LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

[Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied, for publication, by the writer's name. THE TRIBUNE will not be held responsible for opinions here expressed.]

THOSE TRIP HAMMERS.

Editor of THE TRIBUNE: There are hungreds and thousands of people in Scranton who gladly welcome the rapid influx of industries late our city. It gives employment to our citizens, it makes labor for the multitude; and there makes labor for the multitude; and there are thousands who are dependent on their labor for a livelihood. But, if any more should make application, whose business requires them to use trip hammers, would it not be well to locate them some where off in the woods, where they would annoy no one but those interested in them? The noise of those hammers can be beard from the control of these pulses away, and why should two to three miles away, and why should a dozen or a score of men, who are so anxious to make money that they work them day and night and thereby rob from 80,000 to 100,000 people, whether sick or well, of the God given blessing of sleep, by disturbing their midnight slumbers with their hideons sounds.

Mr. Frothingham's organ was declared a nuisance, but there was a great deal more harmony in it than there is in those trip harmers.

AT THE THEATERS.

This evening the amusement season will be opened at the Frothingham with the production of Richard III by Owen D. Jones and his company. It was given in Wilkes-Barre last night, and concerning the impression it made there, our Wilkes-Barre representative writes as follows: the impression it made there, our Wilk's-Barre representative writes as follows:

'The interpretation of the tragedy was in every respect a surprise, and more t an pleased the people. Mr. Jones astonished the critics by his fine presentation of the the wily tyrant. His acting was deep, strong graceful and effective. He was handsemely supported by Joseph Ransome, William Richard., Miss Alice Fairbrother, Miss Tillie Lawis, Miss Kittie McCabe and the baiance of the players. In require splend r. gorgeous incidentals and conic splend r. gorgeous incidentals and thrilling c imaxes it was norivaled. There is a universal demand for its repetition here on T uraday night. Scranton playg ers have a gennine treat in store for them Wednesday evening at the Frothing-

Next Monday evening the Academy of Music will reopen its doors and George Thatcher and his company of min-trels and farce comedy people in "About Gotham" will be the attaction that will usher in the season of '94-'95. "About Gotham" is a clever mixture of nice clean comedy, pretty music delightfully sung, bits of burlesque tumorously performed, and entertaining specialties cleverly executed. One of its main advantages is a clean cut and perfectly consistent and comprehensible plot that is never forgotten for a moment throughout the evening ten for a moment throughout the evening which gives cause for and adds strength to the fun. A gorgeously mounted minstrel "first part" is one of the many features of the play in which those two kings of the "ent," George Thatcher and Carroll Johnson, will appear with all their old time vigor and fun provoking methods.

The funeral of Miss Adelia Griffin will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 1828 Providence road, interment being at Dunmore cemetery. Joseph F. Evans has returned after an extended tour through Massachus-tts, Connecticut and other states and report-tuat Scranton is ahead of all other cities ne visited in commercial activity. Complaint is made of the miniature lakes which are formed on North Main avenue caused by the la ge stream of water flowing from the West Ridge fan house. There is only one sidewalk upon that portion of the avenue, and every evening this solitary sidewalk is au-merged by the water, making it impossible for ladies to use the sidewalk, hence driving them to the main roadway. Alderman Baily's office on Dickson evenue, Green Ridge, was crowded on Monday night with residents of the We-t Side, who were interested in a charge preferred against seven boys from that secferred against seven boys from that sec-tion of throwing stones at a house in Hyde Park, the property of James Flynn, of Providence. As the prosecutor had n t put in an appearance at 9 p. m., the alder-man discharged the boys amid the execra-tions of their friends, who evidently did not hold Mr. Flynn in high esteem.

About 2 o'clock yesterday mording Offi cors Reese, Jones and Mills arrested seven tramps found in box cars on the Delaware. Lickawanna and Western railroad switch near the Cayuga and the Hampton switch. They showed a disinclination to move, but were finally corniled and march d to the station house.
