

What Shall I Get to Wear This Fall?

We know what a momentous question this is, and to help the ladies in just such a dilemma is one of the reasons why we are in business.

For the past several months we have been busy and earnest with all the power of capital, brains and selections at our command in bringing you THE BEST GOODS WE CAN GET AT THE LEAST POSSIBLE PRICES.

OUR FALL GOODS of every description, both stylish and handsome, gives our store a pretty look, and we are ready for the early buyers. ALL SUMMER GOODS LEFT WILL BE SOLD AT UNHEARD OF PRICES and we intend to keep busy as ever by offering the SEASONABLE GOODS AT LOW PRICES.

An Inspection of Our Offering will convince you that never before has such artistic combinations of color and texture been displayed, and that we have not been idle during the summer months.

The Present Merchandise moment is not a spasm. Bait and shams find no place in our system. THE LOSSES—we will look after; you can attend to the—GAINS.

NOT A WEEK, hardly a day passes, without New Styles coming to the front, and worthy of your most careful attention. We could not afford to have anything that people would not admire. OUR REPUTATION AS RETAILERS OF FIRST-CLASS GOODS is at stake and this is the spur that keeps urging us on to get new and better goods at even more Reasonable Prices than ever before.

The object of our establishment is to fix in the public mind such quotations as these, which we are prepared to answer at our store:

Where can I get this or that?
Where can I match this?
Where can I get the latest?
Where can I get the best of everything?
Where are the prices the lowest?

FIREMEN'S PARADE.

Hallstead Fire Lads and Their Invited Guests Enjoy a Delightful Day.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

HALLSTEAD, Pa., Sept. 6.—The second annual parade of the Hallstead Fire department took place today, which was a red letter day for Hallstead. If the day had been made to order it could not have been better. The dense clouds of smoke and dust that had been hovering over us and around us had been cleared away and the day was bright and beautiful. The town was very tastefully decorated, every street and every house. The line of march was as follows: First the marshals, which were J. J. Compton, William Ross and Sidney Mack. Hallstead police, German band, of Scranton, Scranton Noy Aug Hose company, Scranton hose cart, Scranton Noy Aug steamer, Great Bond hose cart, Susquehanna band, Keystone Hook and Ladder company, R. C. DeBois Hook and Ladder company, Hallstead band, Hallstead Fire company, Hallstead Noy Aug steamer, Town Council, City Officials and guests.

The proceeding of the day closed with a grand banquet and dance in the enormous tent that had been erected on the lawn in front of Fireman's hall for the occasion. Good order prevailed throughout and the occasion has been a grand success in every way. The day will long be remembered in the history of Hallstead.

Several other short addresses were made by the mayor, gentlemen from Scranton and others, interspersed with music from the different bands, all of which was of the finest. Then followed the contest between the Scranton Noy Aug steamer and the Hallstead Noy Aug steamer, which was won by the Hallstead Noy Aug.

The greatest feature of the day were those won by the Hallstead fire company for its unstinted, open handed hospitality. They could not do too much for their guests.

A Bad General Preemption.

I think it is not to be denied that the rules by which testimony is admitted or excluded, originating in the purpose of the English courts to protect innocent persons from prosecutions often malicious and accusations often false, under laws frequently unjust and arbitrary, do now sometimes prove effects unfair to society and partial to the criminal class. Taken in connection with the requirement of a unanimous verdict from twelve jurors, selected by a process that carefully sifts out intelligence and competence, the result, in a large proportion of cases, is the escape of the guilty at the cost and risk of the community. I am even tempted to go so far as to say that in a large class of criminal cases the presumption of innocence for the accused is, if not wholly unfounded, at least too obstinately maintained, and that the rights of society are ignored or violated.—Scribner's.

Illustrating the Immensity of Space.

A photographic plate exposed to the heavens in a large telescope for any considerable length of time shows nothing but a continuous blur of light, indicating that the photographic eye sees beyond the reach of human vision such a multitude of suns that every part of space is filled. One may gain some inkling of the immensity of space by supposing the photographic plate exposed upon the remotest star in our records and looking out still further to find the heavens still crowded with millions of millions of suns, each possibly having its quota of planets.—Springfield Union.

Using Smoke as a Screen.

Through experiments made by English military authorities it has been found that whenever the atmosphere is laden with smoke or mist the power of an electric light is greatly diminished by crossing the beam of light by that of another at a certain angle. At the point of intersection the illuminated space is practically made a screen. It is proposed to utilize this knowledge, since the electric beam can thus be made to serve as a screen, back of which tactical operations might be conducted in secret.—Boston Transcript.
