CITY NOTES.

Gentlemen's Driving Club races Thursday, 3 p. m. The diagram for "The Amazons" opens at the Academy of Music box office this morning. The Thirtieth Ward Republican club will meet in Alderman Bailey's office tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The bond of John Wagner, committee of Frank Kelson, in the sum of $400, was approved by Judge Gunter yesterday. The Nap' Aug Hose company was in Carbondale yesterday and took a prominent part in the annual parade of the Carbonade firemen. Register of Wills Koehler yesterday granted letters testamentary in the estate of Sarah Rooney, late of Scranton, to John and Martin Rooney. The Ladies' Aid Society of All Souls' church will entertain their friends at supper this evening in the church parlors, corner of Pine street and Adams avenue. Today is the anniversary of the consecration of St. Peter's cathedral. Wax tapers will be burned in front of the consecration crosses all day, and in past years the cathedral will be visited by a large number of persons. Every committee member recently appointed by the standing committee residing in the Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Fourteenth, Eighteenth and the Second district of the Twenty-first ward is requested to meet at 7:30 this evening at St. David's hall for the consideration of Republican campaign matters. A Sunday School convention will be held at the Monsey Avenue Baptist church on Sunday afternoon, when the following subjects will be discussed: "How Should the Sunday School Be Conducted?" "How May the Attendance Be Increased?" "How May the Scholars Be Kept in Sunday School?" The Ladies' Aid society of the Green Ridge Baptist church, conducted a very successful supper in the church parlors last evening, when a splendid repast was prepared. Mrs. Garney presides over the society and the proceeds will be devoted to church expenses. Gentlemen's Driving Club races Thursday, 3 p. m. PABST'S MILWAUKEE BEER, cool and sparkling, at Lohmann's, Spruce street. Military Opening. A cordial invitation is extended to the ladies of Scranton and vicinity to attend the fall opening of Pattern Bonnets and Hats, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 27th, 28th, 29th. J. F. FULLER, 514 Spruce St., Opposite Court House. J. Frank Sisk's Academy of Dancing, now open for the reception of pupils. Office at 11th, Traders National bank. Opening social Tuesday night, Oct. 2nd. All former pupils and friends invited. GENTLEMEN'S Driving Club races Thursday, 3 o'clock p. m. More Pillsbury Flour sold than any other brand made in the United States.

MEETING OF COMMON COUNCIL. Auditing Committee Reports Favorably on Detective Bill. At a meeting of the common council held last night the auditing committee reported favorably on a bill of $130 for detective services and it was ordered paid. The report was made after receiving an opinion from the city solicitor. Mr. Robinson moved that the committee report forthwith on the ordinance, but a quorum could not be mustered and on motion of Mr. Hickey the committee was given until the next meeting to prepare its report. The following resolutions were read and approved: Directing the board of control to reconstruct the alleyway between Mulberry and Myrtle street. It was referred to the streets and bridges committee. The ordinance providing for a theatrical license passed first and second reading.

The romantic drama, "The Great Brooklyn Handicap," was produced at the Academy of Music last evening before a well pleased, but only a fair sized audience. It tells the story of Viola Herte, a ward of Luther B. Clews, a New York banker, and Jack Prince, an alleged cousin, but in reality only her accomplice in sin. Together they steal from Bank Clews, a diamond necklace, which had been entrusted to him after banking hours for safe keeping. Howard Clews, son of the banker, and a gay clubman was charged with the theft and arrested. Howard was also unfortunate in having removed at this time $5,000 from his father's bank. This temporary larceny, however, is unknown. He is going to the great handicap race the next day and wins enough to redeem himself at the bank. The acting of the whole company was excellent, and merited much applause. That of Miss Mary Sanders, as Freddy, was exceptionally clever. The horse race, with grandstand and betting ring scenes incident to it were quite realistic. At the Frothingham last evening the London Burlesque company gave an entertaining performance before a fair-sized audience. The burlesque was interspersed with a number of good specialties and living tableaux. The dancing of Emma Rose Lee was a feature of the performance. "Parted" greatly pleased a large audience yesterday afternoon and evening at Wood-land. It is a splendid drama and is well produced. Miss Katharine Carlisle as May Hardy displays great talent as the heroine of the piece and the old favorite, Ralph E. Cummings, is inimitable as Uncle Baldwin. Jack Hardy by W. H. Dobson, is a perfect old tar in appearance and mannerisms. "Parted" will be on the boards today and tomorrow only to be followed by the great musical comedy "The Irish Visitors" on Monday. A Q. Scammon's company will be at the Frothingham tonight in the intensely interesting play, "The Burglar." A very unique niche in the history of things dramatic is filled by the "The Burglar." No play ever written has so complete a away upon the feelings that actuate the human being. No prettier story ever told. No dramatic teaching more profound. It appeals to all classes, from the fashionable volary to the most humble and obscure. No Madison theater success will live longer in public estimation than "The Burglar." "The Dazzler," which will be seen at the Academy of Music this evening, is full of novelty this season. The play has not merely been altered and freshened a bit, but has really been rewritten and now has a story, plot and situations that are brimful of comedy. The music is also new and of that bright, catchy order so much favored by the patrons of music here. The company, including, as it does, Florrie West, Charlie Wayne, Lucila Warner, Mason and Balston, the Dawitt sisters, Billie West, Grace Rutter and a dozen other clever people and pretty girls, is certainly the best that has ever been seen in the piece. The Wilkes-Barre papers commend the performance very highly. "Wife for Wife," a sensational melodrama, will be seen at the Academy of Music on Saturday evening. The story is laid in the south, just before the war. The play opens in New Orleans, and thence to Florida, and in every scene the atmosphere of southern life is preserved and accentuated with fidelity. The story of "Wife for Wife" is vivid, its climax is logical and its plot intricate without being involved. "The Three Amazons," in A. W. Pinero's romantic comedy, "The Amazons," which will be given at the Academy of Music Monday, Oct. 13, are played by Johnstone Bonnet, Isabel Irving and Elaine Elliott. The curtain will rise on one of the most exquisite bits of woodland scenery imaginable—an English forest in autumn. And shortly after Johnstone Bonnet in shooting jacket and knickerbockers will leap upon the scene over a five bar fence with an agility that will take your breath away. The Amazons, according to the New York press, is a wonderfully clever imaginative fantasy. Next Wednesday evening that clever comedian, Roland Reed, will be seen at the Academy of Music in "The Politician" as a benefit for the Elks. It is one of the most humorous comedies that Reed has yet appeared in. Pigeon Match. Base Ball park this morning, commencing at 9 o'clock. Every one should take a day off and see one of the grandest and hardest fought battles that has been shot for in years. Every shooter feels confident of winning first prize. If you can't come in the morning come in the afternoon, when the excitement is at fever heat. The club has received the following entries since last week: J. D. Mason, Will H. Davis, which makes a total of thirty-seven entries. Score cards giving names of shooters can be bought on the grounds. Beth Men Fined. John Meher and Feather Deontich, the two Hungarians who had severe encounter in the general riot on the flats on Wednesday night, were yesterday fined $10 each. Siegel's opening social Tuesday night, Oct. 2.

