LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

(Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied, by publication, by the writer's name. The Tribune will not be held responsible for opinions here expressed.)

Mr. Burke and the Free Text Book Bill.
Editor of the Tribune.
Sir—I have patiently waited, until all the cyclonic facts have been presented, before replying to Mr. Burke's letter, which appeared in the Truth, charging me of being a "har" and so forth. Since then Sir, to be a miser to be a poor man; yet it does not substantiate the fact that though he is poor and ignorant, he knows nothing and should not take a part in political discussions. He has the same right as M. T. Burke or any other political juggler of this kind to express his opinion on the merits or demerits of a candidate, whoever he may be.

Sir, in regard to my letter of the 23d ult., I wish to state that the sentiments contained therein were sincere and genuine, and were not written with the purpose of doing injury to any one, but rather for the more laudable aim of helping John R. Farr for the benefit he had conferred on me as a working man.

Mr. Editor, who is the proved "har," M. T. Burke or myself. To be a miser and presented, the public can judge for themselves.

Sir, M. T. Burke proclaims himself a friend of the working class and at the same time is hurling vile epithets on an honest workman, who dared to express an opinion in the public papers.

Will the honest-minded workmen of the Fourth district cast their votes for this man that has been publicly and justly exposed; this proved "har," this defamer of an honest workman; this exponent of a rufianous democracy? No; they will not, if they know their own interest, as he who tries to trample upon the poor man, will find it to be a bitter, bitter and unquenchable. To suit himself, so that he could divide his constituency and gain their votes. But he has been exposed, and it is the duty of the electors of the Fourth legislative district to hurl him into oblivion, and elect that worthy young man, C. P. O'Walley.

George W. Bowen, Wayne ave.

ON OTHER SIDE OF CHANNEL

Passing Events of the Day on the West Side of the City Noted.

MR. AND MRS. EVANS HONORED
Social in Their Honor at Home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Hughes—Interesting Game of Foot Ball—Funeral of Patrick Fleming.

A social was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Hughes on Division street, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Evans, of Salt Lake City. The evening was a most enjoyable one. Games and music furnished much amusement for those present and were continued until a late hour, when refreshments were served.

This is one of many receptions which have been tendered Mr. and Mrs. Evans during their few weeks stay here, and each occasion brought many sweet recollections of good old times when Mr. Evans was a resident here, twenty-seven years ago. The social last evening was no exception to the rule.

Grave Questions Discussed.
A regular meeting of the Young Men's Literary and Debating society was held last evening in the library room. A discussion on last Monday evening's lecture on Milton by Professor Storages opened the programme. The question box was then passed and among the questions which interested the members were: "Who was the better general in the civil war, Lee or Grant?" "Will the use of free raw material benefit or be detrimental to American interests?" "Which is the better acting play, 'Shakespeare, Hamlet' or 'King Lear'?" The last question evolved into material for a debate which will be held two weeks hence. Emerson D. Owen, John Edwards and W. A. Price will uphold 'Hamlet,' and Myron Evans, D. H. Williams and Howard Davis will champion the cause of 'King Lear.'

Game of Foot Ball.
Number 14 and 15 schools indulged in a game of foot ball at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The game was called to order by Referee Joseph. The features were a 25-yard run made by Walter Davies, of No. 14, and the interference made by his team. Score, 16 to 8 in favor of No. 14 school. The teams lined up as follows:

NO. 14	NO. 15
Moore, center	Pothman
Boone, right half back	Thomson
Miller, left half back	Miller
Williams, right guard	J. H. Thomas
Phillips, left guard	E. Hughes
Hansen, right tackle	Hughes
Phillips, left tackle	J. Lewis
Davis, full back	Thomas

Told in a Few Lines.
Miss Harriet Tyler, of Montdale, is in the city attending the meeting of the teachers' institute.

The funeral of Patrick Fleming, of Lafayette street, who died Friday morning at his home, occurred yesterday morning at 8 o'clock. The remains were removed to St. Patrick's church, where a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Father Dunne. The church was filled with the many acquaintances of the deceased. The floral offerings were numerous and included many fine tributes. Father Whelan, branch, Irish Catholic Benevolent union, of which Mr. Fleming was a member, attended. Interment was made in the Hyde Park Catholic cemetery. The pall bearers were selected from that organization.

PATTERSON MAKES DENIAL.

He Disputes Statement Made by W. H. Taylor on the Stand.
There was another hearing yesterday before Judge Gunster in the injunction case of the Silver Creek Mining company against D. E. Taylor, W. Patterson and A. Alton Davis. The testimony of George Deltz, W. S. Boyd, Jr., Harry W. Kingsbury, E. P. Kingsbury, George S. Harris, of Pottsville, W. S. Doyle and W. H. Taylor was heard and then the complainants rested.

Major Warren asked that the injunction be dissolved as to J. Alton Davis. There was no opposition to the request and Mr. Davis' name was ordered stricken from the case.

