He has a tall well knit frame and is nearing his fortieth year, the youth of old age. He is one of the most popular men in Lackawanna county and wears his honors with becoming grace and dignity. Mayor Connell is one of the owners of the Navigation track, which is located on the northwest territory of Pottsville, and is here ostensibly to make arrangements for the development of its coal resources. The tract extends to a point near the court house and extensive developments are contemplated by the owners."

AT THE THEATERS.
 Tomorrow evening at the Academy of Music Serantonians will have their first opportunity of witnessing "The Fencing Master." De Koben and Smith's tuneful opera. The substance of the libretto is as follows: Francesca, the fencing master, has grown up as a boy and her lover, known to all at the court. In time her woman's heart impels her to love Fortunio, and being jealous, she arranges for Filippo, to whom Fortunio thinks he loves, to elope with Guido. By Fortunio, Francesca is charged with being a false friend, and then she tells him of her sex, and of her love for him. The tale is told by these characters: Francesca, Fortunio's daughter, brought up as a boy and known as Francesco (the Fencing Master), Dorothy Morton, Fortunio, fencing master of the Milanes court, A. M. Holbrook; Paquino, private astrologer to the duke of Milan, Arthur Liebber; Count Guido Malaspina, B. B. Brookhart; Filippo, ward of the duke, Bertha Baylis; Theresa, daughter of a Milanes money lender, Jennie Dickerman; Pietro, an inn keeper, in love with Theresa, Marion Langdon; Fortunio, David Torrence. The chorus is made up of capable singers. A dispatch from Dan L. Hart, of Wilkes-Barre, to THE TRIBUNE states that "The Fencing Master" delighted a large and critical audience last night. The company was excellent, opera novel and scenery beautiful and picturesque.
 The historical musical spectacle "War and Peace," which will be given at the Frothingham Thursday afternoon and evening by F. W. Jones' band, will be decidedly interesting. Griffin post, Grand Army of the Republic, and Company C of the Thirtieth regiment will participate in the military picture.

NEWS OF WEST SIDE
 Big Crowd Attends the Moody Meetings in Gospel Tent.
 REV. BLISS DESCRIBES A SINNER
 He Does Not Like a Lukewarm Christian—Urges His Hearers to Be Active in the Service of God and Keep in Communion with Him—Personals and News of the Day Briefly Told.
 The Moody meetings have now fairly begun and the interest manifested in them is great.
 Almost every available seat in the large tent was utilized for the reception of the large throng of people that were crowded in the place last evening. The choir sang superbly under the direction of William C. Jones, and will now continue to nightly render the gospel hymns until the close of the campaign. During yesterday afternoon a new arrangement was made in placing the seats, and a greater amount of people can now be accommodated. The services opened at 7:30 o'clock. On the spacious platform were seated Revs. L. C. Ford, D. D., T. J. Collins, D. C. Hughes D. D. and E. W. Bliss. The meeting was opened with the hymn "Let Us Crown Him." This was followed with an earnest prayer by Rev. D. C. Hughes, D. D., pastor of the Jackson Street Baptist church. Miss Lillian Shively, of the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church, rendered a beautiful solo, entitled "I Love to Hear the Savior's Voice," with great effect. A portion of the Scripture was read by Rev. L. C. Ford. Mr. Bliss said he was very glad to see so many present on a Monday night, as it was the most difficult of the week, being a reaction from Sunday. He said a meeting would be held this afternoon in the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church. After the rendition of the beautiful hymn, "How Firm a Foundation," by the choir and congregation, Mr. Bliss chose for his text Revelations xii, 11. During his discourse he said:
 The Bible tells us, that the devil is the Prince of Darkness, and that he came and told our forefathers that God did not want us to eat of the tree of life, because we would be as much as he did. God said, "As sure as ye eat of that tree ye shall surely die." We think that the devil only visits the rum shops and like places, but it is not so. He visits the churches and other holy places; and Paul says, "He has power to appear as an angel." I think that the devil has power to place any man whom he trusts in any position, in God, in a position, where he will preach anything but the Gospel and yet think that they are doing right. When any man or woman sets away from God, they become at once the prey of the devil. Any person who is not going about daily trying to do good, and who is satisfied with his life and family, is a false Christian. I can get along with cold people in this world, but not the lukewarm people. The latter class come to you and put you on the back saying how nicely you preached. In three or four days you can't find them. I would rather meet an old sinner than any Christian whose heart is not in communion with God's. The reason why we sometimes have no cool is because we have lost all of our Christ-like sympathy. Always have family prayers. Give the Lord a definite place in your hearts and homes, and have family prayers in your home. Let it become a fixed habit. You all have an enemy to contend against. Where are your sons? Where are your daughters? I am not a true Christian unless I should pray, and when the enemy comes we will be ready for him. Won't you pray that God may come to you? Won't you pray that men may come to this place and be saved. Let the blood of Jesus Christ cleanse you all.
 This discourse was followed by a prayer offered by Rev. Dr. Floyd, and after a hymn the meeting closed.

