MOORING LOST OPPORTUNITIES

Democratic Senators Indulge in Yain Regrets Over Tariff Fizzle.

A MEASURE WHICH NOBODY OWNS

Mr. Vest Turns the Calcium Light Upon Tariff History and Advances Opinion That the Senate Can Never Be Democratic—Mr. Vilas and Mr. Mills Moralize on What Might Have Been—A Bill That Satisfies No One.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The house bill to place sugar on the free list was taken up in the senate early in today's proceedings and occupied attention up to the time of adjournment. In connection with it a communication was read to the senate from Secretary Carlisle to Senator Harris (Dem., Tenn.), acting chairman of the finance committee, giving figures to show that with sugar on the free list there would be a treasury deficit of from $28,000,000 to $30,000,000. Despite the communication a motion was made by Mr. Berry (Dem., Ark.), that the senate proceed to the consideration of the bill; and that motion was antagonized by one offered by Mr. Harris that the bill be referred to the committee on finance. Mr. Harris made an argument in support of his motion. Speeches against a reference and in favor of the passage of the house bill were made by Senators Berry, Vest, (Dem., Mo.), Mills, (Dem., Tex.)

Mr. Vest's speech was made in the execution of his promise. In turn the calcium light on the history of the bill in the finance committee. In his speech Mr. Vest declared that the president had said, before his letter to Mr. Wilson was sent, that he would support the bill that passed. As it was now, his letter to Mr. Wilson was a good campaign document for the Republicans.

SENATE ON THE TARIFF.

Mr. Vest said the senate conferees had said that they might have either free iron or free iron ore. But the difficulty was that the house conferees could not be made to understand that the senate conferees knew more about the condition of affairs in the senate than they did. He declared with much emphasis that the senate was not a Democratic senate on the question of tariff reform; never was and never would be, as at present constituted.

He was tired of evasion, suspicion and lying and he wanted the truth to be known. He spoke of the newspaper suggestions that he was actuated by a feeling of revenge against the president because he had ignored him in regard to patronage in Missouri. He had no private grief against the president, but he wished to acknowledge his gratitude to him for having rescued him from all appointments. He was ready to follow the president as the old Scott followed the banner of the Bruce.

VILAS PITCHES OIL ON THE WATERS.

Mr. Vilas (Dem., Wis.) replied to Mr. Vest's statement as to the action of the Democratic caucus when the senate bill was first reported to it on the 20th of March. That bill, Mr. Vilas declared, was a justifiable bill in general features. The caucuses then voted for free iron and the finance committee has not carried out that vote. It had acted on the general best to prepare a bill that could command a majority of the votes in the senate and had reported a duty on iron ore as well as on coal.

Mr. Vilas left that point and applied himself to a defense of the president against the animadversions of Mr. Vest. He asserted that senator that the president's omission to party perfidy had had no reference to him; and he expressed his regret that that senator should think that he could be accused of party perfidy or party dishonor. He who had been so honestly and zealously laboring to bring about the result of the passage of a tariff bill.

Mr. Vilas said that the Democratic party had lost such an opportunity as was rarely, in the providence of God, offered to political parties. And while he lamented it, and would not attempt to conceal his regret that it had not done more, he by no means undertook to say that it had not done much.

NOBODY'S TARIFF BILL.

Mr. Mills (D-m., Tex.) characterized the tariff bill as now passed, as a remarkable measure, one which did not reflect the sentiment of a thousand persons in the United States. He was not anxious in saying that not a Republican favored it; that not a Populist favored it; and he would not be far from the truth in saying that the great mass of the Democratic party condemned it. It was the product of five or six senators. But they had been between the devil and the deep sea and they had gone to the sea rather than go to the devil. [Laughter.]

He had no apologies to make for it, because it was better than the McKinley law and was the best that could be done under the circumstances. He did not accept it, however, as a final settlement of the question of tariff reform. But it was a step, a substantial step, in the policy of putting on the free list articles that enter into manufactures. He now favored the house bill to put sugar on the free list and he would have it considered and passed now, and not have it referred to the finance committee.

