THE SCRANTON OF TODAY.

Come and inspect our city. Elevation above the tide, 740 feet. Extremely healthy. Estimated population, 1894, 103,000. Registered voters, 30,200. Value of school property, $720,000. Number of school children, 12,000. Average amount of bank deposits, $10,000,000. It's the metropolis of northeastern Pennsylvania. Can produce electric power cheaper than Niagara. No better point in the United States at which to establish new industries. See how we grow: Population in 1850.....9,225. Population in 1870.....25,000. Population in 1890.....45,800. Population in 1894.....75,215. Population in 1904 (estimated).....100,000. And the end is not yet.

Pennsylvania's next governor, General Daniel H. Hastings, accompanied by Charles Emory Smith and the state candidates, will speak in this city next Monday evening. Come out and hear him.

A Fearful Responsibility.

In the present canvass it is enough to know that Mr. Scranton, the Republican candidate for congress, is a Republican and a protectionist. These two facts entitle him to the support of the people of the Eleventh district, utterly regardless of anything else. It would be idle to deny that there have been, and doubtless are today, personal influences hostile to Mr. Scranton. But he was fairly nominated as the candidate of his party; he therefore represents, in this campaign, the principles of that party; and it is a truth which needs no demonstration that principles are superior to personal bickerings and factional grief.

The control of the next national house of representatives is most important. The speaker who organizes it into committees, more than any other single individual in any department of this government, will exercise a controlling influence upon the legislation of the next two years, in which critical period the political destiny of the country will in all probability be decided for at least a generation to come. The president, after all, is pretty much a figure head. Only as he retains the confidence of the people is he possessed of real and wide-reaching power. The vice president is wholly a figure head, ordinarily without voice or vote. But the speaker of the house of representatives, more than vice president, yes, more than the president himself, is in real truth the vital governing force in our republic. The finger which he places upon the pulse of national legislation is powerful for good or ill. The rein which he holds over the membership of the American house of delegates is without equal in the parliament of the world.

The Fifty-fourth congress must be organized by Republicans. It must have a Republican majority. It must have a Republican speaker. While the prospect is fair for such a consummation, the battle is getting decidedly close. The Democrats figure on twenty plurality and the Republicans on only twenty-five. Thus if these estimates be merged—which is probably a fair basis of calculation—the Republicans will have not more than five plurality in the house, a dangerously narrow margin in a chamber which has so many Populists, Socialists and political tramps. The loss of one Republican candidate for congress in a district now counted as safe may disarrange the whole forecast of the Republican congressional campaign committee and throw the next house entirely over into the hands of the Democrats, who, having president and senate already, would then proceed without interruption to "rip, tear up and scatter the fragments of protection to the four winds of heaven."

The Republican and the genuine protectionist who shall neglect to vote for Joseph A. Scranton will assume a fearful responsibility.

Prothonotary Fryer, during his tenure of office, has made a host of friends, not only among Republicans but among Democrats as well. Will these friends see him defeated? Well, we should guess not.

Representative Burke ought to know better than to imagine that he can fool his constituents as to his attitude on the Fair free-text bookbill, by means of typographical errors in the Legislative Record. Doesn't he know the official journal of the house of representatives contains his name on the "nay" side on the final division; and doesn't he know that the official journal "goes?"

For what does M. T. Burke take his Fourth district constituents, anyhow?

Candidate Slingerly, upon the occasion of his forthcoming visit to Scranton, will no doubt straighten out that other political "fraud," Protectionist Lemuel Amerman. Candidate Slingerly will have his hands full if he intends to discipline all the protectionists in this valley who were once Democrats, and who mistakenly think that they are yet.

The continued silence of Judge John Handley in the Merrifield campaign is rapidly becoming masterly.

One Lie That Stinks.

In a majority of directions, this campaign has thus far been clean and manly. There has been little personal abuse and only a moderate amount of lying. The issues of the canvass have been discussed, for the most part, in a manner creditable to civilized beings living within the intellectual light of the last decade of the nineteenth century; and in those few exceptional cases where this admirable rule has been violated, the aggressors have uniformly been beneath notice and underneath contempt.

We predicted, several days ago, that it would be difficult to keep the Democratic bosses of Lackawanna county up to this high plane; and recent developments have fully justified our forecast. They have already begun their slandering of Republican candidates and substituted libel for argument. A conspicuous instance of this is shown in the zeal with which they continue to circulate the weather-beaten, moss-covered and utterly putrid lie that Frank H. Clemens, Republican candidate for sheriff, had once said "a dollar a day was enough for any working man." Mr. Clemens has publicly and explicitly denied this lie; denied it in parts and denied it in toto. He has denied that he ever used that expression or that he ever used any language at any time in any place which could, by the remotest stretching, be interpreted to imply any such idea. But the lie-mongers heed him not. They go right on circulating the libel, and will doubtless add picturesque and vivid trimmings as the scandal is passed along.

