

WEST SIDE

TENT SERVICES CLOSED.

Mr. Schievers Concludes the Campaign on This Side. Just one month ago the Mooly meetings were begun on this side by E. W. Bliss in a large tent which had been constructed for that purpose on North Main avenue.

Yesterday's meeting opened at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon in the Jackson Street Baptist church. The services opened with song, after which F. W. Pearall, secretary of the Railroad Young Men's Christian association, prayed.

NEW CAR SCHEDULE.

Various Changes Made in the West Side Cars. A new schedule for West Side street cars went into effect yesterday morning. Under the new rule only one car will be run on the Sweetland street line, and instead of making trips to the central city, it now runs only to the corner of Main avenue and Jackson street.

Only three cars are on the Elyon and Taylor line, but as one runs only to Elyon street, a 30-minute service is obtained. With these changes in time a car can be had about every five minutes.

How long the new schedule will be in effect is not known, as a member of the Traction company stated yesterday it was only a preliminary effort in procuring a system which suited both the company and the public.

A FAREWELL RECEPTION.

Sunday School Scholars Honor Their Classmate. A farewell reception was last night tendered to T. Albert Elyon, son of A. B. Elyon, of North Hyde Park avenue, who will enter the University of Pennsylvania on Wednesday next, by the members of his Sunday school class.

The concert and social last night at St. John's hall under the auspices of the Dickson Banjo and Quartet club was a musical treat enjoyed by a large audience. The club will arrange a series of entertainments during the next month and give a large liberal patronage.

Among those connected with the society are Judge H. M. Edwards, D. C. Powell, Henry P. Davies, W. J. Brace, Evan P. Davies and others. The programs for this evening will be a very interesting one. SOUTH SIDE.

STORIES OF A STRANGE MARRIAGE.

Report of the Union of a White Girl and Colored Man. There have been many stories going the rounds the past few days on the South Side to the effect that Miss Nellie Barry, the attractive young daughter of Mrs. Peter Barry, of 14 Stone avenue, and George Jones, the colored mail carrier, had been married, or rather had eloped to Binghamton and joined hands together for life. Yesterday the marriage docket in the clerk of the courts' office showed that they had obtained a marriage license, and this exploded the elopement story. The matter was investigated and very little definite information could be learned. A visit to the girl's home resulted in naught; her sister, with whom she had been staying until a week ago, was unable to tell her whereabouts, or whether she had been married or not. The girl's mother left for Boston two weeks ago, preferring to leave the town rather than witness her daughter's alliance with Jones. SCHOOLS OVERCROWDED.

Superintendent Phillips Looking for Quarters for the Overplus. The primary department of No. 2 and No. 3 schools are densely overcrowded with pupils. The attendance this year is more than any previous year; it breaks the record. School Superintendent George W. Phillips is looking about for suitable rooms to rent for the accommodation of the number above the average and will bring the case to the attention of the board of control at its next meeting.

SOUTH SIDE JOTTINGS.

The Lawrence band will picnic today at Central park. Miss Libbie Kroner, of Cedar avenue, is visiting in Pittston. Mrs. Peter Drier, of Hickory street, is visiting friends in Elmira. Miss Anna Spruks, of Honduras, is the guest of her brother, S. S. Spruks. The Masonic club had its first rehearsal in two months last night. Miss Elsie Brown, of Taylor avenue, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. L. D. Powers. Thomas Spruks, of Prospect avenue, will leave on a trip to Honduras on Monday. The excursion of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel Company Mutual Beneficial association to Lake Ariel today promises to be a big event. All the industries on the South Side are idle to give a chance to their employes to attend. The concert and social last night at St. John's hall under the auspices of the Dickson Banjo and Quartet club was a musical treat enjoyed by a large audience. The club will arrange a series of entertainments during the next month and give a large liberal patronage. George Hamm, of Pittston avenue, a boy 13 years old, a pupil at No. 3 school, was playing in the schoolyard yesterday afternoon. With other boys he was playing "catch" with a baseball and one of the boys threw the ball wild to him and it bounded over the high fence, and fell heavily to the ground, sustaining a compound fracture of the left arm. Dr. Walsh set the broken member.

They will give their report at the meeting of the union to be held in the lecture rooms on Green Ridge street on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Benjamin Jenkins, of Patnam street, died yesterday morning from the effects of a paralytic stroke and affection of the brain. She was affected about two weeks ago and lingered till yesterday. Funeral services will be held at the residence on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment at Forest Hill cemetery. Mrs. Rooney, widow of the late Thomas Rooney, of Market street, is expected to die at any moment as the result of an accident she recently met with. She has been in a feeble condition for a long time. Mrs. Rooney is one of the first settlers in the locality known as Bloom's patch. She has two sons, Martin, the barber on Market street, and John. A service will be preached in the Green Ridge Presbyterian church by Rev. N. F. Stahl tomorrow morning and by Rev. Mr. Chaffee in the Asbury

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH TOMORROW EVENING.