IRISH CATHOLIC UNION.

Twenty-sixth Annual Convention in Session at York. YORK, Pa., Aug. 15.—The twenty-sixth annual convention of the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union of the United States and Canada began in this city today. One hundred and fifty delegates were present at this morning's session. The convention was called to order by President Edwin C. Flanagan, of Philadelphia. Mayor G. W. S. Loucks delivered an address of welcome. This afternoon's session was devoted

LABOR CONVENTION.

Delegates Wear Coxyite Badges Bear Significant Inscriptions. COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 15.—The labor convention for the purpose of taking independent action in politics was called to order by President McBride at 10 o'clock this morning in the Trades Assembly hall. John Branschewer, president of the Central Labor Union of Toledo, was elected temporary chairman.

The only approach toward speech-making was by Temporary Chairman Branschewer, who said the convention was the result of a movement among trade unions all over the country in favor of united and independent political action. Delegates to the number of 110 were present, others still to come. The hall was crowded and Lydon hall, a large auditorium, was secured for the afternoon session. The delegates wore badges with portraits of Coxy, and bearing the legend: "Keep off the grass."

It looks as though the McBride connection was merely an advance guard of the People's party convention which opens Thursday. Fusion with the Populists is regarded as next to a certainty.

MR. HOWARD'S STORY.

Vice President of American Railway Union Gives Some Interesting Testimony.

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—In his testimony before the national board of labor commissioners today George W. Howard, vice president of the American Railway Union, gave some history of the union in an interesting way. Mr. Howard was asked if the policy of the American Railway Union was to absorb the other labor organizations, and if so whether this policy had anything to do with the recent strike.

Mr. Howard said it had nothing to do with the declaration of the strike, but to do with the outcome of it. The American Railway Union, he asserted, was formed to promote a harmony of action among railway employes, and not to destroy other organizations. The scope of the American Railway Union was defined at length. Mr. Howard said the boycott against Pullman cars was not a means to an end. Pullman had maintained the cars, but because he operated them. "We simply wished to cut off Mr. Pullman's revenue," said the witness.

Mr. Howard went minutely into the extent and causes of the strike. He related how the general managers refused, on Mayor Hopkins' request, to arbitrate the strike. He said the first he had heard of rioting was when a reporter for a morning paper drew a pistol at Blue Island. Mr. Howard testified that he had given information to city detectives that certain persons had been plotting to burn the Pullman cars. He said that he had given information to the press that the Pullman cars were to be burned, thereby arousing public sentiment against the strikers.

John D. Korman asked the witness a number of questions with a view to showing that strikes are unnecessary and that they give the lawless element a chance to commit acts of violence. Mr. Howard acknowledged that this was true and that it was better not to strike, than to strike if possible. The commission adjourned with Mr. Howard still on the stand.

COXEY'S RETREAT.

His Old Soldier Exhibit a Desire to Mob the General.

HYATTSVILLE, Md., Aug. 15.—"General Coxeys" came near being mobbed at Camp Lost Liberty yesterday. He came to take away seven of his horses, and when questioned about the movement by one of his followers, became angry and said he was done with the scheme. This greatly incensed the five men left by the Baltimore police to care for the Coxy party, and Coxeys was obliged to test a hasty retreat on one of the horses. The other horses were driven around a back road, and in this way he got possession of the property. They chased Coxeys, but he escaped.

BUFFALO, Aug. 15.—Two wheelmen reported that their way to Erie, Pa., yesterday they encountered a gang of Coxyites near Northeast, straggling along, preserving the semblance of an organized procession. The tramps told them they were on their way to Buffalo, and that they are remnants of one of the Coxy divisions. It is probably they are a detachment of the Coxy "navy" that started east from Duluth some time ago.

PUBLICLY HORSEWHIPPED.

An Adams, Mass., Physician Gives a Fictitious Dealer a Lesson.

