The Witness Relates a Shocking Story Before the Lexow Committee--Vain Efforts to Save Her Niece from a Life of Shame.

By the United Press.

New York, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Herremann, the woman whom Lawyer Goff alleges was spirited away from this city by certain police officers high in authority, who was found in Chicago, and who created such a sensation by being arrested with the Lexow committee detectives in Jersey City, was the star witness before the Lexow committee today. She told her story of police persecution and police protection, and involved Police Justice Hogan, Captains Hogan and Ryan and their wardmen in her testimony. She refused to mention the name of a certain captain and Policeman Cooney, as they were her friends.

THE WORKINGMAN'S FRIEND.

Exceptions to the Claim of Senatorial Candidate M. E. McDonald--Story of a West Side Miner.

It will interest Lackawanna county voters and particularly laboring men to consider the following story which chiefly concerns Michael E. McDonald, the Democratic candidate for senator, and James F. Butler, a hard-working miner who lives at 242 Jackson street.

The facts were volunteered by Mr. Butler, who will soon file proceedings against Mr. McDonald and the American Safety Lamp and Mine Supply company to recover his (Butler's) complete interest in a mine drill, of which he is the patentee.

Contracts and other documents were produced to substantiate the honest miner's story which shows how he has been prevented from receiving any remuneration from his patent and has been compelled to spend considerable money in a hopeless endeavor to have it brought to public notice. Mr. Butler said:

"I am a practical miner, but I am now loading coal for a living in the Continental mines as a result of mistaken confidence in Senator McDonald. My experience with him has not been such as will bear him out in his frequent assertions of late that he is the friend of the workingman. He has been the means of depriving me of many months of fruitful labor and I believe him capable of misleading the hopes of others.

Butler Obtained a Patent. "In January, 1883, I secured a patent on a mine drill and in October of that year made a contract with him as president of the American Safety Lamp and Mine Supply company to manufacture the mine drill and under the agreement the contract was to hold good unless notice to the contrary was given by the company. I was to have control of the sales and was to receive 25 per cent. commission and 15 per cent. royalty; the company was to receive $5 for each drill manufactured in addition to the 60 per cent. of sales funds.

"I confided the first drill made, which was not perfect, and workman-like according to a clause in our contract. When I wanted to take a drill into the mines for a practical test, Mr. McDonald refused me permission unless I paid for the drill. I tried in various ways to secure a drill for trial but he put me off at intervals of weeks and months until I was heartily disgusted. Finally it was suggested that the sales privilege be given to a certain machinery supply firm in this city. I consented and signed a contract giving the sales firm 25 per cent. and reserving 5 per cent. for myself. After signing the contract I was refused a copy and have not obtained one since.

"A few months ago Mr. McDonald agreed to relinquish his company's interest if I would secure other parties to interest themselves in the matter. I spent considerable money and time in doing this and then Mr. McDonald refused to withdraw.

"The firm which has had the sales privilege has sold only a comparatively small number of drills. I feel satisfied that the whole history of the case has been dragged along for the purpose of compelling me to sell my interest for a song.

"I told Mr. McDonald several months ago that he had treated me unfairly but he made further avowals of good faith and I foolishly believed him. Aside from any political bearing of the story it is a simple case of a man who will treat others as he has treated me."

WILSON'S HEAVY SENTENCE. Given Ten Years for Abducting Little Mamie Keyer.

Philadelphia, Nov. 2.—Charles A. Wilson was today sentenced by Judge Reed to ten years imprisonment for the abduction of Mamie Keyer, aged 7 years. Wilson a few weeks ago took the child to New York and kept her a week.

Upon reading in a newspaper the announcement that $500 reward was offered for his capture he returned with the child and placed her on a street car, giving the conductor her parent's address with the request that he leave her off there. Wilson was arrested the same day.

CYCLONE SWEEPS TEXAS. Three Churches Wrecked and Fruit Orchards Laid to Waste.

By the United Press. Willis, Tex., Nov. 2.—A terrific wind storm struck this place last night. Three churches were wrecked, residences and store houses damaged to a greater or less degree. Many houses in the country were destroyed and pear and peach orchards were laid to waste.

