

BATTLE COMING TO A CLOSE

This Week the Final Struggle for Supremacy Will Take Place.

BRIGHT REPUBLICAN OUTLOOK

All the Indications Point to a Decisive Republican Victory--Meetings That Have Been Arranged for the Balance of the Campaign.

This will be the most interesting week of the campaign. Candidates will be hurrying to and fro strengthening their fences and encouraging wavering lieutenants, while an army of orators will invade all parts of the county to enlighten the doubtful people about what the different political parties are willing to do for them.

The events of the last week serve to strengthen the belief that the victory of the Republican party will be clear and decisive. That the Democrats have become thoroughly desperate is evidenced by the efforts being made to deceive the people. The Times continues to stick to its "11 a day" story about F. H. Clemons, but makes no effort to substantiate it, although Mr. Clemons and City Clerk Lavelle have positively stated that no such remark was ever made by Mr. Clemons at a council meeting.

Michael Turnover Burke, the Democratic candidate for legislature in the Fourth district, is another who believes in sticking to what he says, even at the risk of convicting himself of being a monumental falsifier. Mr. Burke's effrontery in persisting that he voted the Fair free text book bill against the mountains of evidence to the contrary, is one of the highly amusing, if not edifying, features of the campaign, and a few years ago Mr. Burke was a school teacher and had the moulding of young minds intrusted to his care.

The visit of General Hastings and party, followed by Congressman Brosh and ex-Senator Governor Davies, to the county during the last week aroused great enthusiasm for the Republican candidates and redoubled interest that members of the party take in the campaign. This week the work of sending the light will continue and meetings will be held every night.

Meetings of the Week. Secretary W. S. Miller, of the Republican county committee, has prepared the following schedule of meetings to be held during the remainder of the campaign:

On Monday, Oct. 29, at the armory, Factoryville; speakers, George M. Watson, A. A. Vosburg and James J. H. Hamilton.

On Monday, Oct. 29, at Father Mathew's hall, Jessup; speakers, R. A. Zimmerman, John R. Jones and John M. Harris.

On Tuesday, Oct. 30, at Welsh Ridge, Archbald; speakers, D. J. Davies, John R. Jones, R. A. Zimmerman and J. M. Harris.

On Wednesday, Oct. 31, at Cocharan hall, Twentieth ward, Scranton; speakers, A. A. Vosburg, R. A. Zimmerman and John R. Jones.

On Thursday, Nov. 1, at Peckville, speakers, R. A. Zimmerman, John M. Harris and John R. Jones.

On Friday, Nov. 2, at Fausel hall, Greenwood; speakers, R. A. Zimmerman, W. Gaylord Thomas, E. H. Shurtliff and George M. Watson.

On Friday, Nov. 2, at Sheridan's hall, Midway; speakers, Everett Warren, Milton W. Lowery, D. J. Davies and J. M. Harris.

On Saturday, Nov. 3, at Odd Fellows hall, Dunmore; speakers, Everett Warren, J. C. Vaughan and C. P. O'Malley.

On Saturday, Nov. 3, at Mayfield house, Mayfield; speakers, John F. Reynolds, James J. H. Hamilton, C. W. Dawson and A. W. Bartholf.

On Monday, Nov. 5, at Miller's hall, Twentieth ward, city; speakers, Everett Warren, R. A. Zimmerman and James J. H. Hamilton.

On Monday, Nov. 5, at Workingmen's hall, South Side; speakers, James M. Orr, Milton W. Lowery, D. J. Davies and George M. Watson.

Singerly's Visit to the City. It is the intention of the Democratic leaders to use every effort to give Candidate Singerly a big reception when he visits this city for this week. There will be a parade of clubs of the county, and all that sort of thing, followed by oratory at the armory on the beauties of free trade. It is hoped that a grand whoop of the kind will strengthen the wavering lines and keep the party in something like a compact mass on election day.

The candidates for the efficacy of the remedy and each is out working for himself individually. All thought of standing together was abandoned some time ago, and each Democratic nominee is now pursuing a tireless still hunt for votes.

The Prohibitionists have also reserved their best cannonading for this week. They will have Joseph Cook as well as an address at the Frothingham and Charles L. Hawley, candidate for governor, will deliver a number of speeches through the Lackawanna and Wyoming valleys.

The People's party will also wage an earnest battle for votes in which oratory will cut quite a figure.

ELECTION OFFICERS NAMED.

