

A NIGHT OF BIG MEETINGS

Republican Mass Meetings on South Side, Greenwood and Old Forge.

IS ENTHUSIASM ALL AROUND

Everywhere Citizens Show That the Party of Perjury and Dishonor Will Be Repudiated at the Polls on Election Day.

It was not a Republican audience by any means that crowded Tanshield's hall, Greenwood, in the South-west district of Lackawanna township, last night, the occasion being a mass meeting to hear the principles of protection to American industries expounded by Republican speakers.

The hall as festooned with patriotic colors, the chandeliers were decorated with small flags and Chinese lanterns were liberally suspended from the ceiling. The stage was fitted out in patriotic drapery.

The meeting opened at 8 o'clock, Frank Toole nominated Griffith T. Davis for chairman. Mr. Davis thanked the audience for selecting him to preside, and in a happy speech introduced Attorney George M. Watson.

Mr. Watson said that there has been no period in the history of the United States that felt the effect of monetary depression more than in 1857. In that year the country began to feel the effect of the state bank law. A man might have his pocket filled with bills of currency issued by state banks. That money was worthless if the banks failed, and not a day went by, as history has recorded it, that banks were not failing with awful regularity.

That law was a signature of the Democratic party, and the policy of the party now is the same, and that law would be in effect now if some of the Democratic senators had not hurried away to look after the politics of their districts.

What the party represents. The Republican party, he said, represents the policy of protection. Suppose the mines on which the men of Greenwood depend for a living, he said, are forced to compete with coal from Nova Scotia, admitted free of duty. The result is that the mines around here will be idle or wages will reduce to a par with the starvation pay received by the miners of Canada.

Industries make homes and the greater the number of homes the more active is the progress of the country. The workman, he said, is the one who needs protection and he should see that he votes for the candidate who represents the policy of protection. The concluding words of Mr. Watson's very eloquent speech consisted of appeals for the support of every candidate on the Republican ticket.

Chairman Davis introduced as the next speaker Attorney E. H. Shurtliff, who spoke on the tariff and its relation to the industry of the country. Mr. Shurtliff confined his speech to an intelligent presentation of statistics and solid arguments showing the beneficial effects of high tariff. He cited the condition of the country under the effects of Democratic misrule and appealed to the workmen of Greenwood to place the stamp of their approval on the policy of free trade by their votes on Nov. 6.

Address of Mr. Thomas. Mr. Thomas was pleased to say that the audience, if it was not well acquainted with the policy of the party of protection, the earnest attention to the speakers showed that his hearers were willing to listen and get acquainted with the principles of the party that advocates protection.

The head and body of the Democratic party dog is in the south and the laws enacted by the Democratic party in the last congress, the Wilson bill, as it is plain for every man to read, contains provisions that are beneficial only to the south.

Mr. Thomas related a conversation he had with one of the officials of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company. Through the cut in the tariff on steel rails an English firm was able to underbid the American mills in an order that would have kept any mill going for two months. The Wilson bill is responsible for that and the Democratic party is continued in power the tariff will be further reduced and then English manufacture will have full sweep over the land and American steel mills will close up their forges.

Two enthusiastic Democrats in the audience asked the speaker to explain if the Republican party had always given the country good times and the answer came that the thirty-two years which the Republican party was in power the industries of the country never flagged to the extent that has resulted in the eighteen months of Democratic power.

The Candidates Praised. Mr. Thomas' concluding remarks were eulogistic of the Republican candidates and the mention of Candidate James C. Vaughn's name was the signal for outbursts of applause and enthusiasm. When the meeting was about to close one of the gentlemen in the audience, who said he had been a Democrat all his life until this campaign, proposed three cheers for the speakers and the Republican ticket in general.

At Cavanaugh's Hall. The meeting at Cavanaugh's hall did not fall behind in enthusiasm. St. John's File and Drum corps kept the audience in lively humor between the speeches.

