SCRANTON, SEPTEMBER 10, 1894.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET. For Governor: DANIEL H. HASTINGS, OF CENTER.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET. For County Judge: JOSEPH A. SCRANTON.

PROFESSOR HOWELL almost has an action for breach of promise against the Democratic slate-makers.

Amerman for Congress.

The predicament has with which the Democratic slate makers on Saturday turned to Mr. Amerman was hardly complimentary to the four or five other gentlemen whom they had successively sought to inveigle into an acceptance of a hopeless nomination for congress.

In a personal and professional sense Mr. Amerman is a gentleman for whom we entertain the highest respect, nor would we willingly say anything of his political associations that would tend to wound his feelings or interrupt the cordiality of our individual relations.

There have been times when, with cleverness of disguise, a protectionist could successfully masquerade as a Democrat. There have been times when the people, trusting in Democratic goodness of heart to neutralize the eccentricities of the Democratic brain, have been generous enough to confide the keeping of the industrial interests of Lackawanna county to the hands of an economic Ishmaelite.

MR. FAHEY has the prestige of one small victory behind him, but when Prothonotary Pryor gets through with his case that prestige will be swallowed up in an utter infinity of defeat.

With a Grain of Salt. A good deal of unnecessary stir is being made, just now, because of the announced intention of the Sugar Planters' association of Louisiana to support the Republican candidates for congressmen in that state.

But in any larger view of the question we are convinced that the Republican press makes a mistake in attributing to the selfish action of the Louisiana planters fundamental and permanent political significance.

We do not wish to rebuff southern converts to the beneficent principle of protection to American industries; but we regard it as no more than fair to insist that these converts, in order to be received with the fatted calf and a brass band, shall first be genuine. They must, in other words, be disposed to accord to other sections and other interests an equal measure of protection to that demanded for their own.

This the Louisiana planters will not do; and their conversion to Republicanism must, therefore, be taken cum grano salis.

CLERK OF COURTS JOHN H. THOMAS has been physically "under the weather" for the past few days, but he will recuperate in abundant time to make things interesting for his Democratic opponent.

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE to measure the usefulness of such a career as was that of Professor Helmholtz, whose death is just noted in a brief cable dispatch. There is scarcely a department of natural science which his patient and accurate researches have not illumined.

THE REFRAIN in Mr. Comegys' mind just now as he reflects upon the slate makers' ingratitude unconsciously takes on this meter: "Perhaps you did well to dissemble your love, But why did you kick me down stairs?"

Keep an Eye on Maine.

Following closely after the phenomenal vote cast for the Republican candidate for governor of Vermont, Mr. Woodbury, whose plurality of 28,000 is the largest ever polled in that state, will come today's verdict in Maine upon this Democratic administration and what it has done and undone.

An analysis of the Vermont vote is interesting as giving an advance hint of what may be expected in Maine. The completed returns show a gain of 15,292 over the plurality for the Republican ticket in 1890, the last of year election, and the total vote is larger by 10,234 than that given for governor the last Presidential year.

In a personal and professional sense Mr. Amerman is a gentleman for whom we entertain the highest respect, nor would we willingly say anything of his political associations that would tend to wound his feelings or interrupt the cordiality of our individual relations.

We do not wish to rebuff southern converts to the beneficent principle of protection to American industries; but we regard it as no more than fair to insist that these converts, in order to be received with the fatted calf and a upon by every current. Bourbonism is dead in France, we believe for all time. The count of Paris, in politics, was a reminiscence and will soon cease to be even that.

REV. DR. PARKHURST gets back to New York to find himself no longer sneered at, but wholesomely honored, respected and feared. The courage of one brave man, in other words, has routed the entrenched villainy of whole generations of knaves.

THE PERSONAL element in politics never counted for less than it does now. In a crisis involving the very life or death of fundamental principles, it matters little what names the temporary candidates bear.

THE CORRUPT use of money in politics is a cry which, however truthful in some instances, is generally most exaggerated by the guiltiest corruptionist of them all.

SO QUICKLY was the Sando senatorial boom done for, one may, perhaps, be pardoned for querying what it was begun for.

THE DEMOCRATIC hope that is built up on Republican secession deserves to collapse.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The suggestion—which originated with THE TRIBUNE—that Colonel Thomas C. Zimmerman, of Reading, would prove the most acceptable antagonist whom the Republicans of the Ninth district could pit against Comstock J. Erdman, has met with cordial favor from every person except the one most intimately concerned in it.

