The Bank Presidents of New York Are Inclined to Let Each Bank Take Its Own Course of Action.

By the United Press.

New York, Nov. 19.—There has been considerable missionary work among the bank presidents today regarding the subscriptions to the bond issues.

There were many informal conferences of two and three different presidents. The result of these conferences brings to light the disinclination of the banks to distribute the loss of gold which will come from the subscriptions pro rata among the associated banks of New York, according to the percentage of each bank's holding of gold. This was the method taken in February.

The banks now appear to prefer to let each individual bank take its own course of action regarding the surrender of its gold. The calls for gold from out of town correspondents are quite numerous, and the withdrawals of gold from the sub-treasuries by New York banks made on orders from correspondents in the interior.

There was withdrawn today nearly two million in gold from the sub-treasuries and the amount withdrawn from the sub-treasuries throughout the country with which to purchase bonds is estimated at $4,000,000 since last Thursday. The net loss of gold to the government is not so great, as some gold has been paid in during that period.

Thomas Portercheck Arms Himself with an Axe and Finishes Up the Family with the Exception of one Sister Who Jumps from a Window.

By the United Press.

Wellsville, Mo., Nov. 19.—This village was the scene of a horrible triple murder and suicide early this morning, which wiped out all but one member of a family. Thomas Portercheck, with his mother, two sisters and a brother, occupied a small house half a mile from the business portion of the village. They were Bohemians in humble circumstances. Yesterday afternoon Thomas was discovered acting strangely and gave indications that his mind was deranged. He labored under the hallucination that his neck was broken and insisted that a physician be summoned. His relatives endeavored to convince him of his error and tried to get him to bed. He insisted on sitting up all night.

ASTOR'S MANSION INVADED.

An Unwashed Tramp Found Asleep in One of the Guest Chambers.

By the United Press.

New York, Nov. 19.—A typical four-story lodging-house tramp was found asleep last night in a bed in one of the guest chambers at the Astor mansion. One of the men servants summoned a policeman to the house. He was sure that a stranger had found his way into the house and was asleep in one of the rooms. The policeman went up four flights of stairs, and opening a door indicated by the servant, found lying awake in a bed with finest lace hangings, the tramp, unshaven and stripped to his undershirt.

The lodger was not the least disconcerted. He said he had found the carriage gates open and had secured an entrance without difficulty.

CONVICTS AGAIN LEASED.

Alabama's Democratic Legislature Goes Back on One of Its Promises.

By the United Press.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 19.—A bill was introduced in the house of representatives yesterday providing that the state convicts be leased again to mine operators. Two years ago the Democratic legislature on the strength of promises made the free miners of the Birmingham district to remove the convicts from competition with them, bought an immense farm twenty miles north of here and put the convicts to work.

The plan has not been found to operate satisfactorily, as the convicts have been an expense rather than a source of revenue to the state. Hence the bill.
