JAPAN IS NOW A GREAT POWER

The Kingdom to Be Recognized by Nations of the Earth.

RESULTS OF THE KOREAN WAR

Officials of the Japanese Legation at London Claim that the Sinking of the Kow Shing Was Perfectly Proper--The Army of the Mikado Contemplate Making a Dash at Peking.

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 24. A RESCRIPT has been issued con- voking an extra session of the Japanese parliament at Hiro- shima on Oct. 15, for seven days, in order to discuss matters requiring the sanction of parliament.

A letter received from Tien-Tsin says that the Chinese fleet landed 7,000 troops on the banks of the Yalu river, in spite of the attack of the Japanese squadron. The letter adds that the Chinese ships engaged in the battle fought off the Yalu river were short of ammunition. They were ordered by Colonel Von Hannekin to ram the Japanese vessels; but the order was given too late, as the Japanese were already retreating.

LONDON, Sept. 24.--The officials of the Japanese legation deny the story sent by cable of Vancouver, B. C., that the Kow Shing affair has been settled by the Japanese government apologizing and paying an indemnity of $75,000. They add that Japan holds that the sinking of the transport was fully justified.

The Daily News, commenting upon a dispatch stating that Japan has a fresh army of 80,000 men ready to take the field, says it is unlikely that they are going to Korea and that there can only be one other destination, namely, a dash upon Peking. The Japanese general has announced with unnecessary frankness his intention to seize Muk- den, but he is known to be a master in the art of deceiving the enemy, and could not easily send an army to Peking, a great part of the way by sea.

A dispatch from Berlin to the Stand- ard says it is stated that the Japanese army, which is to march to Peking, will be accompanied by the Japanese squad- ron to the mouth of the Hai Ho river. The army and fleet will remain in constant touch.

JAPAN IS A POWER

The Times this morning publishes a leading article, in which it says that Japan has already effected enough to convince intelligent men the world over that henceforth they must reckon with a new power in the far east. Ping Yang and Yalu have opened the eyes of all not willfully indifferent or blind that a new state has taken her rank in the hierarchy of nations, and that her voice can no longer be ignored in their councils.

"The Navos Vremya," the Times says, "reminds us that Russia still bankers for the possession of a secure open harbor on the Pacific. Such a possession would be a great menace to both England and Japan, who are likely to be found standing side by side on some important points should the Navos intervene in the present dispute."

In another article, discussing the war, the Times calculates that the Japanese will certainly reach W-Ju from Ping Yang at the end of this week, and that they will meet the Chinese troops that were landed on the Korean bank of the Yalu river by Admiral Tiao. "It is not clear," the Times adds, "whether the Chinese transports had time to disembark their stores. At any rate the condition of the Chinese column must be precarious, and there seems to be nothing to prevent the Japanese squadron from retreating to the Yalu and destroying any Chinese transports that remain there. Further, it would be easy for the Japanese to move troops by sea from Ping Yang to the Yalu and to shift their base of operations further north, thus supplying reinforcements to the column marching northward from Ping Yang. This is almost certain to be done if an advance into Manchuria is intended."

AFRAID OF VIGILANTS

A Spokane County Politician Not Har- assed, but a Zealot.

SPOKANE, W. T., Sept. 24.--Charles F. Gloystein, a farmer of Mica, a vil- lage in Spokane county, who disap- peared in the early morning of July 31 last, has been found by the sheriff of Spokane at Grant, Ore., at work with a threshing outfit. The disappearance of Gloystein caused a big sensation in this state. It was claimed that he had been murdered by political enemies. Gloystein was a Republican and an active partisan. He had incurred the animosity of his neighbors, who, it is said, were members of the Freeman's Protective Silver Federation, a Popu- list organization. He was hanged in effigy some weeks previous to his dis- appearance. Governor McCraw offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of the murderers and the sheriff and several posse were actively engaged in searching for him. Gloystein, when he disappeared, left his wife in destitute circumstance. He refused to return, alleging that his life is in danger.

GAYNOR IS THE MAN.

Events on Eve of the Saratoga Con- vention Prove His Popularity.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 24.--The Democ- racy has arrived and Saratoga is packed to the roof. If numbers indi- cate victory, the ticket to be nominated at the convention which sits tomorrow will win easily. On the eve of the convention, after talking with the party leaders, and the exhausting every avenue of informa- tion nothing can be predicted with certainty as to its action, further than that it will be Democratic in every re- spect save to selection of the ticket.

