NEWS OF THIS VICINITY ARCHBALD.

The great fair of St. Thomas congregation continues to be largely attended and is now opened both afternoon and evening. Last evening the Jernyn choir was present and rendered vocal selections. Tomorrow evening the choir of St. Rose's church, Carbondale, will attend, and an entertaining program has been arranged. The fair is now a popular place of amusement, and people of all ages and classes attend it each night. There is no better place to spend an evening.

The Archbald Water company will meet tomorrow evening for the purpose of opening bids for the construction of the new dam on Lutral run, to which reference was made in these columns several weeks ago. The capacity of the proposed dam will be in the neighborhood of 50,000,000 gallons. It will be built further up the creek than the present dam and will require the outlay of an enormous sum of money. With this dam completed there will be little danger of a water famine in this vicinity, unless the dry season is of the phenomenal order.

This evening a Democratic rally will be held in Father Mathew hall. The speakers will be George S. Horn, James J. O'Neill and D. J. Campbell.

This afternoon the marriage of Miss Katie McHale, of the East Side, to Thomas Dean, of Plymouth, will take place. Tomorrow evening Miss Sadie Gilgallon and Thomas McDonnell, of Taylor, and Miss Ella Van Doren and Thomas Monie will be married. There will be at least two more marriages next week. Among others announced to take place soon are the marriage of James P. Loftus, of Hill street, to Miss Lillie Keenan, of South Main street, and of Miss Ella Gillespie, of Pine street. Fortunately the business of Cupid and Hymen in this borough is not affected by the winter chill.

Patrick O'Rourke, sr., of Railroad street, was hurt by a fall of roof in the Delaware and Hudson mine yesterday afternoon. Mr. O'Rourke's head was cut and his hip was bruised. His injuries are not considered dangerous.

J. J. Kearney, of Laurel street, was a visitor in Scranton yesterday.

Miss Annena Barry, of Hyde Park, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. E. J. O'Boyle, of Main street.

John J. Scanlon, of Main street, was in Scranton yesterday.

The Lackawanna Transit company has ordered new closed cars to take the place of the open cars now in use. They will probably not be placed on the line before two weeks.

The University Extension circle met last evening in the graded school building to hear reports from the members who had agreed to see ladies and gentlemen who might be induced to join. There was a large attendance and many new names were proposed. The membership is now in the neighborhood of 100, and there is every prospect of the full complement of members being procured. After a general discussion it was decided to enter into a contract with the University Extension bureau for the course of lectures on "Shakespear," to be delivered by Colonel Sprague. An executive committee was appointed to perfect arrangements for the course. It consists of Rev. N. Davis, Dr. Van Doren, Miss Alice Steeney, John A. Foote, P. A. Philbin, C. A. Battenberg, Lizzie White, Mary Quimman, Katie Walsh and Mary Duffy. The committee will meet on Friday evening.

BUCKNELL NOTES.

The present year opened on Sept. 13, with an increased attendance in all departments. There are in the senior class in the college twenty-six; in the junior, thirty-seven; in the sophomore, forty-one; in the freshmen, fifty-seven, and a few specials. Seven are pursuing graduate work as candidates for the master's degree. The schools have about reached the limit of their capacity for accommodating and instructing students.

There are now alumni clubs in Philadelphia, New York, Pittsburg, and in the University of Chicago. It would be an advantage to the college to have clubs formed in other centers. An examination of the list of matriculants shows that clubs could be formed in Scranton, Williamsport, Lewisburg, Harrisburg, Allentown and Erie; and in New England, Washington, D. C., Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Louis, Denver and San Francisco.

Stage Struck.

Mother--It won't do you to take our daughter to the theater so often. I am afraid she already imagines herself an actress.

Father--Has she taken to studying Shakespear?

Mother--No; but within the past six weeks she has been engaged to half a dozen men.--New York Weekly.

Her Frugal Eye.

Bob--Is your landlady a close character?

Father--Well, I should remark; whenever she wears a gown with leg-o'-mutton sleeves she puts it in the bill--Louisville Courier-Journal.

DAYS.

What is the message of days, what is the thought they bring-- Days--They are winter, days that sweeten to spring? Is there a lore to learn, is there a truth to know, is there a life to live? Hath the new dawn a ray that never fades from the old? Day that is bright, night that broadens to day. What is the meaning of all, what is the life and for aye, and the heart-beats never cease? Till the end of life and aye are the night and death and peace.-- John Holl Ingham, in Scribner.

PITTSSTON.

Edward Kane, who has been lying sick at the residence of Mrs. Fleming, on Spruce street, as a result of an electric shock, sustained by touching a trolley wire, has sufficiently recovered to permit of his removal to his home at Griffith. It will be some time, however, before he will be entirely well.

The funeral of Mrs. Joseph Teplar occurred from the family home, on North Main street, yesterday morning at 2:30 o'clock, and was largely attended. Lost--Between George Bell's store and Methodist Episcopal church, a small white chain, with a key, and return to Miss Emma Grey, Mill street.

German journalist who visited Bismarck recently says that the ex-Chancellor has aged very much in the last few months. He acts with difficulty, hardly holds himself erect, and speaks only in a tone so low that it is hard to understand him.

