Binghamton Industrial Exposition.

That the exposition this year will be a larger and more magnificent one than ever before attempted is an assured fact. The management have taken hold with a determination to excel and have succeeded in securing exhibits, varied, rich, and costly, and that will certainly be instructive and entertaining. The fair will open on Thursday, September 6, when the Binghamton Athletic association will have their first bicycle meet under the auspices of the exposition management; $800 worth of prizes will be given, and the different events will be continued in the evening when the grounds will be lighted by electricity. Saturday, September 8, will be children's day, and it is expected that 4,000 children will march to the grounds. The amusement programme will be a grand success. The greatest artists in their line have been engaged at immense expense. The world-renowned juggler, Seyers, who has no peer in his specialties, will make his first appearance in Binghamton.

There will be a troupe of ten Japs who will appear daily in dancing, acrobatic and amusing performances; also chariot races by lady and gentlemen riders in magnificent Roman costumes, driving through thoughtless horses, given double team, Roman standing and hurdle races. There will be balloon ascensions daily and other exciting and entertaining events. Tuesday, September 11, Governor Roosevelt, F. Flower will be at the fair, and will be escorted by the Twentieth Separate company, and other visiting companies of the National Guard, state of New York. Wednesday, September 12, will be Red Men's day, and it being the week of the great council of the United States, there will probably come by excursions from all parts the largest crowd of visitors that ever was in the city.

NEWS OF WEST SIDE

Growing Interest in the Evangelistic Work of E. W. Bliss.

MOODY WILL BE HERE SUNDAY

In the Morning He Will Speak in the Elm Park Church and in the Afternoon He Will Be Heard in the Gospel Tent—Mr. Bliss' Eloquent Discourse on the Love of God.

Constantly growing interest is manifested in the evangelistic work of E. W. Bliss in the gospel tent on North Main avenue. Last night the people flocked to hear him and tested the seating powers of the tent.

The more improves with each performance and last night rendered the hymns in a superb manner. The entrance has been made more easy of access by the rays of a large arc light.

On the platform last night were seated Revs. R. G. Jones, L. C. Floyd, D. T. J. Collins, D. C. Hughes and Mr. Bliss. The meeting opened with the singing of a hymn, after which Rev. T. J. Collins offered an earnest prayer in behalf of those present and for the success of Mr. Bliss in his campaign. A quartette consisting of Will Beck, William C. Jones, John Jones and H. D. Yanderson, sang a very beautiful selection entitled, "Lantern Away." Every voice swelled forth as the rapturous "Nearer, My God, to Thee," was sung. Rev. D. C. Hughes, D. D., read a portion of the scriptures from the first epistle of John, and Mr. Bliss announced the women's meeting at 2 o'clock in the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church.

MOODY WILL BE HERE.

Mr. Moody will begin his work in this city at the Elm Park Church at 9 o'clock Sunday morning and will preach at the tent on Sunday evening to men only. Mr. Bliss thinks that next week will be a great week in Scranton with this evangelist in the city. Mr. Davis, who was in Mr. Moody's quartette in Chicago, was present and sang in a clear tenor voice, "Throw Out the Life Lines," the congregation joining in on the chorus.

Mr. Bliss continued his sermon of the evening before, the text being Revelations 12:11: "And they overcame death by the blood of the lamb." During his remarks he said: "I wish people could see a higher motive than the usual attention to services and the collection box. They should give some attention to the constraint of love. If any one should rescue me from drowning you would never cease to love or at least think a great deal of him. In this same way we love our God and render ourselves freely unto Him. This is the highest manifestation of Christianity. I met a girl in Philadelphia who had Christianity in her face, and I was preaching there. She came to me at the close of the sermon after I had spoken about the constraint of love, and said, I thank you, Mr. Bliss, for your teachings. I was very foolish to think for a moment that I could do anything to meet the love of God. All that we must do is to be willing."

THINGS IT IS AWFUL.

I think it is awful for people to say, Mr. Bliss, can I play cards and be a Christian? Can I go to theaters and be a Christian? All the people should say is, "I have been bought by the blood of Jesus Christ, and I am His. I will do His bidding." The questions that people sometimes ask me are foolish, indeed. The one who is watching the very edge of it, is the one to whom I am here to preach the gospel and not condemn card playing.

I do not say that I have given anything up for Christ for He has given me 10,000 times more than I ever gave up. All that He got out of me was my sins. There is a chance for heroism right here. We need not be afraid. If a man was to go into a dark quarter and take man by the hand and speak kindly to him and tell him of Jesus who would do a heroic and a Christian thing for the love of the Lord. "For they loved not their lives unto death." The men who under shot and shell at the Pappanock laid the plank that allowed the Union army to cross while the river was stained with their blood and these men loved their lives unto death.

DO NOT WANT TO BE AFRAID.

Once there was a young lady who was groping in a small pool of muddy water on a street in New York for something she had dropped. Not finding it, she pulled off her gloves and put in the water a tiny white hand, and found what she had lost, a diamond.

There are too many of us groping around with parcels looking for sinners. We do too many things by proxy. Let us get up and show ourselves and do something for the Lord Jesus Christ.

At the station, Rev. D. C. Hughes prayed and the meeting closed with singing. A very large number of the people stayed to the after meeting, where many voices were heard in prayer and other manifestations of their love of God. The meetings closed with singing.

