HAD A FALLING OUT

Advocates of Different Heating Systems Cause a Split in Committee.

CONTROLLER HAS SUSPICIONS

The School Board indulges in a Hunt for an Ethiopian in the Paling and After Insinuating Among Themselves Outsider's Make Insinuation—Bids for Construction of the High School Will Be Advertised For.

The school board had its own troubles last night. The members seemed to be jealous of the controller's position in the investigation which is now on and are courtting a little investigation of their own. There were members with suspicions, members with insinuations, indignant members and those who were not members at all who were very outspoken in their allegations of suspicious actions.

It was all about the awarding of contracts for the heating and ventilating of No. 19 building being the big bone of contention. The fun started when Mr. Carson, for the building committee, reported in favor of giving the contract to Smead, Wills & Co., of Philadelphia. W. J. O'Malley presented a minority report awarding the contract to Hunt & Connell. It transpired during the discussion that followed that Architect Davis, in figuring up the cost of putting in the respective systems, found that the Hunt & Connell system was the cheaper, but yesterday he reported to the committee that he had discovered a mistake in his figures and that Hunt & Connell were $50 dearer than Smead, Wills & Co. This mistake and its discovery, Mr. Davis explained, was due to the fact that owing to the short time the committee gave him to figure on the plans, he had to make a hurried report at first and verify his figures later.

NOTES MAKES A FIVE-MINUTE SPEECH

This changing of the figures caused Mr. Notz to think that he detected the odor of a rodent and in a speech of five minutes or more he told his colleagues of his nasal disturbance. He wanted to know if anyone had any unsuspecting bidder would have with such a condition of affairs existing or something to that effect.

Mr. Jennings said he signed the majority report because Smead, Wills & Co. were the lowest bidder. Mr. Former said he would vote for a report from Mr. Watson, for the architect and architect and architect. Davis proceeded to explain as above. In addition he stated that the bids were: Smead, Wills & Co., $3,500; Hunt & Connell, $3,751. According to his calculation on Saturday it would cost $4,955 to put in the Smead, Wills & Co. system complete, floor, stacks and all, and $4,750 for the Hunt & Connell system. His revised figures made yesterday showed that Smead, Wills & Co.'s system would cost but $4,711 and Hunt & Connell's $4,770. The mistake, he explained, was due to the fact that there was a "day" plan accompanying the Smead, Wills & Co. drawings which confused him.

Mr. O'Malley then moved that the minority report be accepted. Mr. Jennings moved to have the minority report laid on the table. This motion was lost and the minority report giving the contract to Hunt & Connell prevailed by a vote of 9 ayes to 5 nays.

AGENTS WHO KICKED

Among the spectators in the rear of the room were a number of agents who represented firms that had sent in bids for furnishing supplies. Some of them waxed wroth, especially the paper men. Mr. Jacobs, for the supply committee, which is now wrestling with the bids for furnishing the supplies for the coming year, reported that the committee had begun its labors and at present could report on but two items, spelling blanks and pencil pads. The contract for 20,000 of the blanks they awarded to E. H. Butler & Co., of Philadelphia, for $28 per thousand and for furnishing the pads Reynolds & Co. of this city, were favored, their bid being $19.89 per thousand. After the meeting there was considerable kicking among the unsuccessful bidders and one of them, W. H. Withers, went so far as to state that he was lower than the firm awarded one of the contracts.

Then Mr. Jennings objected to the manner in which the supply committee had presented its report. He claimed that all the bids should have been read, in order that they might be placed on record and be open to inspection. After considerable discussion the committee's recommendations were adopted and the secretary was instructed to make out a tabulated report of the bids.

Mr. Jennings, for the high school committee, reported a resolution directing the secretary to advertise for proposals for the construction of the new high school building according to the plans of Little & O'Connor, which call for a two-story building and one that is not fire proof.

The board decided to visit and inspect the new No. 12 building, which is now ready for occupancy. The visit will be made on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

FANCY TEAS

Being Introduced by the Scranton Cash Store.