IT NOW LOOKS LIKE VAUGHAN

Governor Watres Declines to Be Candidate for State Senator.

MENTIONED FOR CAMERON'S SEAT

Chairman La Touche, When Inter- viewed at His Moscow Home, Ex- plains That Attorney James C. Vaughan Is the Only Name He Has Heard Mentioned in Connection with the Twentieth District Sena- torial Nomination.

MOSCOW, Pa., Sept. 24. WITH a view of ascertaining the probable result of tomorrow's convention, one of THE TRIBUNE reporters interviewed Hon. John S. La Touche, chairman of the Twentieth Senatorial committee, at his home in this place today. Mr. La Touche expressed his views freely upon the subject, as a portion of the inter- view will show.

WATRES' POSITION

"What do you expect the Twentieth senatorial convention to do tomorrow," was asked of Chairman La Touche. "Will Lieutenant Governor Watres be a candidate?" "In my judgment, he will not," Mr. La Touche replied, "and for the reason that it is generally understood that his business interests demand his attention at present. Governor Watres has now been in Harrisburg for twelve years during which time he has necessarily been unable to give his private busi- ness interests the attention that they demand, and he has been very grate- ful for the kindly interest which the Republicans of this district take in him as evidenced in their unanimous wish to confer a third nomination upon him, but from conversations I have had with the governor I am inclined to be- lieve that in justice to him, some other Republican should be chosen this year. "Whom do you think, then, will be nominated?" "The only name I have heard men- tioned in the event of Mr. Watres' declining, which I know he will do, is James C. Vaughan, Esq. If there are others I have not heard of, they will be nominated."

LA TOUCHE'S VIEW

"Most assuredly. See here, when Colonel Watres was first nominated for state senator his district was re- garded as early Democratic by at least 2,500 plurality. The election turned this means into a 200 Repu- blican plurality. The second time he ran he not only had to face a strong Democratic candi- date but also a strong third party candidate in the person of Mr. Brad- bury, who polled 995 votes. Still, Sen- ator Watres was re-elected by a plu- rality equal to the first time. This popu- larity will be at the disposal of Mr. Vaughan of whom the Lieutenant Gov- ernor is a warm personal and political friend. There is no reason why, with the loyal support of the party which Mr. Vaughan thoroughly deserves, he cannot defeat Senator McDonald handily. Yes, I believe Mr. Vaughan is elected or any Republican who has the same elements of strength that he has, this year. You may quote me as pre- dicting that."

GOVERNOR WATRES' FUTURE

"But what will Lieutenant Gov- ernor Watres do?" "Take his coat off for the whole Re- publican ticket, state, legislative, sena- torial and county, and work like a beaver for its election, and after that devote his time to private interests. You know how he can work. That was shown very clearly in his senatorial career. There was no district can never have a more active or com- petent representative." "I know that, Mr. La Touche; but what of his future?" "Now, there you have me. I am not a prophet, but if there is anything in the expressions of party sentiment that I hear, not only in our own county, but elsewhere in the state, Governor Watres will by no means retire from active politics. In my opinion his election in 1890 as lieutenant governor was one of the highest tributes that could be paid to him by the state, he having received 28,000 Republican plurality at the same time that Governor Pattison re- ceived 17,000 Democratic plurality. Governor Watres stands high with his party, and deserves great credit for the magnificent campaign he conducted as state chairman in 1891. He has al- ways successfully met every emergency and is a man of the people. He would make a magnificent candidate to suc- ceed Don Cameron in 1897. There are many who think that Senator Cameron can do no better. But, as I said, I am no prophet. It is a long time now until 1897."

LA TOUCHE'S VIEW

"Then you think tomorrow's nominee will be James C. Vaughan?" "As I said before, I have heard of no other candidate, and with the lieuten- ant governor out of the field I know of no better one. Do you?" And the chairman winked significantly.

LIL WANTS DAMAGES.

Mr. Widemann Will Press Her Claim at Washington, It is Said. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.--It is stated on what appears to be good authority that the errand of H. A. Widemann, of Honolulu, to this country is to com- mence a damage suit against the United States on behalf of the ex- Queen of Hawaii. The amount of damage asked for is said to be $200,000, and the friends of the ex- Queen declare that this government has been instrumental in multi- plying her to that amount. Her claim is that the provisional govern- ment could never have been established, and herself deposed had it not been for

KENTUCKY IN ANOTHER CONFLICT

THE Tax Collector Says That He Has a Force of Determined Men Armed to the Teeth and He Declares That He Will Get the Money or Trouble Will Ensnare--A Grave Crisis in Union County.

