MINE, MILL AND RAILROAD.

The inquiry for coal has improved somewhat. The cool weather of the past week has induced householders to buy more freely; at the same time dealers are receiving coal on old orders, so that they feel no urgent need of weather new contracts just now. of making new contracts just now. Owing to this the market has been rather more quiet than many optimistic sellers expected. The improvement in the demand has been chiefly in the way of orders for prompt delivery, and the buyer has gone chiefly to middle-men, who are not overburdened with scruples as to selling coal below the May circular. After a careful canvas May circular. After a careful canvas of the trade the Engineering and Mining Journal finds that the companies are not doing much cutting now. Nor are the very low prices which obtained three weeks ago so easy to get now. The free burning coals, owing to the character of the sellers, chiefly independent operators, may be had at less than the May circular, but the companies are not shading to any extent. nies are not shading to any extent. They are adhering to the prices established at the last meeting more closely than for months past. There is a widespread belief that owing to the small supplies laid in by consumers thus far, the trade from now on will be more active than usual. It is true that people have been more backward in laying in winter supplies, and that they will have to buy more coal in November and December, unless the winter is exceptionally mild, than they have been wont to do in former years. At the same time the tendency to economize in fuel as in other articles of home consumption is so much greater than usual this year that producers cannot afford to disregard it. It will take some time to exhaust the stocks in the hands of the dealers and of middlemen. If the sales agents are to get the official prices this year they must, in the opin-ion of the Engineering and Mining Journal, so regulate their output that there must at no time from now henceforth be any dangerous accumulation of stocks in their storage depots.

A movement is on foot to establish through sleeping car service between New York and San Francisco, using the Pennsylvania between New York and Washington, the Southern railway be-tween Washington and Atlanta, and the Louisville and Nashville between Atlanta and New Orleans, where connection will be made with the South-ern Pacific. The distance to cover would be 3,963 miles, and the proposed running time 117 hours, which is twelve hours less than the present time from New York to San Francisco.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Coal company have started the erection of a new breaker at the Bliss colliery that is being sunk in their vir-gin coal field, near Nanticoke. The Auchincloss, another shaft, is also being sunk one-fourth of a mile, near Nanticoke. The abutments for the new breaker and engine houses are ready. They were compelled to sink twelve feet through a loaming soil before they found a solid foundation. The lumber, says the Record, is already on the ground and the carpenters are engaged in preparing it. It will be one of the largest breakers in the country. It is four hundred yards from where the old Hanover breaker stood, operated by Charles Parrish, which was burned down after being struck by lightning. The new colliery will employ 1,000 peo-ple. The sinking operations are suspended for a few weeks in order to get machinery in readiness to complete the work. The work is in charge of Super-intendent Carey. John P. and William Evans, of Dorranceton, have closed a contract with the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Coal company, to open a slope 1,300 feet in length, at the Bliss mines, near Nanticoke. These gentlemen have just completed a simifeet in length, which they did without William Hardy, of Hazleton, had a summons in assumpsit issued Friday against the Lehigh Valley Railroad company for $5,000 damages. The papers in the case cover a novel point, and the suit will no doubt attract much attention. Mr. Hardy alleges in his state-ment that, on Nov. 11, 1872, he pur-chased a lot in Hazleton of the com-pany. The deed for the premises reserved the right to hold and mine all coal and other minerals, and also coven anted that the surface earth should not be broken, cut or misplaced in the re-moval of the mineral underneath, and that any damage done would be made good by the Lehigh Valley Railroad company. The plaintiff alleges that, by agreement with the company, Ario Paragreement with the company, Ario Par-dee & Co. removed the minerals, and, that in 1892 a cave occurred, taking with it a dwelling house and broom factory. He claims, that by this sink-ing, the surface was damaged to the extent of $1,000, and the house and broom factory to the extent of $4,000, and claims that amount.

For some time past there have been rumors prevalent that a rich find of gold had been discovered in Carbon county at a place in the vicinity of Penn Forest and on a tract of land owned by a number of gentlemen, among whom are Ezra Newharr, William Schaeffer, the Charles Bower estate, Charles W. Horn, of Slatington; William G. Freyman, of Mauch Chunk, and M. T. and Simon Walck, of Franklin. The name under which these gentlemen are working is the Penn Forest Coal and Mining company, and they have been pushing the work for some time. Recently a good vein of coal was struck and this encouraged the company to still further prosecute their claims, with the result that their ardor has been still further increased by findinggold quartzsamples sent to an assay office at both Philadelphia and Denver, Col., showed gratifying results, and a member of the company, speaking to a representative of the Lehighton Journal, said that work was still being vigorously pushed and all indications pointed to paying re-

The Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre sur-The Lenign and Whites-Barre surveyors have completed measurements for the sinking of slope No. 14 at Pleasant Hill to the Buck Mountain vein. This slope has been in operation about two years and is sunk on the north pitch of the big vein. To reach the Buck Mountain will necessitate the cutting of at least 120 feet of rock and the new opening will be continued from the bottom of No. 14 into the seam here-tofore mentioned, developing a new coal territory that could not be reached in another way. With the new slope driven and this reserve depositof valua-ble anthracite developed, 200 mine cars will be dally hoisted to the surface. The coal that will be obtained in the new slope may constitute No, 4 break-er's principal supply for years, after other subterranean openings have been exhausted.

