W. H. Collins spent yesterday in Buffalo.

General Hastings, who will arrive in the city this afternoon, will be the guest of Major Everett Warren while here.

Engineer Andrew Welsch, of this city, addressed a meeting at the Railroad Young Men's Christian association, Dinghamton, yesterday.

Rev. Dr. McLeod, of the First Presbyterian church, will sail for Europe this week to visit his father who is 90 years of age and is a resident of Scotland.

Ex-Lieutenant Governor C. W. Stone, who addressed mass meetings at Jersey and Providence, Friday and Saturday nights, was the guest of Congressman J. A. Scranton while in the city.

Richard J. Bourke, who recently won a scholarship in the law department of the University of Pennsylvania on a competitive examination, returned to Scranton from Philadelphia Saturday morning and on motion of his preceptor, ex-Congressman D. W. Connolly, was admitted to practice in the courts of Lackawanna county. He will return to Philadelphia tomorrow to resume his studies. In the Quaker City Mr. Bourke is registered as a student in the office of Attorney S. E. Megargee.

The hero of Johnstown, General Daniel H. Hastings, deserves an immense audience at the army and also at the Frothingham tonight. Make these meetings rousers in every sense.

MOTHER UNDER BAIL.

Mrs. Rogers and Her Daughter Now Implicated in the Warch Larceny.

The hearing in Alderman Fitzsimon's office Saturday in the case where Miss Annie Price, of Capouse avenue, who by the way wants it distinctly understood that her proper name is Mrs. DeLacey, charges Katie Rogers, the 12-year-old girl, with stealing her watch, ended by requiring the girl and her mother to furnish bail to appear at court.

The defendants offered no testimony and Alderman Fitzsimon had to bind them over. The offense with which the girl stands charged is larceny and her mother is charged with receiving stolen goods.

SMART POLICE WORK.

Horse and Phaeton Traced to Pittston in Twenty Minutes.

Dr. Kearney, of Wyoming avenue, drove to Taylor last night and about 8 o'clock tied up the horse and phaeton to a post while attending to a patient.

When the doctor had discharged his duties he could find no trace of his outfit save that the tracks showed that the horse had been driven toward Pittston. He came to Scranton and arrived at the police station about 10 p. m. and reported the matter to Sergeant Deiter, who telephoned and, to the doctor's gratification, ascertained that the horse and phaeton were at Pittston. He will claim them today.

It is to your interest to save interest. You can interest yourself in Davidow Bros. line of silverware.

HASTINGS MEETING TODAY

Will Be Held at 4 P. M.—Three Runaways on Saturday—Populists' Meeting at Fairchild's Hotel—Thomas Flatley Beat His Aged Mother.

This afternoon, at 4 o'clock, General Hastings and the other Republican state candidates will attend an open-air political meeting which is to be held in the vacant lot on North Main avenue, formerly occupied by the Gospel tent. General Hastings will speak, and there will be inspiring music by Bauer's band. Let every protectionist come out and hear Pennsylvania's next governor, the eloquent hero of Johnstown. Attend, also, the two big mass meetings in the army and the Frothingham tonight.

Big Day for Runaways.

On Saturday afternoon a carriage to which two horses were attached came down Jackson street. In it were seated a lady and gentleman. Suddenly the horses became frightened and unmanageable and dashed down the street. There were a large number of wagons standing near Main avenue, and the carriage barely escaped being demolished. A couple of men ran out and captured the frightened steeds.

A team of horses belonging to William Snover, the milkman, ran away on Saturday. The animal ran down Main avenue at a terrific rate, but fortunately no damage was done.

A horse belonging to Seth Jones ran down Hyde Park avenue on Saturday. The animal was fastened to a two-wheeled gig and was stopped before much damage was done.

Outdoor Populist Meeting.

A large number of people, embracing several political faiths, congregated on South Main avenue on Saturday evening, where a Populist meeting was held on the premises at Fairchild's hotel. A small representation of the party was present.

Chairman Coleman introduced as the first speaker John Gray, candidate for recorder. Mr. Gray spoke on several topics for about half an hour. Ex-Judge Stanton and Cornelius Smith, candidates for judge and congress respectively, gave addresses.

Beat His Aged Mother.

Thomas Flatley, of Kelly's patch, was arrested on Saturday by Officers Parker and Peters. Flatley's father made a complaint that his son was abusing the family.

On arriving at the house the officers found Mrs. Flatley badly beaten by her son. She was placed in the station house.

Brief Notes of Interest.

E. M. Von Storch, of Hyde Park avenue, has returned from a trip to Colorado.

Miss Ailie Bacon, of Meshoppen, is visiting Mrs. George Skillhorn, of Jackson street.

Enoch Evans, of New York city, has returned home from a visit with friends on this side.

Z. A. Alvord and daughter, Lizalde, of Lafayette street, are visiting friends in Philadelphia.

Tom Beels, of North Hyde Park avenue, is recovering from a severe illness of typhoid fever.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beck, of Towanda, will return home today from a visit with friends on this side.

Louis Howell, of Washburn street, spent the Sabbath with his sister, Mrs. Charles Hartley, of New York city.

The Junior Order of United American Mechanics will give their fourth annual ball in Mears' hall on Wednesday evening.

The fifty-sixth birthday of Mrs. George Allapack, of North Garfield avenue, was celebrated Friday evening.

The second annual convention of the Wyoming conference will be held in the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church Nov. 8 and 9.