No lives are reported lost so far, but full returns are not yet in. The town of Montgomery is reported as having suffered severely.

WHEEL RECORDS BROKEN.

Bicyclist Porter Smashes the World's Records--Johnson Also Comes to the Front at Chillicothe.

By the United Press. Waltham, Mass., Nov. 2.—Arthur Porter, of Waltham, the Class A cycle champion, this afternoon broke three of the world's records (that Tyler had worked so hard to establish).

Porter's first attempt was a half mile flying start, paced, making the half mile in 53 seconds, one second faster than his own Class A time. His next attempt was at one mile, paced, standing start—his own Class A record was 2 minutes. He beat the latter easily and but for a sweeping of his wheel would have clipped a slice off the world's record, 1:57.55. He finished the mile in 1:58.15, within 3.5 seconds of the world's and 1.45 seconds faster than the Class A time.

Haggerty and Williams then rode the paced tandem record and made the quarter in 25.45 seconds, the third in 24.25 seconds, both new world's records, and the half in 52.15, new Class A time.

Chillicothe, O., Nov. 2.—This afternoon John S. Johnson smashed the one-third and one-half mile records at the kite track. Johnson reduced one record for one-third of a mile from 34.15 seconds to 32.25, lowering the record 1.45 seconds. He also cut the half mile from 52.15 to 51.25 seconds, lowering the record by .90 seconds. Both the above records were made by Harry Tyler.

BEEF HOUSE BURNED.

The Hammond Packing Company's Establishment at South Omaha Totally Destroyed--Two Firemen Killed.

By the United Press. Omaha, Neb., Nov. 2.—A fire this morning with a loss of $300,000, fully covered by insurance, wiped out the beef killing and several other departments of the Hammond Packing company's plant at South Omaha, and resulted in the death of two firemen, John Steele and Hank Peters.

The fire originated in the cloak-room of the beef killing department, and is supposed to have been caused by a lighted tobacco pipe in the pocket of some one's coat.

POLITICS IN BRIEF.

Depew, in four days, made forty-five speeches.

Backers of Grant are few, among betting men.

Senator Walsh, of Georgia, has been renominated.

Creahan, "has a cold," and will not speak in Indiana.

General Harrison captured New Yorkers by that speech.

Quay predicts that Hastings will have nearly 20,000 majority.

Chairman Babcock claims that the next house will contain 20 Republicans.

Singery's free ore and free coal talks in the anthracite committee have cost him hundreds of votes.

A prospective deadlock in the Georgia Democratic senatorial fight may result in the nomination of Speaker Crisp.

General Sewell says New Jersey Republicans should carry the legislature first and elect their senator afterward.

Chairman Stranahan has not yet repudiated Lawyer O'Connor's scurrilous Johnson attack on General Hastings.

By a mistake, 250,000 copies of Governor McKimley's Cleveland and Wilson speech were sent by the Democratic congressional committee into Wilson's district.

It is claimed in Washington that Holman, Bynum, Springer and Outwater, who constitute a Democratic congressional Big Four, will all be defeated Tuesday.

The talk of colonization of voters by Congressman Tom L. Johnson has become so common that the Republican congressional committee of the Twenty-first Ohio district have taken legal action.

Notification has been given that real-estate Democratic club holders in the Third district would be reckoned with by the Washington authorities if Tuesday's returns should result in McClure's defeat.

Congressman Ahlerton's plan of compensation in the West Virginia coal lands is to present to every voter a constituent a new calico dress. He borrowed the idea from Senator Kenma, who used to fiddle at country dances and take kodak "snap shots" of mountaineer family groups.

Senator Quay made a speech at New Brighton the other night which revealed him in a new light. Of Colonel Stone, the Pittsburgh Democrat, he said: "I think that the rigidity of Reed's rules had suppressed the tariff thunder in congress, but thanks to the lady of senate regulations he had been able to say a few words on the subject himself. This sadly brought down the house. Senator Quay added: 'I hope and believe that on Tuesday next you will make your most triumphant delivery. On that day the greatest disaster which ever befell a political party in this country will overtake the Democratic club holders in the greatest of our political parties, great in its long term of existence, in its discipline in the devotion of its members and its historic endurance of punishment and defeat. It falls now because, though never again in battle her panic stricken in pain, it never improves a statesman.'