Court Appointed Saturday Those Who Will Fill Vacancies on Election Boards. Upon petition of the citizens in the respective districts court appointed the following election officers to serve until their successors are elected at the February elections: Judges--Thomas Morton, First ward; Jermyn; Bert Henderson, Second district; Sixteenth ward; Scranton; George W. Ayres, Third ward of Taylor; Casper Weisenburg, Old Forge; Frank Squire, First district of Eighth ward; Scranton; Fred Rempe, Third district of Eleventh ward; Scranton; M. J. Walsh, Fourth ward; Scranton; Peter P. Mann, First district of Seventeenth ward; George Wirth, First district of Nineteenth ward; O. B. Partridge, Second district of Seventeenth ward; Joseph Wagner, Third district of Nineteenth ward; Scranton; Thomas Martin, First ward of Jermyn; Lowrie; Edward Finley, First district of First ward of Olyphant.

CHURCH FESTIVAL.

Music Hall Thronged Saturday Night at the Benefit for St. John's Church. St. John's German Catholic church of the West Side, located at South Main avenue and Luzerne street, had a fair and festival Saturday night at Music Hall, the proceeds, which were gratifyingly large, going to the treasury of the Sunday school. The hall was equipped with large booths, laden with articles of all descriptions of ornamentation and value, and presided over by committees of pretty young ladies, who were artistic and numerous. Father Fricker, the pastor of the church, superintended the management. The products of the needle and crochet were artistic and numerous, and articles of bric-a-brac, such as a bedroom suit, rocking chairs, clocks, a smoking stove, etc., all donated by generous West Side merchants. There are a number of contests for articles which will be announced later by the pastor. The fair will be continued this week.

HALLOWEEN SOCIAL.

Columbus Branch of the Y. M. I. Will Conduct One on Oct. 31.

The second annual social of Columbus branch, 174 Young Men's Institute, of South Side, will be held at Excelsior hall, Wyoming avenue, on Wednesday evening, Oct. 31.

The ever popular and suggestive Halloween will be observed by the Columbus branch in such a manner as to attract all lovers of the ball room.

OUR LEADING LECTURER.

There is No Better One in America Than Rev. Joseph Cook.

Joseph Cook, who will speak at the Frothingham Nov. 1, has lectured in Boston nineteen years. He faces 3,000 people in Tremont temple every Monday noon. His lectures cover all reform topics and he has published eleven volumes which are widely circulated at home and abroad.

Mr. Cook probably ranks as America's greatest living lecturer.

IN LOCAL THEATERS.

Innes and his famous New York band, which is now the biggest as it is the best in the world, will appear here again in grand musical festival of "War and Peace" at the Frothingham on Saturday afternoon and night, Nov. 3.

This organization comes directly from Pittsburgh, where it achieved unprecedented musical triumphs in its seven weeks' engagement at the Western Pennsylvania exposition. During the engagement in this city this celebrated body of musicians will give two performances of the great musical historical and dramatic "War and Peace" which was composed by Innes himself especially for the recent twenty-eighth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, which convened in September last in the Smoky City.

"War and Peace" was performed five times during the encampment week, and not less than 100,000 people heard the several renditions given by this great organization, assisted by four vocal artists of renowned reputations, a battery of rapid fire electric artillery, several companies of armed militia, and the grandest and most magnificent of most profound sensation, and at the close of each performance the vast audience rose to their feet in mass, and in the last thrilling air of "America." In Scranton the performance will be given by the big band of fifty musicians, the quartette of soloists, battery of artillery, and all the other accessories which contributed to the great success of the initial performance. Among the vocalists will be found Miss Martha Garrison Miller, one of the most marvelous sopranos of the age, a young lady whose singing has created a genuine furor wherever she has appeared. The others are Mr. C. C. Ferguson, whose reputation as a tenor is well known all over the country; H. M. Imano, basso, and Miss Louise Engel, who supported Miss. Patti and Mrs. Nordica on their respective tours during the last amusement seasons. The box office will open for sale of seats Wednesday morning, 9 o'clock, at regular prices.

Mr. Pratt's opinion of "Fantasma," which was presented in Wilkes-Barre on Friday and Saturday evenings, as it appeared in the Wilkes-Barre department of the Republican: "A packed house was enticed to the Grand Opera house last evening by the fame of 'Fantasma,' one of the most successful of the enchantment so-called performances in this city. The production has seemed upon previous representations in this city, that elaboration has been vastly accentuated by the genius of the stage manager, as every season develops new and more startling and mystifying devices for surprising and amazing the show-going multitude. The effects, spectacularly speaking, are of the first order, and the price charged for them is quite a little more than could be expected of the theatrical stage."