Miss Jennie Cannon, of Moscow, has returned home after visiting her friend, Miss Etta Moyle, of North Hyde Park avenue.

A ball entertainment and social will be conducted next Wednesday evening by classes 9 and 14 in the Jackson street Baptist church.

Mrs. Daniel Smith and family, of Washburn street, have returned home from a visit with friends in Reayburn, Luzerne county.

A ball will be held at Weber's rink on Nov. 19 for the benefit of James Duffy, of Elyon street, who lost a limb on the railroad some time ago.

Charles E. Daniels, of Division street, returned home on Saturday from York, where he attended the Christian Endeavor state convention.

Edward Thayer, the fullback of the Scranton Foot Ball team, is suffering from an injury to his right eye, received while playing a game.

Rev. A. Ramer, a young theological student from Philadelphia, occupied the pulpit of St. Mark's Lutheran church on Washburn street yesterday.

Henry P. Davies, of Elyon street, will address Silurian lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, in William's hall on South Main avenue next Friday evening.

Police Patrolman Thomas Jones, William C. Bruning and Thomas Leyshon have returned home from a hunt in Kingsley. A large number of pheasants were bagged.

The fifth anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. D. C. Hughes, of the Jackson Street Baptist church, will be appropriately observed on the first Sunday in November.

Rev. A. J. Parry, of Wales, will address an audience in the First Welsh Congregational church next Wednesday evening. His subject will be, "The Genius of the Welsh People."

Hotelkeeper John T. Jones, of North Broadway avenue, received word from Washington on Saturday that the government had accepted his patent on a beer and ale condenser and cooler.

The Welsh Philological society held an interesting meeting on Saturday evening. A talk on vegetables was given, and James A. Evans told of his journey through Virginia and Washington.

A pigeon shooting match will occur on Tuesday between William Anneman, of Dunmore, and Thomas Murray, of Minooka, for $100 aside. The sporting fraternity are much interested over the affair.

NEWS OF THE SOUTH SIDE

Big Reception Will Be Tendered General Hastings Tonight.

PARADE OF REPUBLICAN CLUBS

Mass Meeting Will Be Addressed at Pittston Avenue and Willow Street—Father Melley Touches Up Speak-easies and Corner Lofting—Other Notes.

It has been decided by the committee on arrangements for the Hastings reception today to give the people of the South Side a chance to see and hear Pennsylvania's next governor, the eloquent hero of the Conemaugh, General Daniel H. Hastings. General Hastings will speak at an open-air mass meeting to be held at 6:30 o'clock tonight at the corner of Willow street and Cedar avenue. Guth's band will be in attendance. After the meeting, it will pilot the audience to the two big mass meetings in the armory and Frothingham theater, where General Hastings, Charles Emory Smith and all the state candidates will speak.

Fresh Eggs for Sale.

Rev. E. J. Melley, pastor of St. John's church, at one of the masses yesterday said that a certain speak-easy on Prospect avenue had the above sign tacked up in the front window. This was not at Father Melley said; he occupied the attention of the congregation for several minutes on the speak-easy and corner-lofting subject, and his remarks were delivered with a force that both evils are deserving of.

The Twentieth ward has a record for "choke" balls and corner loading that threatens to go ahead of that of the "Prohibition" Twelfth.

The Charter Arrives.

The newly-organized South Scranton Building and Loan association, which meets in Moeller's hall on Prospect avenue, was granted a charter by the governor yesterday and it reached the secretary by mail that afternoon.

The association comprises a substantial business element and is offered as follows: President, Frank Kleinschrodt; vice president, M. P. Judge; secretary, John P. Gibbons, Jr.; treasurer, Frank Moeller; directors, John Gibbons, Sr.; Charles T. Kloss, Gustave Tenner, M. J. Ruddy, Hermann Schaefer, Michael Snyder, Alex. Mossely, T. J. Coyne and M. J. Donahoe.

South Side Jettings.

Miss Henrietta Pontius, of Cedar avenue, returned Saturday from New York city where she had been for a month.

Revival services at the Cedar Avenue Methodist Episcopal church last night were attended by a crowded congregation, and Rev. E. L. Santee, the pastor, gave a very eloquent sermon.

General Manager John H. Brooks, of the Meadow Brook Silk mill, was called to New York at 12 o'clock Saturday night on a live journey. He received a telegram Saturday night and was expected to live through the night. The disease from which he is suffering is a compound case of typhoid pneumonia.

ROLAND AND HIS RAZOR.

An Old Man Bent on Murder and Is Arrested.

A woman's screams and a man's curses and drunken shouts startled the neighborhood of 324 Gibson street at an early hour yesterday morning. Mary Boland, partially disabled, ran from the house followed by her father-in-law, Thomas Boland, aged 72 years, who was in a drunken fury and flourishing a razor.

Patrolman Melzer interfered with the old man's serious amusement and placed him in the central police station. He was not entirely sobered for early police court and was remanded until today for a hearing.

TO SLEEP IN A COAL BIN.

Oliver Kee's Answer to a Charge of Attempted Burglary.

Suspicious noises were heard in the cellar of the Jackson residence at 467 Wyoming avenue Saturday evening. A member of the family notified Patrolman Saul, who found Oliver Kee, aged 31 years, huddled in a corner of the coal bin.

In police court yesterday Kee alleged he was looking for a place to sleep. The charge of attempted burglary is entered against him and the case will be disposed of at a continued hearing today.

PENN AVENUE SYNAGOGUE.