PINE BROOK FATALITY

Evidence of Morris Steel Who Was Injured Given Last Evening.

HOUSTON WAS NEGLECTFUL

Inquest was Twice Adjourned. George Houston Gives Evidence. Steel Denies All Knowledge of the Charged Hole - Mine Foreman Powell Explains How Neglectful Miners Cause Accidents - Verdict Rendered by Jury.

The adjourned inquest into the death of Thomas Ryan who died from the effects of injuries sustained in an explosion of the Pinebrook shaft on Sept. 1 was held last night at the Court house. The inquest was adjourned from Sept. 20 when the jury dispersed without the coroner's permission. The principal witness in the inquiry, Morris Steel, who was with the deceased at the time of the accident, was sufficiently recovered to appear last night and give his evidence as follows: "I was working with Thomas Ryan on Sept. 1, the day of the accident, on the afternoon shift. He asked me for the 'needle' which we used to test the depth of the holes for blasting. He looked around for the needle and I went down to put the needle in. As soon as he put it in, the explosion occurred. That's all I know."

LETTER STAMPS FOUND

Unearthed by Boys Who Were Chastinutting Near Chinchilla.

WHERE DID THEY COME FROM?

A Possibility That They Are Some of the Stamps Taken from the Scranton Office, Although Postmaster Vandalizing Things They Are Not Part of the Stamps Burned by the Finders for Fear of Arrest.

James Jennings and Michael Lavelle, two Providence boys, made what may prove an important find near Chinchilla yesterday afternoon. They were out chastinutting about midway between Chinchilla and Clark's Summit above the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western tracks when they saw a squirrel run into a stone wall. They gave chase and one of them struck his hand into the hole in which the squirrel had disappeared. He drew forth a lot of paper that was stuffed into the opening and the paper proved to be United States postage stamps. A portion of them they took home with them. Some one told them that if the stamps were seen in their possession they would be arrested, and they had begun to burn them up when they were stopped by friends who advised them to go to Lieutenant Spellman and tell him of their find. They did so. Lieutenant Spellman in turn notified Captain Edwards, who with Postmaster Vandling last night visited the place where the stamps were found. No more stamps were unearthed, but what the exact results of the expedition were, Captain Edwards, for reasons known only to himself, refused last night to disclose; neither would he say the amount of stamps found by the boys. It is understood that about $150 worth of stamps were unearthed by the boys, about $100 worth of which are believed to have been burned up. Some of the stamps were in an envelope marked Factoryville. Postmaster Vandling believes that the stamps are not a portion of the $5,000 haul taken from the Scranton post-office a short time ago. If they are some of the stamps taken from the Scranton office they may furnish an important clue to the thief.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Some of the small collieries in the Lackawanna valley do not average more than four days a month. The South Side silk mills are again employing a full quota of hands and running to the full capacity. The car shops of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western are now working eight hours a day, but the mines are not doing so well. The output of coal at the mines of the Delaware and Hudson Canal company, depends on the New York market, which is rather dull at present with prospects not over-encouraging for October. The Hallett colliery at Duryea, one of the largest in the coal regions, which last week was thrown idle from a cave-in, will not be affected to any damaging extent. The work will be in full blast there again within two weeks. The iron frame work of the Mears building is being rapidly pushed upward. A large number of iron beams are being dumped into the cellar of the proposed Hotel Jersey, but nothing has been done as yet toward fitting them together. An Arm Taken Off Vincent Megarick, of Moscow, was operating his father's threshing machine yesterday and got his right arm caught in the spindles. The machine very dragged his arm in until it reached the elbow before assistance reached him. He was taken to the Lackawanna hospital and his arm amputated. Call and see our styles of wing tipped shoes, in calf, russet, patent leather and pig skin. Commonwealth Shoe store, Washington avenue. Dr. C. C. Laubach Is going to Chicago where he will attend Dr. Haskell's Post Graduate Dental school during the month of October. The doctor is noted for his "up to date" methods and desires to keep abreast with the times and give his patients the benefit of his experience. Bread Did you ever taste bread made from Coursen's "GEM" Flour. If so, you will then understand why it is used so generally. It makes the sweetest bread and the most and it is the cheapest Flour sold. Best Sets of Teeth, $8.00 including the painless extracting of teeth by an entirely new process. S. C. SNYDER, D.D.S., 180 WYOMING AVE.
