SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

Men From Abroad Who Will Be Seen at Excelsior Club's Tournament.

THE COMING OF GEORGE DIXON

An Effort Will Be Made to Have James Judge Oppose Him for Four Rounds. The Latter Has the Advantage in Weight.

The coming tournament of the Excelsior Athletic club of this city in Music hall, Nov. 20 and 21, is awaking much interest. Fred Burns, official announcer of the Coney Island Athletic club, will fill a similar position at the Excelsior's tournament, and the famous "Eddie" Alford, will in all probability be referee. If he cannot come, William H. Robertson, of Brooklyn, N. Y., will act as his substitute. The other officers of the tournament will be members of the local club.

The prizes offered do not hold out to the victors a guarantee of handsome pecuniary value. Gold watches and medals are to be the only incentives in that line, and the value of these will not repay the winner for the expense of training. The fighting will, therefore, be for glory. Any member of the Atlantic Amateur Association of Athletes who battles for a purse of money thereby forfeits his membership and becomes a professional pugilist. In this instance is James Judge, of the South Side, a clever young amateur, who entered the professional ranks when he fought Jerome Quigley in Philadelphia last summer for a purse of $250 and lost. There will be no wrestling bouts on either night.

Big List of Entries. On each night at least seven events will take place, and there may be nine or ten. This will depend on the number of entries, and from the present outlook there appears to be a big list coming. Certainly not all who send on entry blanks will come, but the indications are that no fewer than twenty-five from abroad will be here.

There will be five classes according to weights, 125 pounds, 135 pounds, 145 pounds and 153 pounds. Those who will be here for sure, barring sickness or accident, are the following five from the Greenwood Athletic club, of Brooklyn: Eddie Alford, 115 pounds; Jack Cunnam, 125; Martin Gleason, 135; Batty McCoy, 145; and Michael Paton, 153 pounds. Tim Kase, a very handy young man weighing 115 pounds, from the Dauntless Athletic club, of Brooklyn, is also entered. From Professor Otto Kohler's Physical Institute, of New York, will come the following five of his best pupils: Jerry Riedy, 115; Frank Petry, 125; Sam Ingel, 125; Louis Schloser, 145; and T. Patterson, 153 pounds. Thomas McDonnell, 115, and Tim McDermott, 125 pounds, of the Nonpart Athletic club, of Trenton, are entered. Besides these Joe Willshick will come, and a well-trained set of boxers from Philadelphia will be here.

IN LOCAL THEATERS.

A play that has enjoyed the success of twenty years must have some merit. This is the record of "The Two Orphans." Miss Kate Claxton has outdone herself this year in the organization of her company. Surrounding herself with celebrated and popular dramatic stars, heading the list with that celebrated tragedienne, Madame Januscheck. It is the strongest cast given DeEmery's masterpiece since the original production by the famous Union Square Theater company of New York. This grand revival, with appropriate costumes and scenery, will be produced at the Academy of Music on Friday evening.

Nothing new is to be said in praise of "Wang," that remarkably successful burletta. Its production on Saturday afternoon and evening at the Academy of Music will be somewhat of a novelty, for there will be a new "Wang," new scenery and beautiful costumes. "Wang" is merely sugar-coated foam. It is the embodiment of jollity, with a leavening of beautiful and truthful pictures of far-away Siam, the land of the white elephant. A special matinee will be given at 2.30 p. m. for ladies and children; the regular prices will prevail, 25, 50, 75 and $1. Evening prices, lower floor, $1 and 75 cents. Balcony, 75 and 50 cents. Gallery, 25 cents.

Manager J. H. Laine of the Frothingham theater, went to New York yesterday and a telegram has been received from him stating that the show, "A Wife's Husband," will not be produced here. The contract has been canceled.

The second of the Frothingham White orchestra series of concerts will be given at the Frothingham Monday night. Miss Pauline Glidden-Chapman, the famous cornet soloist, and Fred Emerson Brooks, the California poet humorist, will assist at the concert, which promises to even exceed in merit the first concert given by the White orchestra several weeks ago which was received with such distinct favor.

Next Monday night that romantic tale of a phase of Georgian life called "The New South," will be produced at the Academy of Music as a benefit for the Nay Aug Hose company. A few plays of this nature have ever been offered to the American public for their consideration, that required in their presentation such an elaborate amount of specially designed scenery. The scenery used this season, which is the farewell one for this play, was painted by the celebrated artist, Harley Merry, who, with an assistant, visited the several sections in Georgia, with the "New South" has to deal with in the unraveling of its plot, and made sketches from which he afterwards painted the scenes which are used on the stage. The two leading parts will be again in the hands of Joseph Grisner and Phoebe Davies.

THE MOST remarkable cures of scrofula on record have been accomplished by Hood's sassailla. This medicine is unequalled for diseases of the blood. Take only Hood's.

Mr. Clemens made a brief speech in which he thanked the serenaders for their visit, and upon their declining an invitation to enter the house returned the compliment of the call by furnishing them cigars. The party included principally workmen of the Eleventh, Nineteenth and Twentieth wards, and their serenade was a fitting testimonial to the maligned but victorious candidate for sheriff.