Patrick Loftus, president of the Twelfth Ward Republican club, was chairman and introduced A. C. Vosburg as the first speaker. Mr. Vosburg spoke on the tariff and made an eloquent speech.

Attorney Fred W. Fletz followed Mr. Vosburg and kept the audience in good humor by his amusing arraignment of the party of perjury and dishonesty.

INJUNCTION CASE ARGUED.

Some Testimony That Was Heard in the Franklin Avenue Case.

The final hearing in the injunction case of the property owners of Franklin avenue against the Scranton Traction company, the People's Street Railway company and the Scranton Suburban Railway company took place before Judge Gunster yesterday morning.

Judge Hand was called to prove that the People's company had built more than a mile of its road within three years after being chartered and therefore preserved all its rights. John Kemmerer testified that in his opinion the double track on Franklin avenue would prove beneficial to property.

Attorney J. H. Burns and Attorney W. W. Watson argued the case for the property owners and ex-Judge W. H. Jessup and Major Everett Warren for the companies. Judge Gunster took the papers and said he would hand down his decision as soon as possible.

THEY VISITED READING.

Favorable Test of the Alexander Car Replacer Is Held There.

Superintendent R. B. Williams and J. T. Gibson returned yesterday from Reading, where they spent the day in giving a practical test of the workings of the Alexander car replacer, which is now being placed on the market by capitalists of this city. They went by special invitation of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad, and the test was conducted under the personal supervision of Superintendent Bartolet, who expressed himself as favorable to the adoption of the device on their system of roads.

While in Reading Superintendent Bartolet showed the gentlemen the practical workings of his steam wrecking car, which is a marvel in railroad wrecking devices, and the crew in charge are as finely disciplined in the workings of it as our best men-of-war men.

SAD CASE OF DESTITUTION.

Seven Children Attacked by Typhoid Fever and in Want of Food.

Mrs. Duggan witnesses many scenes of destitution and want in the city, but rarely does she report a case such as the paupers family on Breaker street, Green Ridge.

Seven children are ill, and to add to their suffering there was insufficient bed clothing and food. The Board of Associated Charities supplied the clothing and articles of nourishment, and Rev. P. J. McManus has been indefatigable in his attention.

ELLIS AS THE YODLER.

He Entertained a Good Sized Audience at the Academy of Music.

Charles T. Ellis and his company produced "Casper the Yodler" before a good sized audience at the Academy of Music last night.

Mr. Ellis' voice was not in very good condition, but nevertheless he rendered several solos in an excellent manner. His support was somewhat weak.

NEWS OF SOUTH SIDE.

Two Fires Yesterday Morning That Did Considerable Damage Other Happenings of the Day Noted.

Two fires only a few minutes apart occurred yesterday morning on this side. At 10:45 an alarm was sounded from box 47. The fire was extinguished in a barn owned by John Phillips, situated in the rear of Pittston avenue, near Birch street. The barn was burned and on the north side of it stood Mr. Phillips' residence. That was badly scorched, as was the house of Michael Battle on the left. This house was damaged quite seriously on the sides and roof. The structure was also ruined. The building was insured in an agency with C. G. Boland & Co.

Most of the furniture was saved. Mr. Phillips' building was insured in an agency with Peter Robling & Son. Twenty minutes afterward another alarm was sounded and many thought that it was a second signal from the same place. It was not. A fire was sent in from box 52, corner of Prospect avenue and River street.

Besides the Neptunes, Centurys and William Connell companies that had answered the first alarm, a fire engine of which was about subdued when the second alarm was sounded, the Crystals and the Phoenix from the central city responded. The building was ruined and occupied by John Kramer in the rear of Irving avenue, near Hickory street, was ablaze and burned down before much of the furniture could be saved. Insurance was effected in an agency with W. F. Kiesel's agency. No adjoining buildings were damaged.