The announcement of the initial performance of the "White Concert" series at the Frothingham Tuesday evening, Oct. 30, will be a delightful news to the many admirers of music. Mr. Frothingham brought the Ladies' Symphony orchestra to this city from Boston for the special purpose of musical advancement in our city and to establish here the only ladies' grand orchestral concert company, which in itself is an excellent advertisement for Scranton; hence our people should show their appreciation of the fact by filling the elegant theater next Tuesday night. The series of concerts will consist of six performances, and the price charged for each will be only 50 cents, there being no extra charge for reserved seats. Special vocal talent will be engaged for each concert. The vocal soloist Tuesday evening will be rendered by Miss Annette Reynolds, contralto, of this city; Miss Stollberg, soprano, of New York, and also Mr. Hollman, tenor, of New York. Individual soloists will be the following ladies: Miss French, harp; Miss Moreser, violin; Miss Beckett, flute, and Miss Packard, cornet, will be included in the programme. The following concerted numbers by the Ladies' orchestra will also be presented: "The Norma" overture, the Hungarian "Fantasia," the "Beatrice Brumell Gavotte" and the "Coronation March" from the "L'Prophet," by Meyerbeer.

Jolly Nellie McHenry, the charming and vivacious comedienne, who has been crowding the theaters nightly all over the county, comes to the Academy of Music on Wednesday evening in her circus-comedy, "A Night at the Circus." It is a farce-comedy with a plot, something rather exceptional to this style of entertainment; nevertheless, the circus has a well founded plot that can be followed with a great deal of interest. The pretty music and catchy songs are all new, and the specialties novel and original. "A Night at the Circus" is said to be a refined and charming entertainment, well worth seeing.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin," as produced by the Markoe company, will hold the boards at Davis theater this week. It is a new and original dramatization by Miss Markoe of Harriet Beecher Stowe's famous story, and is pronounced by the press and public, wherever it has been given, as the best presentation of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" ever seen. It is produced by a carefully selected company of dramatic stars. There is also a band of genuine Mississippi river jubilee singers, the members of which render some delightful selections.

"Lem Kettle," the new American comedy which Mr. Tim Murphy, George Richards and Eugene Canfield will present at the Academy on Thursday night, is by Henry Guy Carlton, whose recent plays have added materially to the reputation of Nat Goodwin and John Drew. "Lem Kettle" has a curiously quaint and musical ring in it that savors of laughable situations and droll incidents.

HELPING FLORENCE MISSION.

Good Work Done by Pupils of No. 27 School.

On Friday the pupils of No. 27 school gave a donation to the Florence mission, each of the scholars bringing fruit, vegetables, etc. The amount of the donations of that character received from the pupils amounted to thirty bushels and were returned to the mission in the afternoon.

The donations were made at the request of Miss A. K. Sanderson and Mrs. Sanderson, of the Florence mission committee.

MYSTERY OF THE ANGELS

Rev. W. H. Pearce Says It Cannot Be Solved Until Eternity.

THEIR WORK ON THIS EARTH

Myriads and Millions Through the Avenues of Life--Examples of Their Powerful Ministrations to Man--Do They Minister Today?

A large congregation assembled at the Elm Park church yesterday morning to hear an admirable discourse from the pastor, Rev. W. H. Pearce, D. D., upon the theme of "Angels." The sermon was eminently practical and was a broad-minded and thoroughly evangelistic exposition of the Scripture, which would be received by the learned theologian and the illiterate with equal pleasure. The reverend gentleman based his remarks from Psalm lxxxvii, 11: "For He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways." In the course of his sermon, Mr. Pearce said: "It is often asked whether there is such an order of being as angels; and they are so far removed from our comprehension, and their mode of ministrations are so mysterious, that a discourse on this subject is often regarded as unprofitable. Let us observe in the first place the contrast between the instrumentality for which they are employed and the purpose for which that instrumentality is used. They are spoken of as powerful beings, excellent in strength, and endowed with intense power and thereby overcoming physical and natural enemies, devils and vast armies of men. Job reports that they held the four winds of heaven. In executing their orders from God and carrying out his purposes they smote the men of Sodom and sent fire and storm which swept away their cities; they smote the first born of Egypt, and an angel held the sword between heaven and earth. Angels destroyed 75,000 men, sealed the mouths of the lions while Daniel slept with the peacefulness of a child, and when Peter was in prison, he held by shackles and chains, the angels swept away his shackles so lightly and softly that the keepers were not awakened.