ADAMS, Mass., Aug. 15.—Dr. Charles Boon, a well known physician here, created a sensation last night by publicly horsewhipping James McLaren, a bicycle dealer, whom he charged with insulting Mrs. Boon.

Dr. Boon recently lent McLaren money and McLaren requested another loan, which the doctor refused. It is alleged that McLaren then called at Dr. Boon's house and insulted his wife.

HALCYON DAYS AT THE CAMP

Elements Are Now Smiling Upon the Boys in Blue.

THE DISTINGUISHED VISITORS

Delightful Weather Makes Camp Life Enjoyable Despite Strict Regulations—Impressive Scenes at Night—Appointments and Promotions Made—Gettysburg Tradesmen Desire the National Guard Patronage. Story of Camp Incidents Interestingly Told.

Special From Our Staff Correspondent.

CAMP LEWISBURG, GETTYSBURG, Aug. 15.—THIS was the easiest day the Thirteenth has had since it went into camp. In the morning drills of all kinds were suspended and the soldier boys given an opportunity to visit the historic battlefield. In the afternoon they had a drill and dress parade. Then Colonel Ripple and his staff accompanied General Gobin, his staff and the other regimental officers of the Tenth, to a dinner at the camp. The party numbered 104 and made a formidable troop when mounted.

The appointment of Quartermaster James W. Oakford to the position of judge advocate on General Gobin's staff to succeed John P. Albino was announced today. Commissary Sergeant W. H. Trosley has been promoted to the position of quartermaster. The officers of the day were Division Colonel Drake of the Second Regiment, First brigade staff officer, Major James A. G. Campbell, of General Snowden's staff, Third brigade officers, Major Edward B. Waite, Carlisle's Regimental Officer, Captain Montrose Barnard, of Company D; commander of the guard, Lieutenant Walter Briggs, of Company F. This afternoon at 4 o'clock the Thirteenth participated in brigade drill and at 6:30 appeared on dress parade.

HUNGRY GETTYSBURG.

An unsuccessful effort has been made by the citizens of Gettysburg to have the present camp withdrawn from the town so that the soldiers would have free access to it. The trades people want the money of the boys in blue. General Snowden, however, refused to withdraw the guard and the boys are still debarred from the town and its pleasures.

Today the weather was almost perfect. The health of the men of the regiment continues good, the few cases of sickness being of a non-serious character. General Snowden informed THE TRIBUNE representative this evening that camp will be but one division reviewed of the troops which will take place this afternoon.

Assistant Secretary of War Doe arrived Tuesday night as the representative of the national government. A salute to him was fired today. Among the distinguished arrivals today at division headquarters were Governor Reynolds of Delaware and General Brown of Maryland. Lieutenant Colonel Cousens of the Thirteenth will have the honor today of being field officer at division headquarters.

SCENES AT NIGHTFALL.

The camp looks most impressive after nightfall, viewed from Seminary ridge. To the east, west, north and south hundreds of tents can be faintly discerned in outline by the aid of the lights within, while the murmur of many voices float on the midnight air. One regiment is singing another shouting while a third applauds the efforts of some entertainer or indorsing his work by shouts of laughter. Here and there a solitary figure moves along on the outskirts of the camp with the precision of a machine. It is the guard whose vigilance the safety of the camp is supposed to depend on.

The regulations at this division camp are very rigid, and many of the boys begin to chafe under the restraint which camp life imposes. Thus far very few of them have been successful in obtaining the coveted permission to visit Gettysburg. General Ripple believes that the present order for the soldiers is in camp, and has issued orders to that effect. Companies are detailed daily to patrol the town, and those who have the hardihood to visit it without permission, find considerable difficulty in evading the patrolers.

SOLDIERS WHO ARE ROWDIES.

