AT THE THEATERS.

There is no tragedian on the American stage who excels Thomas W. Keene, and Scranton theater-goers will have an opportunity to see him next Monday night in "Richelieu," one of his best characters. It is a powerful play and in the hands of Keene and his splendid company receives an interpretation that does justice to the characters Bulwer Lytton introduced into it. The Keene engagement will be one of the notable ones of the season,

The Frothingham will give its patrons next week Alexander Duma's great drama "The Clemenceau Case," and Sydney Grundy's laughable comedy "An Arabian Night. Reno & Williams have surrounded Miss Laura Alberta with a strong supporting company in presenting the above two plays. On Monday and Wednosday "The Clemenceau Case," on Tuesday "An Ara-bian Night."

Tuesday evening the original New York company will present "A Trip to China-town" at the Academy of Music. It is clever musical concert and sstarizes popular themes and characters of the day, inlar themes and characters of the day, introduces pretty songs, attractive girls and clever comedians, affording an evening's entertainment in which there is hardly a break in the langhter. The piece will be produced in exactly the same manner as at Hoyt's theatre, New York, and with the original New York cast, which includes Messra. Harry Conor, George Bean, Harry Gilfoli, Julius Whatcark, George Sinclaire and the Misses Clayton, Nellie Parker, Sadie Kirby and Corn Tinnie.

The famous Watson Sisters Extravi-ganza company, headed by the celebrated lyric artist, Ida Siddons, who will introlyric artis, ida Siddons, who will intro-duce her latest Parisian sonsation, the butterfly dance, will be seen at Davis' theatre next week. The organization is an excellent one and will no doubt make a an excellent one and will no doubt make a big bit. It is the strongest show of its kind in existence, as the bill says the compuny consists of "a metoric avalanche of luminary stars, startling, dazzling and bewildering to the gaza." There are sylphlike beauties in dainty gavottes, sterling comedians bubbling over with wit, humor and comic songs, and the most extravagent fancy cannot conceive the dashing splendor of the talismanic productions.

MR. MELLICK LOST PATIENCE to the Police and Had

of His Tormenters Arrested-They Spent the Evening in the Station House-Boys Make an Effort to Destroy an Awning. Personal and Naws Notes.

A large number of people gathered in the Gospel tent last evening to hear Dr. Bilss' able discourse on "Heaven and Hell," The meeting opened with a song service after which Rev. D. W. Skellinger prayed. E. W. Bliss read a portion of the Scriptures and then a delightful solo was rendered by Mr. Stebbins. Prayer was given by Rev. T. J. Collins and a free will offering vas made.

Last evening's discourse proved to be a most fruitful one, as many souls were brought to the folds of the Lord. Mr. Bliss will deliver his farewell West Side sermon this evening. He has done much good during his stay in this city, and his departure will be regretted.

TROUBLESOME BOYS.

They Weary Jacob Mellick and He Ra taliates.

Jacob Mellick, the proprietor of cattle pound on South Main avenue, has been greatly troubled of late by loys who congregate in the vicinity. They take their cue from the older residents, who are greatly opposed to Meilick and the pound, and often shake their fists in his face.

Last evening a number of the boys assembled at the above place and began to use vile nam a. Mr. Mellick notified the police and Officers Hetzetroth and Lowry went to the scene. Three of the lads were captured. They give their names as L Doran, John Thomas and William Williams. Alderman Johns gave them a hearing in the police court. They were fined $1 50 and coats, in default of which they spent the evening in the station house.

Y. M. C. A. EVENING SCHOOL.

Opening Reciption Will Be Held of Thursday Evening, Sept 27. Last year's attendance at the Young Men's Christian association's evening classes was too large for the class rooms at the disposal of the educational committee. At its last meeting the board of directors authorized the enlarge-ment of the class rooms on the third loor, and the work is now nearing It is expected that an opening recep-tion will be held on Thursday evening, Sept. 27, at which time the students who have enrolled and all who may desire to do so will have the work explained to them and will be assigned to the proper classes.

The Young Men's Christian association's educational department fills a place which can be occupied by no other institution in the city, with its superb building combining with its educational advantages, other attractive privileges such as the social receptions, concerts and gymnasjum classes.