The Scranton Cash Store is at present introducing a garden-grown tea, a high grade Japanese tea, actually brought to this country. Americans as a rule are not very particular about their tea, in many cases not even knowing which variety they like best. This is due in a great measure to the fact that nearly all the tea brought to this country is of inferior grade. Now, the flavor of a high grade Japanese tea is so distinctive and so different from the inferior tea (most housewives will understand this difference). Mr. Price is confident that when the garden-grown tea comes to get a foothold in Scranton, there are people enough who will appreciate a strictly fine article to make a large trade in it, reasonably certain. The tea comes in pound packages to insure against mistakes, and includes the following varieties: Oolong, Pan Fired Japan, Basket First, Japan, Gunpowder, English Breakfast, Moryn, Gunpowder, Blend; and, although this grade brings wherever sold, from $1.25 to $1.50 a pound, it can be had for 85c. until fully established. Who would not be willing to pay in addition for each cup of tea it brings to the palate, Wink it? If you buy a package of Garden-grown Tea and find that you do not care for it, you can, after a thorough trial, return it and get the price of a full pound back.

OUR GUARDSMEN PRAISED.

What the Philadelphia Press Said about the Thirtieth.

The Philadelphia Press in its last camp report paid the Thirtieth a fine compliment, as follows: "The Thirtieth brigade had an interesting drill at 10 o'clock this morning, forming by battalions and regiments, and firing in this order. It was only the brigade that had this peculiarly picturesque and effective drill during the period of the encampment. The brigade moved in echelon lines, and made one of the prettiest displays ever seen on the parade ground. The firing was by battalions and regiments. The brigade officer of the day was Major George H. Winney, of the Thirtieth regiment. The officer of the Thirtieth regiment was Captain F. W. Stillwell, of Company A, which has for fourteen consecutive years (qualified every member of the company as a marksman, which is the best record in the guard. The company was formerly commanded by Captain Louis A. Vaires. The officer of the guard was Lieutenant Frank McCullen, of Company E.

"The Thirtieth regiment proudly possesses the Colonel Henry M. Boies 'Palma' of solid sterling silver, weighing fourteen pounds and costing $500. This flag piece has been won by the Thirtieth three consecutive times—in 1880, 1881 and 1882. It is now the property of the regiment, and the boys are justly proud of it.

"The quartermaster of the Thirtieth, Lieutenant James W. Oakford, has been appointed judge advocate of the brigade by general order No. 2, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Judge John Alza. The commissionary sergeant, William J. Tracy, was appointed quartermaster, and Corporal Edward C. Yocum was appointed commissary sergeant of the regiment. This is the corporal whom General Gobin complimented so highly as corporal of the guard at headquarters."

VERY SUCCESSFUL PICNIC HELD

The Visiting Turners Speak Highly of the Reception They Met With. Philadelphia Turn Gemeinde Captures Most of the Prizes—The Turnfest Will Conclude with an Excursion to Farview Today.

The second day of the Bezirks-Turnfest passed off yesterday amid general jubilation by the Scranton and visiting Turners with a picnic at Central Park. The parade of the Turners and the invited local German societies did not start from Turner hall at the hour specified owing to the rain. But at 11 o'clock the skies cleared and the line of march was started.

The parade was led by mounted officers Burke and Roche. Then came Guth's band, the Scranton Turn Verein society, Philadelphia Turn Gemeinde, Southwark Turn Verein society, of Philadelphia; Gambirius Turn Verein, of Trenton; Vorwaerts Turn Verein, of Williamsport; Ladies class of Turners from Camden, N. J.; Scranton Saengerbrunde, Fortbildungs Verein, of Wilkes-Barre; Krueger Verein, Junior Turn Verein, of Scranton, and the Trenton Turners society.

The parade marched to Franklin avenue, up Spruce street to Wyoming, Lackawanna, to Cedar, to Willow, to Pittston, to Birch, to Cedar, to Elm, and down South Washington avenue to Central park.

TO FAIRVIEW TODAY.

The end of the fest will be celebrated with the excursion today to Farview. Tomorrow the visitors will return home.

There will not be another Turn Fest again for probably four years, and then it will take place in Philadelphia. These events are held every two years, but in 1896 a national Turn Fest will be held in St. Louis, and on that account the district assembling will be abandoned.

Since the arrival of the visiting Turners they have been much impressed with the hospitality of Scranton, and they will leave for their homes tomorrow with happy remembrances of the sixteenth Bezirks-Turn Fest.

HAZEN WANTED A CAMP OUTFIT.

He Helped Himself to the Goods of Company B and the State.

James Hazen, of Lake Ariel, was cook for Company B, of this city, during the encampment at Gattysburg last week. On Saturday the company brought back a good many supplies with it and stored them in the armory.

Yesterday it was learned that Hazen was removing them to his home at the lakeside, but Captain Kellow, of Company B, succeeded in having the goods intercepted at the depot before they were shipped.

There were a tent flap and blankets, the property of the state, and hams,