Some of the soldiers have shown a disposition to indulge in rowdiness, but to the credit of the members of the Thirteenth he is said that they take no part in anything that would reflect discredit on them. Two members of the Fourteenth regiment of the Second brigade, Sergeant Dorsey and Private Coover, were driven out of camp for unsoldierly conduct at Gettysburg and several members of the same regiment were arrested at Round Top Monday for taking forcible possession of the shop of a dealer in relics. They were placed in the guard house and yesterday released with a reprimand. Men are now guarding the property of the Battlefield association and government in and about Round Top to prevent their acts of vandalism.

For the past two days the weather has been delightful and many visitors are now beginning to turn their faces campward. The review tomorrow will undoubtedly attract a big crowd of spectators. Colonel Oethaus, of Scranton, is comfortably housed at division headquarters, having the tent adjoining General Snowden's.

The inspection of the Thirteenth regiment yesterday afternoon was conducted in a splendid manner, the boys showing great proficiency in the manual of arms. Colonel Ripple has been congratulated many times since he has been in camp by brigade and staff officers on the fine work of his men.

ECHOES FROM ENCAMPMENT.

Corporal Layshon is in the hospital. His condition is not serious. James McGonrick, of Company C, was on the sick list Tuesday.

Andrew Weir, of Company A, was a brigade orderly Tuesday. On Thursday afternoon teams from Companies A and D will play a game of ball.

Chief of Police Simpson was seriously indisposed Tuesday, but is now improving rapidly. "Police Officer" Walker is unable to do regular duty on account of an injury to his arm.

John Anaman found a piece of a shell on the battle field Tuesday which he treasures very highly. Company F of the West Side, has some of the best vocalists in camp. They entertain their neighbors nightly.

Company C had a splendid clam bake Tuesday night, which was prepared under the direction of Charles Hamilton.

A number of Company F boys went to Gettysburg Tuesday and returned loaded down with badges of every description.

Adjutant Millar has been appointed regimental instructor by Colonel Ripple. He holds school at headquarters every day.

A great many of the members of Company C were in camp last night. The sergeant, Chaplain Logan acting as guide and lecturer.

John Mitchell and Morris Thomas, privates of Company F, had a boxing match last Tuesday night. Mitchell was the winner.

John Beaumont, of Company A, was Colonel Ripple's orderly on Tuesday and William Hazleton, of Company F, filled the same position for Adjutant Millar.

Chief Chamberlain, the commissary sergeant, is one of the hardest working and most popular members of Company C. The commissary tent will never be empty while he is in charge.

The members of the advance detail of Company F are exhibiting some very amusing pictures. They had them taken while getting the camp in shape. There is a brisk demand for them.

Tuesday afternoon Adjutant Millar held a school in grand duty at his tent. Mr. Millar is losing no opportunity to thoroughly instruct the members of the regiment in all forms of military duty.

Captain Chase, of Company C, though a recruit in camp, is a thorough soldier and very popular with his men. He made a fine appearance at the head of his company during the inspection maneuvers.

Jerry Walker, of Company F, is the only private in camp who has an orderly. He is the colored man whom Jerry befriended. That was his friendship and he declares that he is walking with him. At all events he is uniting in his services.

Miss Emily Evans, of West Scranton, is at brigade headquarters as the guest of Miss Gertrude, daughter of Major-General Oethaus, who is here on a visit. Miss Gertrude, her brother and guests were entertained Tuesday afternoon by Albert Davies, sergeant major of the Second Regiment.

Corporal W. W. Inglis, of Company D, was in a predicament Tuesday morning. He took a nap after roll call and, while he slept, someone removed his trousers. He was unable to find them until he searched for them and as there were no trousers about, Mr. Inglis appeared at the mess table for breakfast enveloped in a blanket.

DEAD IN A BROOK.

Body of a Woman Supposed to Have Been Sarah McDonald, of Providence, Found at Seelyville.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. HONESTDALE, Pa., Aug. 15.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon the body of a white woman was found on the banks of a small stream at Seelyville, about a mile above Honestdale. The body was discovered by two men who were tramping their way to Carbondale. The body was lying with the head and arms in the water and was badly decomposed. No signs or marks of violence were to be seen.