All members of the Women's Christian Temperance union are requested to meet in the vestibule of each church before times of opening so as to take the seats which will be reserved for them. Not only was the tent completely filled last evening, but a large number were around the outside to hear the sermon by E. W. Bliss on "Compassion." Meetings will be held in the tent on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and also at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. There will be meetings in the tent every evening at 7:30 o'clock, and Bible lectures by Mr. Bliss in the Methodist Episcopal church every afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, beginning with Tuesday, when the subject will be "Peter," on Wednesday, "Abraham," Thursday, "The Baptist," and on Friday, "Philip."

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied, for publication, by a large number of subscribers. We will not be held responsible for opinions here expressed.

MR. FOSTER ANSWERED.

Editor of THE TRIBUNE: Sir: Replying to Mr. Foster in last night's issue, I am glad to see that you have some intelligence indeed to believe that Scranton printers would have had an opportunity of printing the annual report of the Board of Trade after the same had been published it had been given to W. A. Costa, of Wilmington, and the printing of it had been left to the discretion of the publishing committee of the board, of which Mr. Foster is the chairman, when Mr. Foster so emphatically asserts that Scranton printers cannot do the work. Mr. Foster, this charge of yours has against the indignation of printers which is a high pitch. It touches their pride and no one cares to be accused of being a poor workman or of having misled workmen in his employ. The fact that you have thousands of dollars worth of printing done every month at two or three offices of twenty or thirty printers each, and here you prove nothing in this case. If the work which you have done is a sample of the best work that the most skillful printers in Scranton can do, then I heartily agree with you in your condemnation. This work is first-class of its kind, but it is a very cheap kind of work and ought not to be the standard by which the printing industry of Scranton is to be judged. If you wish to be convinced that Scranton can turn out beautiful printing I can refer you to an establishment which has visited this morning, and where I saw some of the finest letter-press and cut work that can be turned out in this country. It is superior to any establishment I have seen in my annual report, for his idea is after the Rochester report, which, though good, is not nearly so well done. My criticism does not mean to touch the work of the W. A. Costa concern nor their enterprising representative here, Thomas K. Boyle. In closing, if you really wish to save Scranton from the disgrace of being called to do this work, would you suggest that you do a little more specific in your specifications, for when I acted upon your advice this morning, I was not able to do so. I should like to see the specifications he pointed to for his work and said "they're in here." Of course my time was too valuable to admit of searching through so many call statistics for these specifications. GEORGE W. SMITHING, Scranton, Pa., Sept. 21.

THOSE RIVAL BUSINESS SCHOOLS.

Editor of THE TRIBUNE: Sir: In the newspaper advertisements headed "Wood's College Notes" it is said: "The change of faculty has made the school much more efficient and practical." It is not a patron, either of the college, nor financially, or otherwise, interested in the building up of the new school, but I have noticed the tenor and insinuations of these advertisements and "College Notes," and am constrained to say that I do not think it reflects much to the credit of Professor Wood to cast such insinuations. The fact that he has employed Professor Brock since he established his college in Scranton, and Professor Whitmore for four or five years, shows that he is a big thing. Either he considered them efficient teachers, and is now trying to injure them, because they have started in business for themselves (with equal success) and are doing so, as he had to open a college here in 1880, or else he knew he was employing incompetent teachers and talking money into the pockets of his pupils, and is now giving them nothing in return for their money. In whatever light you consider it, Professor Wood places himself in an unfavorable position, and he will not be successful in trying to build up his school by attempting to tear down his competitors, and to injure honest men in their effort to make an honest living. Yours for justice, J. K. BUCKMIRE, SCRANTON, PA., Sept. 21.

JUST TWO YEARS ago we flung our banner to the breeze and floated into the stream of business. We were confident of success from the start and our confidence led us to expect great results. We went in to win. Our friends were with us, as they are still—with thousands of new ones added. Our aim has been to conduct a business establishment upon a fair and honorable basis—to make our customers' interests our own, to deal with all alike on a strictly one-price system, and that always the very lowest possible price; to keep only the most reliable makes of goods, that we might appeal to you on their merits. Have we succeeded?

HERE ARE A FEW FACTS

We realize that to accomplish this we must give it our divided attention. Our endeavors will be to please our customers, to satisfy their wants with the best classes of merchandise obtainable and at prices as low and, in many cases, lower than any other house in our city. The results are even greater than our expectations and we heartily thank our friends for their substantial support in the past and hope that our methods and efforts will merit a continuance of the same.