If the persons to whom this ridiculous lie is being told for campaign effect would pause a moment, they would soon realize the lie's utter improbability. What sane man, in politics, even if he thought that one dollar a day is all a working man should have, would be so wholly beside himself as to say so publicly? None but a zany would expect, after such a break, to get elected to anything. But Frank H. Clemens never once thought such a monstrous idea. He belongs to the party of prosperity and high wages. He has no use for the party under whose bungling control of government many workmen, right here in Lackawanna county, although ready and anxious to work have been deprived even of one dollar a day, and have had, in some instances, to go shelterless and without food.

There are some lies that recoil upon the unscrupulous liars. This dollar-a-day lie is one of them. Mark that.

Faithful and efficient are the adjectives which exactly describe John H. Thomas' conduct while clerk of the courts. The people do not wish to lose the services of such an excellent servant.

The Republican who, as a candidate for office, has been fairly defeated in his party's convention and who then goes out among fellow Republicans to ask them to knife the ticket, need not expect a great deal of help. Such a course is neither manly nor effective. The sorehead animus of it is altogether too apparent.

There can be no question of the strength which John R. Jones would bring to the district attorneyship. Neither is there any question of his having the opportunity to bring that strength to it. Merit is bound to win.

Such a Clumsy Trick!

The effort of the Democratic campaign managers to make it appear that the Republican party is connected in any relation whatever with any of the proscription secret organizations which today are endeavoring to raise political issues along the lines of race and creed will fail, as it deserves to fail; first, because it is false from beginning to end; and secondly, because it is a species of playing with fire that the intelligent citizenship of this country of all political as well as religious faiths, will strongly condemn.

The history of the Republican party, from its cradle days to the period of its vigorous maturity, is a history of strong, earnest and incessant battle against bigotry, prejudice and oppression. The hand that freed the slave and that has sought, by means of protective duties, to elevate the standard of the working classes, would be engaged in mighty mean business were it to take part in the stealthy warfare of crowd against crowd and of brother against brother which makes itself beneath high sounding titles and achieves its purpose under the seal of secrecy and under the cover of night. We do not believe that the Republican party would know what to do in such narrow quarters, and in such a stifling atmosphere.

It is perhaps a compliment to the Republican cause this year that the Democrats are using the sneak-thief style of warfare because there are absolutely no other tactics left for them to adopt. If they had a sign of a show upon the plane of dignified discussion, and could present for the consideration of the individual voter one clearly de-finer principle over which their own party leaders have not spilled each other's blood, in factional wrangles and party dissension, it is possible, although not cheerfully probable, that they would get out of the "mad and alme" of which Senator Gorman spoke, and stop up to solid ground. But they haven't. Their whole underpinning has been knocked down. What Cleveland and Wilson didn't upset Hill and Gorman did; and so, instead of argument we are treated to falsehood, sophistry and artifice.

And such clumsy tricks they are, too.

The recent conviction in this city of a professional bicycle thief is an event for which the wheelmen of Scranton should be particularly grateful. The labor involved in the prosecution of this man, not to speak of the expense incident to his apprehension and return for trial, will be well expended if they shall be the means of breaking up the contemptible thievery in this vicinity of which the offense in question is a spurious instance.

Out of the big pouch which was recently filled up by the grateful Whiskey and Sugar trust, the Democratic Congressional Campaign committee have, it is said, pulled a liberal fistful of cash for use in an effort to re-elect William H. Hines; but a more hopeless ambition never was cherished.

What does the honorable Lemuel Amerman mean when he tells the voters of this county that "there is virtually no difference between Republicans and Democrats on the tariff question; all want a tariff?" Has he read the Democratic platform?

It is exceedingly unlikely that the intelligent electors of Lackawanna county will punish Judge Archbold for being honest, capable, fearless and yet modest. Nor will they object to the fact that he does not continually push himself forward.

THE FIELD OF POLITICS.

Congressman Sipe expects his majority in Greene county to offset Acheson's in Allegheny, and that Washington county will be divided. Whoever majority he can get in Fayette, therefore, will be his majority in the district. To show how wide apart the estimates are, the Acheson managers are counting on 2,600 to 3,000 majority for him in Washington, and more than that much in Allegheny, while they claim a larger majority for Acheson in Fayette than they concede to Sipe. The fact of the matter is that Sipe is hopelessly distanced, with all his lavish assessments of Pittsburg federal office-holders.

The indications are that Senator Quay will continue his political efforts this fall mainly to Pennsylvania, and incidentally in the last week of the campaign will make his influence felt against Professor Wilson, over in West Virginia. The Republicans are preparing to make Mr. Wilson weary. When the proper time arrives, which will be a few days before the election, the professor will, it is said, wonder what struck him. In fact, the professor's chances for staying at home are growing brighter each day.

The fireworks, oratorical and otherwise, of this political campaign are being fired by the Republicans exclusively, so far as Allegheny county is concerned. The Democrats are doing nothing in that line except to prepare for the visit of Candidate Slingerly. The Democrats, in fact, are as timid and indifferent as a petrified tree. But, there, it's pretty much the same way here.

