Could Not Be Beconcilsd. Rev. G. M. Schiedy resigned his pas-torate of the St. Mark's Lutheran church on Monday night. The resignation was unanimously accepted. A letter was read from Mr. Scheidy in which he stated that the cause of his resignation lay entirely with the church council. A personal grievance had been recognized by the council and he claimed that this was unseriptural. There was also a "mysterious disagree-ment" between the council and him-self which he could not reconcile and jealous Bezek. the disagreement involved a question of truthfulness which affected his character too seriously to administer the word and sacrament to his congregation. The grievances referred to in the pastor's letter arose from a difference between him and the younger mem-bers with regard to the choir and efforts had been made to patch up a truce, but without success, hence the o'clock. final decision of the meeting.

Arrangements are being made to supply the pulpit through the secretary of the home missions of the general council as the resignation becomes in force at once.

Seventy Members of the Philadelphia Lumber Exchange in the City.

Seventy members of the Lumber-men's exchange of Philadelphia are in the city on a pleasure jaunt, and have established headquarters at the Wyoming house. They arrived in Scranton at 5 30 o'clock yesterday afternoor, via, the Delaware and Hudson railroad, and Williams & McAnulty 197 Wroming Ave. Will spend the morning in a trip to Honesdale and will return via the Del-aware and Hudson and Gravity roads. The party left Philadelphia in two special cars at 9 o'clock yesterday morning on 'the Beading railroal and morning on 'the Reading railroal and left Bethlehem via. the Lehigh V illey. Dinner was served aboard the train by Caterer Jacob Weiner, of Philadeiphia.

Everybody was in good spirits when Scranton was reached, and after supper at the Wyoming had supplied the wants of the inner man, the party set about enjoying themselves. They had wired from Bethlehem to the Froth-inchem thestar suggering seventy seats ingham theater engaging seventy seats, and last night lost none of the prominent features of "1492." The Honesdale trip will be begun at 8.20 o'clock this morning. They will return to this city for dinner, and will then start on the homeward trip, stop-ping enroute for a few hours in Wilkes-Barre and partaking of supper a noard the train. They will reach Phila-delphia about 11 o'clock tonight. Many of the party have visited Scran-

FOUL MURDER MOST Killed His Sweetheart Rather Than See Her Marry Another.

JEALOUS LOVER'S AWFUL ACT The Murderer and the Dead Girl Had Been But Three Days in the Country-Fired Three Shots Into Her Body-Murderer Tries to Escape and Wades Into the Lackawanna

River. Another brutal murder occurred up the valley yesterday morning in the shooting of Maria Kerzic by her lover, Frank Bezek at Olyphant. The mur-derer has been arrested. Both parties are residents of Rakitas, Bohemia, and arrived in this country only three days ago. The foully-murdered girl was to have been wedded yesterday to a fellow countrymen, which is assigned as the cause of the act of the jilted and isalous Bezek. Miss Kerzic, the murdered girl, was 23 years of age, and rather pretty. The murderer was a suitor for her hand, but she did not encourage his attentions and this made him desperate when he learned that she was about to be married to Authon Bourschnach. She lived with her sister, Mrs. Frances Kramar, of Race street Oyphant, and yesterday morning was preparing the house for the marriage ceremony, when Bezek called to see her at 8

REFUSED TO MARRY HIM. He asked her if she intended to marry Bourschnach. Her affirmative reply had but left her lips when he pulled a revolver from his pocket and fired at her. The first shot struck her in the face and the second penetrated her temple and she dropped dead at his feet. After she had fallen he fired again and the bullet planted itself in her foot. The murderer's weapon was empty, but he began to reload it with the evi-dent intention of also murdering Mrs. Kramar, the murdered girl's sister. After committing the deed he ran toward the river and was pursued by a large crowd. He waded into the middle of the stream and there sat on piece of driftwood. The crowd on the bank became larger and the murderer seeing all hope of escape cut off, walked out of the river and was captured by Constable Philip Williams and taken before Justice of the Peace M. W. Cummings, who after hearing the testimony of Mrs. Kramar and another witness to the shooting, made out a commitment, and the murderer was brought to the county jail. HE INTENDED TO KILL HER. Bezek is 27 years of age and of me-dium build. He cannot speak Euglish.

He admitted that he bought the revolver to kill the girl. Coroner Kelley was notified and went to the scene in the afternoon. A jury was empanelled and several witnesse The verdict was substantially worn. that the deceased came to her death from bullet wounds inflicted by Bezek. The murder is the all absorbing topic in Olyphant. Its cold blooded-ness and calculating fiendishness are unparalleled in this region save perhaps the brutal murder of Immanuel Loro at Old Forge last summer.

HIS FOOT IN A FROG.

Shocking Accident to a Pitteburg Brake-

PITTSBURG, Oct. 9 -- With a foot held in a vice-like grip by a railroad frog, John Clewell, aged 22 years, a brakeman on the Pittsburg and Lake Erie railroad, was fatally injured by a freight train today. Clewell was crossing the tracks to throw a switch when his foot became wedged between the rails. In his frantic efforts to avoid the approaching train he caused a com-pound fracture of the leg. The train stopped after one truck had passed over his limb. Through loss of blood and shock there is no hope of his recovery.