Coroner O'Connell was summoned and empaneled a jury consisting of Judge Birdsall, William H. Mallis, John Bryant, Gustave Smith, Elmer E. Ferguson and J. M. Dilam. The jury brought in a verdict that the person was unknown to them and that they were unable to determine the cause of her death.

Since the inquest it has been ascertained that a demoted woman named Sarah McDonald, of Providence, had been wandering about Seelyville for some time past. The McDonald woman appeared on August 4. As the description of the dead body answers that of Sarah McDonald, it is undoubtedly her body that was found.

Favorites Are Beaten in the Events at Rochester.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Favorites were beaten this afternoon in two of the three races that made up the card of the third day of the Grand Circuit race meeting. SANTO CASERIO GUILLOTINED

President Sadi Carnot's Murderer Pays the Penalty.

THE USUAL EXHIBIT OF BRAVADO

Deibler, the Executioner, Performs His Work with Neatness and Dispatch—At a Few Minutes Before Five O'Clock the Assassin Cries Courage, Comrades, and His Head Rolls into the Basket.

LYONS, Aug. 16.

SANTO CASERIO, the murderer of President Carnot, was guillotined at 5 o'clock this morning. The scene of the execution is at fifty meters from the prison. Three hours before the time set for the execution a detachment of troops, comprising the Ninety-eighth battalion of infantry and two squadrons of the Seventh cuirassiers took possession of the ground. They were reinforced later by gendarmes and policemen.

Deibler, the executioner, arrived at 3 o'clock, bringing with him the well-known guillotine. The van conveying the guillotine was escorted by gendarmes on horseback. The operation of erecting the machine occupied about an hour.

There was a heavy shower during the night, which had the effect of driving away nearly all curiosity seekers who had gathered only to witness the execution. At 2 o'clock there was hardly one hundred persons waiting. Some time before daylight the weather improved and the curious began to gather again.

A few minutes before 5 o'clock the condemned man was led from his cell to the guillotine. His arms were firmly bound behind him. When the attendants seized him to lay him under the knife, he struggled furiously to free himself. At 4:55 o'clock all was ready. Caserio shouted, "courage, comrades," "long live anarchy." The knife fell at 5 o'clock precisely, and Caserio's head dropped into the basket.

CYCLING RECORD LOWERED.

Stimal and Fahrman Cover 200 Miles in 16h. 50m. 30s. at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Aug. 15.—The course from Buffalo to Erie, Pa., yesterday was the scene of a record breaking performance.

W. L. Stimal and Fred C. Fahrman of the Ramblers' Bicycle club rode the course and return, a distance of 200 miles, in 15 hours, 50 minutes and 30 seconds. The mark over the same course previously was 17 hours, 5 minutes, and the American 200-mile record was 17 hours, 28 minutes, 30 seconds, over the Boston-Springfield course.

STRIKING MINERS RESUME.

The Terms of the Operators are Accepted at Sharon.

SHARON, Pa., Aug. 15.—The striking coal miners in Mercer county, numbering nearly 1,000 men, will resume work tomorrow. A meeting was held last night and they agreed to submit to the terms of the operators on a 60 cent per ton rate.

The negro miners who were imported from Virginia will be retained. The strikers have been out eight months and many are in destitute circumstances.

ANARCHISTS' WORK.

Explosion in a London Suburb in Memory of Ravachol and Sauto.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—The explosion last night at the New Cross postoffice occurred in a small stationer's store to which the postoffice is attached.

It was caused by a quantity of gunpowder and nitro-glycerine wrapped in heavy paper. The explosion package was inserted into the letter box by a portion of the paper was written: "In memory of Ravachol, Bourdin, Vaillant and Sauto."

FRANKFORT, Ky., Aug. 15.—Marshall Boston, a negro, was taken from the county jail at 11 o'clock last night and hanged on the high beam of the iron bridge which spans the Kentucky river at Frankfort.