Harry C. Brodhead's name has been mentioned in connection with the Le-high Coal and Navigation company's presidency. Apropos, the Wilkes-Barre Record says: His grandfather, James Brodrick, was one of the first contractors at Summit Hill in 1820, and he entered the service of the company in 1871 at Wanamie. In 1873 he was made superintendent of the company's property at Plymouth and his successful career as a superintendent of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal company has made him quite prominent as a coal man, and his success as a finan-cial man would recommend him to the company in every way as one fitted to take the place of E. B. Leisenring, de-

STOCKS AND BONDS.

New York, Oct. 13.—Speculation at the stock exchange was dull and listless today. At the opening there were indications that the covering movement in the grangers would make further progress, but it proved to be a false start and after an advance of 1/2 to 1/2 per cent, the slight gain was partially lost. Stocks closed barely steady. Net changes show losses of ½ to ¾ in the general list, excepting the cases of Burlington and Quincy, Rock Island and Pacific mail, which gained ¼ to ¼ per cent. Total sales were 56,000 shares.

The range of today's prices or the active stocks of the New York market are given below. The quotations are furnished The Tribune by G. du B. Dimmick, manager of William Linn, Allen & Co., stock brokers, 412 Spruce street, Scranton, RATHER EXPENSIVE WINE. One Man Offers Fifty Dollars for Just One Sip.

A woman high up in the prohibi-tionary circles of New Jersey has a bottle of wine in her cellar over fifty years old, for which a Union League club man, of New Jersey, offered $50 for a chance to test it only, and then to buy it at the woman's own price. Alshe does not desire to drink nor of Pennsylvania, on the 19th day of October, 1834, by William Connell, William T. Smith, Henry Belin, Jr., Joseph H. Steell, and Isaac F. At a recent auction in London some Maderia, supposed to have been presented by Napoleon III., was sold at 3 pound 3 shillings a bottle. Imperial Tokay has been sold at 3 pounds a bottle. A few years ago two bottles were sold at 89 pounds each. There are a dozen cases of holy wine at the Hotel de Ville, or town hall, Breon which have been valued, consider ing the original price and cellarage and interest for 250 years, at 400,000 pounds a bottle, 54,476 pounds a giass, and 60 pounds a drop. The Rothschilds are in possession of some 1778 Maderia wine, which went down in a ship which was wrecked at the mouth of the Scheldt. It was not recovered until 1814. Forty-four bottles were sold to Rothschild at 114 pounds per bottle.

Tondstools for Mushrooms.

Mrs. Winifred Smith, wife of Charles Smith, died at her home, 1219 Sevenenth avenue, shortly before 9 o'clock yesterday morning, after an illness of but a few days. Death was the result of the effect of partaking of some of the milk in which some mushrooms had been cooked. On Sunday last, a son of the deceased, in company with another young man, gathered a mess of the suculent vegetable, and among it must have got several toadstools. At any rate the mess was served Sunday evening. It was most decidedly bitter to the taste, and Mr. Smith and his son, after tasting it, ate no more. Mrs. Smith, however, swallowed possibly two spoonfuls of the milk in which the presumed mushrooms had been cooked. Not being palatable to any of the family, the contents of the dish were thrown out and the two dogs got hold of some of the milk. Mrs. Smith became ill Monday morning and was com-pelled to return to her bed. Nothing that she ate would remain on her stomach and she became a very sick Tuesday morning, however, better, she got up and prepare breakfast but soon after was compelled to again take her bed and suffered greatly. Not until Tuesday evening did any suspicion of poisoning enter the minds of any one, but at that time the two dogs died and the family became alarmed. Dr. J. M. Sheedy responded, gave a prescription, but on calling yesterday morning found his patient had Attacked By a Wild Cat.

From the Pottsville Chronicle, Herman Kable, of Girardville, had quite an exciting time while pheasant hunting on the Little Mountain yesterday. While passing through a thick cluster of bushes his setter was attacked by a large and victous looking wild cat. During their battle for supremacy an opportunity presented itself and Mr. Kable emptied the full contents of his breech-loader into the cat's head. The cat sprang into the air and with a dull thud fell near the gunner's feet. The animal is in the hands of Taxidermist Thomas, of Girardville, and will be stuffed. Mr. Kable is known as the "Cow-boy" hunter and is one of the most reliable shots in the region.