WILL SUE THE GRAND LODGE.
 Lehigh Valley Conductors Want Their Strike Wages.
 "It is quite likely," says the Carbondale Herald, "that there will be weeping, wailing and possibly a little gnashing of teeth in the Grand Lodge of the Order of Railway Conductors ere the autumnal month of September has gone past. Last fall when a strike was deemed the only means by which the Lehigh Valley Railroad company could be forced to terms and the employees struck, the officials of the above lodge made a formal demand that all members of the Order of Railway Conductors in the employ of the Lehigh Valley go out and sympathize with the other employees of the system.
 One they went with, it appears, the understanding that the Grand Lodge would pay them for the time they lost by obeying the Order. When they audited up their account they made the startling discovery that each and every one of them were lacking just $200, which fact they revealed to the head officers of the Order. For months they waited for their time, but like the freight train, it never pulled in, and now they have instituted legal ac-

 The Old Baker Shop of Scheuer Bros. Set on Fire Yesterday Morning. Century Hose Company Invited to Attend the Parade of Wilkes-Barre Fire Department—A Boy's Arm Broken—Funeral of John Charles Miller.
 There is a gang of small boys who congregate on the Orchard grounds every night and a number of petty mischiefs seems to escape them. The principal diversion appears to be the habit of throwing stones at the houses on Cedar avenue and their position on the hill in the darkness left it very difficult to catch them.
 Last night about 90 the 11-year-old son of Peter Nov, of River street, threw a round stone the size of an egg at the plate glass front of Bentele's furniture store and cracked one of the panes doing damage to the amount of about $20. Officer Flaherty gave chase to the mischievous child and captured him, hiding behind one of the lumber piles near the bridge. The officer would have lodged the boy in the station house but for the request of Mr. Bentele who will make his father settle the loss.

NORTH END.
 Alderman Horan Had to Rule on a Very Peculiar Case.
 Alderman Horan's office was filled last night upon the occasion of the hearing of the case brought by John Murphy against George Seale for value of milk. On Aug. 29 six cows were found by Seale in his garden and the owners were notified that the trespass must be settled before the bovines were released. The damages were arbitrated at $1.25 against the owner of each cow, and while Murphy went home for the money, Seale milked five of the cows, but the sixth was a kicker.
 Murphy claimed that as he had paid his share of the damages, Seale had no right to milk the cow and he therefore sued him for 64 cents, the value thereof. Defendant claimed he milked the cow in order to relieve her and offered the milk to the various parties, who, it appeared, declined to take it, as it was mixed and together it would be unable to appertain it.
 The learned alderman decided the question at issue was, whether it was necessary to milk the cow at the time or whether she would be in pain from non-milking, and ruled that Seale had failed to make out his defense, and gave judgement for the plaintiff accordingly.
 Proceedings will be taken by the owners of the other five cows, as the case was taken as a test.

The train leaves at 8:30 a.m., Lackawanna and Western depot at 8 a.m., and the Cayuga switch at 8:10. Tickets, adults, $1.50; children, $1.
 The funeral of George Tisco, of 316 Breaker street, took place yesterday afternoon, when a large number of sympathizers were present. The services at the residence were conducted by Rev. M. D. Falter, of Providence Episcopal church, assisted by Rev. M. F. Stahl, of Green Ridge Presbyterian church. The members of the Celestial Lodge of Oddfellows, and of the Ezra Griffin, post of the Grand Army of the Republic, attended to pay their last respects to their deceased brother. The funeral procession was a large one. Interment was made at Clark's Green.
 The Commonwealthers who were lodging in Tripp's ravine had a fine old time a few evenings ago. They helped themselves to the potatoes from the field near the crossing and lighter a camp fire, and roast potatoes were served up in regular style. Sweet corn from an adjoining field helped to complete their banquet. Great credit, however, is due to Lewis, who prepared and his men for the energy they displayed in clearing the North End of the Wanderer's Willies, who were beginning to manifest themselves in a very unpleasant manner.

 ROP tinning and soldering all done away with by the use of HARMAN'S PATENT PAIN, which consists of ingredients well-known to all. It can be applied to any galvanised sheet iron roof, also to brick chimneys, which will prevent any rusting, cracking or breaking of the brick. It will outlast tinning of any kind by many years, and its cost does not exceed the job of tinning. Contracts in iron by ANTONIO HARMAN, 67 Birch St.