STURGEON, Ky., Sept. 24. F Captain Blackwell carries out his threat there is going to be much bloodshed in this vicinity in the next forty-eight hours. Blackwell has declared he will collect the bond tax, and the taxpayers solemnly de- clare that he will not. Preparations on both sides are very warlike. The big cannon, the Dakover, which did service in the civil war, was rolled into position yesterday and rammed to the muzzle with powder and slugs. It was placed on the crest of a hill which commands the entrance to the precincts affected by the tax. The approach of the posse will be the signal for the posse to form ranks and meet the enemy. The situation is critical, and an armed colli- sion is almost a certainty.

Captain Blackwell was appealed to by the ministers yesterday to give up his project, but he was deaf to the en- treaties, and announced his intention of collecting the tax. He said: "My men are ready, and my guns, which were ordered from Boston, have arrived. Where they are stored I re- fused to state. When we start I also intend to try not to give any man a chance to get away. Those people owe that tax and must pay it. As for the bullets they have for us, I guess I can stand them, as none of the men I take will be other than men who have stood fire."

ADDITION TO BAR OF THE COUNTY.

T. V. Powderly Admitted to Practice in the Lackawanna Courts.

T. V. Powderly, ex-governor master workman of the Knights of Labor, is now a member of the Lackawanna county bar. He was admitted yester- day morning, on motion of ex-Justice Frank H. Hand, and immediately after- ward received the hearty congratula- tions of the members of the bar who were in court at the time.

Mr. Powderly has been a law student since 1878. On Feb. 20 of that year he was elected mayor of this city and on March 11 following registered as a student-at-law in the office of City Solicitor I. H. Burns. Mr. Powderly pursued his studies in connection with his duties as mayor of Scranton until the latter part of 1879, when he was elected general master workman of the Knights of Labor, which position he filled until last Novem- ber.

His duties as the head of that great labor organization naturally gave him little time to devote to his law studies, but as soon as he retired from the po- sition of general master workman, he resumed law in a systematic man- ner. He has been a student in the office of ex-Judge P. P. Smith since last January.

His plans for the future are not ma- tured, he says, but there is a possibil- ity that he may remove to New York and reside there permanently.

PLANS FOR THE FUTURE.

Scranton Baptist Association Recon- venges After Summer Vacation.

The first business meeting of the Scranton Baptist association after vaca- tion term was held yesterday morn- ing at the Penn avenue Baptist church when a committee was appointed to prepare a programme for the weekly meetings. The committee members are Rev. W. G. Watkins, Rev. James Fielding, Rev. M. J. Watkins, Factoryville; Rev. O. B. O'Neal, Dunmore and Rev. Ellis Blakely.

Arrangements will also be made for a rally of young people in the latter part of October at the Penn avenue Baptist church to discuss the work of young people of the Baptist com- munity.

A committee of laymen attended the conference from the Elmhurst Baptist church and a committee also from the Jernyn Baptist church to seek the ad- vice of the conference with regard to appointing a pastor for each of the churches. Eventually Rev. W. G. Partridge, Rev. D. C. Hughes and Rev. T. J. Mason of Carbondale were ap- pointed to consult with the Jernyn church and Rev. James Fielding, Rev. M. J. Watkins and Rev. A. B. O'Neal to consult with the members of the Elmhurst church.

The meeting was largely attended and laymen are invited to the future meeting which will be held Monday mornings at 10:30 at the Penn avenue Baptist church.

A FAITHFUL FRIEND.

James Carey Trusted Too Implicitly in the Honesty of Eugene Fenner.

When James Carey and his wife, Nellie, of Franklin avenue, were sen- tenced to the county jail for a term of twenty-two months on Dec. 10, 1892, they invested Eugene W. Fenner, a close friend of theirs with power of attorney in the possession of their fur- niture which was valued at $1,000, it being insured for that amount, and he was to take care of it while they were in jail.

On Aug. 11 of this year their term expired and when they looked for Fenner to give back his trust, there was not an article of furniture in the house. Fenner not only had sold the furniture and converted the proceeds to his own use, but he misused sums amounting to $500 paid in cash to him by Mrs. Carey while she labored in the battle. This money was meant to pay the tu-

A FRECKLED MYSTERY.