William Hearst, millionaire editor of the San Francisco Examiner, is making a great success of that paper. He has recently bought the Evening Post, which will be sold to him, and Henry George first started in 1870.

Rev. Sam Bettis, cowboy evangelist, this sums up the results of his recent revival at Bay City, Mich.: "I had over 3,000 conversions, 1,256 old tapers signed the pledge, $82 was raised for expenses, $500 clear for Sam, and 6,000 people were fed free meals." He is now in Chicago. The local clergyman of Bay City denounced his sensational methods.

Not long ago Queen Marguerite, of Italy, asked her royal consort for his opinion as to whether she was still young enough to wear her favorite costume of white muslin. His majesty replied: "This matter requires reflection. Two weeks later a box was carried to the queen's apartments; when it was opened the box was found to be filled with white dresses, which King Humbert had ordered."

H. J. Cox, weather observer at New Haven, Conn., has been appointed general forecaster for the entire country.

When told by Nelly Bly that his eyes were both gray and blue, Senator Hill replied that the combination was very good for a politician. According to Nelly this is what Senator Hill eats all the year round: Breakfast--What-ever fruit is in season, oatmeal and cream; two rolled eggs, dry toast and coffee. Lunch--Dry toast and tea. Dinner--Soup, a roast and vegetables; never fish, never oysters, no wine, no after-dinner coffee, no cigars. Wine and cigars, however, are kept for friends.

The engagement is announced of Miss Mary Jefferson, a granddaughter of Joseph Jefferson, to Glen McDonough, the playwright. The engagement of Miss Josephine Jefferson, a sister of Miss Margaret, Charles J. Rolfe, son of the celebrated Shakespeare scholar, was announced a few weeks ago.

Woman's Way.]

When the train made its first stop after leaving home, Mr. Simpkins, who had been in a brown study for several minutes, rubbed his eyes, which had a troubled look in them, and remarked: "My dear, are you sure we haven't forgotten anything?"

"Of course we haven't," responded the good lady cheerfully. "I would have thought of it the minute the train had started."--Detroit News Tribune.

Probably.

"Funny idea the ancients had, wasn't it, of giving a dead man money to take to the next world with him?"

"I wonder if that was how the expression 'money to burn' originated?"--Indianapolis Journal.

THE GIRL WAS A BOY.

A Young Swiss Lived All His Life a Girl Until He Fell in Love.

From the Springfield Union.

The case of the Brooklyn boy criminal who, in the course of one day recently was judged to be a girl, and a few hours after that a boy, and who had lived both as a girl and as a boy without raising any suspicions, is far surpassed in extraordinary interest by that of a young Swiss who passed all his life as a girl until a month ago.

He was known by the name of Laura Besnar, and came of a good family. Why his friends should have registered the child as a female, and subsequently kept up the deception, is a matter of mystery. The young man is said to have found the companionship of the weaker sex very pleasant, and would have continued to frequent the society of young women as one of their number had he not fallen in love, but, in order to woo a girl, he decided to assume the masculine gender.

The earlier years of his life were spent in a convent school, on leaving which he studied a cure for stammering and subsequently founded a school for that purpose. This was so successful that in a few years he amassed 40,000 francs, and then decided to study medicine. With this object he entered a student at Grenoble school of medicine as a woman, and to all outward appearances was one. His features were distinctly feminine, and nothing in his shape of a masculine or whiskers was to be observed. In every way he comforted himself as a female, and seemed quite at ease in the character he assumed. The only thing which might have betrayed him, perhaps, was a slight suspicion of the masculine in his voice. This, however, was scarcely sufficient to attract special notice.

Individual Communion Cups.

From the Philadelphia Press.

The Eighteenth Street Methodist Episcopal congregation, Eighteenth and Wharton, used the individual communion cup for the first time last Sunday morning. Rev. C. E. Adamson, pastor of the church, presided at the services, and after his sermon referred to the change made, saying that the method was considered much better than the old method. Owing to the failure of the maker of the cups to send them on time, only seventy were used. The congregation has between 200 and 300 communicants, so the cups had to be used more than once. By the time of the next communion service, the first Sunday of next month, Rev. Mr. Adamson expects to have 500 cups on hand, so that there will be enough and to spare. Most of those who were present spoke of the change with approval.

Known Where He Fished.

Husband (leaving for fishing trip)--Well, good-by, dear!

Wife--Good-by, Henry. Take good care of yourself. By the way, you needn't stop at the fish market on your way home. I'll go down some time during the day and order myself--Puck.

All That's Claimed

"I had a poor appetite, that tired feeling was run down, but Hood's Sarsaparilla has done me a great deal of good. I have a better appetite and do not feel tired. I can recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as an excellent spring or fall medicine to keep the blood in order. Myself and three daughters have taken over six bottles, and it has done us much good. We do not now have to call upon a doctor, as formerly, in the spring time, and I can say that Hood's Sarsaparilla is all that is claimed for it. I most heartily recommend it, and shall always keep it in my house." ALBERT KRSEY, Auburn, Pa.