REPUBLICANS ARE SURE.

Chairman Gilkeson's Favorable Reports from State Headquarters.

By the United Press. Philadelphia, Nov. 2.—Republican State Chairman R. F. Gilkeson when asked today what the Republican prospects of success in the state election are, replied:

"I believe that our majority of the state ticket will reach 200,000 at least. Philadelphia and Allegheny counties will show an unprecedented majority by fall. In the rest of the state the Republican organization is in the best condition it has been for many years.

"The only thing that we have to fear at all as affecting our majority is a possible indifference upon the part of Republican voters as to the necessity of going to the polls on next Tuesday. I, however, do not have much fear of this since the reports as they come to me from our county chairmen, as well as from other sources, indicate that the people are all anxious to vote and that there will be few, if any, stay at home election.

"I believe that we will carry every congressional district with the exception of three, and in these three we have a fighting chance. The indications are that the state senate and the house of representatives will be nearly unanimous from ever in the history of Pennsylvania."

SPOKE TO TEN THOUSAND.

Enthusiastic Reception Tendered Governor McKinley at Erie.

By the United Press. Erie, Pa., Nov. 2.—After the midnight reception that followed the meeting at Sandusky, the McKinley special made a flying trip to Erie. 10,000 people, where it was side-tracked until daylight. At 6 o'clock when it was brought into the Union depot, the whistles of scores of locomotives and manufacturing establishments set up an indescribable din which continued until it reached the market house, where 16,000 people were awaiting him. The governor's visit was in the especial interest of Matthew Griswold, the nominee against "Honest Joe" Sibley.

Governor McKinley spoke for an hour on the tariff issue, and while refraining from referring to Mr. Sibley by name, took occasion to say: "The Republican party still stands for the great principle of protection to American industries." At the conclusion of his address 5,000 people accompanied the governor to the train.

GENERAL HASTINGS ILL.

Nursing a Cold in Order to Meet Mr. Singery.

By the United Press. Philadelphia, Nov. 2.—General O. H. Hastings did not fulfill any of his engagements to speak today or this evening at Republican meetings. His cold is still troubling him and he is nursing his throat so that he will be able to meet Mr. Singery, the Democratic gubernatorial candidate in joint debate tomorrow night at Norristown.

General Hastings will not speak in Pottstown as he is expected to do tomorrow, but will remain in the city until he goes to Norristown in the evening.

THE SAME OLD SPEECH.

Mr. Singery Delivers His Ready Made Address at Pottstown.

By the United Press. Pottstown, Pa., Nov. 2.—Candidate for governor, William M. Singery, came here this evening and addressed a large and enthusiastic Democratic audience in the opera house.

Mr. Singery's speech was in the same line as the many he delivered during his tour.

MOUKDEN THE GOAL.

Japanese Forces Expect to Unite Soon Under Its Walls.

By the United Press. Yokohama, Nov. 2.—The second Japanese army landed at a point four days' march from Kinkow, on the Gulf of Liautau. A battle is expected shortly.

It is announced here that the investment of Fort Arthur by the Japanese forces has been completed by land and by sea, and that the forward movement of both the Japanese armies in the direction of Moukden is being rapidly pushed. It is added that a portion of Field Marshal Count Oyama's force will attack Kinkow, which is occupied by the Chinese troops. In the meanwhile General Nodzu's advance column is approaching Pung-Whang, a fortified town on the main road between Wiju and Moukden, to which place all the Chinese troops retreated after leaving their positions north of the Yalu river. The Japanese expect to defeat the Chinese at both places and then unite their columns before the walls of Moukden.

REPORTS FROM THE FRONT

By the United Press. St. Petersburg, Nov. 2.—The Russian army is reported to have captured a large number of Japanese soldiers and arms near Moukden.
