NORTH END NEWS. Flag Raising at No. No. 23 School-T. V. Powderly Made the Presentation Speech. Personal and Short News Items.

A very large number of people gathered at school house No. 23 yesterday afternoon to witness the raising of a flag to the school by Council No. 2, of the Sons of Columbia. The exercises opened by the scholars singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

Professor John J. Costello made an address, in which he said that the board of control sent the pole, which is about sixty feet in height, to the school about the first of last June, and on consultation with Controller O'Malley it was decided to start a subscription to which Mr. O'Malley contributed $5. On June 7 a committee from the Sons of Columbia called at the school house and told him that the order, many members of which received their education in the school, had decided to present a flag. Owing to the end of the term being so near it was decided not to present the flag until this term, and as yesterday was the four hundred and second anniversary of the landing of Columbus and likewise the seventeenth anniversary of the career of Professor Costello as a public school teacher in Scranton, he named it as the day. The speech was followed by a short dialogue between two boys and two girls entitled "The Flag."

Hon. T. V. Powderly was then introduced as the one to present the flag, and in his presentation speech said that the strength of a nation should be in its armies or fortifications, but rather in its school houses, for those who are now students are to be the future citizens of this country, and that that patriotism which is in their minds the less we will see of such citizens as were naturalized last week. Politics would be purer and the country much better if the school houses were naturalized last week. Politics would be purer and the country much better if the school houses were naturalized last week.

At the close of his speech a small girl, Loretta Riley, unfurled the flag, which is a handsome one 15 by 20 feet in size. C. H. Enoch, president of the board of control, accepted the flag in behalf of the board and scholars. After the scholars sang "The Dear Old Flag," Professor George W. Phillips, superintendent of the city schools, introduced and made a short address, and was followed by Miss Helinda Jennings reciting "The Red, White and Blue."

Nineteen girls, led by Miss Mary Hopkins, then gave a very pretty flag drill, the music being furnished by Miss Mae Costello, a daughter of Professor Costello. Controller O'Malley made a few remarks after which Mr. Powderly requested all present to give three cheers to the flag, which were given with a will. The exercises were brought to a close by the playing of "America" and the Excelsior Cornet band playing "The Star Spangled Banner."

A song service will be held in the Puritan Congregational church tomorrow evening.

Professor Lange, principal of No. 25 school, made an addition of fifty new volumes to the school yesterday.

This makes a total of over 300 books now within reach of the scholars, over 100 books being exchanged every week.

Very interesting exercises were held in No. 22 school yesterday afternoon. They consisted of a large number of literary selections rendered by the pupils of the preparatory department in charge of Professor Lange.

NEWS OF THE SOUTH SIDE

Republican Candidates Huester and Connell Make a Vigorous Canvass.

WORK FOR THE WHOLE TICKET. Idle Steel Workers Have No Time for the Party Which Has Caused Them So Much Misery—Other South Side Intelligence.

Indications point strongly to a sweeping Republican vote from the South Side next month; and if the Democrats break even, well-judged calculations say will be as much as they expect to do. In the Democratic county convention were three or four aspirants for the nomination for the office of jury commissioner, and as a matter of fact, the disappointed nomination seekers are sore and will not support the ticket. That will result in very material gains for the Republican vote. Then there are other reasons of a local character that will add strength to the Republican ticket. The steel workers have no reason to thank the party now in power for any favors in the shape of steady employment and cheaper articles of living which had been promised; on the contrary, they complain with bitter disgust against the party that has endeavored to enact and carry out a policy which, if succeeded in, would terminate in a tie-up of all local industries. The party that insists on free iron and free coal and fosters sugar trusts, cannot expect preferment from the hands of miners and steel workers.

Charles Huester, candidate for recorder of deeds, is not more anxious for personal success than he is anxious to see each of his colleagues on the ticket elected with him. His active campaign work will tell for the benefit of the whole ticket. And in the Twentieth ward, Alex T. Connell, candidate for the legislature in the Second district, will not fall behind. His ward, which he carried against the overwhelming majority of 500 votes when running as a candidate for select council, will register a vote for him in November that will make his opponent's hair stand when he reads the return.

Both men are not pushing a canvass of votes for themselves; they are Republicans of a quality above that feeling. Both are successful workers, and the whole Republican ticket, of which they form only a part.

The South Side will be heard from in due season.

SUNDAY Y. W. C. A. EXERCISES. New Choir Led by Miss Mary Krebs Will Render the Music.

Tomorrow's exercises at the rooms of the Young Women's Christian association will consist of gospel services by the members led by Miss Mary Thompson. She will give an address, the title of which will be "The Home."

A new choir has been organized and well trained, and will sing for the first time tomorrow. Miss Mary Krebs is the leader and it is her credit to say that she has equipped a number of good singers for praise work.

The educational work is so well organized and the classes so large that it is necessary for pupils to enter at once there being but a few places open. All Bible classes will open Wednesday of next week.

SOUTH SIDE JOTTINGS. Beginning with tomorrow night religious revival meetings will be held each evening at the Cedar Avenue Methodist Episcopal church. The meetings will continue until otherwise ordered, and will be addressed by Rev. E. L. Santee, pastor.

Jacob Hartman, proprietor of the Ringgold house, was seen on the streets yesterday for the first time in months. He suffered long from illness, but looks as if he is now on the road to speedy recovery.

The Casey & Kelly Brewing company has started the foundation for a large brick stable to replace the one destroyed by fire. P. H. Coyne, bookkeeper of the Meadow Brook Brewing company, was indisposed yesterday.

Attorney J. O. Vaughan, candidate for state on the Republican ticket, was shaking hands with old acquaintances on this side of the brook yesterday.

The cause of the flood on Genet street was not attributable to a broken water pipe, but to a stream that came from the hillside and tore up the water main near Prospect avenue. The volume of water caused people to think that the water pipe had burst, as it had been uncovered and the ground swept from beneath it. Superintendent Robert Keovee went out yesterday and saw that the pipes were intact, and he requested the city authorities to proceed to repair the street.

Three members of the South Side board of trades do not constitute a quorum, and as that is all who were present last night no meeting was held. At the rate of attendance at meetings for the past week the body would do better to take in the sign and go out of business.

Some approaching marriages are the particulars of Joseph Oswald, of Pittston avenue, who is known to Miss Mary Veltner, of Leighton, at St. Mary's German Catholic church, Tuesday, Oct. 16, at 10 a. m.; the union of William Shaw, of the Meadow Brook Brewing company, to Miss Mary Cummings, of Madison avenue, at St. Peter's cathedral, Wednesday, Oct. 24; and of William Walters, the popular leader of the Welcome Dancing class, to Miss Lulu Hagen, of Maple street, at the Hickory Street Presbyterian church, Thursday, Nov. 1.

Mrs. Charles Schriber, of River street, reached home yesterday after a visit for a month with her son, Rev. Father Schriber, of Cleveland, O.

John G. Loyd, of Pittston avenue, states that The Tribune's account of the stabling affray in which he was mixed up last Wednesday did him an injustice, and he denies that he had a knife or is in the habit of carrying a knife or other form of weapon.

Masonic. The members of the lodge, No. 251, P. and M., will assemble at Masonic hall Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock to attend the funeral of our brother, Hon. Robert M. McKus. The members of other lodges are respectfully invited to be present. By order of H. F. FERRELL, Chief Engineer.