Clothed in Divine Glory. "In the second place they are spoken of as in the highest rank of wisdom and intelligence, full of eyes, with great powers of discernment, revealing mysteries of the Kingdom of Providence and passing through His realm of dominion and the whole universe clothed in divine glory. They are also very numerous, as the Scriptures reveal, and are thronged with the hosts of angels. The first glimpse we get is when Jacob was resting on the way-side he saw a ladder extending right from heaven to earth; what a mighty sweep of angels' forces to cover this ladder from heaven's foot and entrance to heaven. We also have a glimpse of them on Mount Sinai, where we read of thousands of angels; and Daniel in discoursing of the angels, speaks of thousands and tens of thousands of angels, ministering to God, and encompassing his saints through all the ages of the world. In Revelation, Christ speaks of twelve legions of angels. These are but few brief instances, showing the myriads and millions which throng the avenues of our busy life.

"Can it be that the infinite Father issues a summons to his shining retinue of angels to protect and guard the poor starving soul which he has created, it is true, although to us it is incomprehensible. "There are many pictures in God's gallery showing the ministrations of angels. Abraham built an altar on Mount Moriah and had a fire ready to sacrifice his son, Isaac, who is ready bound by the altar. The uplifted knife betokens that the parents' tragedy is to be committed when an angel grasps the arm of Abraham, and points out a lamb in the thicket as a sacrifice in the place of his beloved son. It is a sweet thought that the angels of the Lord compassed around them that fear Him, because they had made the Lord their refuge, and the Most High their habitation, and He will give his angels charge over them, to keep us in all his ways, bear us up in their hands, 'lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.'

"The angels are well versed in the purposes of God, and are employed for your protection. We cannot see them with our eyes, we cannot feel them with our hands, we cannot hear the ripple of their draperies, we cannot hear the music of their songs, and yet they know the whole avenues of our lives and stand close to us in all our conflicts and spread their wings over us in all our sorrows. No monarch on his throne and no general with his army is protected as safely and surely as a child of God.

"A thousand questions may be asked as to the nature and character of the angels, but they cannot be answered to your satisfaction or to take away the mystery in which they are shrouded. The angels are said to have parted and the last burden of the heart has been cast away, and we stand in the immediate presence of God, thrilled and enraptured with the outpouring of the spirit and we witness the sweet mystery showing the tender ministrations of angels, and then, and not until then, shall it be explained to our satisfaction."

JUDGES WERE UNFAIR.

The Allegation Made with Regard to One of Events of Saturday's Races.

Saturday was an ideal day for racing, but the sport of kings was divested of some of its pleasure in the races of the Gentlemen's Driving club. Only seven horses started in three events and in one race the decision of the judges was held to be very unfair.

Four entries were scratched in the 2.40 class, which left only J. T. Payne's big black gelding Duke, and L. H. Sutherland's brown gelding Brownie E in the race. Brownie won the first by several lengths. In the second heat

FINE FARCE COMEDY.

A Country Sport Scored a Decided Hit at the Frothingham.

Lovers of good farce comedy had a treat at the Frothingham Saturday night in "A Country Sport," as produced by Peter F. Dalley and his fellow mirth provokers.

There are no forced efforts to make fun in "A Country Sport." Everything said by the actors bubbles forth in a spontaneous way that is one of the great charms of the performance.

Mr. Dalley was assisted Saturday night in convulsing his audience with laughter by such excellent farce comedy people as John G. Sparks, Harry M. Morse, Andrew Mack, Ada Lewis, Maud Harris and May Irwin. "A Country Sport" will be remembered as one of the best farce comedies seen here this season.

ST. LUKE'S MAGAZINE.

Contains the Annual Reports of the Work of the Past Year.

St. Luke's magazine, which has just been issued for this month, should be widely read, not only by Episcopalians, but by members of those churches interested in social work in its many branches.

The new number contains the reports of the work done during the past year by the various organizations, including the men's guild having charge of the Dalton home, burials of the Needles-workers' guild, which distributes articles of clothing to the poor in winter, and the kindergarten, drawing classes, etc., are fully explained. The statement of the excursion for the poor of the town is also given.

BOARD OF TRADE REPORT.

Competitive Bids for Printing It Are Advertised.

The board of trade through its secretary, D. B. Atherton has solicited competitive bids to print its report for the year. In volume, detail, figures and costliness, the report is proposed to be the most complete of any similar report ever issued in this city.

Photographs have been taken of the busy thoroughfares, public and private buildings and localities peculiar to Scranton. The commercial boards and chambers of other cities have for several years made their reports attractive and costly, and it is proposed to have the Scranton book as handsome as any which have been issued.