After the lynching his body was ridden with a hundred bullets. Just before Boston was swung up he confessed his awful crime.

A CADET DROWNED.

Boat Load of Boys Is Captured with Fatal Results.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Aug. 15.—A boat load of Nazareth mail cadets capsized this evening at Saylor's lake, a few miles north of Bethlehem. One of the boys, Will Townsend, of Nazareth, and Felix Webb, of the West Indies, were drowned.

Last night the supply committee of the board of control met and opened the proposals, with the intention of awarding the contract. There were twelve bidders and sixty-two separate and distinct articles to bid on. Some of the bids on certain articles were so much per case, others so much per box, and others were so much a gross of dozens. When the committee had gone over about one-twentieth part of the ground it realized that there was an immense job on hand, and in order to facilitate the work it was decided to adjourn until next Monday afternoon, when the bidders will be invited to be present to explain their proposals.

BIGAMIST'S VICTIM.

Miss Gallagher Returns to Her Home a Broken-Hearted Girl.

Mrs. Davison, nee Gallagher, who married and departed with a man named Davison, alias Lindsay, who it afterward developed is a bigamist and defaulter, returned to her home in this city yesterday on a telegram summoning her from Pottsville where her sister located her.

Miss Gallagher, as she must be called, if it can not be shown that the reports concerning Davison are false, said yesterday that she was more than surprised to hear that Davison was charged with such terrible offenses. He was most kind and attentive to her and she was led to believe that he was a model man. Now that conclusive proofs of his perfidy confront her, she is almost broken hearted and intends to leave the man who deceived and punished if the law can overtake him.

IT MAY BE MURDER.

Girl Victim of a Drink-Crazed Man Lies at the Point of Death.

Mary Law, of 383 Railroad avenue, who was brutally assaulted by her brother-in-law, Timothy Farrell, is still in a critical condition. Tuesday night while standing at the foot of a stairway she received the full force of a washtub hurled with the drunken man's fury. From the time she was assaulted until last evening she has scarcely regained consciousness.

Last evening a TRIBUNE reporter called at her mother's residence and found the room filled with young ladies from the Lackawanna Steam Laundry, where the injured girl was being nursed, and who displayed strong expressions of sympathy for their injured friend.

In speaking to the reporter Mrs. Farrell mentioned that her husband was crazy drunk and was not aware that her sister was at the foot of the stairs when the tub fell his hands at the top. Mrs. Law, the mother, stated that her daughter when she recovered consciousness for a short period, expressed Farrell from purposely throwing the tub at her, and she evidently thought that she had gone into her room.

Dr. Paine and Dr. Reidy will not be able to give a definite opinion as to the girl's condition until this afternoon, but they state that her condition is very critical.

HARDENED PARENTS.

Liquor Purchased with the Pennies of Their Beggar Child.

A case of unusual depravity was brought to light yesterday through the instrumentality of the Associated Charities. A little boy who has been begging about the streets for several weeks past was picked up by an agent of the society and when questioned confessed that he was forced to beg by his father and mother and that they spent the money in drink.

An investigation was made and it was learned that the case was even worse than was first surmised from the child's story. In addition to sending the little fellow into the street to beg, the hardened parents abused him shamefully when in their cups and neglected to give him any care or attention. He was frequently allowed to go for days without food except what he could beg and as he frequently was whipped for making a poor showing for his day's work he feared to buy food with any of the money he secured by begging.

A warrant was issued yesterday charging the parents with neglect of the child, and last night they were arrested. They gave their names as Mr. and Mrs. John Connolly, of Emmett street, Bellevue. The boy is but 10 years of age and very frail and delicate looking. An effort will be made today to have the child taken from his cruel parents and placed in some home. The parents themselves will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

HAGGERTY IS AFTER NILAND.

Niland was given a hearing before Alderman Donovan, of the Eighth ward, and fined $4 and costs for selling papers last Sunday. There is a warrant out also for Correspondent Connor, of the North End.