A young man not only has the oppor-tunity for development along the specal line for which he enters the association, but has the opportunity for, and incentive to, an all round development. Another feature of the Young Men's Christian association evening school is very noticeable, that is, it is practic-ally a free school. The entire cost of a membership ticket which admits the holder to all the privileges of the asso-ciation for one year, being but $7. The classes which will be taken up in this winter's work are as follows: Arithmetic, algebra, architectural drawing, bookkeeping, English literature, gram mar, history, penmanship, physics, stenography, vocal music, political economy, commercial law, mechanical drawing. Recitations will begin on Monday, Oct. 1 at 7 30 o'clock.

MR. MOODY'S WORK.

Evangelist D. L. Moody left at midnight Tuesday for his home at Northfield, Mass. Mr. Moody is at the head of a powerful mission force which at various times has made itself felt over a large portion of the world and the present work is but a small part of the great mission work which is being carried out in Pennsylvania. The being carried out in Pennsylvania. The staff comprises besides its great leader, Mr. Moody, the eminent Evangelist Bliss, who has so successfully labored on the West Side; Evangelist Schiverea, whose work has been so singularly blessed in Pittston, and Major Whittle, another evangelist of great renown. The musical services are in charge of George C. Stabbins, the composer of many well known sweet gospel tunes, whose cultivated voice has accomplished so much to help Mr. Moody in the great work, and Mr. Weeden, a gifted and able musician who, although young in years, has done substantial comprisions of the state of the stat although young in years, has done sub-stantial work in the great movement.

Mr. Moody, however, has been the cen-tral figure in Scranton, and any one who attended but a few of his meetings must have been impressed with the fact that Mr. Moody's leading trait was that which is essential to a successful revivalist, viz: proclaiming the pure and unadulterated truth. No one escaped his preaching, from ministers to the humblest member of God's ministers to the humblest member of God's kingdom. No trade, no profession but their weak points were touched upon: no conscience but was reached. The direct benefits of Mr. Moody's invaluable services cannot be seen or weighed, but no impartial man would for a moment doubt that immense benefits will accrue if the churches will but take advantage of the great wave of religious enthusiasm created by the evangelist. If there is a time-serving minister in the city, the words of Mr. Moody must have cut him to the quick, and self examination must follow. There must be a large number of church memmust be a large number of church bers to whom the sermons would be di rectly applicable, and here lies the great point in the evangelist's words.

To quicken the converted, to stir up the indifferent church members. If Mr. Moody has not accomplished this in the last twelve days, then the effect of his work has been mi-judged. Here, then, will be the opportunity to realize one great benefit of the mission. Mr. Moody laid great stress on the quickening of the converted. "We want more good Samaritans in our churches," said he, "and the churches will soon draw." This is the pith of the whole question. This is the real test of the success of the mission—an in-crease in church membership. Mr. Moody has only commenced the work, and it remains in the hands of the churches to fol-low it up. He has shown the way even to painful details almost, and it now rests with the pastors and churches of Scranton to decide. Shall the mission be in vain? Mr. Stebbins will leave to assist Major Whittle in a series of services at Mauch Chunk. Mr. Schiverea and Mr. Weeden will continue the services at Hyde Park and Mr. Bliss will conduct services at Providence, where the tent now in Pittston will be erected.

His Wife Stated That He Has Not Written a Single Letter to Her Since His Disappearance-Patrick Mc-Cann's Leg Broken by Sliding Down a Culm Plane-William O'Donnell and John Drummy Assaulted in Mi-

For several days a rumor has been current to the effect that the erring Rev. C. L. Wisswasser had returned to his wife and family. The fact is, Mr. Wisswaesser has not returned, and, further, although this is the third time since his dissappearance he is said to have returned, not even a single line has he written to his wife or family.

The rumor had it that the expression was in the city visiting his family, but keeping himself behind screens. The result of this rumor attracted to Mrs. Wisswaesser's house a motley crowd of people, from the common street arab to the man of a family. Their conduct has made the life of herself and family miserable. She, with her two danguters, is living with her mother at 420 Hickory street. Her father, Fred Pfeifer, their only support, has been at the Lackawanna bospital for eight weeks, and his debilitated condition does not give encouragement that he will be soon well and able to work again. To add further to her burden she is besieged by inquisitive neighbors, and the crowd that congregates in the street hoot and yell and throw stones and tin cans at the door.

A TRIBUNE reporter called at her house last night and was obliged to edge his way through a heterogenous group of humanity. After being admitted to the house, the family was found in a terror stricken condition. The reporter learned from Mrs. Wisswasser that her husband not only was not home, but had not sent one letter to her in his absence.