Merchants' Hotel People Are Annoyed by a Queer Female.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.--A mysterious young woman, about 21 years old, was taken to Chambers Street hospital this afternoon from the Merchants' hotel, said to be suffering from insanity. Later she was sent to Bellevue hospital. An elderly woman took her to the hotel late last night and procured room No. 2. The young woman registered as "Miss Shelton, Philadelphia." The elderly woman remained for half an hour in the room and then left. Since then she has not been seen. The young woman was found wandering aimlessly about the hotel about noon today.

She had not paid for her room for the day and as she asked querulously Proprietor Burke urged her to go to Philadelphia, for which place she had a ticket on the Central Railroad of New Jersey. The young woman refused to go. She said she was afraid to do so. She acted as if she had committed a crime. Policeman Mul- ligan called an ambulance and after a little struggle she was taken away. At Chambers Street hospital it was not be- lieved that she had been sane. The young woman's name, she is reported to have called, has plenty of money and some jewelry. The elderly woman had the same appearance. The young woman had dark hair, brown eyes, freckled complexion and wore a brown dress and straw hat.

JENNIE'S GOOD LUCK.

Lively Existence of a Girl Who Mar- ried an Ideal New Jersey Granger.

JERSEY CITY, Sept. 24.--An action for divorce was commenced in the court of chancery today by Mrs. Jennie Paeker, who wishes to be legally separated from her husband, on the ground that he has been unkind, cruel and at times has treated her with much cruelty. Mrs. Paeker is the daughter of James Van Blaroom, of Wyckoff, N. J., known as the "awarding dominion." In October, 1889, she married Martin Paeker, son of a well-to-do farmer at Wyckoff, and all the village reports upon the court- ship of Jennie was that she was a very good girl. A year after the marriage a baby was born to the couple. It is from that time that Mrs. Paeker dates the commencement of her troubles.

Paeker didn't believe that his wife should live the idle life of a lady, al- though her husband was considered a rich man, so he sent her into the field to work with the laborers. Mrs. Paeker says she had to take her baby out to the field with her and make a bad for all on the ground that she might watch while she worked. She says that her husband was not satisfied with making her dig potatoes and hoe corn, but forced her to drive wagon loads of cab- bages to New York to market. She had to get up soon after midnight and some- times had to be up all night. Paeker went along on the wagon but, she al- leges, she had to do the driving. On one occasion, when they were driving back to Wyckoff from New York, her hat was blown off. She wished to stop and get it, but when she alighted, she says, she drove off without her, and she was compelled to walk seven miles be- fore she reached home.

One day while she was out he took a truck to the house and stripped the dwelling of furniture. Since that time he has not lived with her or contributed to her support.

FELL FROM A ROOF.

Casper Finagle, of Hamtown, Sustains Painful Injuries. Special to the Scranton Tribune.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 24.--Casper Finagle, a man about 50 years of age, residing in a smoky Pittsburg suburb known as Hamtown, climbed upon the roof of his house this afternoon to make certain repairs upon the covering. While thus engaged, Finagle in some manner lost his footing and dropped a distance of twenty feet. By the sud- den collision with the earth's surface Finagle's nose was knocked out of plumb; his jaw was broken and his frame was visibly agitated. Mr. Finagle is now in the hospital.

HIS NECK BROKEN.

Sudden Death of Conrad Litter, a Wayne County Farmer. Special to the Scranton Tribune.

HAWLEY, Pa., Sept. 24.--Conrad Litter, a farmer aged 65 years, was driving along the country road near Hemlock Hollow today, when he was suddenly thrown from his wagon and fell to the ground striking on his head. His neck was broken by the fall and death was instantaneous.

MISCELLANEOUS WIRINGS.

The American Protective association claims 28,000 members in Connecticut. Simon Adler plied himself with car- bolic acid in New York.

While in a spiritualistic trance Elias Billings and Lennie Darling were married at Hastings, Mich.

Henry Frost shot and mortally wounded his father, for opposing his marriage, at St. Joseph, Mo.

The colossal globe in the government building at Chicago, which cost $18,000, was sold for $10.

While cleaning a revolver yesterday Dr. W. A. M. Wainwright, of Hartford, Conn., accidentally shot himself and will die.

Disappointed at the few passes he got, Tom Maguire assaulted Harry Mann, Frohman's stage manager, in New York.

The jury in the case of Pension Claims Agent Moore, at Buffalo, N. Y., tried for taking illegal fees, has brought in a sealed verdict.

An ex-confederate marshaled the procession that welcomed Commander-in-Chief Moore, of the Grand army, home to Rockford, Ill.
