

The merchant who is wide awake
And the reader who is up to date
Will patronize the newspaper
Which is both.

They will not waste either money or time
On publications that linger in the ruts.
The panic is over; men are getting ready
For a business boom in all directions.

And the Scranton Tribune will be in it
From Start to Finish.