It is said that one of the objects of Democratic National Chairman Faulkner's recent visit to New York, where he ostentatiously went to help Hill out of a hole, was to replenish the congressional committee's campaign treasury. He was eminently successful. It is stated that the New York importers who were benefited by the Wilson bill contributed $10,000 and that the sugar trust duplicated it.

This is how the outlook appears to Colonel George F. Huff, Mr. Grou's amiable running mate: "The people are aroused as I never saw them before in my life, and Pennsylvania will give General Hastings the largest majority ever given anyone. Unless I am greatly deceived the vote throughout the entire country will give the Democrats a terrible thrashing next month."

The Olyphant Record declares very enthusiastically that Charles P. O'Malley is going to win in the Fourth district. "Mr. O'Malley," it says, "is a brilliant young man, and will fill the post of representative in Harrisburg with honor. He should have a solid vote from the town of his birth." And it looks now as if he would get it.

Charles Emory Smith, who will speak in Scranton Monday night, predicts that General Hastings will win 200,000 plurality.

For years the government of New York has been a reproach and a byword in all the centers of civilization. For years the criminal classes, organized under the black flag of Tammany, have ruled the city and scoffed at the endeavors of honest citizens to overthrow their sway. Corruption, ransoming and arrogant, has reigned, Vice, secure under police protection, has haunted itself in the eyes of decency and virtue. Blackwaxers, their headquarters in Tammany Hall, the lowest ramifications of their infamous system in the foulest groves, have talked tall tales from the honest merchant and the brazen criminal.

THE VOICES.

Down in the night I hear them: The voices, unknown, unguessed, That whisper and hiss and murmur, And will not let me rest. Voices that seem to question, In unknown words, of me, Of fabulous ventures, and hopes and dreams, Of this and the world to be. Voices of mirth and music, As in sumptuous homes; and sounds Of mourning, as of gathering friends In country burial grounds. Cadence of maiden voices, Their lovers bent with these; And of little children singing, As under orchard trees. And often, up from the ebon Of my deepest dreams, I hear Bontoc's plaintive dirge, Filling the atmosphere. They call to me from the darkness, They cry to me from the gloom, They start sometimes from my pillow, And peer through the haunted room. When the face of the moon at the window Wears a pallor like my own, And seems to be laughing with me To the low, mysterious tone, The low, mysterious clamor Of voices, that seem to be Striving in vain to whisper Of secret things to me.

Of something dread to be warned of; Of a rapid yet withheld; Or blinks of the marvelous beauty Of songs unlylled. But over and over the meaning Falters and falls and dies, And only the stark words remain, With the sorrow of my sighs. And I answer: O voices, ye may not Make me to understand, Till my own voice, mingling with you, Laughs in the shadowland. —James Whitcomb Riley.

Raps at Tammany. Tammany cannot last much longer. Its end is near. —Baltimore American. As the Tammany tiger dwindles into a very ordinary cat, everybody takes the usual liberty of throwing a brick at it. —Detroit Tribune. The mention of Dr. Parkhurst's name was hissed at a Tammany convention last week. This is the only testimony that was needed to establish his reputation as a good man. —Chicago Tribune.

The Political Boomerang. From the Buffalo Express. The boomerang is still in active political service. Secretary Carlisle's spectacular arrest of Mr. Morton's coachman has served only to call attention to the fact that he himself keeps a coachman, a footman and a butler, all of whom are carried on the rolls of the treasury department as public officials and paid out of the United States treasury.

Packed Full of News. From the Tunkhannock New Age. The Scranton Tribune on Saturday made its first appearance in its new dress composed by the Mergenthaler machines. It is much improved typographically and packed full of news and other reading matter. As it now stands there is no other paper in northeastern Pennsylvania to compare with it.

Nuts for the Republicans. From the Buffalo Express. Wilson says his London speech has been garbled by the Republicans, and that he intends to circulate true copies of it among his West Virginia constituents. The Republicans will cheerfully supply him with the necessary postage stamps.

PAINT cracks.—It often costs more to prepare a house for repainting that has been painted in the first place with cheap ready-mixed paints, than it would to have painted it twice with strictly pure white lead, ground in pure linseed oil.

Strictly Pure White Lead

forms a permanent base for repainting and never has to be burned or scraped off on account of scaling or cracking. It is always smooth and clean. To be sure of getting strictly pure white lead, purchase any of the following brands:

"Atlantic," "Baymer-Bauman," "Jewett," "Davis-Chambers," "Falconstock," "Armstrong & McKelvey."

FOR COLORS.—National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors, a one-pound can to a gallon of lead and mix your own paints. Saves time and annoyance in matching shades, and insures the best paint that it is possible to put on wood. Send for a postal card and get our book on paints and color-card free; it will probably save you a good many dollars. NATIONAL LEAD CO., New York.