The Philadelphia delegation in the next house of state representatives is expected to line up as follows, new men being indicated by a star: District. 1 George A. Vero, James Clancy, Adolph Boyer, Jr., Alfred H. Boyer, 5 William Reeves, 19 William H. Keyser, 6 John Cruise, John H. Reibel, 7 Samuel Seltzer, Kirkwood, 8 John M. Scott, 21 John T. Harrison, 9 Courtland K. Bolles, 22 Franklin Reed, 11 Henry Grunwald, 23 Edward J. 13 H. Thomas Dunlap, 24 Samuel Peitz, 14 William M. Kidd, George W. B. Hicks, 15 Watson Fenwick, 25 John Gilmore, John B. De Vellin, Robert Smith, 16 James S. Stewart, 26 Samuel Crothers, Elias Abram, 27 George W. 18 John A. E. Kniss, Henry F. Walton.

A careful analysis has been made at the congressional annual headquarters of the congressional vote so far as it has unfolded opportunities for observation. Down to the present time, of the districts now Democratic, 131 have made nominations. Of this number, ninety-seven are re-nominations and thirty-four are new nominations. This gives a ratio of 74 per cent. of re-nominations and but 26 per cent. of new nominations.

As an aid to the attraction of backward delegates it is announced that Candidate Singler will actually be present and "shake hands with the boys" at the re-convened Democratic state convention to be held at Harrisburg Wednesday. This announcement has been interpreted as a cause of the difficulty experienced in getting delegates to attend. There are 54 delegates in all; and about 400 want to see themselves in the hotly of a special journey to the state capital all to no conceivable purpose.

That sterling Schuylkill county Republican, Major Sam Losh, having found that things were actually to go his way politically speaking, this year, has wisely decided to seek his fortune in business cares. Major Losh has leased from the Losh company a coal tract extending from Lorberry to Lower Ransh Creek and containing what is known in that section as the "Lorberry mammoth vein."

The Philadelphia Times must have grown sarcastic when it said on Saturday "Chairman Stranahan will open headquarters at the Lafayette hotel, Sept. 17, and is now in consultation, with leaders of the party all over the state in reference to the effective programme of speakers for the campaign. In this programme some of the best Democrats of the country will engage and an aggressive campaign, covering many questions and not a single issue, will be presented to the voters."

Upon the first page is an interesting special article reviewing the campaign in New York state. Those who are interested in politics at all will be interested in this resume of the situation in the greatest political state in the Union, showing, as it does, the disadvantages of over confidence and the faculty of the belief, which obtains even in Pennsylvania, that "every thing is going our way" this fall. If this feeling shall not soon be guarded against, the Democrats will take advantage of it in more states than one. Too much confidence is often worse than not enough.

Frank Thompson of Lackawanna and Colonel R. Bruce Eickets of Luzerne, are the executive committee members of the Democratic society of Pennsylvania, from this section, who will meet at Harrisburg tomorrow to fix the time for the society's general assembly at Altoona.

Speaking of coincidences, here is a good one, mentioned by Representative G. W. Stone at Harrisburg. "I live in Warren, which is the county seat of Warren county; my middle name is Warren, I have a son named Warren and I am for Warren for league president."

day that he would abide by the decision of the convention, and would use his influence and efforts to elect the whole Republican ticket. He says he is a loyal Republican, and because he was not a winner he does not propose to sink or to show ingratitude for what the party has done for him in the past.

From the safe distance of Atlantic City Chairman Stranahan announces that the Democrats will carry the Twelfth district. The genial chairman will understand things better when he shall get closer to the scene.

Every prospect favors the election of Emerson Collins as state representative from Williamsport, in lieu of Walter B. Ritter. Mr. Collins, if elected, would be the first Republican in many years to carry his district.

Oct. 23 is the date of General Hastings' visit to Scranton. It is worth while for Republicans to keep this date in mind.

PROTECT THE TREES.

The SCRANTON TRIBUNE of Sept. 8 contained a pertinent editorial in reference to the deplorable destruction of our forests now being wrought by the terrible fires now raging over our land. The article related in brief the old country system of preserving the forests, by which they are defended from destruction by the elements as well as the vandalism of man. The press cannot too strongly and persistently urge upon our legislators the wisdom of devising and embodying in law some system of preserving and promoting our timber growth and woodland scenery.

SCRANTON'S MANIFEST DESTINY.

Recent theories are confirmed by practical experiments. Scranton is destined to become the electric center of the middle states. It is said that electricity can be generated at the calm banks in the Lackawanna and Wyoming valleys, and sold at a price per horse power in towns east of Syracuse, N. Y., below the cost per horse power at the Niagara plant.

Do not be deceived.

The following brands of White Lead are still made by the "Old Dutch" process of slow corrosion. They are standard, and always Strictly Pure

White Lead

The recommendation of "Atlantic," "Beymer-Bauman," "Jewett," "Davis-Chambers," "Fahnestock," "Armstrong & McKelvey," to you by your merchant is an evidence of his reliability, as he can sell you cheap ready-mixed paints and bogus White Lead and make a larger profit. Many short-sighted dealers do so.