Large Hall to Be Used. Beginning tomorrow afternoon at 3:15 o'clock the Young Men's Christian association will begin a new and attractive series of popular men's song services in their auditorium. The programme will consist of a half-hour musical service led by Conrad's orchestra, the vocal quartet and a male quartet. The best musical talent in Scranton and famous speakers and singers from outside of the city will be frequently secured. On Sunday, Nov. 25, the famous Machinal sacred duet will be rendered by the artists who will on the following evening participate in the second number of the Standard course. The dance of the Tourists last night at Dr. Manley's hall was an enjoyable affair.

BIG MEETING OF YOUNG MEN

They Will Give the Republican Ticket an Enthusiastic Support—Remains of Mrs. Catherine Wilson taken to Stroudsburg for Interment—Other Notes.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Young Men's Republican league was held last evening in its commodious apartments on South Main avenue. Dr. W. A. Paine presided. During the regular order of business the names of A. N. Allen and John Merchant were proposed as members. Edward Davis was elected to the membership committee, vice John H. Edwards, resigned.

After the regular order of business had been concluded, Dr. Paine urged upon the members of the league the great need of working for the Republican ticket at the election on Tuesday. Dr. Paine mentioned two candidates in particular upon whom, he said, a dastardly attempt had been made to circulate reports contrary to the fact that they were good and honest Republicans.

The league has decided to use its best efforts in getting out the vote and one West Side will be carried as usual with a large Republican majority. A. E. Eynon made a few remarks endorsing the candidates. Other members made short addresses.

It was reported at the meeting that an attempt is being made to defeat by other than fair means, candidate for Judge, R. W. Archibald. The scheme was concocted in the Second district of the Fourth ward where a few hoodlums are operating. A hotel in the neighborhood is the headquarters for the schemers.

Buried at Stroudsburg.

The funeral of Mrs. Catherine Wilson, an aged lady who died on Tuesday evening, occurred at an early hour yesterday morning from the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Reinhart, on Seventh street. Short but impressive services were conducted by Rev. L. C. Ely, pastor of the St. Stephen Methodist Episcopal church. Among the many floral tributes were two pillows inscribed "Mother" and "Grandma," a wreath and several casket bouquets. A large number attended the funeral. The remains were taken to the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western station and conveyed on the 8 o'clock train to Stroudsburg, where interment was made. The pall bearers were James Millar, G. L. Field, W. A. Pearson and Mr. Bigelow.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE. (Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied, for publication, by the writer's name. The Tribune will not be held responsible for opinions here expressed.)

WHO IS THE LIAR?

Editor of The Tribune. Sir—I cannot resist from indulging in the question, "Who is the liar?" Oh, the audacity and brazen effrontery of M. T. Burke, just imagine! When the question was fairly put to him by an indignant citizen of Carbondale, "Did you vote for the free text book bill?" this Burke, sir, shield the castor. His honor was touched. He demanded that a committee be appointed to investigate the Legislative Record, knowing in his shallow heart that the reports therein were incorrect, and had been transposed and manipulated.

Truth may be crushed to the earth for a while, maybe for years; but as sure as Mr. Burke voted against the "free text-book bill" it will exert itself in time, and woe unto him, who may have transgressed and encroached upon its sacredness. This Burke, sir, has proved himself a genuine falsifier. With seemingly injured right he poses before the people declaiming his innocence, while a sea of evidence to the contrary rolls in upon him from every side.

How did it come to be recorded in the Legislative Record that Burke voted in the affirmative? Shades of witchcraft and jugglery! Did he have a hand in the transposition? Why did he not direct the committee to page 564 of the House Journal so that they could see at once how much he had done for the workman?

The workmen have been aroused by the exposure and instead of the modern Judas. With a seeming kiss of righteousness he embraces that emblem of toil, the workman, while in his inward self he is scheming and planning to betray him.

Sir, the attention of the entire county has been drawn toward the Fourth district. It will be an everlasting disgrace to the electors of that district to elect this Burke again. Workmen, exert yourselves; show to the entire county that you are men. Let your disapproval be stamped upon your ballots, and crown the efforts of a struggling young man with success. George W. Bowen. Scranton, Pa., Nov. 2.
