QUARLES HAD NO SUPPORT.

Poor Fielding of the Scranton Club Lost the Game.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 7.—Quarles shot out Springfield today for five innings without a hit or run. After that Springfield's long hits began to go on and, aided by the poor fielding of the Scrantons, the game was easily won by the home team.

NEWS NOTES FROM WALES.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. LONDON, Aug. 29.—The popular South Wales weekly, the Cardiff Times, has dispatched a special correspondent to St. Winifred's well, at Holywell, to inquire into the genuineness of the miraculous cures made there.

BASE BALL BRIEFS.

It is said that Jessie Berkett, of the Cleveland, will play on the Giant outfield next year. Manager Kelly claims that he did not know he was scheduled to play as Erie until it was too late to get his men together.

It seems that Empire Connolly was at fault for the disgraceful scene in Scranton, in which Outfielder Griffin figured. Connolly was drunk and struck Griffin in the face for disputing his decisions.

COMING PIGEON SHOOT.

Will Be Held at Ball Park on September 23. There will be a pigeon shooting match held at the Scranton Ball park on Friday, Sept. 23, under the auspices of Green Ridge Gun club.

No entries will be received after Sept. 15. Each shooter will shoot at twenty-five pigeons. All ties will be shot off at five birds each. The rise will be twenty-one yards; eighty yard boundary. The use of one barrel only will be allowed, and the position of gun must be as follows.

STORIES OF THE STAGE.

Some Rather Good Ones Narrated by Actor W. H. Crane.

Actor Crane is credited with these stories of the stage: There is a well-known manager who is generally regarded as the Mrs. Mainprop of the profession, and the anecdotes of his laughable mistakes in the use of words and his general misunderstanding of much that is said in his presence are among the most amusing theatrical happenings that have ever come under my observation.

WANTED—SPECIALTY ADVERTISING.

cash-vouchers-men familiar with premium mercantile trade. Money maker of 1894. STANLEY B. BRADLEY, 7 East sixteenth street, New York.

GENERAL AGENTS WANTED—SELLING new articles to dealers; exclusive territory, no competition, no capital required; to be present during a rehearsal at his theater, when he noticed that the gentleman who manipulated the cornet in the orchestra was not playing. "Look here," said the manager, coming down to the footlights, "why aren't you playing?" "Because, sir, I have sixteen bars rest here," said the cornet player pointing to the score of his music. "Rest!" said the exasperated manager. "Do I pay you to rest? Now, you go right ahead and play. If I catch you resting again I'll discharge you." On the same occasion a young actress in the play undergoing rehearsal made an entrance in a way that he did not like. "Here," he exclaimed, impatiently, "that is not the way to make that entrance. You must come in parqueting on your toes." Of course the worthy soul meant prouetting. I once sat behind this same manager at a banquet when he was called on to respond to the toast, "The Stage," and he did so in a speech which for grammatical errors was simply unique. When he sat down a waiter who was present arose and proposed the united healths of the gentleman who had just sat down and Lindley Murray. This toast was drunk amid shouts of laughter, and meanwhile the victim of the joke turned to me and asked, angrily: "What did that fellow mean by proposing me and Lindley Murray together? I don't know any Lindley Murray. Why, I never heard of him. Is he any relation to Patsy Murray, what used to keep the gin mill in Heester street?"

FOOTLIGHT SPARKS.

Europe has 1,500 theaters. Boston has fourteen theaters. Anna Reed is with "Aladdin." Mansfield has engaged Amy Bushy. Calve will tour America next season. Felix Morris will produce "The Best Man." Tragedian Salvini was born in a palace. William A. Brady will produce "Faust." Jean de Reszke is an enthusiastic bicyclist. Mantell will do "Hamlet" and "Othello." Mansfield will produce "Arms and the Man." Robert Hilliard will star in "The Nominee." F. E. Belleville is with the Rose Coghlan company. Emma Nevada will produce Wagner's "The Fairies" in this country. Marie Wainwright will impersonate two sisters in the "Daughters of Love." Hausmann's "Enoch Arden" will be sung at the Berlin Opera next winter. Henry Irving may attempt a serious play written by Mrs. Humphry Ward. Verona Jarboe will produce "Starlight" fame, will not scintillate this season. "1492" received its four hundred and seventh performance on Friday night in New York. Lawrence Hanley and George Osborne have been engaged for Gratton Donnelly's "An American Girl." The play called "The Trolley System" will be a rapid transit American theatrical company to fame and glory. A topical song, 3,000 years old was sung in a comic opera lately produced in Australia by a traveling Chinese company. Joseph Jefferson will be seen this season in the "Cricket on the Hearth" and "Rip Van Winkle," but will not play in New York. The mythological ballet is out of fashion in France, and has been so for the past fifty years, but it seems to flourish still in Russia. Paris has one theater to every 32,000 inhabitants; New York one to every 60,000 inhabitants and Scranton one to every 33,500 inhabitants. The Delta Fox made her debut in "The Little Trooper" at the New York Casino and the crowd in attendance was the largest in the history of the house. Verange de la Nux, of Paris, has just finished a musical drama, taken from Sophocles, entitled "Labdacides." The principal role will be taken by the young American soprano, Miss Courtney. Robert McWade, whose impersonation of the Rabbi in "Friend Fritz" was so thoroughly enjoyed by Scrantons last season, will appear this winter in the "Young Mrs. Winthrop" company. Rose Coghlan will present only three plays this season, "Diplomacy," "A Woman of No Importance" and the "Woman in White." The former two will be seen here at the Frothingham next week. Stuart Robson's season begins in a week. This year he will play "Leap Year or the Ladies' Privilege," "The Henrietta" and "She Stoops to Conquer." A new comedy will be produced later in the season.