An examination of the records of Scranton county showing that two ejectment suits have been begun there by the Silver Creek company for the land now in dispute was offered in evidence. A. E. Holmes and W. W. Patterson then called for the defense. Mr. Patterson flatly contradicted the greater part of W. H. Taylor's testimony, and said that in his opinion the land had with that gentleman concerning the Earp tract nothing was said about the Silver Creek company. Mr. Taylor referred to no one but a former agent speaking of these matters. Mr. Patterson was under cross-examination when the hearing was continued until today.

DARKEST ENGLAND.

General Booth's Scheme Reviewed by Rev. D. J. Williams, of Peckville.
A meeting of the Baptist Pastor's union was held at the Penn Avenue church yesterday morning, when the Rev. D. J. Williams, of Peckville, read a paper reviewing the book and scheme of General Booth for reaching the submerged tenth of England's population.

General Booth's scheme, which is entitled "Darkest England, and the Way Out," is well written, and the discussion of the general's scheme yesterday was highly interesting.

AN ALL-ROUND SAVANT.

Rev. Joseph Cook, the Boston Lecturer, Has a Remarkable Range.
Perhaps no other man on the lecture platform covers as wide a range of subjects and treats them with such keen analysis as Rev. Joseph Cook, D. D., the Boston Monday lecturer, who delivered an address in the Frothingham Thursday night of this week.

He is said to be better fitted to discuss the problems which progress has presented upon the attention of this generation than any other living man.

NORTH END BRIEFS.

A very large audience gathered at the North Main Avenue Baptist church Sunday evening to hear the address on "The Fourth Deadly Sin," by Rev. W. G. Watkins. He said that Dr. Holmes was born on Aug. 29, 1809, at Cambridge, Mass., and died on Oct. 7 of this year. The year 1809 was a remarkable year in the history of this world, Abraham Lincoln, Charles Darwin, Alfred Tenaxson and William E. Gladstone having been born in it. It is of these men that he spoke at length. Dr. Holmes began his education at Phillips' academy and finished in Harvard university when he was about 29 years old, graduating in the same class as Dr. S. S. Smith, the author of our national hymn, "Our Country 'Tis of Thee." He afterward studied law for a year at Harvard, and the next year took up the study of medicine, which was his favorite. He began to write poetry very early, even when he was in the academy, and when at Harvard contributed a number of articles to the college papers. At the age of 21 he wrote "Old Ironsides," which he published in the Boston Ad-

NEWS OF THE SOUTH SIDE

Listening to the Voice of the Siren Led Squire Pollard Astray.
HAS GONE TO PARTS UNKNOWN
His Wife Spoiled a Meeting Between Him and the Charmer—Caught on the Faves—Getting Ready to Run Cars to Mooseie.

It is the old story of a weak minded man and a more or less charming woman, the discovery of the intimacy by the angry wife, and flight to escape well merited wrath. Squire Pollard lived with his wife and family at 1811 Pittston avenue until last Thursday. He is well known on the South Side, having for three years been employed at the Saugnet mill as night watchman. He was discharged seven weeks ago, and it has since developed that the cause of his downfall was a young woman named Richards, who is married, but has not lived with her husband in four years.

Mrs. Pollard, a Tribune reporter last night, related the following story: She had been told by some of her neighbors that Pollard and the Richards woman were not domesticating themselves as the laws of propriety would insist. On several occasions she saw that the actions of her husband fully justified the stories of scandal, and it was not until Thursday that she was able to catch her husband in a compromising way. She learned that he had an appointment with the woman and determined to outwit them. She went to the trysting place ahead of her husband and there found the woman in waiting. A hair pulling match ensued, but Pollard did not appear and has not since showed up at home.

IT IS A FINE COMPANY.

Uncle Tom's Cabin Given an Excellent Presentation at Davis' Theater.
"Uncle Tom's Cabin" was presented to a large audience at Davis' theater yesterday and was heartily appreciated. The company is one of the largest that has performed at this popular theater, and the play is made as fresh as ever in their presentation. The dramatization is entirely new and the interest is maintained throughout.

Special mention should be made of Miss Daisy Markoe as Topsy and Dr. Farlow as Uncle Tom. There is no doubt that to those interested in this wonderful story, a most gratifying opportunity will be given during the entire week to those who are anxious to see this excellent company.

Cured at 75 Years of Age.

May 2, 1881.
I am a man of seventy-five years of age, and for the past thirteen years have been a sufferer from rheumatism. I could not walk without canes, and it was only by the use of hot applications that I could obtain any rest at night. I have taken three boxes of Dr. Potter's Rheumatic Pills and can now walk without canes. The pain has all left me, and I feel as well as ever. I also had what the doctors pronounced to be my face, which had been removed, leaving a hard lump. The pain in that was unbearable but since taking the pills has all left that too. I highly recommend them to all who suffer as I did.

Workman's Narrow Escape.
One of the stokers employed at the new building on the corner of West Pittston avenue and Elm street had a fortunate escape from death yesterday morning. The scaffolding on which he was standing broke beneath his feet, and he fell to the level of the boiler, hanging there with firm tenacity until a ladder was pushed up to him. He is a German in the employ of Schmidt Bros., slaters, and had just finished his work when he had such a narrow escape, but, as in this case, he caught before falling.