WAS JUDGE BEATEN?

Conflicting Dispatches Regarding His Fight With Quigley.

The Philadelphia Item contained an account of the fight between James Judge, of the West Side, and Jerome Quigley for a purse of $250 at Philadelphia on Tuesday night. It stated that Judge was being punished so severely that the police interfered and stopped the mill in the road.

Friends of Judge in this city claim to have received advices that it was all the other way; that Judge was punning his antagonist and would have won the fight if the police, who are friendly to Quigley, had not interposed to save him from a knock out.

NORTH END.

Marriage of Miss Julia O'Boyle to John Casey, of Carbondale.

Miss Julia O'Boyle, daughter of James O'Boyle, of Warren street, was married yesterday to John Casey, of Carbondale. The ceremony was performed at 5 o'clock p. m., at Holy Rosary church, by Rev. N. J. McManna, in the presence of a congregation which crowded the church. Patrick McKenna, of Carbondale, acted as best man and Miss Nell Joyce was bridesmaid. The bride was dressed in cream lainsdowne silk, trimmed with lace and ribbon, wore orange blossoms in her hair and carried a beautiful bouquet of cream roses. The wedding march was played by Miss Katie Sallty.

Upon the return of the bridal party to the bride's home the spacious residence was crowded by the influx of guests who attended the wedding reception.

The various toasts at the splendid wedding feast were received with acclamation, and the guests departed in a large number of Chinese lanterns were lit and the wedding party indulged in dancing upon a large platform which had been specially erected upon the lawn. The wedding presents filled a suite of rooms and were beautiful and costly.

E. W. Cooner, a well-known resident of Providence, was charged last night with stealing a valuable breast pin from John E. Guild at Moran's hotel on Brick avenue. A crowd of about 100 followed the parties down to the square, where Officer Reese Jones detained Tooner until an alderman could be found to settle the dispute. Up to a late hour last night a hearing had not been given.

The Rev. D. A. Evans, who recently resigned the pastorate of the Puritan Congregational church, has accepted a call to a pastorate in Ohio. DYNAMITE CAP AND A LITTLE BOY

The Same Old Story, but the Boy Was Only Slightly Injured—Death of Mrs. Patrick Corcoran, of Cedar Avenue—She Was Stricken with Paralysis Two Months Ago—Personals and Short Paragraphs.

The citizens of the upper end of the Twentieth ward are preparing a petition to be sent by their representatives to council for placing at least two fire alarm boxes within reasonable reach of the district.

There are sufficient water plugs in the vicinity, but in case of a fire a diversion of half a mile must be covered to get to the nearest hydrant, which is located at the corner of Cedar avenue and Pear street.

The matter will be laid before council for consideration at the next meeting through an ordinance accompanied by a petition.

OFFICER FLAHERTY'S COW.

From Chicago and Is Probably Descended from Mrs. O'Leary's Bovine.

Police Officer Martin Flaherty, of Cherry street, bought a full blooded cow that was shipped in Chicago stock yards. Yesterday he brought the sleek creature home and introduced it to the pasture in his horticultural inclosure.

The animal was injured to the boneless prairies of Chicago and reeling against the stuffy gardens of urban owners, and before an hour's confinement it made several almost successful efforts to jump the fence. Officer Flaherty walked into the lot with a fist full of red apples to tempt the cow into submission, but his seductive temptations only served to impel the cow to increase its fury. He determined then to teach the animal a lesson, and got a barrel to fasten on its head. Mr. Flaherty had the right idea but he needed assistance to carry it out.

He went at the task single-handed and he might as well have tried to muzzle a hyena. The barrel was a mass of broken staves, he was tossed sky high and the cow scudded to the street and dashed at an infuriated pace through the streets and alleys, scaring the women and children almost to death. The maddened animal kept going until it was exhausted in Taylor, where it was captured and now awaits the arrival of its owner.

DEATH OF MRS. PATRICK CORCORAN.

She Was the Wife of Ex-Councilman Corcoran, of the Twentieth Ward.

Yesterday morning at 8 o'clock the expected death of Mrs. Patrick Corcoran, of Cedar avenue, took place. She had not enjoyed good health for a few years before her death, and two months ago a stroke of paralysis attacked her and from that time her life was despaired of.

Mrs. Corcoran was 65 years of age and emigrated to this country in 1851, a widow with five small children, now Patrick and John Murray, of the Twentieth ward, and Peter, James and Thomas Murray, of Montana; in 1855 she was married to Patrick Corcoran. A family of three children were born, now Mrs. James Keating, of Stone avenue, Mrs. James Richardson and Postmaster M. F. Corcoran, of Duryea.

Mrs. Corcoran possessed a charitable disposition, and that and other admirable traits in her character secured for her many friends, who will be pained to hear of her death.

ANOTHER DYNAMITE CAP.

A Little Boy Explodes It But Escapes Unhurt.

A nine-year old Polish boy named Kozinski, whose parents live on River street, in the block of houses near the stone wall surrounding the North works of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company, found a dynamite cap yesterday morning and he possessed it until mischief enough to place it on a stone and strike it with another stone. It is needless to say that he succeeded in exploding it. The shock threw him to the ground, and he received a toe which left his head a mass of bumps and his eyes were somewhat injured. Dr. Walsh attended him.
