James Boys would also like to hear from the Knute boys. If not sold in one plot will sell separately.

There was no game at Scranton yesterday because several of the players refused to go on the diamond. Those that were particularly unmotivated were Stutz, Wetzel and Klasinger. These men stated they were in the hope that the club will thereby be forced to throw up its Eastern league franchise and return to the Pennsylvania State league. They are not strong enough for the Eastern league average. Of course they do not give this as their pretext but it is real one. They are aware that they will soon be released for incapacity and will not stay off as long as possible. —Buffalo Evening Times.

Catcher Gunson, who was playing right field in the game of yesterday and who has hit the ball while on his back with a pitched ball, is still confined to his bed at the Luzerne Hotel, and when he tries to get up he gets confused and cannot seem to hold himself together. Vain had struck him rebounded back to second base. It was an awful crack and the wonder is that Gunson's skull was not fractured. He explains the accident by stating that he was measuring his distance to the plate with his bat. He had his head down and Blackburn pitched up the ball quickly so that he had no chance to avoid it.—Wilkes-Barre Leader.

THE REGATTA TODAY.

Outsiders Are Here in Large Numbers to Participate.

The regatta of the Scranton Press club takes place today at Lake Ariel. Everything promises a great event, and those who go to the lake will have an amusing and profitable day.

The regatta of the Scranton Press club takes place today at Lake Ariel. Everything promises a great event, and those who go to the lake will have an amusing and profitable day. The event is the most admirable one, and those who cannot go on the earlier trains can go out later in the afternoon to enjoy some of the finest races and exhibitions of rowing to be witnessed anywhere. That people may thoroughly understand the train service the following schedule is again published:

Delaware and Hudson special—Leaves Scranton at 7:01 a. m., Mayfield, at 7:37; at 7:45; Archville, at 7:46; Winona, at 7:50; Beckville, at 7:54; Olyphant, at 7:58; Dickinson City, at 8:01.

Delaware and Hudson special—Leaves Scranton at 7:01 a. m., Mayfield, at 7:37; at 7:45; Archville, at 7:46; Winona, at 7:50; Beckville, at 7:54; Olyphant, at 7:58; Dickinson City, at 8:01.

Erie and Wyoming Valley train leaves Scranton at 6:53, 8:15, 8:45, 11:15, a. m., and 6:20, 7:45, 11:15, p. m.

Bauer's band and orchestra will furnish the music of the day, and will see that there is an elegant sufficiency of melody to meet all demands. Those people who miss the regatta are sure to miss one of the finest days' sport ever known to this section of the sport.

WHIRLS OF THE WHEEL.

The wife and daughter of the new president of the French republic, are ardent bicyclists.

Delia Fox has followed Pauline Hall's example and taken to bicycling to reduce plumpness.

Maurice Sloan, of the Scranton Bicycle club, enjoyed a ride to Lake Winola Sunday morning, returning in the evening.

Bert Chase, of the Scranton Bicycle club, will probably act as starter at the bicycle races which take place at the Driving park Aug. 22.

The entries for the races Aug. 22 are coming faster than expected, and from the present outlook no less than forty racing men will be present.

The Century Cycling club, of Syracuse, has decided that it will give its racing colors shall become the property of the club. This will result in their Class B members dropping out.

Scott, one of the fastest Class A riders in the country, who hails from Plainfield, N. J., has entered five events at the races to be held at the Scranton Driving park on Aug. 22 by the Green Ridge wheelmen.

The Chicago bicycle girls are firing darts at one another. Miss Fettle Kicker has issued a formal challenge to Miss Annie Porter for a 100-mile road race over the Sunday-Aurora course, to take place any night in August.

Louis A. Gillman, the bicycle racer of Buffalo, who jumps into a gold watch as the world's 33-mile road race recently, is one of the lightest riders on the wheel. He weighs 134 pounds, and could train down to 115 pounds.

In ten years American cyclists have reduced the mile record from 2:43 to less than 2 minutes, a feat once supposed to be impossible. The speed has been gained, not by faster training, but by pneumatic tires and improved skill among riders.

Lesander Richardson, the playwright, is writing a comedy in four acts. One of the scenes will be a horse train race, with revolving scenery between A. A. Zimmerman and Harry Wasseler, to be produced in New York for the first time about Christmas.

A. Kennedy Child, of Hartford, Conn., secretary of the National Board of Trade of Cycle Manufacturers, will be pleased to send any one actively engaged in the cycling trade or kindred industries, copy of the charter and by-laws and other literature pertaining to the association upon receipt of a 2-cent stamp.

George Siddons, the well-known eastern lightweight pugilist, is in Washington for the purpose of making a match with Jack Bolin. The latter is already matched to fight Stanton Abbott early in October, but it is understood that he is not averse to making a match to take place shortly after the battle with Abbott has been decided. Siddons looks in prime condition, and the probabilities are that a match will be made today or tomorrow.

Billy McMillan is not in good humor over the failure of Fred Morris or Mike Reedy to accept his challenge for a fight, and states that he is tired making efforts to get them into the ring with him. His backers are now in correspondence with George La Blanche, "the Marine," in an effort to make a match. These men are nearly alike as two men well can be in height, weight and reach, and if the meeting is arranged for it should make an interesting bout.
